CALLES ORDERED $100,000 PAID SOVIET

THE SUN-TELEGRAPH
Combining the PITTSBURGH CHRONICLE TELEGRAPH and THE PITTSBURGH SUN
ESTABLISHED 1927—VOL. 1—NO. 110 SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1927 TWO CENTS

THE Peach
COMPLETE MARKETS

THE WEATHER
Mostly cloudy and continued cold tonight and Sunday; lowest temperature tonight about 25 degrees.

GAS COMPANY TO PAY ALL BLAST LOSSES AND INJURIES

Today

Prosperity—Hardest Test.
The Female Cochineal.
Still Time to Buy.
$100,000,000! Bagatelle.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927.)

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE tells the world and Philadelphia's Union League Club that this nation is now confronted by a new test, prosperity.

That is the hardest of tests, for individual or nation, and particularly hard for a republic. Prudhomme said "monarchies are destroyed by poverty, republics by wealth."

If we can stand wealth as we have now we can stand anything.

THOMAS A. EDISON, experimenting with 600 plants, seeks a substitute for the rubber tree.

While Mr. Edison seeks natural substitutes for rubber trees Germans are developing synthetic rubber to end rubber tree planting. Once the world got scarlet dyes by killing and drying female cochineal insects. It would have been waste of time to look for another better insect. Aniline dyes settled the insect question.

IT WAS suggested here recently that as hot weather wouldn't last all winter, the wise should buy furs and overcoats without waiting. A cold wave all along the Atlantic seacoast, and a blizzard in Chicago yesterday, emphasize that advice.

Goods are still marked down, and this is the time to buy for the winter which is starting.

"BRISK rises" in Wall Street yesterday. Some have made money so rapidly and easily it almost hurts their conscience to take the profit.

New York's Guaranty Trust Company reports increased resources of $100,000,000. That causes no excitement. High finance has passed out of the million into the billion days.

THERE seems to be a conspiracy against poor Wall Street bears. John J. Raskob, head of General Motors finance tells 500 industrial leaders that 1928 will see such prosperity as the nation has never known. Three million, five hundred thousand automobiles will be turned out in 1927. And 5,000,000 next year, with Ford starting up.

JUDGE INCH says "one slip" does not prove a woman immoral, or justify withholding citizenship from her.

It seems to depend on the size and kind of the slip. Poor Eve bit the apple and that slip cost not only her citizenship but her actual residence in the Garden and the great privilege of bearing children without pain.

Besides, the law, which allows each dog one bite before condemning him, might well allow a lady one slip.

BIRKENHEAD, one of England's ablest men, calls H. G. Wells a "pamphleteer and fictitious autobiographer." It is easy to underestimate your contemporaries.

The Duke de Saint-Simon, famous for his memoirs of Louis the Fourteenth and the Regent, scornfully mentioned a young man named Aronet, saying: "I mention him only because his father was employed by me and my father as notary." That young Aronet, better known as Voltaire, wrote ninety odd volumes of which the last was the French revolution and threw out the whole tribe of Saint-Simons kings, etc.

REPUBLICANS who would force President Coolidge to accept a second nomination and election, whether he wants them or not, ask a committee to decide the exact meaning of "I don't choose."

Those words are as clear as rock crystal. They mean: "I don't WANT, I don't INTEND, I don't LIKE."

All plain enough.

PARK avenue is now the fashionable street of New York and the Right Reverend Protestant Episcopal Bishop Burleson, of South Dakota, says he saw more painted faces and undraped bodies on Park avenue in one afternoon than in thirty-five years among the Indians of South Dakota.

That is his reply to the question. "What chance is there of civilizing the Indian?"

Don't Depend on Signs

Throw away that window sign and try The Sun-Tele rental ads. You will have the same report to make as Mrs. G. J. M——, —— Oakhill St. Her 3-line rental ad in The Sun-Tele produced a tenant on one insertion. The Sun Tele rental ads reach thousands in a day and help you to find tenants without the loss of time.

THREE-ROOM first floor furnished apartment; hardwood floors; entirely modern; $50 month. Linden ——.

Call Grant 5400

E. E. Bakery Hold Up

THREE FLEE WITH $500

Three young bandits slipped quietly into the one-story brick home of the Duquesne Baking Company, 223 Auburn street, East End, at 9 a. m. today, fired a shot at the president, James D. Williamson, in his office, and escaped with $500 while 150 employes were working nearby, ignorant of the daring holdup.

While one thug guarded the president's son, James D. Williamson, Jr., in a hallway, his two armed confederates broke into the president's office and commanded Williamson, August Teckmeyer, a solicitor, and Robert Wessen, bookkeeper, to put up their hands. Williamson grabbed the telephone and one of the bandits struck at him with a revolver. As he evaded the blow the bandit fired at him, the shot narrowly missing the official, and jerked the telephone loose from its wires. One of the invaders then covered the three while his confederate emptied the contents of two cash drawers from the safe into a flour sack.

As they slipped into an alley from a rear exit the bandits pushed Alice Warren, 13, rear 233 Auburn street, from their path, ran through a yard into Mayflower street, and escaped.

An hour after the holdup company employes told police one of the bandits was a former employe and that his two aides had applied to the plant for jobs yesterday. The former employe was suspected, police said, in the robbing of the Stoklein Bakery in Spencer street a few weeks ago.

Honolulu Flight Fails

MILLS FIELD, San Francisco, Nov. 19.—(AP.)—Capt. Frederick A. Giles, British flier, returned here today, 45 minutes after taking off on a projected flight to Honolulu, which was to have been the first leg of an aerial trip to New Zealand.

The flier made the landing with his heavily loaded plane without trouble.

Threatened

MRS. WILLIAM THAW, JR.

TECH IN FINAL HOME GAME TODAY

By JESS CARVER.

The potent influence of Notre Dame and Notre Dame football style will be felt on the gridiron at Forbes Field today, as the husky Titians of Detroit University, Notre Dame coached and Rockne inspired, test their blade against the gridiron armor of Carnegie Tech. The game marks the closing Pittsburgh engagement of the year for the Tartans, who will entrain directly the struggle today is finished for the long jaunt to Oregon where they will end the 1927 season next Saturday against the Oregon Aggies.

Detroit, you know, is coached by Gus Dorais, who played

Continued on Ninth Page.

FOIL THAW BLACKMAIL ATTEMPT

Frederick G. Wipf, 40, who described himself as a former German spy, confessed today that it was he who attacked a maid in the imposing home of Mrs. William Thaw, Jr., at 5427 Forbes street, and later sent Mrs. Thaw a blackmail letter demanding $5,000.

The idea came to him, Wipf said, when he read that Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, mother-in-law of the intended victim, was suing a nephew for the return of "a lot of money"—$600,000.

Wipf was arrested in Dallas avenue near Penn avenue yesterday while a score of detectives covered the city in a trap which had been laid for him.

Several days ago Wipf went to the Thaw home, struck Margaret Grealish, the maid, on the head with a gun and severely beat her. Before leaving, he threw five cartridges from the revolver on the floor.

The next day Mrs. Thaw received a letter demanding $5,000 under the threat of further attacks. If she agreed to pay the money she was to insert a notice in the personal columns of a newspaper. The notice was to read, "30-X Yes Accepted." At the direction of police Mrs. Thaw inserted the notice.

The letter directed that the Thaw roadster should be driven out of the garage at 6 o'clock with one of the headlights out and a white handkerchief tied on the radiator cap. A route had been laid out and the money was to be thrown out when-

(Continued on Page Two.)

Tech-Detroit Lineups

Carnegie Tech.	Pos.	Detroit U.
English	L. E.	Young
Cooper	L. T.	Long
Cowan	L. G.	Rub'en
Mielziner	C.	Lardner
Anderson (C)	R. G.	O'Holleran
Schmidt	R. T.	Ryan
Sweet	R. E.	Goodnow
Harpster	Q.	Vachon
Moorhead	L. H.	Brnell
Wertenberger	R. H.	Connell (C)
Letzelter	F.	Maloney

Officials—Referee—E. J. O'Brien, Swarthmore. Umpire—F. A. Lambert, Holy Cross. Head Linesman—John P. Egan, Duquesne. Field Judge—Dexter Very, Penn State. Time of quarters—15 minutes. Kickoff—2 o'clock.

AIM TO SQUARE ALL

Accepting the human responsibility for Monday's disaster at the Equitable Gas Company's North Side plant, President A. W. Robertson today announced that the company forthwith would pay all hospital bills of the injured, take steps for the payment of all claims resulting from injuries and repair the property damage suffered by home owners and tenants.

Mr. Robertson said that this decision had been reached without regard to the result of the investigation now in progress and protes fixing legal liability for the accident.

"Our eyes tell us of the suffering and our hearts respond to the urgency for immediate help for those unfortunates," said Mr. Robertson, "and we believe that we understand the layman's viewpoint when we decide that thing to do is to help the sufferers without delay."

"Many legal questions are involved in fixing the responsibility, and time will be required to decide this matter," continued the Equitable Gas Company president, "but the suffering goes on, homes are wrecked and the widows and orphans need assistance. We are going ahead to carry out the human idea and for this purpose are mobilizing all the resources of our organization.

"The details for administering this work will be decided at a

(Continued on Page Two.)

Symphony Hearing Opens

Sponsors of Sunday symphony concerts turned out in large numbers today at the resumption of the hearing of the appeal of officers of the Pittsburgh Symphony Society and its players, defendants in the prosecution by the Allegheny County Sabbath Association for violation of the Pennsylvania blue laws of 1794. The hearing was before Judges R. A. Kennedy and D. M. Miller in the County Court, on appeals from fines of $25 each imposed by an alderman.

Edgar L. Ray, a private detective employed by the Sabbath Association, was the first witness. He testified that he was furnished with two tickets by the Rev. Dr. Robert M. Blackwood, secretary of the association, and attended a Sunday concert last May in Syria Mosque. The attorneys questioned the witness closely on the manner of obtaining the tickets, it being contended by the Symphony Society that there was no paid admission and consequently no violation of the law. The prosecution's witnesses have pointed out that while in theory there was no paid admission, the tickets were purchased through a "membership" plan which in fact differs little from buying admissions at the box office.

EXECUTIVE NOTIFIED MEXICAN MINISTER TO SEND "LIVITNOFF" SUM

By JOHN PAGE.
(Copyright, 1927, by the Washington Herald.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The intense interest felt by President Calles of Mexico in causing the world-wide spread of Bolshevist doctrine is shown in a letter written by him to Prof. Basilio Badillo, Mexican Minister to Russia, in 1915, during the early part of the Calles administration.

M. LITVINOFF
Is it the Soviet Minister of Foreign Affairs Calles refers to when he speaks of "Comrade Livitnoff?"

This letter, given to the Hearst papers by Mexican government employes who believe the interests of their country will be served best by informing the American people of the Bolshevist connections and plans of the present Mexican executive, is published elsewhere in The Sun-Telegraph today in fac-simile.

Taken in connection with the measures adopted by Senor Calles to convert his own people and the people of Central America to the tenets of Bolshevism, as exposed in previous articles of this series with appropriate documentary proof, the letter establishes conclusively the fact that President Calles is heart and soul a Bolshevist, willing to risk his country's safety and spend its money, at home and in far away places, to back the play of the Russian government.

In his letter to the Mexican Minister to Russia, Senor Calles wrote enthusiastically of "the march toward the uplifting and liberation of the oppressed classes, not alone within the Russian frontiers, but going beyond such territorial limits and extending a powerful and friendly hand to the oppressed of other countries of the European Continent."

Who Is Livitnoff?

Calles also referred approvingly to certain arrangements made by the Mexican Minister in Russia with one "Livitnoff;" evidently for the payment of Mexican money to Livitnoff for Bolshevist propaganda purposes. Calles spoke in the letter of having met Livitnoff on his European trip in 1924, after his election, but before his inauguration as President of Mexico, saying:

"Since I met this comrade (Livitnoff) during my last trip to Berlin he has appeared to me as a great and sincere friend of Mexico and of our cause, and the funds which may be confided to him for our propaganda will be employed effectively. I congratulate you for this arrangement."

Calles then informed the Mexican Minister that he would issue orders immediately for the transfer of $100,000 to him for delivery to Livitnoff.

(Editor's note: Who is Comrade "Livitnoff?" Can he be the Litvinoff who is a prominent figure in the present Russian government? Mexicans frequently err in the spelling of foreign names. The name John, for instance, is often rendered "Jhon;" and Litvinoff could easily be corrupted to Livitnoff.)

President Calles, in closing this interesting and significant letter, requested that he be kept informed of developments in the "world struggle."

The letter is reproduced photographically elsewhere in The Sun-Telegraph. It follows, textually:

Mexico, D. F.
July 25, 1925.

Senor Professor Don Basilio Badillo,
Minister of Mexico, Leningrado, Russia.
Esteemed Companion:

I have read with close attention the report which you were so good as to send me on the general situation in Russia, and through it I have convinced myself that in spite of the

(Continued on Page Two.)

U. S. STUNNED GERMANS—LUDENDORFF

How the huge force of American doughboys was poured into France, and the speed with which it was accomplished stunned the German armies. Its most visionary leaders did not foresee this tremendous feat—

Gen. Erich Ludendorff, chief strategist of the German armies during the latter part of the World War, so declares in an article in tomorrow's The Sunday Sun-Telegraph.

"The United States saved the Allies from utter defeat," he says in one paragraph. "The offensive in the Argonne was cleverly camouflaged," he states in another.

Each paragraph of his enlightening article contains a pertinent comment—of interest to every American who fought or lived through the period of conflict.

It is the second of a series of articles by the great war chiefs of the world. His second article will appear next week.

That begins the "March of Events" section in tomorrow's Sun-Telegraph. But that's only one of a great number of brilliant articles. Included in the 10 big sections of the Sunday Sun-Telegraph are the 12 full pages of comics, some pages having two complete comics, and all in colors, and the world's greatest magazine section, the American Weekly. Sports will be "covered," as only the all-star Sun-Telegraph sports staff can do it; Gen. William Mitchell discusses Britain's aviation status; Kathleen Norris contrasts the life of the Pilgrims to that of today. Then there will be O. O. McIntyre, Will Rogers, and—every page of its more than 100 pages will have something to interest you. Order your copy of The Sunday Sun-Telegraph from your dealer now.

Pittsburgh's Greatest Newspaper THE SUNDAY SUN-TELEGRAPH Has 12 Pages of Comics in Color

Don't Miss Them

The World's Headliners

Jiggs—George Bungle—Tillie the Toiler—Boob McNutt—Andy Gump—Mutt and Jeff—Polly and Her Pals—Barney Google—Katzenjammers—Nebbs—Jimmy—Ell Cinders—Toonerville Trolley

Order Your Copy Early

SLEUTHS TO BE SENT FOR KING AND HIS OPERATIVES

Tornado Unroofs Blocks

REGINALD DENNY, STAR OF FILMS, IS DIVORCED

WHOLE BLOCKS UNROOFED

Here's a photograph of housetops in the apartment district hardest hit by the tornado which swept Washington, leaving injury and destruction in its wake. Not a roof was left intact for blocks.

HOUSE FRONTS GO, TOO

The wind's force was so great that fronts and sides of half-block long apartment buildings would be sheared off as by a giant knife. Terrific velocity of the tornado is graphically pictured by the clean "slicing" shown in this photograph.

NOT BAD AS IT LOOKS

At first glance this appears to be a pretty thoroughly wrecked house. But it isn't. It's just another view of the preceding picture and the rooms are all intact behind this shattered front.

CLARK ASKS LEAGUE PROBE

A grand jury probe into the activities of the Citizens League was demanded by Public Safety Director James M. Clark in a conference with District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner this morning.

Clark, smarting under the league's attack upon the department, says the police bureau is willing to lay all its cards on the table, and if the league has nothing to conceal it would welcome an investigation by the grand jury.

"It is only fair to the public, which supports the police department, to have all these matters cleared up," said Director Clark. "Who contributed the money and how it was spent, should be shown even if it becomes necessary to have a public audit of the accounts. In fairness to contributors and the public the grand jury should be told just what happened," said Mr. Clark.

The police department today produced recommendations from almost a hundred residents of Kansas City, Mo., bearing on the morals and veracity of Miss Ruth Parnot, who made an affidavit against King and the league. Among the lot was one from C. C. Allen, dean of the Kansas City Western Dental College, where Miss Parnot has been employed for 10 years. Thomas Stinson, of the McGonnigle-Stinson-Metcalf Realty Company had known Miss Parnot over a period of years and found her to be truthful, reliable and of excellent character, and Clifton B. Sloan, architect, knew her to be patient, energetic and attentive to business.

Two county detectives will probably be assigned today to go West to bring back William L. King, resigned executive secretary of the league, who yesterday was indicted by the grand jury on a charge of conspiracy to obtain false indictments.

Detectives also will be sent to New York to arrest Abe Weinberg, head of the Northwestern Detective Agency, and Sol Rosenberg, an operative, named with King in the indictment.

A certified copy of the indictment and a copy of King's photograph were sent to Iowa with a request for the immediate arrest of King. Copies also were sent to New York city with the request that Weinberg and Rosenberg be arrested and held for Allegheny County authorities.

Attorney Ralph H. Smith was the only witness before the grand jury yesterday. He told of taking the "confession" of King and the statements of other investigators which told of the conspiracy to frame evidence in 10 cases. The grand jury ignored 33 of the league's cases when they were presented yesterday.

THE WEATHER

Local Forecast.

Mostly cloudy and continued cold tonight and Sunday. Lowest temperature tonight about 25 degrees.

General Indications.

Western Pennsylvania and Ohio—Mostly cloudy and continued cold tonight and Sunday.

Hourly Temperatures.

12 midnight	27	9 a. m.	26
1 a. m.	27	10 a. m.	27
2 a. m.	27	11 a. m.	28
3 a. m.	26	12 noon	28
4 a. m.	26	1 p. m.	29
5 a. m.	25
6 a. m.	25
7 a. m.	24
8 a. m.	25

Bulletin.

Stations	Temp. 8 am.	L.	Precip.	Stations	Temp. 8 am.	L.	Precip.
Atlanta	32	30	.00	Miami	58	56	.00
Atl. City	32	30	.00	M'tgomery	34	32	.00
Bismarck	4	4	.02	Nashville	30	28	.00
Boise	46	46	.00	NwOrleans	44	44	.00
Boston	38	36	.00	New York	36	34	.00
Buffalo	24	22	.00	Norfolk	40	38	.00
Chat'ooga	32	30	.00	Oklahoma	34	34	.00
Chicago	24	24	.00	Omaha	30	28	.02
Cincinnati	24	24	.00	P'kersburg	28	28	.01
Cleveland	26	26	.00	P'delphia	34	32	.00
Columbus	26	24	.00	PITTSBGH	24	24	.00

CALLES ORDERED $100,000 PAID SOVIET

Executive Notified Mexican Minister to Send 'Livitnoff' Sum

(Continued from Page One.)

propaganda which the imperialist countries have been carrying on against the Socialist movement in that great country there has been no halting of the march toward the uplifting and liberation of the oppressed classes, not alone within the Russian frontiers, but going beyond such territorial limits and extending a powerful and friendly hand to the oppressed of other countries of the European Continent, in the hope of bringing about some day the ideal of equality which is pursued and which has cost the world proletariat so much in blood and sacrifices.

I note, also with interest, the arrangements which you have made with Livitnoff. Since I met this Comrade during my last trip to Berlin he has appeared to me a great and sincere friend of Mexico and of OUR CAUSE, and the funds which may be confided to him for our propaganda will be employed effectively. I congratulate you for this arrangement.

$100,000 for Livitnoff

I have given the necessary orders today to the Citizen Minister of the reasury Department to place at your disposal in Paris $100,000 (One hundred thousand dollars), which you will please deliver or place at the disposition of Livitnoff. I have ordered that this money be transferred by way of London and Barcelona in order to avoid any indiscretion prejudicial to our interests.

Please keep me informed of the most interesting developments in the world struggle, and express my admiration and respect to Comrade Livitnoff, desiring him every success in our struggle.

With my best regards to your good family and a sincere embrace for you, my companion and friend, I remain yours,

SG/PEC. P. ELIAS CALLES.

There may be significance for Americans in the coincidence that, while President Calles was thus perfecting his contacts with Russia and identifying himself with its "world struggle," he was busily engaged in drafting the land and petroleum legislation which was frankly intended as a curb on American business activities in Mexico. This legislation led him directly into a controversy with the United States government which is still in progress, with our State Department maintaining stoutly that the legislation is both retroactive and confiscatory.

Proof Confirmed

Editor's Note: Proof of the direct connection between the Russian and Mexican governments was established in the fourth article of this series and is confirmed by today's installment. This proof is especially interesting in view of the statement on "Bolshevist aims and policies in Mexico and Latin America," made by Secretary of State Kellogg to the Foreign Relations Committee of the United States on January 12 of this year.

Perhaps the most damaging document submitted in connection with Secretary Kellogg's statement was one containing declarations made by Tchicherin, spokesman for the Russian Soviet government, in March, 1925. Mr. Kellogg quoted Tchicherin as saying:

Mexico as Base

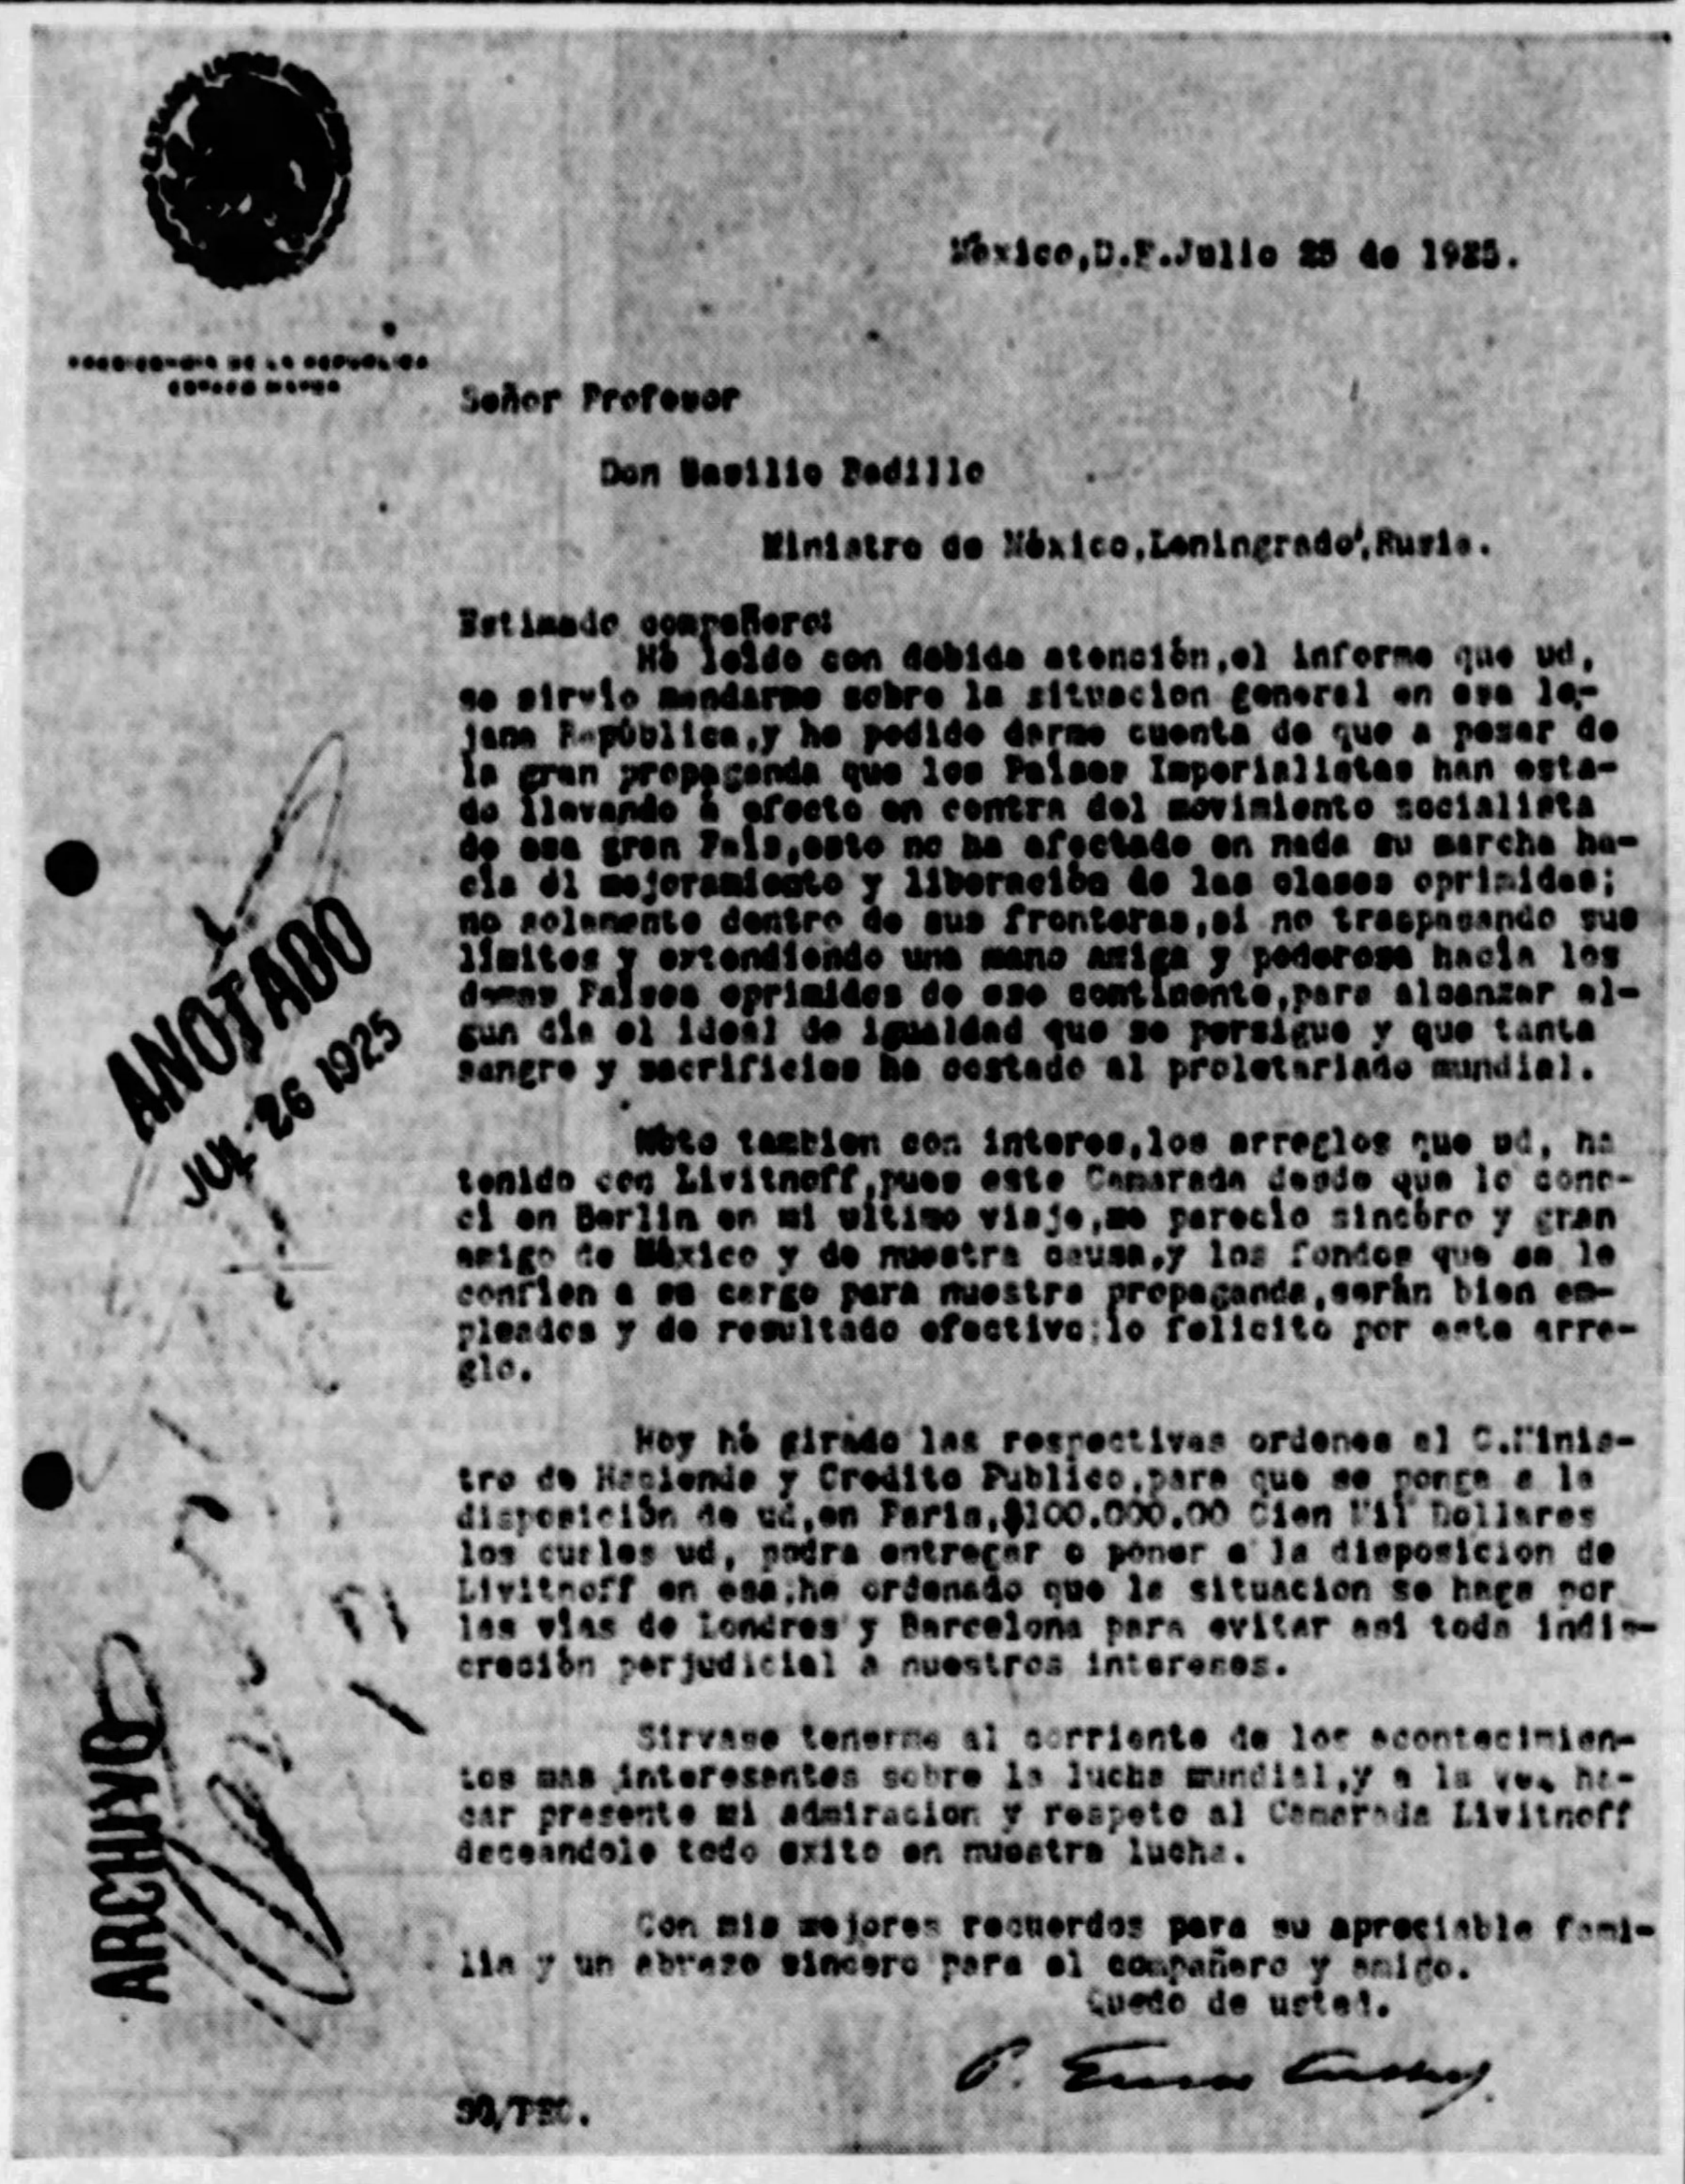
The Mexican government is based on the right trade unions and the radical small bourgeoisie. The Soviet Republic is extraordinarily popular in Mexico. Our plenipotentiary representative, Pestkovsky, met in Mexico the most enthusiastic reception, receiving constantly from all sides expressions of the most friendly, even enthusiastic, attitude toward the Soviet Republic.

Mexico gives up, thus, a very convenient political base in America for the development of our further ties.

With respect to relations between the Soviet Legation in Mexico City and Communist activities in Mexico, Kellogg submitted as evidence the statement made by the Mexican Labor Deputy, Ricardo Trevino, in the Mexican Chamber of Deputies on September 9, 1925:

I cannot say which are the better elements, whether ours or the Reds, or those whom the Russian Minister brought. And on this point I must say that there are documents in which it is established that certain Red and Communist elements receive money from the said Minister and from the Communists at Moscow, in order to work along Communist lines in Mexico against the United States, whereby they would provoke an international conflict.

This series of revelations will be continued in The Sun-Telegraph.



México, D.F. Julio 25 de 1925.

Señor Profesor

Don Basilio Badillo

Ministro de México, Leningrado, Rusia.

Estimado compañero:

Hé leido con debida atención, el informe que ud. se sirvio mandarme sobre la situacion general en esa lejana República, y he podido darme cuenta de que a pesar de la gran propaganda que los Paises Imperialistas han estado llevando á efecto en contra del movimiento socialista de esa gran País, esto no ha afectado en nada su marcha hacia el mejoramiento y liberación de las clases oprimidas; no solamente dentro de sus fronteras, si no traspasando sus limites y extendiendo una mano amiga y poderosa hacia los demas Paises oprimidos de ese continente, para alcanzar algun dia el ideal de igualdad que se persigue y que tanta sangre y sacrificios ha costado al proletariado mundial.

Noto tambien con interes, los arreglos que ud. ha tenido con Livitnoff, pues este Camarada desde que lo conocí en Berlin en mi ultimo viaje, me parecio sincero y gran amigo de México y de nuestra causa, y los fondos que se le confien a su cargo para nuestra propaganda, serán bien empleados y de resultado efectivo; lo felicito por este arreglo.

Hoy hé girado las respectivas ordenes al C. Ministro de Hacienda y Credito Publico, para que se ponga a la disposición de ud, en Paris, $100.000.00 Cien Mil Dollares los cuales ud. podra entregar o poner a la disposicion de Livitnoff en esa; he ordenado que la situacion se haga por las vias de Londres y Barcelona para evitar asi toda indiscreción perjudicial a nuestros intereses.

Sirvase tenerme al corriente de los acontecimientos mas interesantes sobre la lucha mundial, y a la vez, hacer presente mi admiracion y respeto al Camarada Livitnoff deseandole todo exito en nuestra lucha.

Con mis mejores recuerdos para su apreciable familia y un abrazo sincero para el compañero y amigo.

Quedo de usted.

P. Elias Calles

SG/PEC.

ANOTADO JUL 26 1925

ARCHIVO

TRANSLATION

A Seal which says:
Estados Unidos Mexicanos
Presidency of the Republic
General Staff

Mexico, D. F.
July 25, 1925

Senor Professor
Don Basilio Bacillo
Minister of Mexico
Leningrado, Rusia.

Esteemed Companion:

I have read with close attention the report which you were so good as to send me on the general situation in Russia, and through it I have convinced myself in spite of the propaganda which the Imperialist Countries have been carrying on against the socialist movement in that great country there has been no halting of the march toward the uplifting and liberation of the oppressed classes, not alone within the Russian frontiers, but going beyond such territorial limits and extending a powerful and friendly hand to the oppressed of other countries of the European Continent, in the hope of bringing about some day the ideal of equality which is pursued and which has cost the world proletariat so much blood and sacrifices.

I note, also with interest, the arrangements which you have made with Livitnoff. Since I met this Comrade during my last trip to Berlin he has appeared to me a great and sincere friend of Mexico and of our cause, and the funds which may be confided to him for our propaganda will be employed effectively. I congratulate you for this arrangement.

I have given the necessary orders today to the Citizen Minister of the Treasury Department to place at your disposal in Paris $100,000 (One hundred thousand dollars), which you will please deliver or place at the disposition of Livitnoff. I have ordered that this money be transferred by way of London and Barcelona in order to avoid any indiscretion prejudicial to our interests.

Please keep me informed of the most interesting developments in the world struggle, and express my admiration and respect to Comrade Livitnoff, desiring him every success in our struggle.

With my best regards to your good family and a sincere embrace for you, my companion and friend.

I remain yours,
P. Elias Calles
(in ink)

SG/PEC

Archives of the Treasury Department

A notation with heavy pencil: "Person-12-64 a"

Copyright, 1927, by the Washington Herald.

CHARGED WITH MURDER AS MAN HE KICKED DIES

CRESSON, Pa., Nov. 19.—Alleged to have kicked Martin Mikesky, 50, Cupon, in the stomach during a quarrel, Flory Hebe, of Asheville, was arrested last night on a charge of murder. Mikesky died shortly after the fight. Hebe told state police that he kicked Mikesky in self-defense.

FINDS "ANOTHER MAN" IN "MARRIAGE VACATION"

James P. Kaelin, 188 Greenwood street, Emsworth, and his wife, Mildred Beatty Kaelin, agreed to separate until he had paid his debts, but when that time came she had found "another man," Kaelin testified in a divorce suit trial in Common Pleas Court.

KIN OF MINER KILLED BY SLATE FALL SOUGHT

Robert Macaulay of Moon Run is seeking to notify the relatives of Henry A. McMillen, a coal miner, that he was killed by a fall of slate in the Barr mine at Dixonville, Indiana county, last Monday. McMillen lived in Macaulay's home from January of this year until November 3 and the body has been taken there.

Macaulay said today that McMillen had a sister, Mrs. Carl Hindman, who formerly lived at 617 Brady street, Butler. McMillen was 35 and a native of Pittsburgh.

Homes Go Down In Flood

FREEPORT, Pa., Nov. 19.—Swirling flood-waters of the Allegheny River, seeking new outlets because of Dam No. 5, recently completed, have carried away the homes of three families at Schenley, opposite here, and are threatening eight others, whose tenants have vacated on orders of government engineers.

The six-room frame house of Clarence Keasey, a landmark known as "The Old Ferry House," was carried from its foundations late yesterday and swept over the dam. Early today an old stone house occupied by Michael Corrordia and a frame tenanted by Nicholas Schillo collapsed. Schillo lost his furniture. The families had abandoned the dwellings early yesterday, and were taken in by neighbors.

SEIZE THAW BLACKMAILER

(Continued from Page One.)

ever someone called "30-X" to the driver. The signal could be given at any point along the route.

A score of city detectives had been assigned to duty along the proposed route and Detectives William McCready was driving the machine with Detective William Egan hiding beside him. The car went over the entire route without seeing anyone or getting the signal.

IDENTIFIED BY GIRL.

Meanwhile Wipf had been picked up by detectives who noticed him acting suspiciously. He had a revolver in his possession, the sleuths say, and in his home a box of cartridges was found, with five missing. They are of the same make as the ones found in the Thaw home. Wipf was identified by the Grealish girl and two other maids who had witnessed the attack detectives say. A mask also was found in the man's clothes, detectives say.

Wipf said he was born in Switzerland and during the war had been a German spy in Canada. He had been living in Craig street for three months.

He said he carried the revolver for protection.

Mrs. Thaw is a sister-in-law of Harry K. Thaw and a daughter-in-law of Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw.

TO PAY BLAST LOSSES

(Continued from Page One.)

meeting of our various executives which are now in sessions and we will have able advisors from men and women in all walks of life who are familiar with the conditions we are facing and whose suggestions we are always glad to accept. How the relief work and the restoration of homes will be done just now is not as important as the fact that it will be done promptly and effecavailable for the instant payment of hospital bills and other incidental expenses of the injured.

"The company is willing to go more than half way in settling the claims of the people whose homes were wrecked and who lost furniture and other effects. There shall be no quibbling. Winter is coming on and our instructions are that the victims of the explosion must be restored to their former comforts. Our dealing with the people impresses us that they are fair when they know that they are being dealt with fairly, and square dealing will be our principle throughout this effort to restore the losses.

"In the cases of business concerns and large corporations who suffered damages as a result of the explosion an equitable basis of settlement will be made. Our first concern, however, is for the small home owner and tenant. Perhaps it may be arranged for an outside organization to undertake to assist in the work, and in this event we shall be glad to co-operate."

DIVORCES MOVIE STAR

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—(AP.)—Reginald Denny, motion picture star, entered the ranks of the unattached today, after his wife had been granted a divorce on allegations that his weakness for airplane riding and his tendency to criticize her had amounted to cruelty.

Mrs. Irene Denny, stage actress, won the decree in Superior Court here yesterday. One of the acts of the cruelty charged against the actor was that he insisted on flying, although he knew the act filled her with terror and that he not only took the airplane flights himself, but would take their small daughter, Barbara, with him into the air.

"While I don't know that airplane riding is extreme cruelty under ordinary circumstances," Judge Walter S. Gates ruled, "when a man goes airplane riding with his small child over the protests of his wife, it is cruelty."

The actor, Mrs. Denny testified, was a husband who answered every expression by his wife with the remark, "Don't be silly."

His sarcasm also helped blight her happiness, she complained.

His shout of "Put away the blondes; here comes the wife," which greeted her when she appeared at the film studio, she interpreted as meaning he suspected her of spying on him.

The alimony settlement approved by the court provided that Mrs. Denny receive $1,000 a month as long as Denny received his present salary, said to be $3,000 a week. She also was awarded the custody of the child.

The Dennys, who formerly were on the English stage, were married in Calcutta in 1912.

Oil Witness Nipped for $100,000

By GEORGE E. DURNO,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The government today seized $100,000 from Harry M. Blackmer, oil man, who refused to return from Europe to testify in the Fall-Sinclair conspiracy trial.

The seizure was authorized under the Walsh act, which provides for confiscation of property up to $100,000 of a witness who flees the country and declines to answer a subpena.

Acting on orders from Justice Siddons, who ordered the Fall-Sinclair mistrial, E. C. Snyder, marshal, and S. B. Callahan, chief deputy, went to the National Savings and Trust Company and took $100,000 in Liberty bonds which had been deposited by Blackmer's attorneys, Nathan L. Miller, former Governor of New York, and George Gordon Battle. The bonds were transferred to a safety deposit box and placed under government seal.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER FLEE MONONGAHELA FIRE

MONONGAHELA, Pa., Nov. 19.—Three hundred dollars and household effects were destroyed when fire swept the home of Frank Oliver, New Eagle, last night. Mrs. Oliver and her 8-year-old daughter escaped. The loss will total $2,500.

FREEZE HALTS RISING RIVERS

RABBIT BROOD ESCAPES BLAST

FOUND AMID WRECKAGE

In a house at 1220 Reedsdale street, shattered by the gas tank explosion of Monday, searchers came upon a mother rabbit and her brood, safe amid broken beams and heaped plaster. The wooden bucket which had been their home had saved them from death while the house crashed over them.

COLD SPELL HERE WILL CONTINUE

Pittsburghers felt the keen edge of a 24-degree temperature this morning, the lowest the mercury has dropped this season. Continued coolness is expected, Forecaster W. S. Brotzman said, as the Mid-West reported frigidity somewhat below the seasonal normal. Skies, for the most part, will remain clear.

The cold spell checked the rising rivers, and a crest at the Point was reached early today at 21.5 feet, four and a half feet below flood stage. All streams are receding rapidly.

The construction of a cofferdam at Dead Man's Island lock, in the Ohio River below Sewickley, was abandoned until the waters recede.

Exposes League Trick

ARTHUR E. KEMMERLING

After this former investigator for the Citizens League had revealed that a high official of the league knew as early as October 31 that fraudulent evidence had been used by league sleuths, Dr. Charles R. Zahniser, league director, admitted he had been told by Kemmerling of the fraud perpetrated by William L. King and Abe Weinberg and Sol Rosenberg, King's ace investigators.

ROBBERS FOILED, ABANDON TRUCK

POLICEMAN CHASES 2 AT STORE

One of two robbers who were attempting to rob the Atlantic and Pacific chain store at 162 Southern avenue, Mt. Washington, is believed to have been wounded when the two ran from the entrance of the store amid a hail of shots fired by Police Capt. Alfred Bassett.

A truck which the two were perparing to fill with groceries was left in front of the store. Police are holding the machine and are tracing the owner through the license plates. Bassett accidentally ran into the robbery when he walked into Southern avenue from Shiloh street and discovered the men forcing the store door.

LIFE SPARK BURNS LOW

VERA, COUNTESS CATHCART

Fighting for her life, Vera, Countess Cathcart, figure of a sensational fight to gain admission to the United States in 1926, is believed near death today. She is suffering from heart disease in her home, Prince Gate, London. The countess failed twice financially in the production of her play, "Ashes," both in the United States and in England. She will be remembered as the woman first accused of "moral turpitude" when immigration inspectors refused to pass her into the country.

THE DAILY PICTORIAL THE SUN-TELEGRAPH GENERAL NEWS SECTION

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1927

TWO INDICTED IN POSTOFFICE ROBBERY

William C. Mackey and George C. McGinnis have been indicted by the Federal grand jury on a charge of forcibly breaking into the postoffice at Kaylor, Armstrong county, September 23, and stealing a safe containing $69.45 and 18 blank postal money orders. The safe, according to the postal authorities, was taken a mile from the postoffice and broken open.

A true bill was returned against Curtis White, charging him with altering and passing a United States Adjusted Service Certificate, by predating it in order to obtain a loan on it from a bank.

Joe Zaccheo was indicted for alleged violation of the Mann act. He was charged with unlawfully transporting Josephine Sperduli, 14, from Wellsville, O., to Rochester, for immoral purposes.

Albert Grasser and Bud Hovis were indicted for transporting a stolen automobile from Grove City to Burlington, Col.

Alexander A. V. Andahazy was indicted on a charge of violating the postal laws. According to the bill of complaint he mailed at Brownsville a postal card addressed to "Emil 'Stur' Stankovjanski and Earl Delohlavek, ČoSlovak Herald, 1601 Beaver avenue, Pittsburgh," containing writing of lascivious and scurrilous character.

DRIVER HELD IN INJURY OF WOMAN AND SELF

Mrs. G. T. McMillan, of 923 Lincoln avenue, and C. T. Redd, of 5004 Rippey street, were cut and bruised early today when an automobile in which they were riding collided with a street car in Carson street near South Twenty-second street. They were treated in the South Side Hospital, and Redd was arrested on a reckless driving charge.

Relief Chiefs Survey Havoc After Blast

R. E. BONDY A. K. OLIVER

Red Cross Relief work in the Manchester gas blast disaster came under the personal survey of Roberty E. Bondy, Eastern Disaster Relief director for the organization, and Augustus K. Oliver, chairman of the Pittsburgh chapter, when they made a survey of conditions arising from the explosion. Above Mr. Oliver points out some of the aspects of the situation to Mr. Bondy.

TALLIES GONE, 2 VOTE BOARDS SUMMONED

Two election boards, the Fifteenth district of the Twenty-first Ward and the Seventeenth district of the Twenty-third Ward, were brought before Judges James B. Drew and Harry H. Rowand, sitting with the returning board, for missing tally sheets that the election boards failed to include in their returns to the court after the November election. In both instances the missing sheets were found in the ballot boxes.

The official returning board had reached the Twenty-eighth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh in the convass of the November votes when the daily session closed yesterday. It is expected to finish the tabulation of the city vote by noon today.

SIX ARRESTED IN TYPO CLUB RAID

Six persons were arrested and whisky and alcohol seized last night by a squad of police under Lieut. Dennis Hennessy in a raid on the Typo Club, 416 Sixth avenue.

John Wells, 25, was arrested on a charge of keeping a disorderly house and five persons found in the place were arrested as visitors. They will be arraigned in Central Police Court this morning.

Slain

Mrs. Elsie Holt Snipes, attractive divorcee and mother of two children, was shot to death in her apartment in Richmond, Va. John W. Faison, prominent country club manager, married and father of five children, has been arrested in connection with the murder.

MRS. ELSIE HOLT SNIPES

WILL CALL 100 IN GAS BLAST PROBE

Approximately 100 witnesses will be called to testify at the coroner's inquest into the Equitable gas tank explosion last Monday, which is expected to open within the next 10 days, at which time the county will endeavor to determine the cause of the blast and fix the blame.

The death list still stands at 26, although it is believed that two missing welders at work on the tank at the time were killed. Nothing has been found of their bodies. The work of searching the ruins of the Pittsburgh Clay Pot Company went on yesterday.

The right foot of a white man encased in a tan working shoe, and toes of a left foot, were found today in a water trench beside a tank at the explosion scene and removed to the morgue.

Mayor Charles H. Kline was appealed to yesterday by the Pittsburgh Federation of Social Agencies to see that the provisions of the city's zoning ordinance be complied with in the reconstruction work on homes in the blast district. This is to eliminate bad housing conditions that long have existed in the area affected.

Joe Maser, proprietor of the William Penn garage, has provided a three-room and bath apartment above the garage for one of the families made homeless in the blast. Mr. Masers' tender of the garage was made to the Red Cross through the Sun-Telegraph.

NICARAGUA, WHERE MEXICO -:- BREWED RED INTRIGUE -:- AGAINST UNITED STATES

MARINES REHEARSE

Nicaragua-bound marines do water drill in Guantanamo Bay while their transports re-fuel just prior to their arrival in Nicaragua. The troops are wading ashore under full marching equipment.

CALLES

Plutarco Elias Calles, president of Mexico, accused by official documentary evidence of his own files, as instigator of a Red plot in Nicaragua against the United States.

REBELS WELL ARMED

These modern arms, shown in the hands of Liberal rebels unfriendly to the United States, were purchased with money from the Mexican treasury. Proof of this, too, was uncovered in official files of the Mexican government by the Hearst papers.

POLICEMAN AMUCK ON RUM, "FIRED"

Sub-Patrolman John J. Flaherty may be able to handle the stuff they dispense for liquor in the Oakland district, but over in the gas house district it's another thing. The Monday gas blast changed Flaherty's bailiwick.

Yesterday Allegheny station was notified that a uniformed patrolman with Badge No. 1708 was throwing his mace in the air and acting disorderly. Police on four calls found No. 1708 had just left when they answered.

About 1 o'clock firemen of No. 46 Engine House arrested Flaherty in Sandusky street on complaint of a pedestrian who said the man had discharged a revolver. Flaherty was not in uniform at that time. At a hearing before Magistrate B. M. Hough in North Side Police Station, Flaherty was fined $25, and was suspended by Inspector Charles Faulkner.

His excuse to the magistrate was liquor. He admitted his badge number was 1708.

Shoes Uncleaned, Hubby Shoots

Because his shoes had not been cleaned, Leopold Geider locked himself in the bathroom and shot—at the wall!

That was one of the statements of his wife, Mrs. Anna C. Geider, in a divorce suit filed in Common Please Court yesterday.

FOOTBALL CLUBHOUSE BURNS

The clubhouse of Graham Field, William Penn highway, scene of Wilkinsburg High School football games, with all of the football squad's equipment, including four sets of uniforms, was destroyed by fire early this morning. The building, a frame structure, and its contents were valued at more than $10,000.

Lieut. Belmont Pugh of the Wilkinsburg police force, is investigating reports that the fire was of incendiary origin.

Occurring but a few hours before the time of the biggest game of the season for Wilkinsburg, that with Turtle Creek Union High School, the fire sent high school athletic officials and team members scurrying about for emergency equipment for this afternoon's game.

THE SUN-TELEGRAPH MELODY WAY CLUB

ELEVENTH LESSON

Copyright, 1927, by W. Otto Miessner

The Melody Way

The Melody Way is the glad Song road
That leads to Happiness.
For those who sing bear a lighter load,
And those who smile—weep less!

The Melody Way is for girls and boys
Who know sweet Music's Tongue—
Her Melodies turn griefs to joys
And keep them ever young!

—W. Otto Miessner.

It is a fact that Music keeps men young, in spirit, if not in years. Yesterday I learned of a man in Chicago, past 75, who is learning to play the piano, the Melody Way. He may be an old man, by the calendar, but he's a boy at heart! Such a man can never really grow old!

Men have been known to begin the study of a foreign language after they were 70; then why not Music? For Music is not a strange tongue to anyone in the wide world. Do you know that even the wildest savages, in the deepest African jungles, have their Music? Do you know that men knew about Music long before they had invented spoken language?

I hope that there will be many of these "young" old men who will try their hand at the piano. Anyone can learn to play the Melody Way by giving "15 minutes a day" to Music—well enough for one's own pleasure. Of course, this does not mean than one can become an artist without long years of patient practice.

The purpose of "Melody Way" is to awaken your interest in Music and to prove to you that you have some musical talent—enough to express your own moods. Another aim is to give you enough simple facts about Music so that you can listen to fine Music with greater pleasure and deeper understanding.

Finally, "Melody Way" is for the millions of boys and girls that have never had a chance in Music. Among these there are many, who, with a fuller opportunity, may become splendid musicians. Here and there we may even discover a musical genius. If we found but one Mozart, but one Beethoven—how much that would mean to Music in America!

For those of you with unusual talent, I hope the means will be found for your further musical education. The public schools are waking up to the duty they owe you. The day is near when the public schools and the university will give the same educational advantages to our future musicians that they now give to our future mechanics. Ask your parents to demand this!

This means that playing upon musical instruments will be taught in schools as freely as pecking on typewriters is now taught. The art of making Music will have the same attention that we now give to other manual arts. This is my word of cheer to children who want to make Music their life work.

Your lesson this week introduces a little waltz tune set to a poem that explains how we learn to play the Melody Way. It is easy to play, the new way, is it not?

Analysis of "The Melody Way"

The art of knowing "how to study" is the most important thing I have to teach you. I have listened to thousands of children practicing. Most of them, I am sorry to say, did not seem to know how to practice. Now, the mere drumming away at a piece is not a good method of working. It is no method at all!

Furthermore, it becomes very tiresome, to begin always at the beginning and play till the end—only to start all over again and repeat the performance. Usually the performance does not improve greatly.

The better way is to analyze—search out the difficult and unfamiliar spots—set them apart and practice upon them in short groups—phrases and motifs or even on some awkward little figure. Having perfected each link, the whole chain becomes strong and fine.

Analysis should be conducted in an orderly, systematic manner. If you will now acquire the habit of attacking each new piece, each new musical problem in this methodical way, you will save many weary hours of drudgery and aimless work. Let me give you this motto:

"Use your head and save your hands!"

Every piece of Music contains the five elements of:

1. Rhythm.
2. Melody.
3. Harmony.
4. Form.
5. Mood.

With practice, you will be able, after awhile, to look at Music and analyze and comprehend all these elements in a brief moment. You will recognize unfamiliar bits of rhythm, or melody, or harmony at a glance. You will compare them with elements you know already. You will master them quickly. Then your first actual playing of the piece will become a joy.

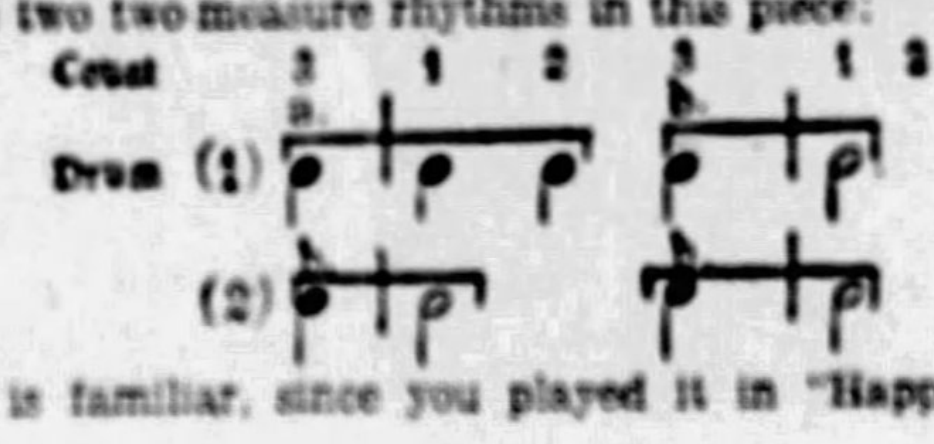
1. Rhythm

Observe the Measure Sign:

How many counts to the measure?
What note gets one count?
What note gets two counts?

Notice that each melodic phrase begins on the third beat.

There are two two measure rhythms in this piece:

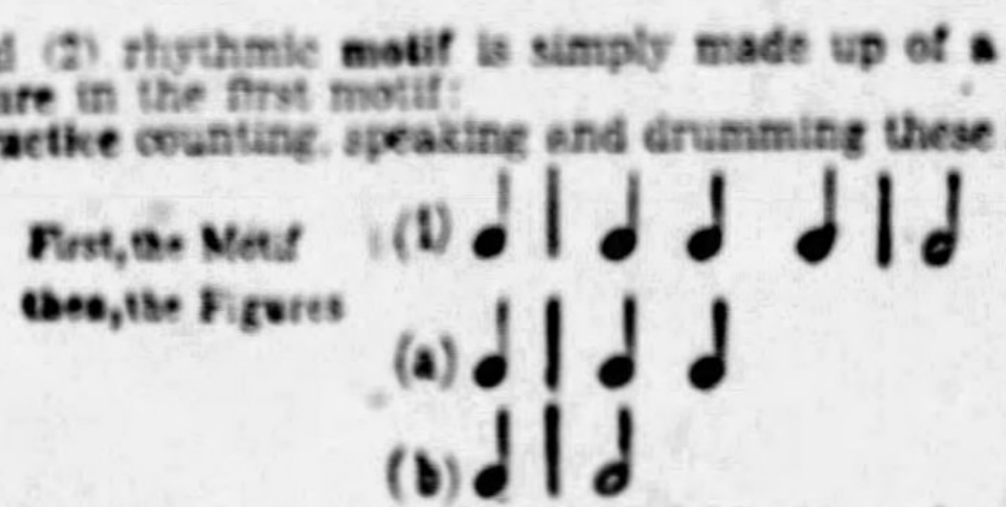


The first is familiar, since you played it in "Happiness." See the resemblance:

Count—	3 1	2 3	1		2
"Happiness"—	As Hap	py as	Kings	—	Last phrase
"Melody Way"—	The Mel	o dy	Way	—	First and last phrases

The second (2) rhythmic motif is simply made up of a repetition of the second figure in the first motif:

(a) Practice counting, speaking and drumming these rhythms:



(b) Locate, by framing in the printed Music, each recurrence of both motifs:

How often does the first (1) occur?
How often does the second (2) occur?

(c) Finally, speak and drum the rhythm of the Melody through from beginning to end.

The rhythm of the accompaniment is the straight waltz rhythm of 1 2 3.

2. Melody

(a) Study the Key Signature. In the seventh lesson you learned how to name the flats (or sharps) in the Signature, from left to right. The flat farthest to the right is Fa. Count down, spaces and lines, Fa Mi Re Do.

This is the first piece you have had that contains all the tones of the Major scale in the Melody.

Observe at the bottom of your printed Music, just above the small Key Board, the complete Major scale in E flat Major. Trace each note along the dotted line to its proper key. Memorize the letter name and the piano key for each tone of the scale.

Where is Do on the staff?
What is Do's letter name?
How often can you find:

1. Do Mi Do Mi So
2. Mi So Mi So Do
3. Do Ti La So
4. La So Fa Mi
5. Fa Mi Re Do

Now, if you will think back to the new sequence studies in the tenth lesson, you will understand why I asked you to study them. For here you will find some of these new motifs woven into this Melody.

If you have followed directions you have not yet attempted to play the Melody. You have only analyzed it—studied it silently. Now place the Key Finder with the Middle D on E flat, the name of the key (did you name it correctly?), to the right of Middle C.

(d) Play the Melody, using the Key Finder.
(e) Play the Melody, following the notes.

Observe carefully the fingering for each melodic motif. Practice each motif, separately, if necessary.

3. Harmony

Study, first, the chords in E flat Major at the very bottom of the printed page. Observe that, just preceding the chords, is the E flat Major scale in the bass clef. Trace each note along the dotted line to its proper key. Memorize the letter name and the piano key for each note.

Now study the chords and observe that in one of the V chords you play Re instead of Ti. Play the complete cadence chords in E Major:

I IV V I

The Chords in the Piece

1. Notice the familiar broken chord I in the first measure. How many times does it occur altogether?

2. How often can you find:

I Chords	V Chords
Do So So	Re So So
Mi So So	Ti So So/Fa
Do So Mi

3. Finally, study the new chord form of I in the last measure. The R. H. plays Do/Mi, while the L. H. plays So/Do.

4. Play the L. H. accompaniment separately, until you have mastered it.

4. Form

This is another musical sandwich. The first and last phrases are the two pieces of bread, while in the two middle phrases you have two juicy pieces of ham! Here is a map or diagram of this Form:

Phrase a	Phrase b	Phrase c	Phrase a
a 1 a 2	b 1 b 2	b 2 b 3	a 1 a 2
	Middle Section

Each phrase contains two motifs.
Each motif contains two measures.
Both a 1 and a 2 are tonic chord motifs.

Do Ti La So—b 1. Is a scale motif.
La So Fa Mi—b 2. Is a sequence of b 1.
Fa Mi Re Do—b 3. Is a sequence of b 2.

Note that the sequences descend.

The Mood

This mood is confident, optimistic. You affirm that you can play! You insist that it is easy! Therefore, play it freely, smoothly, gracefully.

Transposition

As though a new piece, in three flats, were a simple bagatelle, a mere nothing, an every day affair for Melody Way Club folks, I am going to have the audacity to ask you to transpose "Melody Way" into all the other flat keys! Goodness, gracious! (I can almost hear you exclaim!) What's the man thinking about? Never mind! Let's tackle it, and see how easy it is. Anyway, I half promised you all 12 keys and I am determined to make good.

To begin with, let me whisper a little secret into your ear! About the easiest Key of all, on the Key Board, is the Key of G flat, with six flats in the Key Signature! It's the key in which very little boys and girls play, "Peter, Peter, Pumpkin Eater!"

This Key of G flat Major is easy because you play all five black keys. Only two keys are white. Another easy key is the Key of D flat Major, which also contains all five black keys, the other two being white.

Our Friend, the Key-Finder

To play in D flat, place the Key-Finder so that the middle Do falls on the black key just to the right of Middle C. For the other keys, remember that Do names the key. With Do on the Key-Finder, placed properly on the key you choose for Do or 1 of the scale, you can find all the tones in any scale. To save space, I will make one diagram for the remaining six keys in the order you should study them:

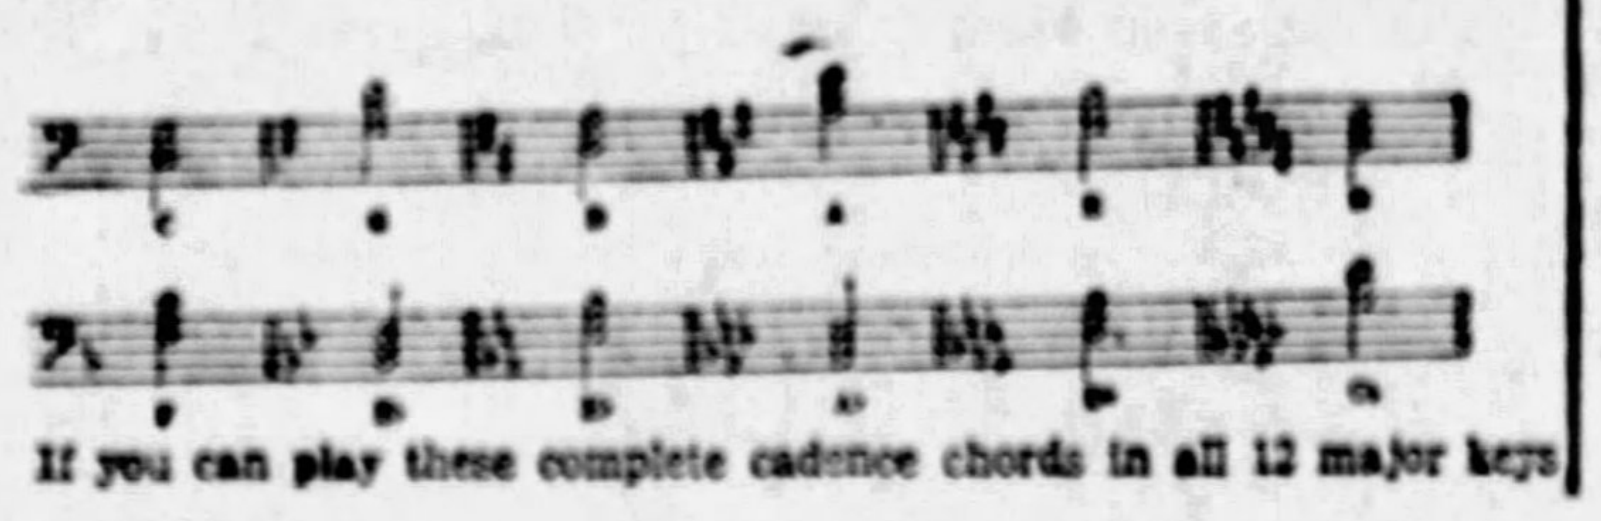
Scale	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
Tones	Do	Re	Mi	Fa	So	La	Ti	Do
Keys	D♭	E♭	F	G♭	A♭	B♭	C	D♭
	G♭	A♭	B♭	*C♭	D♭	E♭	F	G♭
	A♭	B♭	C	D♭	E♭	F	G♭	A♭
	B♭	C	D	E♭	F	G	A	B♭
	B	C♯	D♯	E	F♯	G♯	A♯	B

*C♭ is the same key on the Key Board as B.

The Chord-Finder

You have already learned how to use the Chord-Finder. Now, then, play the complete cadence chords, I, IV, V, I, in each of the above six keys. Also review this on the six keys given to you in the seventh lesson.

I shall now give you the Key Signatures of all twelve keys and include only the I Chord. You are to copy these and finish writing the complete cadence chords.



If you can play these complete cadence chords in all 12 major keys and then write them, you will know more about Harmony than most students know when they enter college.

Suppose we send this open letter to all college freshmen:

"We challenge all collegians to meet us in a Harmony Tournament." (Signed)

THE MELODY WAY CLUB.

Test Question—Only One, but Oh My!
Answers Next Week

Name the sharps in order:	Name the flats in order:
C Major	F Major
G Major	B♭ Major
D Major	E♭ Major
A Major	A♭ Major
E Major	D♭ Major
B Major	G♭ Major

Answers to Last Week's Questions

1. F, C, G, D.
2. E Major.
3. Four.
4. Four-quarter.
5. E, F♯, G♯, A, B.
6. E, G♯, B.
7. D♯, A, B.
8. Eighteen.
9. Eleven.
10. Two.

The Melody Way

W. OTTO MIESSNER

The Mel o dy Way is eas y to play, At do mi do mi so mi so mi so do do first you sing a song to please, And re ti so ti so fa mi ti then you find it on the keys; The so fa mi fa mi so do do
Mel o dy Way to eas y to play mi do mi so mi so mi so do

Boggs & Buhl
Cooper Bros.
New Kensington, Pa.
W. F. Frederick Piano Co.
635 Smithfield Street
S. Hamilton Co.
815-17 Liberty Avenue
6008 Penn Avenue
Henricks Piano Co.
142 Sixth Street (Second Floor)

The Most Brilliant Social Asset Is the Ability to Play the Piano

Acquire the ability to play the piano and you will never lack friends. For the greatest of all gifts will be yours—the ability to entertain, to bring pleasure, to comfort, and to inspire with music. Such a man or woman is always popular, always sought after, whether his music be that of the great classics or the foot-itching rhythm of today's jazz.

Every child deserves the privilege of a piano education. When you give this knowledge to your children, you provide them with a permanent source of attraction and lay the foundation of undying happiness.

Today's pianos are made to fit every type of room and every size of purse—grand pianos, baby grands, uprights, and player pianos with their repertoire of the world's greatest music.

Stop in at the show rooms of these piano merchants, and learn how easy and inexpensive it is to give your family this wealth of happiness and culture—a piano.

Hoffmann's Music House
537 Wood Street
Kaufmann's
Fifth Avenue
Lechner & Schoenberger
631 Liberty Avenue
C. C. Mellor Co.
604 Wood Street

TEAR THIS PAGE OUT AND KEEP IT FOR STUDY AND FUTURE REFERENCE

SATURDAY'S RADIO PROGRAM

The Pittsburgh and out-of-town radio programs listed below are for broadcast after 6 o'clock tonight. The wave length in meters and the station location follow the call letters. For those listeners who are constantly in search of the best entertainment offered by the hundreds of broadcasting stations, these programs are recommended: Atwater Kent Foundation audition, WCAE (517), 7:15 o'clock; Radiotrons, with Walter Damrosch and New York Symphony, KDKA (316), 8 o'clock; Philco hour, KDKA (316), 9 o'clock.

EASTERN STANDARD TIME.

LOCAL

6:00 P. M.

KDKA (316)—Time. Football scores. Westinghouse band, T. J. Vastine, conductor.

WCAE (517)—Music from Waldorf-Astoria New York.

6:55 P. M.

KDKA (316)—Football scores.

7:00 P. M.

KDKA (316)—Time. "Cause of the American Revolution," by Prof. Alfred P. James, from the University of Pittsburgh studio.

WCAE (517)—Dinner-dance music.

7:15 P. M.

WCAE (517)—District Atwater Kent audition from New York, Angelina Casale and Ernest Rabach, Pittsburgh entrants.

KDKA (316)—Home Radio Club.

7:30 P. M.

KDKA (316)—Scores from semi-classic music.

8:00 P. M.

KDKA (316) — Radiotrons, with Walter Damrosch and New York Symphony.

WJAS (270)—Sport review.

8:10 P. M.

WJAS (270)—Radio code lesson.

8:25 P. M.

WJAS (270)—Ben Fields, tenor; Thelma Fields, pianist; Harry Hopkins, tenor; Chancey Franklin, ukulele.

9:00 P. M.

KDKA (316)—Philco hour.

WCAE (517)—Time. Old Gold hour.

WJAS (270)—Phyliss Lanigan, soprano; Melrose Quartet; Bauman Sisters.

10:00 P. M.

KDKA (316)—Weather. Football scores. Time.

WCAE (517)—MacSweeney Players, in "The Valient."

10:30 P. M.

WJAS (270)—Fred Meyers, tenor; Jerry Rubin, pianist.

10:45 P. M.

WCAE (517)—Helen Kelly, soprano.

11:00 P. M.

WJAS (270)—Time.

OUTSIDE PITTSBURGH

6:00 P. M.

WJZ (454) New York—Yoengs orchestra.
WTAM (400) Cleveland—Dance orchestra.
WEAF (492) New York—Waldorf Astoria orchestra (WEEI, WRC, WCAE).
WHN (395) New York—Embassy organ.

6:10 P. M.

WIP (508) Philadelphia—Concert orchestra.

6:15 P. M.

WOR (422) Newark—Shelton ensemble.

6:30 P. M.

WGY (379) Schenectady—Onondaga orchestra.
WJR-WCX (441) Detroit — Ensemble; Blue Room orchestra.
WBAL (285) Baltimore—Dinner orchestra.
WJAY (227) Cleveland—Orchestra.
CFCA (357) Toronto—Santa Claus.
KFAB (309) Lincoln—Dinner concert.
WCAU (261) Philadelphia—Charlie Kerr orchestra.
WHN (395) New York—Kauff's Grill orchestra.
WCFL (484) Chicago—Ideal home hour.

6:40 P. M.

WLS (345) Chicago—Pied Piper; Supper bell.

6:45 P. M.

WPG (273) Atlantic City—Organ.
WOC (375) Davenport—Chimes; sports.
WHAM (278) Rochester—Onondaga orchestra.
WOR (422) Newark—Troll tales.

6:50 P. M.

WSAI (361) Cincinnati—Chimes.

6:55 P. M.

WEAF (492) New York—Football (WRC, WCAE).

7:00 P. M.

WRC (469) Washington—Bible talk.
WWNC (297) Asheville—Kenilworth orchestra.
WLW (428) Cincinnati — Mena Motor hour, organ.
WJZ (454) New York—Astor orchestra.
WTAM (400) Cleveland—Neapolitans.
WEAF (492) New York — South Sea Islanders.
KMA (384) Shenandoah—Harness Makers.
WDAF (370) Kansas City—School of the air.
WENR (288) Chicago—Orchestra, organ.
WMAQ (447) Chicago—Chicago Theater organ.
WSM (337) Nashville—Jackson orchestra.
WHN (395) New York—Haas ensemble.

7:10 P. M.

WGN (306) Chicago—Ensemble.

7:15 P. M.

WJR-WCX (441) Detroit — Ford and Glenn; ensemble.
WEAF (492) New York—Atwater Kent audition.
WJAY (227) Cleveland—Talk; vocalists.
WSAI (361) Cincinnati—Blues singer.
WCCO (405) Minn.-St. Paul—Barlow orchestra.

7:30 P. M.

WKRW (217) Buffalo—Spiritual quartet hour.
WTAM (400) Cleveland — Community fund.
WBAL (285) Baltimore—Jubilee singers.
WLS (345) Chicago—College Inn orchestra.
WHAM (278) Rochester—Two pianos.
KFAB (309) Lincoln—Good Will program.
WCAU (261) Philadelphia—Tea Garden orchestra.
WMAQ (447) Chicago — On with the dance.
WFLA (508) Clearwater—From St. Petersburg.
WGBS (349) New York—Recital.
WHN (395) New York—Sports review.
WOR (422) Newark—Pepper Pot orchestra.
WABC (326) New York—Orchestra; ensemble.

7:45 P. M.

WDOD (246) Chattanooga—Sunday school lesson.

8:00 P. M.

WRC (469) Washington — United States Army band.
WLW (428) Cincinnati—Feature.
WJZ (454) New York—RCA hour, symphony orchestra.
WTAM (400) Cleveland—Indians.
WBBM (389) Chicago—After dinner concert.
WGN (306) Chicago—Atwater Kent audition.
KMA (384) Shenandoah—German songs.
WSAI (361) Cincinnati—Under the Big Top.
WIP (508) Philadelphia—Red Cross concert.
WFAA (500) Dallas—Davenport orchestra.
WJAZ (263) Chicago—Dinner concert.
WJAX (337) Jacksonville—Recital.
WGBS (349) New York—Dog talk.
WHN (395) New York—Concert trio.

8:10 P. M.

WIBO (416) Chicago—Sports; Davis orchestra.

8:15 P. M.

WCCO (405) Minn.-St. Paul—Civic Commerce Association.

8:30 P. M.

WLW (428) Cincinnati—Trio.
WDOD (246) Chattanooga — Patten ensemble.
WEAF (492) New York—High Jinkers (WJAR, WGY, WGR).
WLS (345) Chicago—National barn dance (1½ hours).
WIP (508) Philadelphia — Morning Sip [illegible].
CFCA (357) Toronto—Hambourg Concert Society.
WHAS (461) Louisville—Old-time music.
KFAB (309) Lincoln — University of Nebraska.
WCAU (261) Philadelphia—Pennsylvania orchestra.
WMAQ (447) Chicago—Mills program.
WCFL (484) Chicago—Educational talk.

8:45 P. M.

WBBM (389) Chicago—Organ; police octet.
WJAX (337) Jacksonville—Popular entertainer.
WCCO (405) Minn.-St. Paul — Fireside Philosophers.
WGBS (349) New York—Police Journal talk.

9:00 P. M.

WJZ (454) New York — Philco hour (WBAL, WHAM, WRC, WTMJ, KDKA, WLW, WJR, KYW, WCCO, KSD, WOC, WHO, WBAP, WOW, WDAF, KVOO, WHAS, WSM, WMC, WSB, WBT, WJAX).
WTAM (400) Cleveland—Cavaliers.
WMBI (263) Chicago — Scandinavian service.
WPG (273) Atlantic City—With [illegible].
WGN (306) Chicago—Music.
WEAF (492) New York — Old Gold on Broadway (WEEI, WGY, WGR, WEBH, WWJ, WSAI, WCAE, WFI).
WJAY (227) Cleveland—Accordian, piano.
KOA (326) Denver—Football.
WIP (508) Philadelphia—Recital; mixed quartet.
KTHS (384) Hot Springs—Semi-classical gems.
WENR (288) Chicago—Classical.
KFAB (309) Lincoln—Salon orchestra.
WMAQ (447) Chicago—Photologue.
WOR (422) Newark—Little symphony.
WCFL (484) Chicago—Popular (4 hours).
WABC (326) New York—Mayflower orchestra.

9:30 P. M.

WJAY (227) Cleveland—Two gobs.
KTHS (384) Hot Springs—Specialties.
KFI (469) Los Angeles — Pianist, composer.
WSMB (322) New Orleans — Music (2 hours).
WCAU (261) Philadelphia—Chefs; musical architects.
WMAQ (447) Chicago—Chicago Theater revue.
WGBS (349) New York — International Bible students.

9:35 P. M.

WPG (273) Atlantic City—Concert music.

9:45 P. M.

WBBM (389) Chicago—Trio; police octet.

10:00 P. M.

WRC (469) Washington—Club St. Marks orchestra.
WLW (428) Cincinnati—Feature.
WJZ (454) New York—Soprano, muted trumpets.
WJR-WCX (441) Detroit — Ford and Glenn.
WTAM (400) Cleveland—Wandering minstrels.
WPG (273) Atlantic City—Casino orchestra.
WGN (306) Chicago—Atwater Kent audition.
WBAL (285) Baltimore—Municipal band.
WEAF (492) New York—Rolfe's orchestra (WGY).
WJAY (227) Cleveland—Radio ensemble.
WIP (508) Philadelphia — El Patio orchestra.
WFAA (500) Dallas—Dallas musicians.
KTHS (384) Hot Springs—Dornberger orchestra.
KFI (469) Los Angeles—Fire Department orchestra.
WDAF (370) Kansas City—School of air.
WHAM (278) Rochester—Pop twins.
WJAZ (263) Chicago—Chez Pierre orchestra.
WENR (288) Chicago—Popular requests.
KFAB (309) Lincoln—Junior Chamber of Commerce.
WJAX (337) Jacksonville—Dance orchestra.
WMC (517) Memphis—Plectrum orchestra.
WFLA (508) Clearwater—Dance orchestra.
WSM (337) Nashville — Barn dance (2 hours).
WABC (326) New York—Waldorf Astoria orchestra (2 hours).
WTMJ (294) Milwaukee—Orchestra.

10:15 P. M.

WOR (422) Newark—Dance music.

10:30 P. M.

WLW (428) Cincinnati—Organ.
WJZ (454) New York—Keystone duo.
WJR-WCX (441) Detroit—Cotton Pickers.
WBBM (389) Chicago—Hits of Yesteryear.
WPG (273) Atlantic City — Pianist, soprano.
WCAU (261) Philadelphia—Piccadilly orchestra.
WMAQ (447) Chicago—Popular songs.

11:00 P. M.

WGY (380) Schenectady—Romano's orchestra.
WLW (428) Cincinnati—Henry Theis orchestra.
WJZ (454) New York—Slumber music.
WJR-WCX (441) Detroit — Merry old chief.
WTAM (400) Cleveland—Dance orchestra.
WBBM (389) Chicago—Kimball hall frolic.
WPG (273) Atlantic City—Follies Bergere orchestra.
WIBO (416) Chicago—College hour.
WEAF (492) New York—Cass Hagan orchestra.
WIP (508) Philadelphia—Organ.
WFAA (500) Dallas — Players hour, popular.
KFI (469) Los Angeles—Saturday night revue.
WHAM (278) Rochester—Barrett's orchestra.
WCCO (405) Minn.-St. Paul — Athletic Club orchestra.
WMAQ (447) Chicago—Stevens orchestra, WQJ (3 hours).
WHN (395) New York—American organist.
WOR (422) Newark—Venice orchestra.

11:10 P. M.

WGN (306) Chicago—Music Box.

11:30 P. M.

WBBM (389) Chicago—Supper Club.

12:00 MIDNIGHT.

WLIB (306) Chicago—Hamiltons.
WIBO (416) Chicago—Popular (3 hours).
WLS (345) Chicago—Doc Cook's orchestra.
WFAA (500) Dallas—Baker orchestra.
KFI (469) Los Angeles—Pacific network.

12:30 A. M.

WLS (345) Chicago—Three orchestras.
WFAA (500) Dallas—Palace Theater.

12:45 A. M.

WDAF (370) Kansas City — Nighthawk frolic.

1:00 A. M.

WBBM (389) Chicago — Midnight Jamboree.
WLIB (306) Chicago—Meeker's orchestra.
KFI (469) Los Angeles—Packard program.

2:00 A. M.

KFI (469) Los Angeles—Midnight frolic.

RODEF SHALOM SERVICES TO GO ON AIR

Services of Rodef Shalom Temple will again be heard on the air during the religious broadcasts by Pittsburgh radio stations tomorrow, the schedule of which follows:

9:30 A. M.

WCAE (517)—Bible class of St. Andrew's Lutheran Church, the Rev. Dr. H. P. Eckhardt, pastor, will speak.

11:00 A. M.

KDKA (316)—Third Presbyterian Church, the Rev. W. L. McEwan, pastor. Sermon, "The Refusal of Life."

WCAE (517)—Rodef Shalom Temple. The Rev. Dr. S. H. Goldenson.

WJAS (270)—St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, the Rev. James R. Cox, rector. Sermon, "Why Children."

1:00 P. M.

KQV (270)—International Bible Association.

2:00 P. M.

WJAS (270)—Services by the Rev. E. C. Poole.

4:00 P. M.

WCAE (517)—Men's Conference from Bedford Branch Y. M. C. A., New York. The Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman to speak and answer questions. Music by Gloria Trumpeters.

4:45 P. M.

KDKA (316)—Shadyside Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Dr. Hugh Thomson Kerr, pastor.

7:00 P. M.

KDKA (316)—Services of Calvary Protestant Episcopal Church, the Rev. E. J. Van Etten, pastor.

"RADIO SERVICE"
PITTSBURGH
8 WOOLWORTH BUILDING
Diamond and East Ohio Sts., N. S.
Phone Fairfax 8788.
Authorized Music Master Service.

TURKEYS
Live and Dressed
WHOLESALE ONLY

ALBERT M. TRAVIS CO.
207 Twenty-first St.
PHONE GRANT 2349

25th Anniversary

TIME HAS NOT TARNISHED
THE WELCOME SIGN

Commonwealth
Trust Company of Pittsburgh
CAPITAL AND SURPLUS $3,000,000.00

JOIN THE SUN-TELEGRAPH MELODY WAY CLUB TODAY

MEMBERSHIP APPLICATION BLANK

The Sun-Telegraph Melody Way Club
Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa.

I want to join The Sun-Telegraph Melody Way Club. Send me my membership button and card by mail and place my name on the roster to receive piano lessons absolutely free and without obligation.

Name ....
Address ....
City .... State ....

IMPORTANT! In order to become a member these questions must be truthfully answered:

Have you ever taken piano lessons?....................
What school do you attend?....................
What grade are you in?....................
How old are you?....................
What is the date of your birthday?....................

Home Furnishers JOSEPH HORNE CO Interior Decorators

Order Board Court 3000 · Store Hours 9 A.M. to 5:30 P.M.

A Special Price on 9x12-Foot

Royal Wilton Rugs

$68.50

These Rugs are among our "best sellers" .... from regular higher-priced assortments! Of selected wool—a sturdy, long-wearing quality. In a variety of designs, from plain effects to Oriental patterns. Wanted blues, roses, taupe and sand tones. This low sale price urges prompt selection.

* * * * * * * * *

9x12-ft. Seamless Fringed Velvet Rugs, Special, $36.50
9x12-ft. Seamless Axminster Rugs, Special, $45.00
9x12-ft. Seamless Worsted Rugs, Special, $58.00

Inlaid Linoleum

$1.10 sq. yd.

A special price! Inlaid, in tile and small all-over patterns.

Silk Floss Rugs, special! Made of silk floss yarn, heavily braided in ovals. 200—at the price of cotton rugs! In combinations of blue, rose, tan, gray, orchid, green and black.

24x36 inches	$1.95
27x54 inches	$3.65
40x60 inches	$5.85

Rubber Mats, good heavy quality, special, 65c.

—Horne's, Sixth Floor—

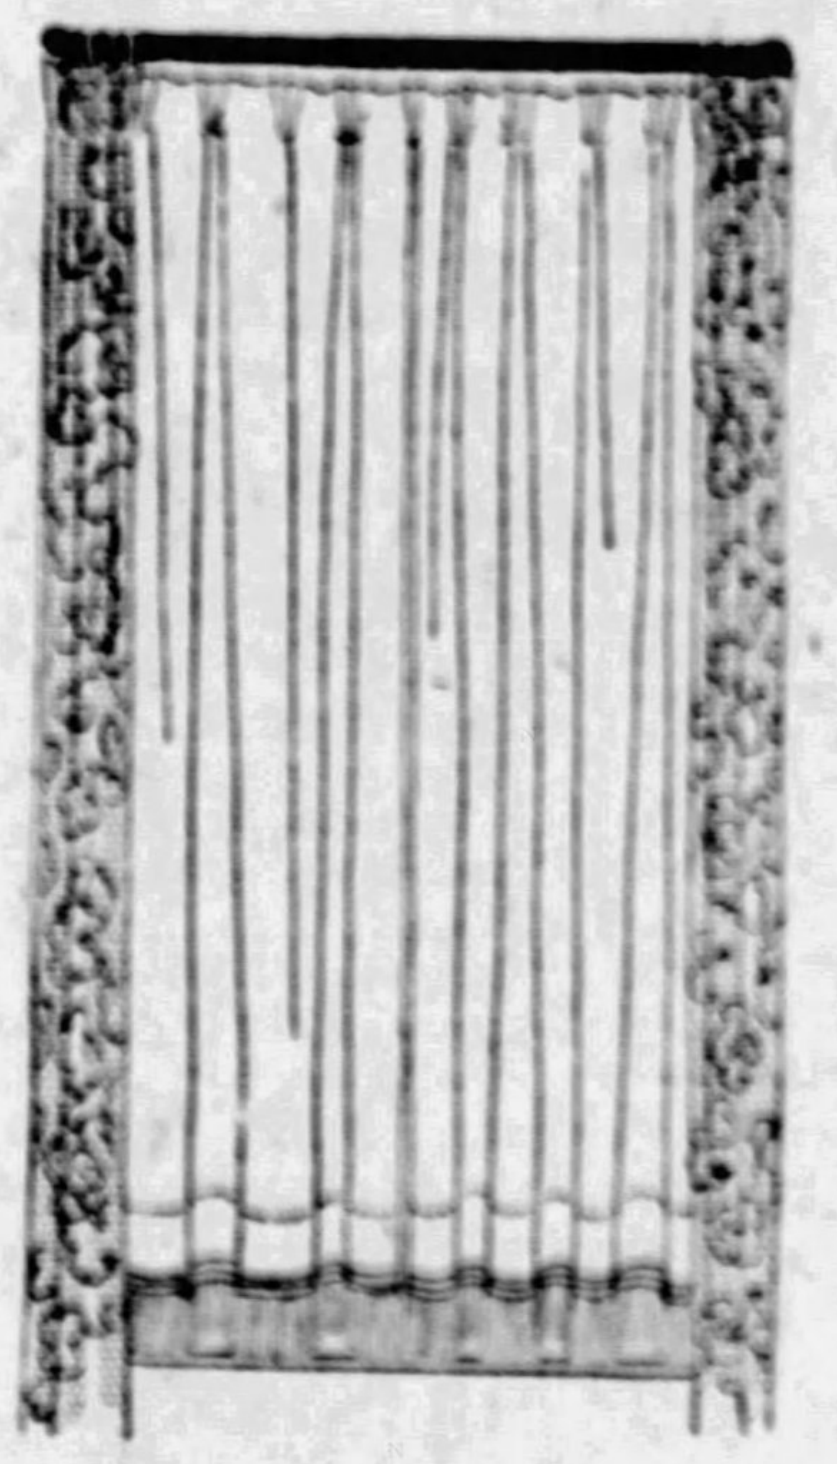
Voile Panels

Unusually Priced

$1.10 Each



THEY are made of a good quality voile, in a French ecru shade. They are hemmed and are trimmed with bullion fringe at the bottom. 36 inches wide by 2¼ yards long. One or two may be used at a window.

Fringed Marquisette Panels, $1.55 Each

In ecru, with hand-drawn work at the bottom; or with a lace insertion. Both styles 36 inches wide by 2¼ yards long.

Fringed French Marquisette Panels, $2.00 Each

Fine quality, in ecru, with hem at the bottom, edged with bullion fringe. Extra wide, 48 inches by 2¼ yards long.

Ruffled Voile Curtains, $2.55 Pair

Sheer quality, in a block and figure pattern, with self-ruffle. Tie-backs included.

Crossed Ruffled Curtains, $3.55 Pair

Small spot marquisette, in ecru or ivory tone. Made to cross over each other. Very dainty for bedrooms.

—Horne's, Fourth Floor—

You Are Invited...

To See an Example of Horne Interior Decorating Skill

One of the houses in the John E. Born Development on Beechwood Boulevard has been completely furnished under the direction of the Interior Decorating Studios of this store. It is a splendid illustration of how a small house of modern compactness can be developed through careful planning into a charming and distinctive home.

Open for Inspection Daily, 1 P. M. to 9 P. M.

Beechwood Boulevard, between Murray Ave. bridge and new Schenley Park bridge.

The Christmas Store in Holiday Dress

Christmas decorations will be complete Monday—and the spirit of the coming occasion will permeate "Pittsburgh's Best Place to Shop."

The Handkerchief, Stationery, Neckwear, Ribbon and Book Sections have been enlarged, on the Main Floor. Christmas Decorative Flowers for the home, and Pillows with larger quarters, along with Gift Wrappings are established on the Fourth Floor.

Of special note: Wash Goods and Linings now on Fourth Floor.

The Plays — Stage and Screen — And Players

THE PITTSBURGH SUN-TELEGRAPH
SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1927

Thomas Meighan to Sign With Howard Hughes, 23-Year-Old Millionaire Movie Producer

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor of Universal Service.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.

THE future of Thomas Meighan, Irish screen star, will be settled when he reaches here Monday, if reliable rumors can be believed, and, personally, I think these rumors are true—Tommy will sign a contract with Howard Hughes of Caddo Pictures.

The young millionaire, I am told, will finance the Meighan productions, which will be released through Paramount-Famous-Lasky, just as the Harold Lloyd and the Fred Thomson productions are now being distributed.

There are two more pictures on Mr. Meighan's contract, which he will make for Paramount. After that his pictures will be financed by Mr. Hughes, with story responsibility, production costs and plans all approved by this 23-year-old boy, who is becoming a well-known figure in Hollywood film circles.

Mr. Hughes' taking over of the Meighan unit inclines me to think the people are right when they say that Hughes is going into pictures seriously. I am told there are many more plans up his sleeve which we may expect to hear unfolded almost any day now.

Bobby Burns not only spoke the truth when he said "The best laid plans of men and mice aft gang aglee," but told plenty concerning motion pictures. Here we have Robert Kane all set and ready to produce "The Headliner" with Allan Dwan. Well, he's still going to produce "The Headliner," but before the newspaper story sees the screen there is "The Mad Hour" to be reckoned with. Isn't that a title, boys and girls? Our only little Sally O'Neil draws the lead and Allan Dwan will direct. Sally seems to be working steadily, even though she is now free lancing instead of working on a contract.

There will be no vulgar touches in "The Red Dancer of Moscow." You can depend upon that, for Dolores Del Rio put her small foot down and declined to make the picture unless it were expurgated according to her own ideas. Dolores, it seemed, felt "The Loves of Carmen" and "What Price Glory" had enough vulgarity to last her the rest of her natural life. Raoul Walsh, who is a good director, and that doesn't mean maybe, has listened to reason and agreed to have certain of the scenes written out. Therefore, with the dove of peace flapping its wings, we may expect to see Miss Del Rio on the Fox lot December 1. Perhaps I should have explained there had been a little argument about the picture. Please forgive me for getting the cart before the horse. I didn't mean to do it, honest.

Gil Boag, the husband of Gilda Gray, has returned to New York, but not without a contract in his vest pocket. Gil made no secret that he would like to put Alice White under contract and star her in a series of pictures. He thinks she is a great bet and bound to be a sensation if handled properly. But unable to get her, he compromised by signing Rochus Gliese and Herman Bing, who were imported here to do the sets of "Sunrise," F. W. Murnau's picture. I believe Mr. Boag intends to sell them to other producers. Gilda Gray is not returning East with him at this time. Although there is apparently a considerable rift in the lute in the Boag case, both refuse to admit that the breach is permanent.

What with courts and arrests for speeding, Sally Rand has had an exciting week. Sally, a baby Wampas star, who pleaded ignorance to traffic laws, has just signed a contract with the Fox Company to play one of the leading feminine charmers in "A Girl in Every Port." The supporting cast, by the way, in this Victor McLaglen drama, sounds for all the world like a Spanish invasion. Here are some of the names—Elina Jurado, Carmen Costillo and Marie Casajuana.

Andres de Segurola has never considered that his voice was much of a help in the movies. That is, he never considered it was until he made a picture for Warner Brothers. Now he is singing "The Marseillaise" in "The Glorious Betsy." Not only is he singing, but he is speaking words. A whole sequence of "The Glorious Betsy" is being done with the Vitaphone, etcetera. Gone are the silent days when one could go to sleep in the movies during the unreeling of the film. You've got to keep awake now whether you want to or not.

The stage actors are certainly getting a break in "Abie's Irish Rose." They have imported Bernard Gorcey and Mrs. Ida Kramer from New York for Mr. and Mrs. Cohen, neither one having ever appeared in the movies before. And now comes Camillus Pictal, who plays a Jewish rabbi. Mr. Pictal is the choice of Ann Nichols' manager, who believes that he'll bring his stage gift to the films. We hope he is right. By the way, a new addition to the cast, is Rosa Rosanova, who plays Sadie.

Stars of Stage -:- Here Next Week -:- In Music Plays

CHARLES WINNINGER, who plays a leading part in "Show Boat," Florenz Ziegfeld production coming to the Nixon.

KATHRYN RINGQUEST, member of the beauty brigade of "Show Boat," which Mr. Ziegfeld says has many like Kathryn.

WILLIE HOWARD, leading comedian with George White's "Scandals," booked for the Alvin. Brother Eugene is with him.

ANN PENNINGTON, star of "Scandals," in an impression of Lenore Ulric as she appears in the play, "Lulu Belle."

Most Extras of the Screen Are Just That

Only one girl in the last six months has averaged as much as five days' employment a week as an "extra" in motion pictures in Hollywood, according to statistics from the Central Casting Corporation.

Eight girls averaged four days a week, and 21 averaged as much as three days a week during the six months. This is out of a total registration of more than 6,000 women and girls and is taken as proof that making a living as an "extra" in Hollywood is almost out of the question.

The Central Casting Corporation has on record more than 18,000 extras who must divide the 700 or 800 jobs open a day. In the six months just passed, 20 men averaged four days a week, and 26 averaged three days a week. The average daily wage of an "extra" is $8.33, so that even the busiest receive in a week about $41.00.

Ninety-eight per cent of all those who work fairly regularly, it is revealed, were "dress extras" or preferred status, that is, they had exceptional good wardrobes.

American Director Is Banned By England

By Universal Service.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—American producers will be excluded from directing British made films, it has been decided by the House of Commons. During the debate on the bill designed to build up the British film industry, one member sought to omit the clause providing that the producer of a film must be British, but after a long argument the amendment was rejected.

On behalf of the amendment various speakers stated that England is devoid of dictatorial talent and British movies would be helped if directors were allowed to be drawn from America, Germany and Russia. Opponents of the amendment insisted that there are plenty of accomplished directors in England, one member stating that some of the best directors in Hollywood are Britishers. Sir Harry Foster said:

"An American brought to this country to produce a British film would not be able to separate himself from his American viewpoint."

Noted Director of Germany Signs With Fox

Ludwig Berger, German picture director, who attracted attention first in this country with his production, "The Waltz Dream," has arrived in Hollywood to begin a long term contract with Fox Films.

Berger, who is noted in Europe as a stage producer and musical genius, was signed by Winfield Sheehan, vice president of Fox Films, when Mr. Sheehan was abroad last year.

The German director's first picture for Fox Films will be "I Will Not Marry," adapted from a Hungarian story by Bela Szenes. It is a comedy-drama and concerns the experiences of the members of a bachelors' club. Berger's work in pictures has been distinguished for its comedy vein. Lois Moran will have the feminine lead in "I Will Not Marry."

Old Style of Vamp Is Now Passe In Films

Margaret Livingston, who plays the vamp in "Sunrise," says there are no vamps today. They are feminine "menaces" now.

"The word vamp was so misused that it died a natural death," according to the actress. "Mr. Marnau, who directed me in 'Sunrise,' has such a different idea of vamps than most directors have, that a girl unconsciously acts the role as he sees it, not the way we have all pictured vampires.

"The real vampire works mentally—not all dolled up in feathers and furbelows. In 'Sunrise' Mr. Marnau chose for me a simple black dress and small black hat, which fitted the face closely. His idea is that the face should express the role, and not the clothes. No arms waving or chest heaving for him."

BIG TIME PLAYS COMING

Florenz Ziegfeld, noted producer; Jerome Kern, popular musical composer; Oscar Hammerstein II, librettist; Edna Ferber, novelist, and Joseph Urban, wizard of scenic beauty, are all concerned in Ziegfeld's musical production, "Show Boat," which comes to the Nixon for next week only. The cast includes Norma Terris, Howard Marsh, Eva Puck, Sammy White, Charles Winninger, Edna May Oliver, Helen Morgan, Aunt Jemima, Madeline Parker and Jules Bledsoe.

George White's "Scandals" will take possession of the Alvin stage Monday evening. This big revue, which comes here after a solid year in New York, has a cast that includes Ann Pennington, Willie and Eugene Howard, Tom Patricola, Buster West, John West, Harry Richman, Jane Sels, Rose Perfect, Williams Sisters, Frances Williams. There will be three matinees Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday.

"The Spider," the play that is setting a fast pace in the Pitt, is a motion picture, then it is a vaudeville performance, then it is a magician's seance, then a farce, comedy and melodrama. Even members of the audience become actors and are suspected of a murder in the play.

Barto and Mann, appearing on the Keith-Albee vaudeville bill in the Davis next week, are dancers and comedians. On the screen will be Sammy Cohen in "The Gay Retreat."

Noah Beery Villain In Vilma Banky Photoplay

The bold, bad man of the movies! That is the title Noah Beery has acquired in his many years of screen villaining.

From despicable pirates to highwaymen he has trudged the high seas and high roads of villainy. Many of his confreres have brought vicious characterizations to the screen, but in number Noah Beery outrivals them all when it comes to deep-dyed villain roles.

At present he is doing some of his highest type of "bad-man" stuff in support of Vilma Banky and Ronald Colman. Recently he played a heavy part in "The Dove" and prior to that in "Beau Sabreur" and "Louisiana."

Strange Guests Aid Star Observe Birthday

Twelve guests whom she had never seen before and whom she may never see again recently helped Dorothy Cumming, character actress of the films, celebrate her birthday at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

By a coincidence Miss Cumming was required to stage a birthday party before the camera, in the making of "The Divine Woman," on her real birthday. The guests were extra players and people of the French character type who make their living as professional "bit" men and women.

Throughout the entire day Miss Cumming presided as hostess at a circular banquet table. Real food was served, but two drawbacks developed to mar the festivities of a real birthday dinner. The guests were not permitted to eat except when the cameras were recording the scene and all of them had to partake of a full course dinner six different times until the scene was completed. That meant six full dinners, five of them on a full stomach.

Miss Cumming is playing the role of Rosine in "The Divine Woman," Greta Garbo's new M-G-M starring vehicle. Lars Hanson has the featured male role and the supporting cast includes Polly Morgan, Lowell Sherman, Johnny Mack Brown and others. The picture is a filmization of Gladys Unger's "Starlight," in which Doris Kean was starred on the speaking stage.

M'CORMACK CONCERT HERE ON DECEMBER 1

John McCormack, popular tenor, after an absence of several seasons will return to Pittsburgh for a concert in the Syria Mosque, December 1. He will include a number of the old popular songs among his program. He also will render a group of Irish folk songs. He will be assisted by Lauri Kennedy, cellist, and Edwin Schneider, pianist.

Let Everybody Hear Western Electric Co. Public Address Equipment
For Rent or Permanent Installation
MT. LEBANON RADIO COMPANY
607 WASHINGTON ROAD
Lehigh 1771-6061

FILMLAND

PITTSBURGH'S LEADING MOTION PICTURE AND VAUDEVILLE THEATRES
The Harris-Davis-Clark Theatres
Showing the World's Greatest Feature Pictures & Stage Attractions

GRAND — In the ♥ of Pittsburgh
MORNING MATINEE PRICES 10 A. M. TO 1 P. M. 35c
LAST TIMES TODAY
"The Rough Riders"
ON THE STAGE
FAY GORDON
"SONGS OF THE DAY"
BEGINNING MONDAY
'The Gorilla'
CHARLIE MURRAY
FRED KELSEY
On the Stage
Miss America 1927
(LOIS DELANDER)
with HUTCHINSON & ROSS

DAVIS
THREE COMPLETE SHOWS DAILY
Continuous 12:30 to 11:00 P. M.
Four on Saturdays, Noon to 11:30 P. M.
KEITH-ALBEE VAUDEVILLE
PRICES—UNTIL 1:30 MON. TO FRI. BAL. & MEZ.—35c; ORCHESTRA 50c
LAST 4 TIMES TODAY
NAN HALPERIN
MRS. WALLACE REID
IN PERSON and in the FEATURE PHOTOPLAY
"THE SATIN WOMAN"
BEGINNING MONDAY
HARDEEN
BROTHER OF HOUDINI
BARTO & MANN
Robt. Reilly & Co. | Michel
Chappelle & Carlton | May Usher
Feature Photoplay
"THE GAY RETREAT"
Comedians of "What Price Glory"
SAMMY COHEN—TED McNAMARA

Don't forget the monster RED CROSS BENEFIT at SHERIDAN SQUARE THEATRE, TUESDAY, MIDNIGHT, NOV. 22, for the RELIEF OF THE NORTH SIDE EXPLOSION SUFFERERS. Acts furnished by all theatres.

CAMEO NOW
FIFTH AVE., DOWNTOWN
"RED" GRANGE
in
"The Racing Romeo"
The famous football star in a new laugh thriller of the auto race course. With Jobyna Ralston, Walter Hiers and Trixie Friganza.
Comedy—Cartoon—News
SUNDAY MIDNITE SHOW

CAMERAPHONE — MARION DAVIES in THE FAIR CO-ED — Bargain Mat. Thursdays 'Cc

AMUSEMENTS.

GAYETY COLUMBIA BURLESQUE
FRANK X SILK
NOTHING BUT GIRLS
MIDNITE SHOW EVERY SUNDAY

ACADEMY—Mutual Burlesque 2:15 and 8:15
"MOONLIGHT MAIDS"
With BILLY HAGAN & ANNA TOEBE

FILMLAND

LOEW'S & UNITED ARTISTS'
PENN
THEATRE — SIXTH & PENN
NOW PLAYING
MARY PICKFORD
in
MY BEST GIRL
United Artists' Picture
ON THE STAGE
ADLER, WEIL & HERMAN
TED WEEMS and ORCH.
IRWIN SISTERS
Don Albert & Orch.—Dick Liebert
To 12:30 25¢ 12:30 to 5 PM 35¢
NEXT WEEK
REX INGRAM'S
"THE GARDEN OF ALLAH"
With ALICE TERRY

LOEW'S Aldine
LIBERTY AT NINTH
NOW PLAYING
LARRY SEMON IN PERSON
GEO. SHELTON & CO.
3 OTHER ACTS
On the Screen
MARIE PREVOST
in "The Rush Hour"
NEXT WEEK
JACKIE COOGAN
in "The Bugle Call"
5 Acts Supreme Vaudeville

AMUSEMENTS.

NIXON— MAT. TODAY TONIGHT 8:15
CHARLES DILLINGHAM Presents
FRED STONE in a New Musical Comedy CRISS CROSS with DOROTHY STONE
100—PERFORMERS—100
SINGERS—DANCERS—PLAYERS
—16 TILLER SUNSHINE GIRLS—
ACROBATS, TUMBLERS, TRICK STUFF
LAST 2 TIMES
MAT. & NIGHT
NEXT WEEK—SEATS NOW
ONE WEEK ONLY
ZIEGFELD
EVENTFUL PRODUCTION
NEW AMERICAN MUSICAL PLAY FROM EDNA FERBER'S NOVEL OF THE SAME NAME
SHOW BOAT
MUSIC BY JEROME KERN
BOOK BY OSCAR HAMMERSTEIN II
NORMA TERRIS · HOWARD MARSH
EVA PUCK · SAMMY WHITE AND CHARLES WINNINGER
CAST & ENSEMBLE of 150
3 MATINEES—Wednesday, Thursday (Thanksgiving Day) and Saturday.

Shubert Pitt
MATINEE TODAY 2:15
TONIGHT 8:15
SECOND BIG WEEK STARTS MONDAY—A GALA THANKSGIVING MATINEE—BUY YOUR SEATS NOW.
WORLD'S GREATEST SHOW!
The SPIDER with
WILLIAM COURTENAY

JOHN McCORMACK
Only Recital Mosque Thurs. Eve. Dec. 1.
Tickets $1.10 Up. 1003 Oliver Building.

AMUSEMENTS.

Shubert ALVIN TONIGHT 8:15 Last Mat. Today 2:15
The Messrs. Shubert Present
THE GREATEST OF ALL OPERETTAS
MY MARYLAND
Company of 150—Male Chorus of 60
LAUGHS! TEARS! THRILLS!
YOUR LAST CHANCE
Curtain at 8:00 Sharp Tonight.

Shubert ALVIN Mats. Wed., Thanksgiving and Sat.
BEGINNING MONDAY, NOV. 21
GEORGE WHITE'S SCANDALS
With the Original N. Y. Cast, Including Ann Pennington, Willie & Eugene Howard, Tom Patricola, Harry Richman, Buster West & John West, Frances Williams, Williams Sisters, Rose Perfect.
75—BEAUTIFUL GIRLS—75
Mail Orders Now—Seat Sale Thursday
Nights, Mon. to Fri., $1.10 to $4.40; Thanksgiving Eve, Thanksgiving Night and Sat. Night, $1.65 to $5.50; Thanksgiving Mat., $1.10 to $3.85; Wed. & Sat. Mats., $1.10 to $3.30.

CHURCHES

THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

CLARENCE EDWARD MACARTNEY, Minister

10:45 A. M.—"John, whom I beheaded, is risen from the dead."—Dr. Macartney. (Conscience).

8:00 P. M.—"Come Before Winter."—Dr. Macartney. (Annual Autumn Sermon on Opportunity).

12:15 P. M.—Sabbath School and Men's Bible Class.

7:45 Organ Recital—John A. Bell.

Wednesday—7:45 O'Clock in the Chapel:
"Lystra to Antioch—taken for gods, then stoned."—Dr. Macartney
(Sixth address on the Life of St. Paul).

CHRIST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Albert Edward Day, Arthur Culmer Schultz } Ministers

Cor. Liberty, Center and Baum Blvd. Take Car No. 71, 82, 86

11:00 A. M.—"The Peril of Institutionalism"
Is the church the disease of Christianity as Mr. Wells says it is?

8:00 P. M.—"Friendship and Tears"
The secrets of friendship as disclosed in the life of Jesus.

3 DIVINE YOGA LECTURES 3

Come and hear this Eminent authority on the Sacred Inner Teachings of Hindu Yoga of Northern School and learn to contact the source of Divine Powers.

SRI DEVA RAM SUKUL
Eminent Brahmin Philosopher and Metaphysician
Pres. Hindu Yoga Society — Vice Pres. India Society
SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 20th—3:00 P. M.
"The True Meaning of Yoga"
MONDAY, NOVEMBER 21st—8:00 P. M.
"The Mystic Path to Realization"
TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 22nd—8:00 P. M.
"Scientific Aspects of Yoga Mysteries"
Do You Know the Purpose and Goal of Your Life? Come! Hear these inspiring Lectures and Learn.
MEMORIAL HALL (Main Floor)
FIFTH AVE. AND BIGELOW BLVD.
Admission Free — All Welcome
Lectures Illustrated With Slides of India and Human Aura in Colors.

SIXTH U. P. CHURCH

North Highland Avenue and Station Street
Rev. A. R. Robinson, D. D., Pastor
11:00 A. M.—"THE REFLEX OF SIN"
8:00 P. M.—"WHOLESOME CHRISTIANITY"

THE FIRST LUTHERAN CHURCH

Grant St., Near Sixth Ave. — A. J. HOLL, D. D., Pastor
11:00 A. M.—"DOES GOD CARE?"
(Special prayer for the sorrowing and afflicted)
8:00 P. M.—"THE MAN SOCIETY CAST OUT"
Thanksgiving Service, Thursday, 11 A. M.

EMORY CHURCH

North Highland Ave. and Rippey St.
W. WOFFORD T. DUNCAN, D. D., Pastor, Preaches
11:00 A. M.—"The Comforts of Old Age." 7:45 P. M.—"The Liberality of God."
Special Thanksgiving Service at Night. Music by Chorus and Harpist.
Thanksgiving Day Services 10:30 A. M. Dr. Duncan Will Preach the Thanksgiving Day Sermon.

RODEF SHALOM TEMPLE — FIFTH AND MOREWOOD AVES.

SAMUEL H. GOLDENSON, Ph. D., Rabbi
SUNDAY SERVICE, 10:45 A. M.
Subject—"Is Mechanism a Foe of Religion?"
THE PUBLIC IS CORDIALLY INVITED

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

BELLEFIELD AVENUE AND BAYARD STREET
C. WALLACE PETTY, THEODORE G. MILLER } Ministers
DR. PETTY Preaches
11:00 A. M.—Subject: "THE GREAT ELIMINATION."
7:45 P. M.—Subject: "A HAIRTRIGGER HERO."
Take Car No. 71, 73, 75 or 76 to Bellefield Avenue

The Pittsburgh Bible Institute

Cor. Congress and Wylie. — C. H. PRIDGEON, Pastor
10:45 A. M.—Morning Service—Sermon by Rev. C. H. Pridgeon, "A KING WHO COMPROMISED."
3:00 P. M.—Testimony and Prayer Meeting.
7:45 P. M.—Evangelistic Service—Sermon by Evg. R. D. Walker, "ACCORDING TO YOUR FAITH."
Chorus Choir. — Special Music and Singing.

GRACE REFORMED CHURCH

Bayard and Dithridge Sts. (One block from Webster Hall, Oakland District)
REV. KARL A. STEIN, Minister.
11:00 A. M.—Sermon: "WHEN YOUR PILOT IS DISCHARGED."
7:45 P. M.—Thank-Offering Service.

HIGHLAND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Highland Avenue at Wellesley, Pittsburgh. — REV. GEORGE C. FISHER, D. D.
11 A. M.—"The Christian Idea of Man, His Nature." 8 P. M.—"Person versus Proxy."
9:30 A. M.—"Paul's Third Missionary Journey"—Dr. John McNaugher.

"THE OUTCOME OF THE PRESENT FINANCIAL DEPRESSION"
Hear Evangelist Beem At The First S. D. A. Church
Race and Sterrett Sts., Homewood, Sunday Evening, 7:30

CHURCHES

BIBLE STUDENTS' RADIO LECTURE STATION KQV—SUNDAY 1 P. M.

DRAMALOGUE
"Abraham and Isaac"
A PROGRAM OF UNUSUAL INTEREST TO ALL.
BIBLE STUDENTS' EVENING SERVICE—7:30 P. M.
GARDEN THEATER—FEDERAL ST. AND NORTH AVE., N. S.
Subject—A STANDARD FOR THE PEOPLE.
Speaker—W. D. RODER, I. B. S. A. LECTURER

SHADYSIDE PRESBYTERIAN — Hugh Thomson Kerr

-MORNING 11 O'CLOCK-
"THE CHRISTIAN VIEW OF GOD"
AFTERNOON, 5 O'CLOCK—KDKA
"In Memoriam—the Pittsburgh Tragedy"
Amberson Near Fifth — Cars 73 75 76

SECOND PRESBYTERIAN

Eighth Street, Below Penn Avenue, Downtown
11:00—"REMEMBER"—DR. SHELTON.
7:45 P. M.—"Into the Land of the Giants"—Rev. Chas. S. Poling.
Fine Music. Prominent Soloists. Violinist. Come With Us.

SWEDISH CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

45th Street, Above Butler Street, Pittsburgh, Penna.
Rev. G. W. Palmgren, Jamestown, New York. Rev. C. J. Anderson, Johnsonburg, Pa.
Sunday Services 10:30 A. M., 3:30 and 7:00 P. M.

Third Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh

Fifth Ave. and South Negley. Rev. William L. McEwan, D. D., Pastor.
Morning, 11 O'Clock—"The Refusal of Life." (Broadcast by Station KDKA)
Evening, 8 O'Clock—"Where Are the Souls of the Dead?" (Eighth in Series)
Music under direction of Dr. Charles Heinroth.

THE SALVATION ARMY

125 SECOND AVENUE
COMFORTABLE AUDITORIUM — GOOD MUSIC
11 A. M.—"Ready" — ENSIGN W. B. CROUCH, Speaker — 8 P. M.—"Six Marks"
ALL WELCOME — YOUNG PEOPLE'S AT 6 O'CLOCK

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Cinderella Ball, Given by St. Margaret's Hospital, Promises to Produce Many Prince Charmings

This Cinderella ball, which is to be held next Friday night in the University Club by the dispensary board of St. Margaret's Memorial Hospital, promises to be a most interesting affair, according to reports that are circulating. The board holds a benefit dance of some kind or other every year, but the young women who comprise its members seem to be trying to make this affair just a little different from the others.

Alice Childs, as chairman of the feature committee, has been working for the past few weeks on the details for a fashion show which is to be the one of the many interesting things arranged for the evening. Among the members of the board who are going to act as models are Helen Leovy, Mrs. Wilmer M. Jacoby, Mrs. Sidney Stewart, Margaret McClintic, Evelyn Evans, Mrs. Shirley Austin, Mrs. Alan Humphreys and Marjorie Kimball.

Tickets for the ball are being distributed through a committee which is headed by Anna Knevals Childs.

* * *

Another Sewickley girl is making her bow to society this afternoon. Margaret McCready is today's debutante, being presented at a tea given by her mother, Mrs. Robert T. M. McCready, in their home, Meadow Garden, Edgewood. Margaret is receiving in a gown of silvery pink transparent velvet, and Mrs. McCready's gown is of beige lace. Receiving with them is an older daughter, Mrs. Samuel Adams, Jr., of Grove City, the former Mary Courtney McCready, and she is wearing deep blue transparent velvet. The debutante's flowers are pink and yellow roses and lavender orchids, and her mother is wearing a corsage of violets. Forming a background for the group are the debutante's gift flowers intermingled with greens.

The main tea table is placed in the family dining room, and is adorned with a large oval ivory bowl of bronnze and yellow pompoms and yellow roses, with cream candles in ivory holders. In the south wing, another tea table has been set, this one being ornamented with a silver urn filled with pale yellow and pink pompoms and pink roses, with yellow candles in silver holders. A large Italian bowl of pompoms decorates the music room and in the hall are vases of yellow chrysanthemums.

Among the aides are Mrs. George S. Ward, of New York and Havana, who, with Mr. Ward, is visiting the McCreadys over the week-end; Mrs. James Madison Stoner, Jr., Mrs. Walter B. Hill, Mrs. Frederick McIntosh, Mrs. Frank Rahm Stoner, Mrs. Edward Klingelhofer, Mrs. Samuel Adams, Mrs. R. E. Brenneman, Mrs. J. Reuben Rose, Mrs. Martin L. Moore, Mrs. William Paul McJunkin, Miss Carrie Cavitt, Mrs. Frank Lynn McCready and Miss Isabel Adams.

The debutante is assisted by Marie McBride, Harriet Ramsburg, Mary Elizabeth McMahon and Elizabeth George, sister debutantes of Sewickley; Anne Louise Marshall, a Pittsburgh debutante; Virginia Goldsbury and Katherine Gordon. Margaret, you will remember, is a graduate of the Ethel Walker School at Simsbury, Conn.

* * *

And still the debutante parties are being announced. A new date taken is December 16, when Ernest Hillman, of Woodland road, will give a dinner dance in the University Club in honor of Juliet Hillman, debutante daughter of the junior John Hartwell Hillmans, of Fifth avenue.

Another is December 2, the date selected by Mrs. Reuben Miller, of the Schenley Apartments, for a dinner dance in the Pittsburgh Golf Club. Mrs. Miller will have as her honor guests Juliet Hillman, Mary McClung and Anne Scott, all debutantes.

* * *

Marie McBride and Mary Elizabeth McMahon, both Sewickley debutantes, were entertained this afternoon at a luncheon given by Mrs. W. Leland Ingham and Mrs. William T. Kilborn, in the Ingham home in Shields. Twenty-four of the season's debutantes, both Sewickley and Pittsburgh, were guests. The luncheon table was decorated with chrysanthemums, roses and snapdragon in yellow, pink and peach.

* * *

A third Sewickley debutante is to be guest of honor at a buffet luncheon, December 17, when Mr. Frank Dravo, of East drive, will entertain for Harriet Nourse Ramsburg, daughter of the Charles J. Ramsburgs.

* * *

Those who will assist Mrs. Edward Heaton Brainard at her tea Monday afternoon, given to introduce her daughter, Margaret Brainard, will include her sister, Mrs. W. Harry Brown, Mrs. Samuel Harden Church, Mrs. Howard Hale McClintic, Mrs. Lawrence Allderdice, Mrs. William B. Rodgers, Mrs. Charles A. Painter, Jr., Mrs. Richard M. Jennings, Mrs. Ira Fitch Brainard, Mrs. Thomas M. McKennan, Mrs. John M. Freeman, Mrs. James J. Brainard, Mrs. John L. Porter and Mrs. John P. Knable.

Margaret's own aides will be Mary McClung, Juliet Hillman, Frances Fitzgerald, Florence Wainwright, Anne King Scott, Marjorie Babcock, Virginia Johnston, Florence Carroll, Anne Louise Marshall, all debutantes; Mrs. William B. Schiller, Jr., and Jane Allderdice.

* * *

Still another party added to the long list for debutantes, is a tea planned for December 13 in the Hotel Schenley to be given by Mrs. C. M. Budd in honor of her niece, Nan Hendrickson Bunton. Nan, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Bunton, of South avenue, Wilkinsburg, will make her debut, as you know, at a tea dance to be given December 21 in the Pittsburgh Country Club by her parents.

* * *

Mrs. Birney Kinnard McMechen, who is in charge of cards for the Women's Exchange sale and tea scheduled for Monday in the marquee adjoining the Richard Beatty Mellon home in Fifth avenue, has announced that the following names have been added to the list of her aides: Mrs. George W. J. Bissell, Mrs. G. Cook Kimball, Mrs. Robert J. McKay, Mrs. R. F. Ball, Margaret McClintic and Cora McClay.

Prizes Spur Bird House Christmas Workers

Hustling by the youthful members of the Sun-Tele Bird House Club was evident in many sections of Western Pennsylvania yesterday and today. Spurred on by the offer of 28 cash prizes, the boys and girls of the club extended their efforts to sell New Reader subscriptions and lead the list.

The 28 prizes offered go to the 14 girls and 14 boys who sell the most subscriptions before December 17. All the filled order blanks must be in on that date to be counted. The prize winners will get these bonuses in addition to the regular 50 cents award for each subscription. And that indicates that already—and the stunt has been operating only a little over two weeks—many hundreds of boys and girls in the Pittsburgh district will have considerable money for Christmas uses.

There was a rush to the Sun-Telegraph office yesterday for more blanks. Some of the boys and girls had run out of them, and called for additional ones. The boys and girls need not come into the office, however, unless they wish. A telephone call to J. M. Aylward, manager of the club, or a note, will answer the purpose. He has plenty of blanks and will be glad to furnish them to the club members.

The list of cash prizes to be awarded those who sell the most subscriptions follows: First prize, boy, $25; second prize, boy, $15; third prize, boy, $10; fourth prize, boy, $5; next 10 boys, each, $2; first prize, girl, $25; second prize, girl, $15; third prize, girl, $10; fourth prize, girl, $5; next 10 girls, each, $2.

BRAHMS' OVERTURE ON HEINROTH'S PROGRAM

The opening number on the program for the free organ recital to be given by Dr. Charles Heinroth tonight at 8:15 o'clock in Carnegie Music Hall is the "Academic Festival Overture" by Brahms. This Viennese musician composed the overture in acknowledgment of a degree bestowed on him by the University of Breslau. The thematic material was taken from native student songs. Brahms conducted the first performance in 1881.

A modern American composer, Leo Sowerby, is represented on the program by a selection called "Carillon."

The entire program for tonight follows:

Academic Festival Overture..........Brahms
Andante from Quartet in D Major....Mozart
Scherzo from Second Symphony.........Widor
Fantasy and Fugue on the Chorale "Ad Nos, Ad Salutarem Undam"......Liszt
Adagio Espressivo from Second Symphony, Op. 61 ....Schumann
Carillon ....Sowerby
Finale from Fifth Symphony......Beethoven

Program for free organ recital Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock:

Overture to "William Tell"..........Rossini
Larghetto from Second Symphony..Beethoven
"Will o' the Wisp" (Toccatina)..G. B. Nevin
Legend and Finale......................Faulkes
Intermission of five minutes.
Chant Sans Paroles..............Tschaikovsky
Toccata in F Major......................Bach
"The Serenade" from String Quartet, Opus 3, No. 5......................Haydn
Farandole from L'Arlesienne Suite.....Bizet

RECENT BRIDE

Before her recent marriage, Mrs. John Reid Leggate, Jr., was Miss Lois Lee Breitwieser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Breitwieser, of the North Side.

MRS. JOHN REID LEGGATE, JR.

Employes of the transcribing room of the Allegheny County Register of Wills office entertained with a bridge-luncheon this afternoon in Kaufmann's for Miss Teresa E. Kenney, of Trenton avenue, Wilkinsburg, whose marriage to Jay V. Daniel, of Weston, W. Va., will be solemnized Monday. Five tables were in play and the decorations were heather and chrysanthemums. A kitchen shower was given yesterday by the employes for Miss Kenney.

* * *

Mrs. Frank Heath Speer and Miss Edith Speer, of Thomas boulevard, entertained at tea yesterday afternoon in the Twentieth Century Club. Their niece, Miss Ann Blakely Watt, received with them, and a number of friends served as aides. Mrs. Speer was gowned in black velvet, Miss Speer in beige crepe and Miss Watt in rose beige satin. The tea tables were decorated with mounds of yellow chrysanthemums and yellow candles in silver holders.

* * *

The Schenley Club will hold its eighth annual Pitt-State informal football dance Thanksgiving night in Webster Hall. Members of the teams will be guests and those in charge include Gilbert Welch, Allan Booth, Andrew Cutler, A. A. Guarino and Charles Edwards, of Pitt, and John Roepke, John G. Lungren, Joseph Krall and Steven L. Hamas, of Penn State.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac B. Herring, of North St. Clair street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ethel Herring, and Lou M. Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Price, of Jackson street, which was solemnized Tuesday afternoon by the Rev. Julius Bloom.

* * *

Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, of Homewood, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Cyrilla M. Martin, to John J. Shaw, of Regent Square. The wedding will take place Monday in Holy Rosary Catholic Church.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Craig, of South Aiken avenue, have arrived in New York after motoring in Europe.

Patricia Pitt

WOMAN'S CITY CLUB TAKES ON NEW LIFE

The Woman's City Club, which has been moving in rather desultory fashion so far this season, is suddenly springing into unusual activity and within less than a fortnight is to see a variety of affairs. Tomorrow afternoon from 5 until 7 o'clock there will be begun the winter's musicale-teas in the clubrooms, with an unusually fine program given by Mrs. Martha Eaton Brickman, soprano, and Mrs. Anna H. Woestehoff, contralto, and Mrs. Martha Myers Murdoch at the piano. Mrs. T. M. Girdler and Mrs. James Stephen Martin will preside at the tea table.

An important event on the club calendar is the opening performance of "Merry Wives of Windsor" (with Otis Skinner and Mrs. Fiske) at the Nixon Theater, which the club will sponsor as a benefit.

Today there was the very delightful luncheon honoring the City Club's president, Mrs. Ambrose Nevin Diehl, who, by request, gave a talk on "The Relation of the Screen to the Stage." The Women's Press Club and the League of American Pen Women, to both of which Mrs. Diehl belongs, participated.

The intra-club activities committee will have its monthly bridge party Friday evening in the clubrooms. This affair will be open, as usual, to all the members and to their friends as well. Miss Janet L. Hill is chairman of the event, reservations for which are to be made through the house secretary.

* * *

Business Girls in Y. W. C. A. clubs all over the United States, in Hawaii and the Philippines will banquet simultaneously next Tuesday night at 6:30. For the girls of Pittsburgh the banquet will be held at the East Liberty Young Women's Christian Association Building with Miss Georgia Binder presiding. The program in all cities will be similar and will consist of songs, speeches and the opening prayer. Miss Jane Harrison, local member of the National Council of Business Women, will bring greetings from the Council. Mrs. H. A. Floyd will lead special group singing. Miss Ida M. Allerton, chairman of the East Liberty Association's committee of management, will introduce the speaker, Miss Helen A. Davis, of New York, association executive of the National "Y," who will speak on "Advertising."

* * *

Taking his title, "The Constitution—The Deathknell of Freedom?" from one of the opposition cries familiar at the time of the constitution's adoption, Dr. John W. Oliver, of the University of Pittsburgh, proceeded yesterday to show College Club members that the Constitution has been the preserver of freedom, rather than its deathknell. Dr. Oliver explained the revival of interest in the Constitution as part of an educational campaign to acquaint the public in preparation for the Sesqui-centennial. His description of the personnel of the constitutional convention was intensely interesting and dramatically told. The result of their work, the speaker stated, has been a model for later constitutions and an example of exquisite English.

On Tuesday afternoon, in the general reading group of the club, Mrs. William G. Rogers will lead the discussion on the Napoleonic revival, with especial reference to the biography of Ludwig. At night the novel reading group will review "Jalna," by Mazo de la Roche, Miss Bertha Steiner leading.

* * *

A social as well as artistic event was the performance of "Pomander Walk," Louis W. Parker's comedy, which was given last night in assembly hall, Pennsylvania College for Women, by the College Dramatic Club. A surprise was given the capacity audience when a gavotte was danced between the acts by two of the students, Vaftonauch Pareunakian, who came all the way from Armenia to study at P. C. W., and Margaret Loeffler. Miss Loeffler also gave a sailor's hornpipe, with several members of the cast assisting. The play will be given tonight and will be open to the public.

* * *

Mrs. Carl Fechheimer, Mrs. Moses Krieger and Dr. Harry Switzer will speak tomorrow afternoon at a meeting of Hadassah, which is to take the form of a rally for the United Palestine appeal. The meeting will be held in the Y. M. & W. H. A. Miss Barbara McDonough will sing, accompanied by Miss Rose Sneidman. Mrs. Irma Lindheim, of New York, national Hadassah president, and Judge William Lewis, of Philadelphia, will be guests of honor at a dinner in the "Y" Monday night, preceding the formal opening of the appeal campaign.

* * *

Mrs. Robert Walsh will be hostess at a card party at Council House, Thursday evening, December 1 as a benefit for the burn-the-mortgage fund of the Pittsburgh Council of Catholic Women.

Dr. R. R. Jones, of the Allegheny County Medical Society, will lecture at Council House Wednesday afternoon on "Industrial Hygiene." Mrs. R. A. Kennedy and Mrs. Rose Braun, of Aspinwall, are to entertain with a benefit card party at Council House Tuesday evening, November 29 for the benefit of the mortgage.

* * *

A group of members is offering the first matinee of the season for the Alliance Francaise this afternoon in the Hotel Schenley. Preceding and following the program at 3 o'clock there will be an exchange of French books from the Alliance library. The program will consist of music and informal talks by the members concerning their summer travels.

* * *

The ways and means committee of the Beechview Women's Civic Club had a card party for the benefit of the building fund at the home of Mrs. Joseph Stagg last night. The literary section will meet at the home of Mrs. Henry Gray Monday evening, when the study topics will be "Women in Industry, Professional Life" and current events.

* * *

On Tuesday evening, South Hills Court No. 622, Catholic Daughters of America, will hold its monthly social meeting in Masonic Hall, Dormont. Miss Grace McBride is in charge. On Wednesday evening the court will have its Thanksgiving dance and card party at the hall. Mrs. Helen Koch is general chairman.

* * *

The Western Reserve University Alumnae Association of the Pittsburgh district held a meeting today at the Congress of Women's Clubs. Luncheon was served, after which a business meeting and the annual installation of officers took place.

* * *

The ways and means committee of the Woman's Club of Mount Lebanon under the chairmanship of Mrs. Paul Bolger will give a benefit movie Friday at the Washington school. There will be two performances, the first beginning at 6:45 o'clock.

* * *

Ben G. Graham, associate superintendent of the Pittsburgh schools, addressed the Woman's Club of Crafton at its meeting in the Craft Club yesterday afternoon, speaking on the state's public school system.

* * *

Dr. C. J. Hollister, chief of the dental division, Harrisburg, will address the Dormont Mothers' Club Tuesday night in Bethany Lutheran Church. Miss Mary Wilson will furnish the music.

CHURCH MARKS JUBILEE

The diamond jubilee and homecoming week of the Second Methodist Protestant Church, Fifth avenue and Marion street, will be celebrated tomorrow and will continue until Sunday, November 27.

The Rev. Dr. Francis W. Perkins, pastor, will speak at the morning service on "Addding to Our Inheritance." "Not Good Enough," will be the text of the Rev. Dr. Clarence L. Daugherty in the evening.

The church was organized in 1852, the foundation started in 1853, and the building erected in 1854.

During its 75 years 20 different men have served the Second Church Sunday School as superintendent. The church has had 23 pastors.

GLASS MAN DIES IN ROCHESTER

ROCHESTER, Pa., Nov. 19.—Daniel A. Ripley, 53, of 5549 Beechwood boulevard, Pittsburgh, for the last three years general superintendent of the H. C. Fry glass plant here, died last night in the Rochester General Hospital from cerebral hemorrhage, with which he was stricken at the plant yesterday. He was a member of the Sixth Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, and of the Knights Templar. He leaves his widow and two children.

KDKA to Broadcast Far North Tonight

A program of old-time favorite songs by a mixed quartet will be broadcast for the residents of the Far North at 11 o'clock tonight by KDKA. An hour of entertainment will be followed by an hour of messages from wives, mothers and friends, and will be placed on the air by KDKA'S two short wave stations, 62 and 40 meters, and the regular wave length of 316 meters.

The program tonight will be the first of the fourth season of such broadcasts by KDKA. The Pittsburgh station will be supplemented in the broadcasts by WBZA in Boston and KYW in Chicago, both of which will broadcast similar programs throughout the winter season. WBZA will go on the air at 11 o'clock next Saturday with its first Far North program of the season.

Y. M. & W. H. A. CONCERT GROUP TO OPEN SERIES

The first of a series of three concerts to be given by the Chamber Music Society of the Young Men and Women's Hebrew Association will be held tomorrow evening in the Morris Kaufmann Memorial Auditorium in Bellefield avenue. The society will present the Brahms Trio, including Ralph Lewando, violinist; Selmar Janson, assistant professor of piano in Carnegie Institute of Technology, and Joseph Derdeyn, instructor in violincello, all of whom are members of the association. The directors of the Chamber Music Society are Elias Breeskin, Ralph Lewando and Max Shapiro.

SCHOOL TEACHERS TO AID IN BRASHEAR CAMPAIGN

The school teachers of Pittsburgh have been formed into a membership committee to help increase the membership of the Brashear Association, according to an announcement by Mrs. John M. Phillips, president of the association. Friends of the late Dr. John A. Brashear who wish to perpetuate his memory now will be able to give their $1 membership fees to any school teacher. This membership campaign is part of the effort to raise $35,000 to improve and add to the work of the Brashear Settlement, 32 Holt street, North Side.

"DON'T BE TOO SERIOUS" WAR VETERANS TO MEET

The outfit that had as its slogan "Dont take yourself too seriously" although it saw rigorous service during the World War, the Three Hundred and Eighth Ammunition Train, will hold its tenth annual reunion today, meeting at the Fort Pitt Hotel. Tonight there will be a banquet. Larry A. Deering, of Cleveland, who was "top kick" during the war, will preside.

SAWDERS TO LECTURE TOMORROW ON MEXICO

Capt. James C. Sawders of Pittsburgh will be the speaker at the Carnegie Museum Free Lecture tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Carnegie Museum Lecture Hall. The subject of the lecture will be "Mexico and Mexicans."

ATTORNEY TO HEAR CHARTER TESTIMONY

Judge Thomas J. Ford of Common Pleas Court has appointed Attorney Samuel Milliken to take testimony on the application of the Retail Cleaners' and Tailors' Association of McKeesport for a charter. Application for a charte was also made by the Hebrew Ladies' Relief Society of McKeesport.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES IN CHURCHES

Thanksgiving services with special music and appropriate sermons will be held tomorrow in the various churches of the Pittsburgh district.

"Thanksgiving Sunday" will be observed at the Emory Methodist Episcopal Church, North Highland avenue and Rippey street, at both morning and evening services. The annual sermon to the older members of the congregation will be preached on the topic, "The Comforts of Old Age," by the Rev. Dr. W. Wofford T. Duncan. Dr. Duncan will preach at the evening services on "The Liberality of God."

"Remember" will be the topic of the Rev. Dr. George W. Shelton, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, Eighth street, tomorrow morning. The Rev. Charles S. Poling will preach at the evening service on "Into the Land of the Giants."

THANKSGIVING PAGEANT

A Thanksgiving pageant will be held in the Knoxville Presbyterian Church tomorrow. The text of the Rev. Michael M. McDivitt at the morning service will be "Go and I Go With You." Mr. McDivitt will speak on "The Churches' Charge to America" at the night service.

Union Thanksgiving service will be held in North Presbyterian Church, North Lincoln avenue, North Side, on Thanksgiving morning at 10:45 o'clock with the following churches participating: First Presbyterian, Manchester Presbyterian and Central Presbyterian.

At the Third Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning the Rev. Dr. W. L. McEwan will speak on "The Refusal of Life." The eight sermon in his series on "Fundamental Bible Questions" will be delivered at the evening service. His subject will be "Where Are the Souls of the Dead?"

"The Beauty of the Lord in Japan," an illustrated lecture, will be given by the Rev. James Ekin Detweiler at the Avalon Presbyterian Church tomorrow night. At the morning service Mr. Detweiler's subject will be "The Church Makes Life Significant."

The first part of the morning service at the East End Christian Church will be devoted to the younger children of the Sunday school. "How the Castle Fell," a short story-sermon, will be given by the Rev. Dr. John Ray Ewers. The regular sermon for the morning service will be on "The King's Invitation." Dr. Ewers, at night, will discuss the difficulties of being a present-day Christian in his sermon on "Is It Possible to Follow Christ?" An open forum will follow.

ANNIVERSARY

The sixty-fifth anniversary celebration of the organizing of the congregation of the Fifth United Presbyterian Church will be continued tomorrow at both services. The Rev. Guy W. McCracken will speak at the morning service on the anniversary of the church. In the evening "Homecoming Night" will be observed.

"Servants of Christ in Our Society" will be the subject of the Rev. U. Hangartner at the morning service at 10 o'clock tomorrow in the Evangelical Protestant Congregational Church, Mathilda street. This sermon will be in English. At 11 o'clock a sermon in German will be delivered by the pastor, the Rev. Martin Leisender of Etna, and the Rev. R. O. Eisele will speak at the evening service.

Miss Helen Bell Rush, soprano singer at the Shadyside Presbyterian Church, will be a soloist at the dedication service of a new $400,000 church edifice at Dawson, Pa., tomorrow. The new church was built by Mrs. Sarah B. Cochran, a memorial to Mrs. Cochran's deceased husband and son, and is a gift to the congregation.

"John, Whom I Beheaded, Is Risen From the Dead," will be the subject of the Rev. Dr. Clarence E. Macartney at the First Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning. Dr. Macartney's subject at 8 p. m. will be "Come Before Winter," the "annual autumn sermon on opportunities." Thanksgiving service will be held Thursday at 10:45 a. m., and "Which Way, America?" will be the sermon theme.

E. B. Anthony, Unity Center of Pittsburgh, will conduct services at 8:15 p. m. in the Blue room of the William Penn Hotel tomorrow. His subject will be "Bring Out Your Power."

The Rev. Frank Edwin Smith will occupy the pulpit of the First Unitarian Church tomorrow morning and night. The morning subject will be "Seeing Life Whole." His theme in the evening will be "The Old Reformation and the New—The Social, Economic and Political Aspects."

Homestead's United Palestine Appeal drive will be launched Monday simultaneously with the campaign in Pittsburgh, it was announced today. The organization work has been completed and committees chosen to direct the activities. Campaigns will be started in other cities included in the tri-state region.

SPECIAL SERVICE

A special service will be held in St. Luke's Lutheran Church, North Side, tomorrow, celebrating the burning of the 15-year-old mortgage. Dr. Ellis B. Burgess, president of the Pittsburgh Synod of the United Lutheran Church, will occupy the pulpit at the morning service. Dr. E. Clyde Xander, president of Thiel College, will preach tomorrow night.

"Hearers and Doers of the Word" will be the subject of the Rev. Dr. C. W. Tinsley tomorrow morning at the West View Methodist Episcopal Church. In the evening his subject will be "Am I My Brother's Keeper?"

A "Rummage Sale" is being held by the Women's Union of Shady Avenue Baptist Church today in the Annex building, Shady avenue and Aurelia street.

Guaranteed Remedy
This pile remedy comes in a tube with Pile Pipe attachment, making it convenient and easy to apply. Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure any case of piles (itching, blind, bleeding or protruding). Just ask for a 75c tube of PAZO OINTMENT

DEATH ROLL

John A. Scott.

John A. Scott, 67, for the last 30 years a paymaster for the city mills of the Carnegie Steel Company, died Friday in his home, 626 Summerlea street, East End. Mr. Scott had been employed by the steel company for 44 years. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church. He was affiliated with Dallas Lodge No. 508, F. & A. M., Tancred Commandery, Knights Templar, and the Syria Temple. He leaves one son, Carl M. Scott; one brother, Robert J. Scott, and two sisters, Mrs. A. R. Fraser of New Jersey and Mrs. Charles Runnette of Virginia.

Charles Wolfersberger.

Charles Wolfersberger, 74, died Friday in South Side Hospital. He lived the greater part of his life in Pittsburgh. He was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Mt. Oliver; Knights of St. George Branch No. 2, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and the Glass Blowers' Union. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Catherine C. Wolfersberger; four daughters, Mrs. Frank Solmo, Mrs. A. J. Gerard, Mrs. William Mangan and Mrs. Sylvester Seibel, and eight grandchildren.

John E. Shields.

John E. Shields, 81, died Friday in his home, 812 Annaheim street. He was born in Loretta, Pa., and had been a resident of Pittsburgh for the last 14 years. He was a member of St. Richard's Catholic Church. He leaves one son, Harry P. Shields; two daughters, Miss Eleanor M. and Miss Milberg A. Shields, and four grandchildren.

Rev. W. R. Cowieson.

The Rev. W. R. Cowieson, for several years pastor of the East Liverpool Presbyterian Church, died yesterday in Presbyterian Hospital. He was a native of Scotland, and was graduated from Waynesburg College and Western Theological Seminary.

John F. Marks.

John F. Marks, 22, died last night at the home of his mother, Mrs. David S. Klinesmith, 219 Emerson street. He leaves his wife, Helen Herbert Marks, and one daughter, Lillian Virginia. Also by his mother, two sisters, Margaret and Virginia Marks, and one brother, Stewart Marks. He was a member of the Emory Methodist Episcopal Church.

INJURED MAN LOSES IN SUIT AGAINST CITY

A verdict for the City of Pittsburgh was given by a jury in Common Pleas Court in a suit for damages filed by J. B. Cohen, who injured an ankle in a hole in Gist street. Witnesses testified youngsters had dug the hole.

TRAVEL.

75c Round Trip
WASHINGTON, PA.
—or—
CANONSBURG, PA.
EVERY SUNDAY
until further notice
Tickets good on regular trains
Leaving Pittsburgh
Penna. Sta. 8.30 am 10.45 am
Fourth Ave. 8.33 am 10.48 am
Smithfield St. 8.36 am 10.51 am
Leaving Washington
Main St. 5.25 pm 9.30 pm
Chestnut St. 5.28 pm 9.33 pm
Canonsburg 5.45 pm 9.50 pm
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

$1.75 Round Trip
YOUNGSTOWN
SUNDAY, NOV. 20th
Lv Pittsburgh..................8:10 A. M.
RETURNING
Lv. Youngstown......6:20 or 6:00 P. M.
CONSULT TICKET AGENTS
PITTSBURGH & LAKE ERIE

MUSIC
Maurice Marechal
Helen Howison
Carnegie Music Hall

PROGRAM

Suite Ancienne (Paris 1610)........De Caix d' Hervelous.
Preludes 1 and 2—Sarabande—Menuet—Gavotte—Plainte—La Neapolitaine
Mr. Marechal
Ariette de Zemire et Azor ....Andre Gretry
Le Moulin ....Gabriel Pierne
Ronde—des filles de Quimperle ......Emile Vuillermoz
Waltz "Romeo et Juliette" ..Charles Gounod
Miss Howison
Arioso ....Johann Sebastian Bach
Adagio—Allegro ....Luigi Boccherini
Les Cherubins ....Francois Couperin
Mr. Marechal
Sweet Nymph, Come to Thy Lover ..Thomas Morley (1595)
Tears from "A Lute of Jade" 8th Century ....Clarence Olmstead
Words by Wang sen Ju
Orchard Song ....William Wentzell
Cradle Song—Words by Sarojini Naidu ....Liza Lehmann
Gigue ....Montague Phillips
Miss Howison
Three Spanish Popular Songs ....Manuel de Falla-Marechal
El Pano Moruno—Nana—Jota
Variation Symphonique ....Leon Boellmann
Mr. Marechal

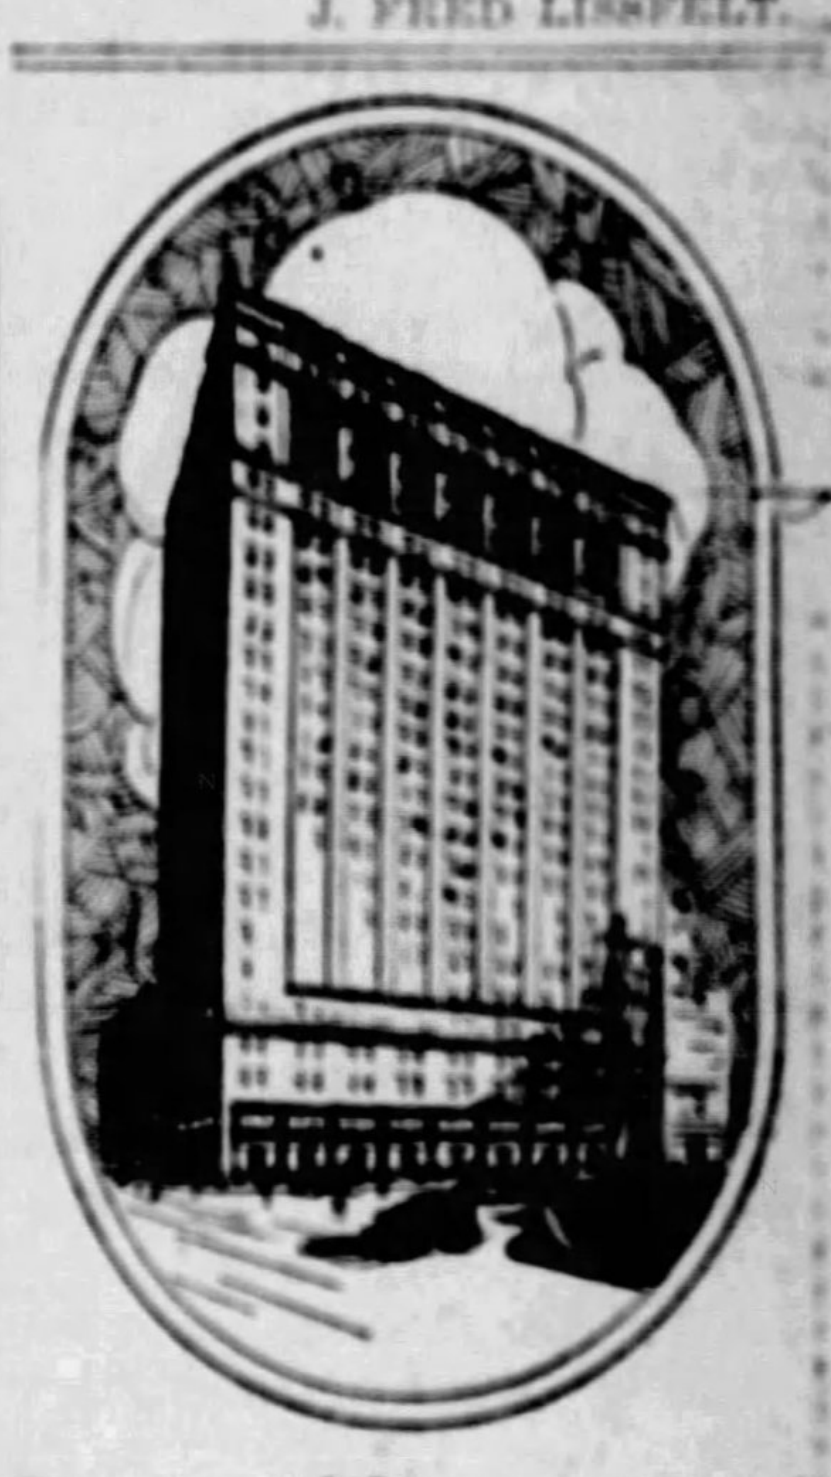
The Art Society presented in joint recital two new artists in Carnegie Music Hall last night; Maurice Marechal, French violoncellist, and Helen Howison, a young American soprano. The program made no great demands on the attention of the audience, and so it took a long while before we began to appreciate the fine qualities of both performers.

Marechal brings us the best traditions of 'cello playing. Like Kochanski with his violin, he showed us new effects for his instrument that place him above his colleagues with whom he can easily compete when we consider mere suavity of tone or finger agility. He has adequate poise for ancient music and the necessary fire for modern works. He could give forth tone like the richest baritone or make his 'cello sing like a wheezing horn; he could strum as with a guitar, and in the next moment play sonorous organ tones.

Miss Howison possesses a very beautiful lyric soprano voice, of no great power but of exquisite quality when she sings softly in her high register. All her songs were chosen to display the pianissimo; consequently her singing sounds timid. A little boldness in her style would greatly improve her songs, for her technique is sufficient to give her courage. She included the "Orchard Song" of our Pittsburgh composer, William Wentzell, one of the genuine talents among local writers.

Arie Abileah and George H. Wilson played accompaniments.

J. FRED LISSFELT.



For all-around satisfaction
THE prestige of a splendid modern business home; the convenience of an accessible location; the pleasure of spending the business day in a cheery, daylight office; the efficiency of perfect service and equipment — these are elements in the satisfaction of tenants here. The rental rates are satisfactory, too.
Rent an office in Clark Building
Liberty Ave. and Seventh St.
Rental Agent
C. N. ABERNETHY
1708 Keenan Bldg. Telephone Atlantic

28 PRIZES!
BIRD HOUSE CLUB

Boys and girls of the Sun-Tele Bird House Club, selling New Reader subscriptions, are earning Christmas money at a rate of 50 cents for each subscription. Many are making out well. Hundreds are succeeding. But in addition, The Sun-Telegraph is now offering 28 cash prizes. Not only will the salesman or woman earn his 50-cent subscription rate, but the following rewards will be given the 28 leading salesmen.

Plenty of prizes! Yes. But subscripions must be in by December 17. Now, at it.

First prize, boy......$25	First prize, girl......$25
Second prize, boy....$15	Second prize, girl....$15
Third prize, boy.....$10	Third prize, girl.....$10
Fourth prize, boy......$ 5	Fourth prize, girl....$ 5
Next 10 boys, each...$ 2	Next 10 girls, each...$ 2

THE SUN-TELEGRAPH
GAZETTE SQUARE, PITTSBURGH, PA.

P.M.I.
ORGAN RECITAL
By WILLIAM H. OETTING
Tuesday, November 22, 8:30 P. M. At the Institute.
The public is invited.
Pittsburgh Musical Institute, Inc.,
131-133 BELLEFIELD AVE.

CHAMPIONSHIP BATTLES CLOSE BIG TEN SEASON TODAY

Clerks at Game

FIVE THOUSAND clerks, comprising the Westinghouse Clerks' Association, witnessed the Carnegie Tech-Detroit University football game at Forbes Field today. Several sections were reserved for the Westinghouse organization, the largest of its kind in the world. C. B. Dick is president of the association.

It's Just a Lull Before the Storm for Pitt

SUN-TELEGRAPH SPORTS

14 Kayos on Card

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(INS.)—Out of 18 bouts in the New York Athletic Club boxing tournament last night only four went the limit when fans were accorded the greatest treat of the season as 14 knockouts were registered by the battling amateurs.

WESTINGHOUSE CAPTURES -:- -:- CITY CHAMPIONSHIP

M'LANE GOES OVER TOP FOR OLIVER

Coach Red Dennis' husky half-back, McLane, plunged through the middle of Westinghouse's line to score the only points of the game for his team early in the first period. Oliver reached its point of vantage by virtue of a superb forward pass, Mohr to Siegman, after having to overcome two penalties while nearing the goal line.

ARMY COMES THROUGH FOR WESTINGHOUSE

Fullback Kenneth (Army) Ormiston, one of the district's greatest scholastic stars this season, split the Oliver line in two when he crashed through for the first touchdown of the game early in the first period. The scoring was accomplished on straight football.

BIG BATTLES ADORN SANDLOT GRID CARD

By TOM BIRKS.

WITH the McKeesport Olympics and the Glassport Odds battling for supremacy of the Tube City and Hope-Harvey fighting a newcomer in the W. A. Herd club at the Salt Works grounds leading the list, local followers of the independent gridiron have a classy program of sectional battles to watch for an afternoon's sport.

Tube City fans seem to be all agog regarding the meeting of the Olympics and the Odds today at Cycler Park. Freddy Iverson, mentor of the Olympics has gathered together one of the greatest teams ever representing the Tube City circuit, and today's tilt against its most bitter rivals should provide a real battle.

The Glassport representatives, however, seem to have a habit of rising to the occasion against the Tubers, for this sectional rivalry puts the boys on edge. Despite the fact that nothing is being mentioned the Olympics and Glassport are going to fight harder, whichever wins this game to get the Pittsburgh contenders into line. Both teams are still in the undefeated class in Western Pennsylvania, and are fully entitled to be classed in this mythical race at present being staged.

The battle of the North-Side scheduled for the Salt Works grounds will probably see more fireworks than gridiron followers are looking for. Ever since Armistice Day, when the Herd club broke into the limelight by stopping the Blawnox outfit, challenges have been flying fast.

THROUGH the SPORT LENS by HAVEY BOYLE

THE natural sympathy for a man in trouble asserts itself when you hear that John Morrison, Pirate pitcher, is now no better than a baseball outlaw, but, considering that in the scheme of things there is need for justice, it is difficult to find fault with the move of the Pittsburgh Exhibition Company in placing Morrison on the ineligible list. Morrison was guilty of a serious breach. He deserted his team, the Pirates, thus violating a contract. That the contract he signed is not entirely equitable does not offset the fact that Morrison when he signed it was aware of its unfairness.

HAVEY BOYLE.

As matters eventually turned out, Morrison's act did not injure other members of his club seriously, as well as supporting fans intent on seeing a pennant come here, but easily his act might have extended far enough to work such harm. In fairness then to the players he endangered he should be made to suffer in the method and form prescribed by baseball law. Now on the ineligible list, Morrison cannot win reinstatement without appeal to Commissioner Landis, poohbah of the national pastime. Of course, there is no chance that he will come back here when eventually he gains reinstatement from baseball's highest functionary, but he must cut loose a skein of technical strings which now bind him before he can play with any outfit playing under what is known as the national agreement. All this on the cold, hard legal side, with the consideration that the liberty of one must not be allowed to endanger the baseball welfare of many. Without such discipine as will be handed Morrison baseball's structure would be unsafe and easily chaos might come in the national pastime. On the human side, and considering that extenuation has a habit of bobbing up even in the plainest cases of right and wrong, let it be said that Morrison left the club because he was certain in the role he was assigned—relief pitcher—he could not do justice to himself or to his club. He now will pay for his folly. A great many will trust his payment will not be extreme.

IF PITT is extended an invitation to play at Pasadena on New Year's Day in the Tournament of Roses game, Jock Sutherland, Panther coach, will meet up with a problem new in his career. He must devise a way to keep his eastern boys from suffering any setback owing to the radical change in climate which distinguishes Lower California from eastern clime. West coast folks, justly proud of their semi-tropical weather, likely pay no attention to any stories of baleful effect worked on an eastern team entering California, but whether myth, legend or simple truth, the fact is that several eastern teams have returned from the coast complaining that they lost some of the zip and verve after encountering the lazy zephyrs of Lower California. Whether to get his team there early to get acclimated, or whether to get it there late so as to play the game before the reported effect sets in are considerations Sutherland must ponder.

Chances are the change in climate is not so important as we have been led to believe, but this does not coun-

(Continued on Page Ten.)

ILLINI CAN GET TITLE BY DEFEATING OHIO

By FRED VAN DEVENDER,
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Grudge fights! End of the season! End of college football for more than half the players! Championships at stake! Little Brown Jug and Old Oaken Bucket, trophies of victory!

Ah, today is the day of days in the football world. It brings to a climax a hectic season, featured by upsets and every team at least tied and most of them defeated.

But today. There will be renewed the years old rivalries. The Middle West does not boast of grudge battles as old as Yale and Harvard. But there are some quite as important, at least in the eyes of the undergraduate and alumni.

Take this Minnesota-Michigan team at Ann Arbor, which tops the Big Ten Conference program. This rivalry dates way back to 1892. The two teams have played almost every year since then. At the start, the Little Brown Jug was brought forth. It is now in the possession of Michigan.

But this rivalry is more important for a championship of the Big Ten Conference hangs in the balance. Eleven varsity players at Minnesota will be playing their last game for the Gophers. The latter is also true at Michigan. The stars will go on, and new ones will take their place.

Minnesota from the standpoint of sheer man power and playing ability should win this game, by perhaps two touchdowns. But since it is a grudge battle, well either team may win, or it may be a tie.

The Illinois-Ohio State battle is the second ranking game of the day. It is to be played at Columbus. Here, too, is a grudge battle, dating to way back when. Here, too, a championship hangs in the balance. Not for Jack Wilce and his "off and on" Ohio State gridders, but for Bob Zuppke and his "no-star" Illini. If the latter win, they have the undisputed championship of the Conference, for Minnesota, the only other undefeated team, has been tied by Indiana.

Ohio State may pull the surprise, and I look for it, but Zuppke on sheer strength should win.

The third rating game is the old grudge battle between Indiana and Purdue, the two Hoosier State schools. They battle for the Old Oaken Bucket, presented for rivalry by George Ade of Purdue and Harry Kurrie, president of the Monon Railroad, of India.

On strength, Purdue should win, what, with Wilcox and Welch in the backfield. But Indiana came to life last Saturday in defeating Northwestern and might tip the old dope bucket.

The fourth ranking game is Wisconsin at Chicago. With the great center, Ken Rouse, back in the game for Chicago, Father Amos Alonzo Stagg's Maroons should win from the Badgers, who have dropped considerably in the past two weeks. They lost last Saturday to the weak Iowa outfit.

The last game in the Conference, Iowa at Northwestern, brings together the mysteries of the Conference this year. Northwestern, rated as one of the best in the West at the start of the season, has lost five straight games. Its only Conference win was against Ohio State. Iowa, on the other hand, the weakest in the Conference, showed unexpected strength in beating Wisconsin last Saturday. Northwestern should win.

And there you have the lineup for the end of football season, 1927, as far as the Middle West Conference is concerned.

BIG TEN STANDING

	W.	L.	T.	TP.	OP.
Illinois	4	0	0	139	24
Minnesota	2	0	1	136	44
Michigan	3	1	0	139	29
Ohio State	2	2	0	121	79
Indiana	1	1	1	94	86
Chicago	2	2	0	53	68
Purdue	1	2	0	149	32
Iowa	1	3	0	107	71
Wisconsin	1	3	0	90	63
Northwestern	1	3	0	117	94

Yesterday's Grid Scores

COLLEGIATE.
Muskingum	46	Marietta	0
Miss. A. & M.	6	Millsaps	0
Wittenberg	23	Toledo	0
Wilmington	21	Kent	0
Denison	8	Ohio North.	0
Salem	12	Broaddus	0
Upper Iowa	40	Luther	13
Albion	20	North Central	12
Des Moines	12	Neb. Wesleyan	6
St. Mary's	20	Pacific	0
Doane	13	Cotner	0
New Mexico	20	N. M. Aggies	13
Midland	44	Wayne Normal	0
Fresno	6	Santa Clara	6
Hendrix	32	Southwestern	6
York College	29	Nebraska Cent.	0
River Falls	31	Fort Snelling	7
Arkan. Tech	12	Lombard	0
SCHOLASTIC.
Westingh'se	13	Oliver	6
Edgewood	20	E. Pittsburgh	0
Oakmont	14	Millvale	6
Charleroi	6	Monongahela	0
Raven	12	John Adams	6
Shippensburg	13	Potomac State	6
East Wash.	7	Trinity	0
R. Wilson	28	Phillippi	0
W. Milford	38	Bellington	0
Shinnston	52	Fairview	0
E. Fairmont	17	W. Fairmont	0
Morgantown	6	Elkins	0
W. Newton	20	Alberton	0
Crafton	38	Carnegie	0
Bentleyville	18	Juniata	0
Bellefonte	20	Cecil	0
Sewickley	6	Carnopolis	0
St. Mary's	6	Carrick	0
Brownsville	13	Belleverson	0

BUSH, PIRATE PILOT, HERE

Donie Bush, manager of the Pirates, stepped in on owner Barney Dreyfuss this morning after a trip from Indianapolis, Donie's home town.

Accompanying Donie were James Peery, president, and William Clauer, secretary of the Indianapolis Club of the American Association.

Peery and Clauer have acquired the Hoosier franchise and with the intention of building an up-to-date ball park they would like to get a view of Forbes Field, generally regarded as the prettiest sport orchard in the country.

The Indianapolis magnates are friends of Bush, so they asked Donie to join them in the trip to Pittsburgh. The trio had a long conference with Dreyfuss this morning.

Needless to say, the A. A. owners were pleased with Forbes Field. They saw many things they liked and probably will act accordingly in erecting their new park.

Bush, as usual, was loaded with pep as he arrived in Pittsburgh. Donie has bright hopes for the coming season. He won the National League flag this year under handicaps that would have stopped many another baseball man.

Bush had little to say regarding trades. He had nothing to give out concerning Kiki Cuyler, but it is likely that he and Dreyfuss will go over the whole situation as regards swaps. It is generally believed that the Pirates will trade several players this winter.

The boss of the Buccos expects to attend the minor league meeting in Dallas, which is scheduled for December 6. From Dallas, Donie will travel to New York to join up with Dreyfuss at the annual session of the National League.

Bush remained over to see Carnegie and Detroit in their Forbes Field clash. He is a strong lover of football.

TECHITES IN FAREWELL TODAY

HARMON
COOPER
CAPT. ANDERSON
WERTENBERGER
COWAN

BEFORE HOME CROWD

These five Carnegie Tech stars play their last game of football before a home crowd against the University of Detroit at Forbes Field this afternoon and end their college careers entirely in the battle with the Oregon Aggies at Portland, Ore., next Saturday. Capt. Purl Anderson plays guard, I. Newton Cowan is a guard, Ralph N. Harmon a halfback, Paul A. Cooper a tackle and Howard C. Wertenberger a halfback.

Westinghouse Wins City League Title

By VERNON A. SWARTSFAGER.

WESTINGHOUSE HIGH SCHOOL is the new City League champion and is now looking upon the W. P. I. A. L. title with a little more interest. Oliver High School was not shamed in its 13-6 defeat before 5,000 shivering, enthusiastic fans at Forbes Field yesterday afternoon. The Section II champions gave the best they have given this season, and that best had the Silver Lakers from Section I baffled to the extent that they almost were held to a tie.

Coach Burton of Westinghouse, who appears to be the only mentor in the district who has given the lateral pass serious consideration, is the man directly responsible for the play that gave his team victory in the final quarter with only a few minutes to go. A play used for the first time this season by the team, held for just such an emergency, saw Klotz winding up a 55-yard run on the other side of the goal line, after a forward pass and lateral pass. Hussey lobbed an aerial to Brown, who chucked it on to Knotz in a lateral just as he was being tackled, and the lithe little Klotz, playing in accordance with the smooth-working play, had little interference to keep him from scoring. And little Red Sullivan kicked the only point after touchdown with a place kick—the only one made on the middy field.

The loss of Kenneth (Army) Ormiston, Westinghouse's stellar fullback, before the second period was well under way, rather disheartened the team, and, while until that time the Silver Lakers' had not exhibited anywhere near their usual strength, his relegation to the bench with a severely sprained ankle made matters worse.

But it was not because of weakened opposition that the Dennis crew counted their lone touchdown. Shumaker broke through the line as Ormiston was about to punt and blocked the kick, recovering the ball in mid-field and running almost 15 yards before being downed. After several end runs and line smashes, Oliver moved up close on the goal line, but obstacles in the way of two five-yard penalties found them back on the 16-yard line when they pulled the spectacular. Mohr tossed a pretty pass to Siegman, who squirmed up to the two-yard line before being downed. Then McLane crashed through center on the first play to score. Walkaskas failed to make the extra point and the score was tied at 6-all, where it remained until the game was almost ended.

Straight football won for the Silver Lakers the first points in the game early in the first quarter. Patterson broke up McLane's attempted kick and the ball went to Westinghouse on the Oliver 25. In just exactly six plays the Silver Lakers reached the two-yard line—and most of the yardage was gained through the line. Ormiston toppled over the mass of scrimmage to score easily. Sullivan missed his place kick.

One other spectacular occurrence marked the game, although it went for a total loss. McLane picked Ormiston's punt out of the air and, after circling around, dodging and side-stepping the oncoming Silver Lakers, dashed up the side of the field for 60 or 70 yards to cross the goal line with the field behind him. His cleet-prints showed that he had stepped on the line—and not over it—and officials ruled the play out, unfortunately for the Brighton roaders.

And so ended one of the best scholastic games seen around here this year. The lineup:

Westinghouse—13.		Oliver—6.
Mayberry	L. E.	Marcous
Patterson	L. T.	Miller
Nowe	L. G.	Kinder
Wills	C.	Freeland
Goedel	R. G.	Walkaskas
Riley	R. T.	McBride
McQuinn	R. E.	Shumaker
Sullivan	Q.	Siegman
Brown	L. H.	McLane
Matoney	R. H.	McMillan
Ormiston	F.	Mohr

Scores by quarters:

Westinghouse	6	0	0	7	—13
Oliver	6	0	0	0	—6

Substitutions—Dallas for McQuinn, Hussey for Ormiston, Klotz for Matoney, Burroughs for McMillan, De Marchi for Nowe.

Touchdowns—Ormiston, McLane, Klotz.

Goal from touchdown—Sullivan (placement).

Officials—Referee, Walsh; umpire, Sterritt; head linesman, Story.

Time of quarters—10 and 12 minutes.

KECK

(Continued from Page Nine.)

howling packs of alumni who demand victory at any cost?

The word is going around that Coach Earnst Bearg of Nebraska is slated to be beheaded because his team lost to Pitt in that spectacular battle in the Pitt Stadium last Saturday. He previously had lost to Missouri in a game in which his eleven far outgained the Show Me Staters, only to be nosed out, a situation almost similar to the Pitt engagement, in which three long-distance touchdown plays by the Panthers nullified two hard-earned tallies that were pounded across the goal line by the Cornhuskers, and it was understood that the Pitt game was to prove Bearg's best test. Victory meant he would retain his job, defeat that he would go.

The talk has it that Paul J. Schissler of the Oregon Aggies, who are to be played by Carnegie Tech at Portland next Saturday, will return to Nebraska, where he formerly coached. Schissler is regarded as more or less of a wonder worker. Last year his Beavers tied Washington State for the honors in the Northern division of the Pacific Coast Conference and ranked tenth in offense and first in defense among the 10 highest scoring teams of the country.

Both Enjoy Club Privileges
-but they pay different prices!

This Man

—lives at an expensive Athletic Club.

—pays an initiation fee.

—pays dues every year.

—pays for his rooms —and pays plenty!

—and, in the long run, derives not a jot more enjoyment from his privileges and surroundings than the man who lives at Webster Hall.

This Man

—lives at Webster Hall, America's Finest Club Hotel.

—enjoys the recreational facilities of the championship-size swimming pool.

—plays handball or basketball in the gymnasium — billiards in the billiard room.

—meets with men of his own type in the lounges.

—pays a modest rental for only one room and secures the privileges of 14 other rooms at no extra cost.

MAKE it a point to visit Webster Hall in the beautiful Schenley Park district. Come out and see how economical is this smart, luxuriously appointed club residence. Ask for Todd Wright—he will be glad to introduce you to the unique club privileges.

LOW PERMANENT RATES

Webster Hall

America's Finest Club Hotels
Pittsburgh and Detroit

FIFTH AVE. at DITHRIDGE

YALE HEAVY FAVORITE OVER HARVARD

DEDICATE NEW FIELD

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 19.—With Governors L. G. Hardman, of Georgia, Dennis Murphree, of Mississippi and Bibb Graves, of Alabama, and Legion Commander Spafford in attendance, Birmingham's municipal stadium, Legion Field will be dedicated today.

VOTE NEW PRIZE

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 19.—For the second time in three days, the city council yesterday afternoon voted a purse of $3,000 for an open golf tournament here. The new prize pot is for the Miami Open championship, and the dates are January 7 and 8.

DETROIT AND TECH ELEVENS ON EVEN TERMS

CAPT. GIBBY WELCH ⁖ PITT'S STELLAR CANDIDATE ⁖ FOR ALL AMERICA HONORS

FORWARD PASSER
KICKER
PASS RECEIVER
CLOSE-UP RUNNER

HE TOSSES 'EM

Capt. Gibby Welch of Pitt is an adept forward passer. He throws the oval high, wide and handsome.

AND KICKS 'EM

Gibby, one of the leading candidates for all-America halfback honors, also is a punter of parts, although he seldom gets a chance to do any booting. Coach Jock Sutherland of Pitt says he has done some surprising kicking on occasion.

AND CATCHES 'EM

Gibby's leaping, stretching catches of forward passes were features of the W. and J. and Nebraska games and in the latter contest resulted in a touchdown.

GIBBY HIMSELF

A closeup of the Parkersburg, W. Va., lad who is leading the Panthers to one of their most successful seasons.

TRIPLE THREAT STAR

Gibby is not only a passer and kicker, but he excels mainly as a runner. He has run back kickoffs for touchdowns against both West Virginia and Nebraska and is one of the outstanding open-field runners in the game today. He has speed, change of pace and a twisting motion in his running.

SPORT COMMENT

by JAMES J. LONG

THE appearance of Charles E. (Gus) Dorais here today as coach of the University of Detroit football game in its tussle with Carnegie Tech, at Forbes Field, recalls to the fans of this neighborhood a bitterly-fought game of 15 years ago on the same gridiron in which this same Dorais rose to the heroic heights of deciding the contest by an individual achievement.

That game took place in 1912 and the principals were the elevens of Pitt and Notre Dame. At that time, Dorais was Notre Dame's star quarterback, and after a hard struggle that found both teams scoreless with only one minute remaining for play, Gus stepped back and won the day for Notre Dame by booting a field goal.

HOWEVER, though so little time remained, the game did not end without another thrill, as Fred Ward of the Pitt team, now Dr. F. F. Ward of Beaver Falls, almost deadlocked the contest for the Panthers by trying a field goal from the 22-yard line. He missed only by inches, and Notre Dame took the game, 3 to 0.

The stars on the Pitt team that afternoon were Hube Wagner, Red Smith, Bill Leahy and Isadore Shapira, while on the Notre Dame the outstanding performers were Dorais, Eichenlaub, Berger and Pliska.

In losing to Notre Dame, the Panthers suffered only one of several defeats that made 1912 a lean year for them. They also lost to Bucknell, 6 to 0; to Carlisle, 45 to 8; to Navy, 13 to 6; to W. & J., 13 to 0, and to Penn State, 38 to 0.

AS WAS expected by local fans when the major league baseball advisory council this week proposed a new rule that would create a "disabled" list and enable a club to evade the 25-player limit rule in mid-season by putting an athlete on the "disabled" roster and signing another player in his place, President Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh club announces that he is opposed to the proposed change and will do everything in his power to defeat it.

Inasmuch as he is always opposed to any elasticity in the rules, and in favor of air-tight regulations that will prevent faking or cheating or any other kind of fraud, it was easy for Pittsburgh fans to guess on which side of the "disabled list" question the local magnate would be found.

PRESIDENT DREYFUSS made known his stand on the matter yesterday:

"I am unalterably opposed to any

(Continued on Page Ten.)

BLUE HAS GREAT TEAM

By Universal Service.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 19.—Fifty-five thousand people will see America's oldest and most deeply traditional football foes, Harvard and Yale meet in their forty-sixth annual struggle at Soldiers' Field here today.

This year's Harvard-Yale classic will present the picture of one of the weakest and most unsuccessful football elevens in Harvard's history fighting with its back to the wall against one of the mightiest teams that ever wore the deep Blue of Eli Yale.

Until yesterday the betting has been favoring Yale to win by odds of 5 to 2 and 3 to 1. But yesterday the odds became even more overwhelmingly one-sided. Thousands of dollars of Yale money were offered in the Boston financial district at odds of 4 to 1 without any takers.

Rarely if ever in history have the betting odds before a Harvard-Yale game been so one-sided. Practically never in Harvard-Yale football annals has there been such an occurrence as yesterday's when many thousands of Yale dollars were flaunted in the faces of Harvard men at the extreme odds

(Continued on Page Ten.)

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

by HARRY KECK
SUN-TELEGRAPH SPORTS EDITOR

THERE is a certain refreshing frankness about the University of Pittsburgh's attitude toward being invited to represent the East in the Tournament of Roses game at Pasadena, Cal., New Year's Day. There is no beating about the bush by the athletic authorities of the local institution. They admit they hope the bid will come their way and make no bones about the fact that they gladly will accept such a tender.

For some unfathomable reason, most colleges and universities appear to think it is a breach of ethics to welcome such an invitation and it has come to be the custom to sit back and wait until they are asked before saying anything along these lines. Athletic Director Blakeslee of Pitt rightly sees no reason for such sham. With pardonable pride he really believes Pitt has the best team in the East, if not in the entire land, this season and he thinks it would be a fine thing for the team, the university and the city of Pittsburgh to have this splendid eleven honored by being given the trip to the coast.

And we second the motion and go on record here and now as a plugger for the trip.

REMEMBER the fuss that was kicked up when the football rules committee took steps to virtually abolish the shift play at its last meeting?

Well, there are two sides to every story.

For instance, they're blaming the indifferent success of Notre Dame this season on the shackles put on the shift, claiming Notre Dame's opponents now get an even break on the charge.

And, at the same time, it is pointed out that the two teams that have beaten Pop Warner's Leland Stanford University eleven out on the coast did it with the shift. These were St. Mary's and Santa Clara, both coached by former Notre Dame men who learned their stuff under Coach Knute Rockne at Notre Dame. Slip Madigan is the mentor at St. Mary's and Adam Walsh at Santa Clara.

Warner, incidentally, always was against the shift. Perhaps the reason was, as Coach Fat Spears of Minnesota and formerly of Dartmouth and West Virginia pointed out not long ago, that the teams that always have been most successful against the grand old veteran have been those that used this style of play.

HOW many football games may a coach lose in a season and still retain his position in these days of

(Continued on Page Eight.)

Rematch Tom and Jack

By Universal Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight and Tom Heeney, of New Zealand yesterday were rematched to meet in a 12-round bout at Madison Square Garden January 13.

The two were originally scheduled to fight last night but Sharkey begged off because of a finger injury.

The Boston heavyweight appeared at the meeting of the New York Boxing Commission yesterday and submitted to an examination by the commission doctors. The physicians of the state body reported after the examination that Sharkey's finger injury was of such a nature that he was unfit for active competition at the present.

A statute of the local boxing laws made it necessary, however, for Sharkey to be suspended until he fulfills his engagement.

DEMPSEY WALKS OUT ON DORVAL BATTLE

NEW YORK Nov. 19.—(INS.)—So unimpressed was he with the Benny Touchstone-Jack Dorval bout at Madison Square Garden last night that Jack Dempsey "walked out on the act" in the seventh round his friends said today. Dempsey was drawn to the match by the announcement of his arch-enemy Jack Kearns that Jack Dorval, one of the contenders, was better than "Dempsey at his best."

The match, a 10-round affair substituting for the postponed Heeney-Sharkey match, was a dull affair with Dorval emerging victor by a slim margin.

Trojans to Refuse Rose Bowl Bid If Offered

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—University of Southern California will not be a participant in the East-West football game at the Pasadena Rose Bowl on New Year's Day, it was announced yesterday by Hugh C. Willett, chairman of the University Athletic Commission.

He said that arrangements for the Notre Dame game at Chicago and the Washington game here on December 3 were made with the understanding there would be no post-season games.

Willett's statement is said to have the approval of President Von Kleinsmid.

EDGEWOOD COPS

The Edgewood High School eleven handed the East Pittsburgh gridders a sound trouncing yesterday afternoon on the Edgewood grounds by the score of 24 to 6. Garbark and Moyer were the stars of the game, the former with his terrific line plunging and the latter with his sensational dashes in the open field.

Pop May Clinch Title

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—(AP.)—With the 1927 football season of the Pacific Coast Conference rapidly drawing to a close, three important contests are scheduled for today, the result of which may eliminate more than one championship contender from the field. Stanford University, the University of Southern California and University of Idaho, undefeated thus far in Conference competition, all meet worthy opponents.

Overshadowing the other contests both in traditional rivalry and importance is the thirty-fourth annual "big game" between Stanford and the University of California. The two teams are entering the fray today more evenly matched than at any other time since 1924.

The University of California Trojans, minus the services of Captain Morely Drury, backfield star, who is out with a slight injury, will meet Washington State College in Los Angeles, while Idaho, last of the undefeated trio is scheduled to clash with Oregon State College in its last conference game of the year.

Not a ticket has been in sight for more than a month now; and many are the "old boys" who have been drawn back to old scenes without seats for the game, who are lucky now if they have found a bed in which to sleep, and a radio on which to listen.

PLAID IN FINAL HOME STRUGGLE TODAY

(Continued from Page One.)

football with Rockne at Notre Dame and learned the game from the same coach, Frank Harper. The line coach is Buddy Boeringer all-America center on the Irish varsity last year and an ardent Notre Dame system student and disciple. They have taught their Titans Notre Dame formations, fundamentals and Notre Dame spirit. And that, the boys will tell you, is a tough spirit.

Today's battle promises to be a stern test for both elevens. Detroit has a checkered record, defeats at the hands of the Army and Notre Dame, both of which are honorable scars, being offset by triumphs scored at the expense of the Michigan Aggies, St. Louis University and Cornell College, a strong Iowa college eleven.

The visitors, who "blew" into town yesterday on the chilly winds that swept from the West, played their best football against the Army and Michigan, and Notre Dame was fairly hard-pressed in the second game of the season. The Army had to be content with a one touchdown victory, that came late in the fourth period when Cagle tossed a long pass to Born for the winning score.

Detroit brings a fast, well balanced set of backs, headed by Lloyd Brazill, a well recommended young man of triple threat tendencies. The line is heavy, so say reports, and fairly fast. It did not function quite up to snuff last week against St. Louis, when the light Mound City backs ripped through it for gain after gain in the first half.

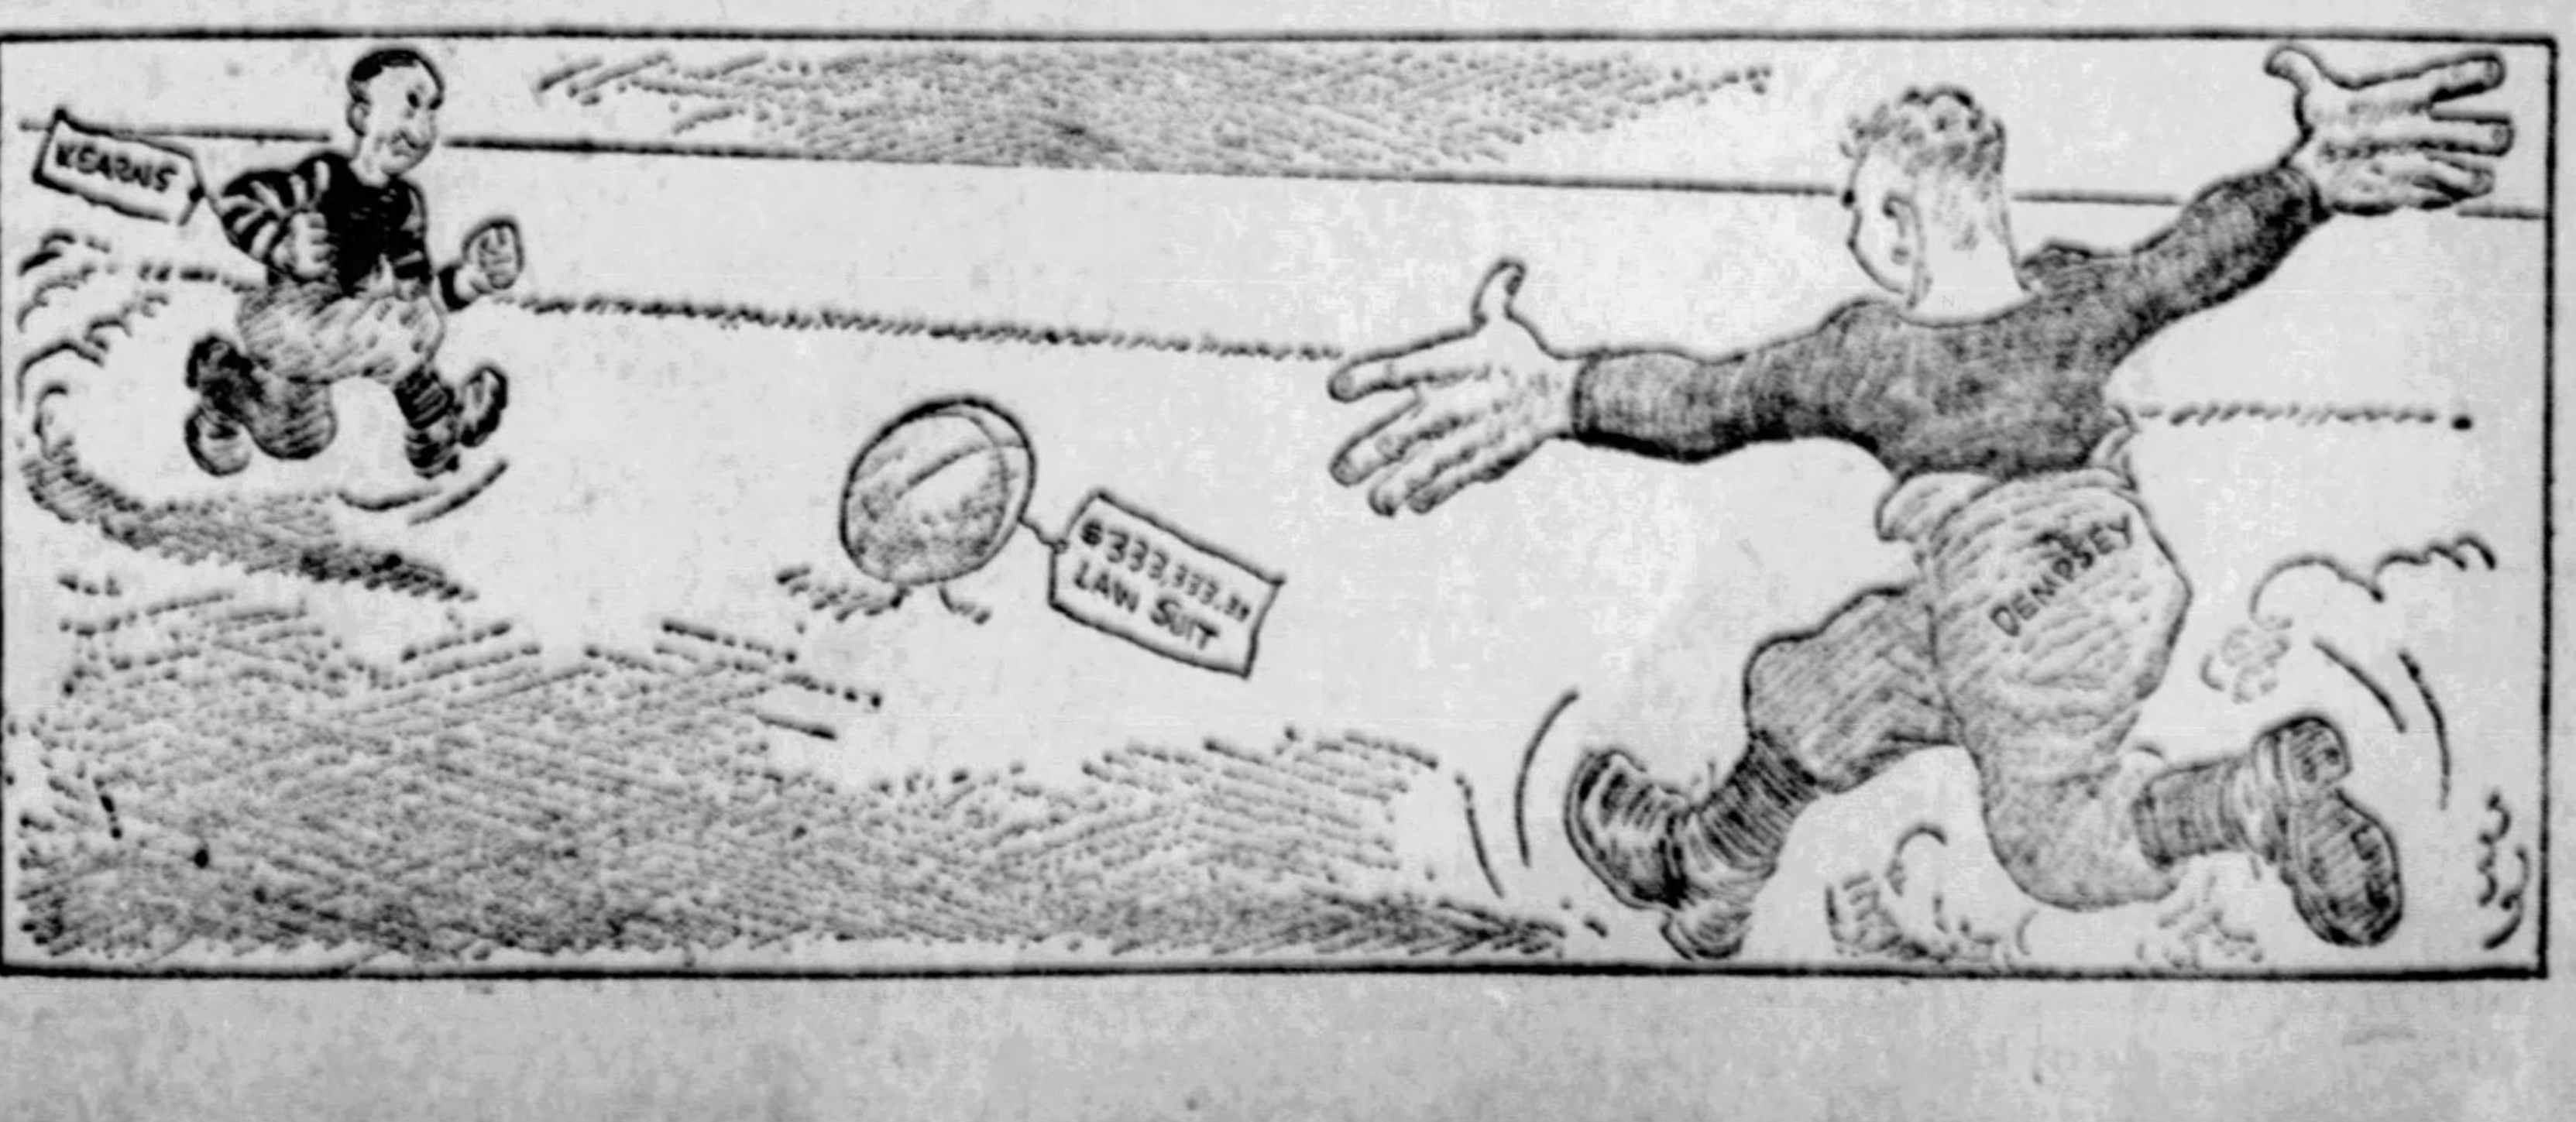
In addition to Brazill, the backfield holds Maloney, a capable line plunger and good all-around fullback; Capt. Connell, fast stepping halfback, and Johnny Vachon, who runs the team from quarterback position and also handles the forward pass with no little skill. The aerial game, however, is almost entirely under the charge of Brazill.

Carnegie, fighting to close the season at home with a victory, and with a number of regulars in the lineup who are playing their final varsity game before home crowds and amid home scenes, will place in the path of the Western Titans a well balanced, veteran and powerful defensive line, a fairly good set of backs and a flock of plays and formations that will test to the utmost the defensive powers of Detroit.

The starting Tech lineup will be the same as has opened activities in all of Tech's games this year, though a last minute shift may find Kousman at Sweet's position at right end.

(Continued on Page Ten.)

BLOCK THAT KICK! ⁖ BY HOBAN



Today's Gridiron Card

LOCAL GAME.

Carnegie Institute of Technology vs. Detroit University, Forbes Field, 2 o'clock.

LOCAL TEAMS ABROAD.

Duquesne University vs. Ashland College, Ashland, O.
Pitt Freshmen vs. West Virginia Freshmen at Morgantown.

WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA.

Thiel College vs. Geneva College, Beaver Falls.

WEST VIRGINIA.

Bethany vs. Waynesburg, Wellsburg.
West Liberty vs. New River, West Liberty.

OHIO.

Akron vs. Wooster, Akron.
Bowling Green vs. Bluffton, Bowling Green.
Dayton vs. Haskell, Dayton.
Findlay vs Adrian, Findlay.
Oberlin vs. Mt. Union, Oberlin.
St. Xavier vs. West Virginia Wesleyan, Cincinnati.
Wilmington vs. Kent, Wilmington.

EAST.

Yale vs. Harvard, Cambridge.
Allegheny vs. New York University, New York.
Army vs. Ursinus, West Point.
Navy vs. Loyola, Annapolis.
Syracuse vs. Niagara, Syracuse.
Brown vs. New Hampshire, Providence.
Massachusetts Aggies vs. Tufts, Amherst.
Providence vs. Middlebury, Providence.
Connecticut Aggies vs. Boston College, Boston.
Fordham vs. Georgetown, New York.
Haverford vs. Delaware, Haverford.
Lehigh vs. Lafayette, Bethlehem.
St. Johns vs. St. Thomas, New York.
Holy Cross vs. Boston University, Worcester.
Temple vs. Bucknell, Philadelphia.
Rochester vs. Hobart, Rochester.
Upsala vs. New York Aggies, East Orange.
Washington vs. Drexel, Philadelphia.
Mt. St. Mary's vs. St. Bonaventure, Wilkes-Barre.

WEST.

Indiana vs. Purdue, Bloomington.
Wabash vs. Depauw, Crawfordsville.
University of Southern California vs. Washington State, Los Angeles.
Michigan vs. Minnesota, Ann Arbor.
Stanford vs. California, Palo Alto.
Rose Poly vs. Hanover, Terre Haute.
Ohio State vs. Illinois, Columbus.
Northwestern vs. Iowa, Evanston.
Chicago vs. Wisconsin, Chicago.
Montana vs. Montana State, Butte.
Drake vs. Notre Dame, Des Moines.
Iowa State vs. Grinnell, Ames.
Oklahoma vs. Oklahoma Aggies, Norman.
Kansas vs. Missouri, Lawrence.

SOUTH.

Maryland vs. Vanderbilt, Nashville.
Union vs. Kentucky Wesleyan, Barbourville.
Georgia vs. Mercer, Athens.
Centre vs. Kentucky, Danville.
Duke vs. North Carolina, Durham.

JESS CARVER'S VARSITY COLUMN

HERE is a new exercise for budding typists—

"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the sport writers and start picking all-America football teams."

The open season for selections is on. Letters will start, in fact, have already started, pouring in, giving helpful hints on the choosing of backfields and lines, and telling why Augustus P. Schreck or Joe Glots of Goldfish University should be placed at fullback and tackle respectively, over Herb Joesting of Minnesota and Ray Randels of Nebraska.

THE all-American team this year is going to surprise folks. In the first place, there is bound to be a lot of practically unheard-of boys on the line. The quarterback position, when filled, isn't going to be a popular choice, in as much as there hasn't been an outstanding quarter this fall. There are 10 or 11 good halfbacks, three fullbacks and a lineman or two of which the nation at large has read and heard of more than once or twice.

It has been a year of fine team play, with few outstanding stars.

THE middle west tried valiantly to make an all-American halfback out of Welch of Purdue, but Gibby Welch of Pitt outshone the Boilermaker so far that during the last three weeks, you have hardly heard of Pesty. Herb Joesting is the outstanding fullback choice, at least in the mid-west, while in the East, one has Nork of Georgetown, Booth of Pitt, Amos of Wash-Jeff, Wascolonis of Penn and maybe Diehl of Bucknell or Briante of New York University to choose from.

THERE are some pretty good half backs here in the eastern sector, led by Gibby Welch of our own Panthers. There is a fine list, with John Roepke, Penn State; Marstars and Lane, Dartmouth; Garvey, Yale; Wittmer, Princeton; Cook, Wash-Jeff; Scull, Penn, and Harry Wilson of the Army and Lloyd of Navy, as topliners. But none of these chaps have received the publicity that made Grange, Friedman, Dooley or Tryon, and if any of them should be selected, there is bound to be a lot of headshaking.

IT IS impossible to work in one section of the country and pick an all-star team taking in the entire football world. All you can do is trust to news reports and information that may be picked up from players, coaches and officials with whom you come in contact.

The general opinion throughout the country among the critics, seems to be that the following players will receive major consideration for the all-America backfield positions:

Quarterback—Connors, New York.
Speer, Vanderbilt.
Gilbert, Michigan.
Left Half—Welch, Pittsburgh.
Almquist, Illinois.
Drury, U. S. C.
Right Half—Wilson, Army.
Presnell, Nebraska.
Lane, Dartmouth.
Fullback—Joesting, Minnesota.
Flannigan, Notre Dame.
Briante, New York U.

The choice of this column, however, would be to discard Drury, Almquist, Speer, Land, Wilson, Flanagan and Briante and give the first string positions to Gilbert, Welch, Presnell and the great Joesting.

YALE

(Continued from Page Nine.)

of $1,000 to $250, and the Harvard men declined to bet.

The reasons for the one-sidedness of the betting odds are manifold. One is the surprising might of the Yale eleven. Yale started the season with a smaller quantity of star material than she had at any time in the past decade and a half. There was only one man on the team, Bruce Caldwell, who was rated among the possible greats of the gridiron, and he had not yet made his mark.

The very absence of stars made Yale develop all the better.

Coach Tad Jones took his green material and developed a mighty eleven.

It took one narrow margin licking from the University of Georgia. Then it rose in power and turned back Brown, 19 to 0; West Point, the conquerors of Notre Dame, 10 to 6; Dartmouth, 19 to 0; Maryland, 30 to 6, and hitherto undefeated Princeton, 14 to 6.

Yale's line is one of the strongest in years. Her backs are first class and co-operate well, and her attack, although it relies to a great extent on the old Yale "power plays," also has a bit of diversity and deception that can be used in crucial moments and have already pulled games out of the fire.

Harvard's showing this year, on the other hand, has been woeful. Dartmouth, the team that was smothered 19 to 0 by Yale, trounced Harvard, 30 to 6. Harvard also was massacred, 19 to 0, by Purdue, and 24 to 0 by a Pennsylvania team that, in beating Harvard, was winning its first game in four weeks.

Capt. Webster and Garvey will start against Harvard today, but Yale supporters doubt their ability to last more than a part of the game. Many of the Blue followers think that their team is going to falter, but win just the same. But they are not ready to bet on a large score.

Yale will start the game with the same eleven men who took the field at the start of all her big games with Dartmouth, the Army and Princeton, although possible the condition of some of her players may be a bit below par.

Harvard will start the game with her eleven best men, with one exception. Jamaica Joe Crosby, veteran Crimson halfback, who was injured in the Indiana game and has been useless since then, will be unable to start the game, but may go in as a substitute.

Today's Soccer Card

Pittsburgh Celtics at Turtle Creek Thistle.
Pittsburgh S. C. at Swissvale.
German Sport B. at Pittsburgh Rovers.
Clan Douglas at Clan Cameron.

LOUGHRAN TO RISK TITLE IN GOTHAM RING

WESTERNER TO FIGHT TOM FOR TITLE

By Universal Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—After more than a week's dickering Jess McMahon yesterday closed for Tommy Loughran to defend his world's light-heavyweight title against Leo Lomski, California boxer, and outstanding contender.

The pair will come together in a 15-round tussle at the Garden on January 6. Joe Smith signed for the champion, while Billy Duffy put his "J. H." on the dotted line on behalf of Lomski. Loughran, as champion, will receive the customary 37½ per cent out of the gate receipts. Lomski will get 12½ per cent.

McMahon first tried to corral Jimmy Slattery for the match, and just as things looked quite hopeful for such a meeting Slats faded out of the picture. It was learned today that Slattery accepted an offer from Philadelphia to meet Loughran. The bout will be staged there within a few weeks, according to advices from Philly.

Slattery, who is recognized by the National Boxing Association as the world's champion, received an ultimatum from that body on Tuesday that, since he could not come to terms for a meeting with Loughran, this title would be forfeited within 30 days if he did not sign to fight Lomski. Slattery apparently does not want any part of the coast scrapper, else he would have accepted his challenge.

Since Lomski is recognized as the outstanding contender by the N. B. A., it is more than likely that the Loughran-Lomski fuss will be recognized as the real titular scrap.

Joe Dundee, world's welterweight champion, is a much suspended champion. The boxing solons took a fall out of Joe and almost knocked Jess McMahon off his feet today. Not only did they criticize Jess for signing him for a title scrap, but the Duke of Muldoon threatened to put the Garden matchmaker into retirement.

The commission announced that Dundee is indefinitely suspended here until he settles his difficulties with the California boxing board.

Muldoon told McMahon he had no business signing Dundee, who is ineligible in the state. The suspension of Dundee in New York almost makes it unanimous, since he was also put into retirement by the N. B. A., after his recent waltz with Pinkey Mitchell in Milwaukee.

SPORT COMMENT

(Continued from Page Nine.)

change in the rules that will open the way for cheating," he declared. "Under the present regulations no club is permitted to carry more than 25 players between June 15 and August 31 of each season. That's how the rule reads and there is no chance to misinterpret it, no loophole through which to violate it.

"It means just what it says and every club has got to take its own chances on losing one or more of its 25 eligible players through illness or injury. There simply cannot be any cheating.

"But under the proposed change, a player may be put on the diabled list for 60 days and another player may be obtained to take his place. Of course, I am not saying that any club would be guilty of such a thing, but the loophole is there to make cheating possible.

"RICH clubs, able to pay the salaries of one or more extra men without trouble could put an inferior or a crippled player on the list for 60 days, and instead of being forced to go along without his services would be able to hire another man to take his place. The poor clubs could not do it, because they could not afford it.

"As I said before, I would not go so far as to insinuate that any of the clubs would stoop to such tactics, but still you can't improve on a system like our present one under which no such cheating is possible. The safest way is the best way, and the surest method of preventing any faking or stalling in order to ring in an extra man is to keep the way closed against it."

THE "disabled list" question and other new rules proposed by the advisory council will be acted upon at a joint meeting of the National and American Leagues called for December 15 at the Roosevelt Hotel in New York. A majority of the 16 votes in the two leagues is required to ratify any of the proposed changes.

WHILE the game against Penn State on Turkey Day will close the brilliant college football career of Capt. Gibby Welch, as well as of a number of other Panther stars, the story of Welch's amateur athletic deeds will not be completed by any means.

For not only will Welch compete later for Pitt in track sports, but his heart is set more strongly than ever on making a try for a place on the American Olympic team of 1928.

POSSIBLY some of those who have raved about Welch's work in football have not realized what a star he is in other sports. He holds three Pitt records, with 148 feet for the discus throw, over 45 feet for the shotput and 180 feet for the javelin throw, to say nothing of his ability to do 22 feet in the running broad jump.

Besides, Welch could have been a crack basketball player, too, had he not been advised by Tubby Spears when the latter was coaching at West Virginia University and Welch was a high school student that it would be better for his athletic career otherwise if he would give up the floor sport.

GIBBY is quite a baseball player, too. If he had not remained out of basketball at Pitt, and if the Panthers had not abandoned baseball, he could have been a four-letter man like Jimmy DeHart and Speedo Laughran.

Welch's schoolmates are pulling hard for him to make the Olympic team, and good judges think he has a splendid chance to do so, particularly in the discus throw.

If Harvard Wins, Yale Will Be Bluer Than Ever Tonight

★ SUN-TELEGRAPH ★ SPORTS ★

FINISH UP FOR DUKES TODAY

CAPTAIN SCALLY

Quarterback of the Duquesne University eleven, who concludes his college career with today's game against Ashland College at Ashland, O.

STANLEY MASLOWSKI

Tackle of the Dukes, who also engages in his last collegiate game today. Maslowski has been a stalwart on the line for the Bluffites throughout the season.

STAN. PROPOKOWICZ

Star guard of the Dukes, who bids farewell to the gridiron today. "Proky" was an all-Tri-State Conference choice last year and played as good a game this season.

SHOTS and PASSES

by JULIUS LEVIN

COACH CHICK DAVIES, of the Duquesne University basketball squad, is banking heavily on Jerry Reich, who stood out prominently in several of the Dukes' important battles last year, for this season's varsity.

Reich showed steady improvement in every game he played for the Bluffites last winter and is looked upon as a sure regular on the Duke varsity quintet this season.

The Dukes have begun training for the 1927-1928 campaign with prospects brighter than ever for a successful season on the floor. Several members of the football team, including Ganay Benedict and Sam Pratt, will report after the grid campaign is closed.

THE Knickerbockers, showing a decided improvement in form over last year as a result of the coaching of Yans Wallace, former star of the Morrys, romped away with an easy victory over Webster Hall last night in the opening West Penn League game, 30 to 15.

The Strippers, while not playing up to their best form, showed enough to double the score on their opponents, thanks to the all-round work of Capt. Ducky Hill and Brush.

Webster Hall was a big disappointment last night, Tom Miller and Dick Schrading being the only players who made any kind of a showing. Unless the Oaklanders obtain a first-class coach, they will not get very far in the West Penn League.

THE West Penn League schedule will be officially opened tonight when four members of the circuit swing into action for the first time this season.

Max Hannum takes his Trinity Church team to Sharpsburg to meet Manager Girty's Y. M. C. A. passers, while Fred Yetter's Kingsley House quintet invades the confines of the Heinz House to engage the North Siders.

THE Goldenson Furnitures, who will compete in the Pittsburgh and Ohio Valley League this season, are on edge for their opening battle of the season Monday, when they invade Braddock to meet the American Legion quintet in a non-league affair.

Meyer Goldenson, backer of the South Siders, has spared no expense in building up a strong aggregation.

The Goldensons are not expecting an easy battle at Braddock as the team representing that town on the floor is composed of the former members of the Morry Cadets.

The Goldenson Vanities will accompany the Furnitures to Braddock engaging the Kiulus Girls in the preliminary contest.

THE roster of the Commercial-Industrial League was completed late yesterday when the Joseph Horne Company was granted the eighth franchise in the loop.

Others members of the C. & I League are Carnegie Steel, Pittsburgh and Lake Erie, Reliance Life, Kaufmann's, Dravo Construction, Duquesne Light and Liberty Baking.

EAGER to regain the prestige it held in amateur basketball several years ago, Hill Top Y. M. C. A. is mustering its floor candidates this winter with the intention of making a determined fight for the first-class championship.

Among the prominent basketeers on the Y. M. C. A. squad this winter are McKay, Graham, Art Griffith, Les Wallace, Herbert and John Slater, Barclay, Brown, Meider and Taylor, a group of boys that are certain to make things interesting for their opponents this season.

John Slater, Barclay, Meider and Taylor are newcomers on the Hill Top Y squad, but they have shown enough in practice so far to warrant their retention.

DRIBBLES

Bill Graham is arranging an attractive schedule of games for the Hill Top Y. M. C. A. quintet this winter. The Hill Top Y. is making a determined effort to regain the prestige it held in local basketball circles several years ago and will have a team this winter that is certain to rank among the leaders.

Dave Marvis, well-known referee of the Tristate Officials' body, will handle the Goldenson-American Legion battle in Braddock, Monday night.

Harry Berlovitch, sponsor of the Dairy Cottagers of the South Side, has signed all members of the Hawks Meade Club to represent his team on the floor this winter.

Little has been heard as to the makeup of the Heinz House quintet this winter, but if past records mean anything the North Siders are going to be in the thick of the running for the West Penn League title. Heinz House has experienced very few lean years in amateur basketball.

With the opening of the independent and professional season rapidly approaching, city officials are making no attempt to make the necessary repairs at the South Side Market House, the only city-owned property available for local quintets. Sponsors of basketball in this section have found their efforts to have the needed improvements made unsuccessful so far.

No changes are expected in the lineups of the varsity and reserve teams of the First U. P. Community House this winter, virtually all players of last year having returned. Dates are open on both schedules for teams desiring games at home and abroad. Write Community House, 861 Union avenue, North Side, or call Fairfax 8287.

St. Ann's Club of Homestead is booking the leading light first-class teams for games at home and abroad. Teams interested call Homestead 1626-J.

Opening League Games Tonight

WEST PENN LEAGUE.
Trinity Church at Sharpsburg Y. M. C. A.
Kingsley House at Heinz House.
CENTRAL LEAGUE.
Penn Five at South Side Falcons.
One Hundred Seventy-Sixth Field Artillery at Lancer Club.
AMERICAN PRO LEAGUE.
Chicago at Cleveland.

SPORT LENS

(Continued from Page Eight.)

teract the psychological fact that the eastern boys might imagine they cannot play as well on a day of sunshine and warmth, strange to them after coming out of the cold, as they can on a raw, nippy and even snow-clad field.

Pittsburghers, after Nebraska, are confident that nothing like a change in climate will bother the great Kern, the meteoric Welch and other deserving stars of the Panthers. As a matter of fact more than one game played here this year—prior to the Wash-Jeff game—was played in weather which was an exact replica of the brand advertised by California—and no one noticed in the Panthers any less determination.

More serious than the problem of climate, is the problem of the transcontinental train ride, furnishing little chance for muscles to keep loose and attuned.

Certainly, a good west coast team has an advantage over visitors traveling five days on a train preceding the game, but the Panthers are of such fiber that they will take their chance with this possibility—and do no complaining.

TECH

(Continued from Page Nine.)

Harpster, Wertenberger, Moorehead and Cyril Letzelter will compose the backfield quartet; English, Sweet or Kousman will be at the ends; Cooper and Schmidt at the tackles, Cowan and Capt. Purl Anderson at the guards and the genial Saul Mielziner at center.

There are three or four Irish names in the Detroit lineup that Tech will do well to think deeply upon. When you see Irishmen on a football team, it's high time to watch out. Detroit with its Maloney, Ryan, O'Hollorn and Connell hints at being a dangerous eleven.

Despite the fact that both teams have been defeated in the majority of their major games, and that the records of both are pock-marked with setbacks, and even though the Titans will be on strange territory, the elevens are bound to enter the game with equal chances of victory. Detroit's running attack is touted as being slightly better than Tech's, while the Skibo defense probably is a bit stronger than Detroit's.

The cold and possible snow isn't going to help either team. Weather conditions may not be of the best, though the field will hardly be slippery or treacherous. It will be plenty hard, and there may be numerous injuries.

Owing to the fact that Detroit wears the same color jerseys as do the Tartans, Tech has turned in the red jerseys they've been sporting all fall and will appear in the green uniforms that the undefeated Plebes wore this season. With the Detroit red and the Tartan green, the field will look like a cross between a Christmas wreath and the break-up of an Irish fight.

DUKES END SEASON.

The Dukes of Duquesne will bring a highly successful regular season to a close today at Ashland, O., playing Ashland College. The worst the Dukes can get out of the season by losing today will be an even break, with one tie, and if they win, which they confidently expect to do, they will have a record of five games won, three lost and one tied. This, you know, is to be greeted with cheering and vociferous singing by the Dukes, who can begin forgetting the long, lean seasons of the past.

Ashland, however, is to be a really dangerous test, with a big line and a generally heavier team. Where the Dukes will have the edge, according to all that can be learned about Ashland, will be in superior forward passing and cleverness.

Five other tri-state district teams are in action today. The most important game, aside from the Tech-Detroit fracas here, will be the Geneva-Thiel rumpus at Beaver Falls, where Tommy Holleran's Lutherans will make an attempt to stop the undefeated advance of Colonel Alvin (Bo) McMillin's Covenanters. Thiel has had a more or less successful campaign and has a pretty strong team, led by Stanley Berkman, a good passer and ball carrier and heady, smart field general.

Geneva, however, will enter the game heavy favorites. This is as it should be. This is a conference battle.

Down at Wellsburg, Bethany and Waynesburg will bring their seasons to a close with a conference contest, important only to Waynesburg, which can take a step nearer the top with a victory.

Allegheny College looks to be in for another smashing when they face New York U's great undefeated but twice tied eleven in New York. The Methodists have yet to win a game.

Pitt, Wash-Jeff and West Virginia are idle today, and will continue their preparations for the all-important struggles of Thanksgiving Day.

JOCKEY INJURED

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 19.—(AP.)—Paul Ratti, 17-year-old jockey, Eatontown, N. J., was in a serious condition at University Hospital today from injuries received yesterday in the seventh race at Bowie.

CUP GAME ON CARD TODAY

By TOM BIRKS

WITH a national amateur cup battle featuring the Pittsburgh Soccer Club in opposition to the Switch and Signal outfit, and the Pittsburgh Celtics meeting the Turtle Creek Thistles at the Union High Stadium leading the program, soccerites should have quite an interesting bill of fare to partake of today.

It is a question which of the above games will be the greatest battle. The Celtics can hardly afford to lose this league game for it places the Thistles well in the running with the Strip aggregation.

Out at the Union High Stadium the best league game of the season will be flashed. The Celtics meeting the Thistles with the Monstrolo boys leading the attack is well worth traveling to see. Celtics are one of the outstanding teams of the season, while the Thistles usually rise to the occasion when anything worth-while drops into the big stadium.

Out at West Field the Camerons and Douglas will tangle in a Scottish Clan league game, and this should get the attention of the fans around the Steel Town. The German Sport B will travel to Lawrence Park to meet the Rovers, and it is hardly possible that anything but a one-sided score in favor of the Strip gang will be the outcome of the 90 minutes' play.

DIED

CLARK—On Thursday, November 17, 1927, at 11:45 a. m., JOHN J. CLARK, husband of Anna Donaghue Clark.
Funeral from the family home, 3412 Ward street, Oakland, on Monday, November 21, at 9:30 a. m. High mass of requiem at St. Paul's Cathedral at 10 o'clock. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

DEIGHAN—Suddenly, on Thursday, November 17, 1927, at 11:20 p. m., FELIX DEIGHAN, husband of the late Anna Donaghue Deighan and father of Mrs. William A. Vatter and Mrs. Ronald McKenzie and brother of Mrs. Mary Ann Cunningham.
Funeral from his late home, 217 Forty-second street, near Butler street, on Monday, November 21, at 8:30 a. m. High mass of requiem at St. Mary's Church, Forty-sixth street, at 9 o'clock. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

DUNN—At Presbyterian Hospital, on Friday, November 18, 1927, at 3:20 p. m., Dr. WILLIAM A. DUNN, beloved husband of Minnie M. Dunn (nee Gravatt), aged 47 years.
Funeral services at the family home, 1137 Termon avenue, North Side, Pittsburgh, (Car No. 6,) on Sunday, November 20, 1927, at 3 p. m. Friends of the family and members of Bellefield Lodge No. 680, F. and A. M., Zerubbabel Royal Arch, Chapter No. 162, Mt. Moriah Council No. 2, Royal and Select Master Masons, Ascalon Commandery No. 59, Knights Templar, Ancient Accepted, Scottish Rite Valley of Pittsburgh, Syria Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., Supreme Chapter, Delta Sigma Delta Fraternity, Odontological Society of Western Pennsylvania, Highland Country Club, are respectfully invited to attend. Interment private in Mt. Airy Cemetery, Tarentum, Pa., on Monday morning.
[East Liverpool (O.) and Tarentum (Pa.) papers please copy.]

FOX—At Philadelphia, Pa., on Thursday, November 17, 1927, MICHAEL, husband of the late Sarah Fox, in his 85th year.
Services and interment in Pittsburgh. Remains will arrive Saturday morning.

GEBHARDT—At the Homeopathic Hospital, on Saturday, November 19, 1927, at 6:35 a. m., JOHN GEBHARDT, husband of Elizabeth Gebhardt (nee Hofman), and father of Dr. John W. Gebhardt of Mt. Lebanon, and Mrs. Emily Gebhardt Seifert of Brentwood. Carrick car to end of line.
Notice of funeral later.

HAGUE—On Thursday, November 17, 1927, at 7:48 p. m., PAUL F. HAGUE, husband of Violette Shakespeare Hague.
Funeral from his late residence, 1131 La Claire avenue, Regent Square, on Monday, November 21, at 8:30 a. m. Solemn requiem mass at St. Anselm's Church at 9 o'clock. Friends of the family and members of Duquesne Council No. 264, K. of C., are respectfully invited to attend. Take car No. 67, to Hutchison avenue.
[Baltimore (Md.) and Chicago (Ill.) papers please copy.]

HARTNER—On Thursday, November 17, 1927, at 11:30 p. m., ALLEN G. HARTNER, beloved son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hartner (nee Schram), in his 23d year.
Funeral from his late home, 1127 Makewood street, Twentieth Ward, city, Monday, November 21, at 8:30 a. m. Requiem high mass at St. Martin's Roman Catholic Church, Steuben street, West End, at 9 o'clock. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.
[Steubenville (O.) papers please copy.]

HIGHBERGER—At his home, Lincoln, Neb., on Tuesday, November 15, 1927, CLARK HIGHBERGER, husband of Ella Zimmerman Highberger, formerly of Irwin, Pa.
Body will arrive at the home of his niece, Mrs. Charles Hamel, 1107 North Park street, McKeesport, Pa., early Sunday morning, where services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment in Richland Cemetery.

JANAKAS—On Friday, November 18, 1927, HAROLD JANAKAS, son of Bertha Jaecke and Charles A. Janakas, aged 1 year 3 months.
Funeral from the family apartment, second floor, 717 Homewood avenue. Services at St. Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church, Oakland, on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

KING—Suddenly, on Friday, November 18, 1927, at 5:30 p. m., STEPHEN H. KING, beloved husband of Mary Durkin King in his 35th year.
Funeral from his late residence, 115 Fleet street, Rankin, Pa., on Monday, November 21, at 8:30 a. m. High mass of requiem at St. Brendan's Roman Catholic Church, Braddock, Pa., at 9 o'clock. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

KING—On Saturday, November 19, 1927, at 6:15 a. m., C. W. KING, beloved husband of Sophia King (nee Richardson), aged 58 years.
Funeral from family home, 329 Taylor street, on Monday, November 21, at 2 p. m. Services at the Second Presbyterian Church, Eighth street, at 2:30 o'clock.

LAUGHLIN—On Friday morning, November 18, 1927, JAMES N. LAUGHLIN, Sr., aged 62, husband of Elizabeth S. Johnston Laughlin.
Funeral services at his late residence, 810 Colfax lane, Springdale, Pa., Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Interment private.

MADDEN—On Saturday, November 19, 1927, at 1 a. m., Mrs. WINIFRED WELSH MADDEN, widow of the late Patrick F. Madden.
Funeral from her family home, 424 North street, East End. Notice of funeral later.

MARKS—On Friday, November 18, 1927, at 11:40 p. m., JOHN F. MARKS, husband of Helen Marks (nee Herbert), in his 32d year. He was a member of the Decimo Club of Pittsburgh.
Funeral services at the residence of his mother, Mrs. David Kitzesmith, 219 Emerson street, East End, on Tuesday, November 22, at 2:30 p. m. Friends of the family and members of Decimo Club, respectfully invited to attend. Interment in Smithfield E. E. Cemetery.

MARSICO—On Friday, November 18, 1927, at 3:30 p. m., CHARLES FRANK, son of Louis and Fortuna Marsico (nee Fair), in his 16th year.
Funeral from his parents' residence, 216 Clifton avenue, Sharpsburg, Monday, November 21, at 8:15 a. m. High mass of requiem at the Madonna of Jerusalem Italian Roman Catholic Church, at 9 o'clock. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

MILLER—On Friday, November 18, 1927, at 3:45 p. m., MARY E. MILLER, widow of Theodore A. Miller of Emsworth, Pa.
Funeral from and services at Asborn's chapel, 122 East North avenue, North Side, on Monday at 2 p. m. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

MUNFORD—At his residence, 1253 East Glisan street, Portland, Ore., Thursday, November 17, 1927, the REV. J. T. MUNFORD, husband of Jessie Warner Munford, and father of Ruby Munford McCormick and Theodore Munford.
Interment at Portland.

M'CARTHY—On Friday, November 18, 1927, at 1:45 p. m., at his home, 219 Ella street, JOSEPH J. McCARTHY, husband of Anna Wiseman McCarthy.
Funeral from the home of his niece, Mrs. David Guerin, 4109 Geneva street, on Monday, November 21, at 9:30 a. m. High mass of requiem at St. Mary's Church, Forty-sixth street, at 10 o'clock. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

M'KEE—At Pasadena, Cal., on Tuesday, November 15, 1927, at 5:30 p. m., JOHN RYAN M'KEE, husband of Isabelle Waite McKee, and father of John R. Jr., George McKee and Mrs. Florence McKee, Clyde and brother of Mrs. George R. Ewart, and Mrs. Ella McKee Hagan. Body will arrive in Pittsburgh, Sunday, November 20. Funeral services at H. Samson's, 537 Neville street, Pittsburgh, on Monday, November 21, at 2:30 p. m. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend. Interment in Allegheny Cemetery.

RIPLEY—At Rochester, Pa., on Friday, evening, November 18, 1927, at 9:20 o'clock, DANIEL ANDREW, husband of Florence Logan Ripley.
Services at his residence, 3549 Beechwood boulevard, Squirrel Hill, Monday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. Interment private.

SEEL—On Thursday, November 17, 1927, at 5:30 a. m., Rev. HENRY A. SEEL, beloved husband of Lillian V. Seel (nee Williams.)
Funeral from the home of his mother, Mrs. Martha Seel, 32 Angle street, West Etna, Pa., on Sunday, November 20. Services at Emanuel Lutheran Church, Grant and Highland avenues Etna, at 2:30 p. m. Remains may be viewed at the church one hour previous to services. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.
[Leechburg (Pa.) and Conneaut (O.) papers please copy.]

TERRY—On Friday, November 18, 1927, at 12:11 a. m., JENNIE TERRY, widow of William F. Terry.
Funeral services at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Emanuel, 19 Sampson street, North Side, on Sunday, November 20, at 7 p. m. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend. Interment private Monday at 10 o'clock.

WOLFERSBERGER—At South Side Hospital, on Friday, November 18, 1927, at 5:30 a. m., CHARLES WOLFERSBERGER, husband of Catherine Krill Wolfersberger, aged 74 years.
Funeral from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Anthony J. Gerard, 513 Transverse street, Mt. Oliver borough, on Monday morning, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock. Requiem high mass at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church at 9 o'clock. Knights of St. George, Branch No. 3, Glass Blowers' Union and friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend. Interment in St. Joseph's Cemetery.
[St. Louis (Mo.) papers please copy.]

IN MEMORIAM.

IN loving memory of our dear son and brother, James Conner, who passed away 2 years ago today, November 19, 1925.

In our home he is fondly remembered,
Sweet memories cling to his name;
Forgotten to the world some may be,
But dear in our memory you will always be.

MOTHER AND SISTERS.

FUNERAL FLOWERS
Order by PHONE 3726 and 3727 ATLANTIC
AT ANY PRICE DESIRED.
McClements
888 WOOD STREET

SUNDAY SUN-TELEGRAPH
JAMES J. LONG'S WEEKLY SPORTING REVIEW
ORIGINAL—BIG—COMPLETE
COMICS 12 Colorful Revues
BIG NAMES SETTING BY GREATEST ART STAFF
SPOT PLACE ON BILL
GEN. LUDENDORFF "U.S. ARMY SAVED ALLIES"
ROPING THE NEWS by WILL ROGERS
HE FORGOT HIS CHEWING-GUM
10 BIG SECTIONS
SUNDAY SUN-TELEGRAPH

EX-KING OF BOOTLEGGERS DIRECTING OWN DEFENSE

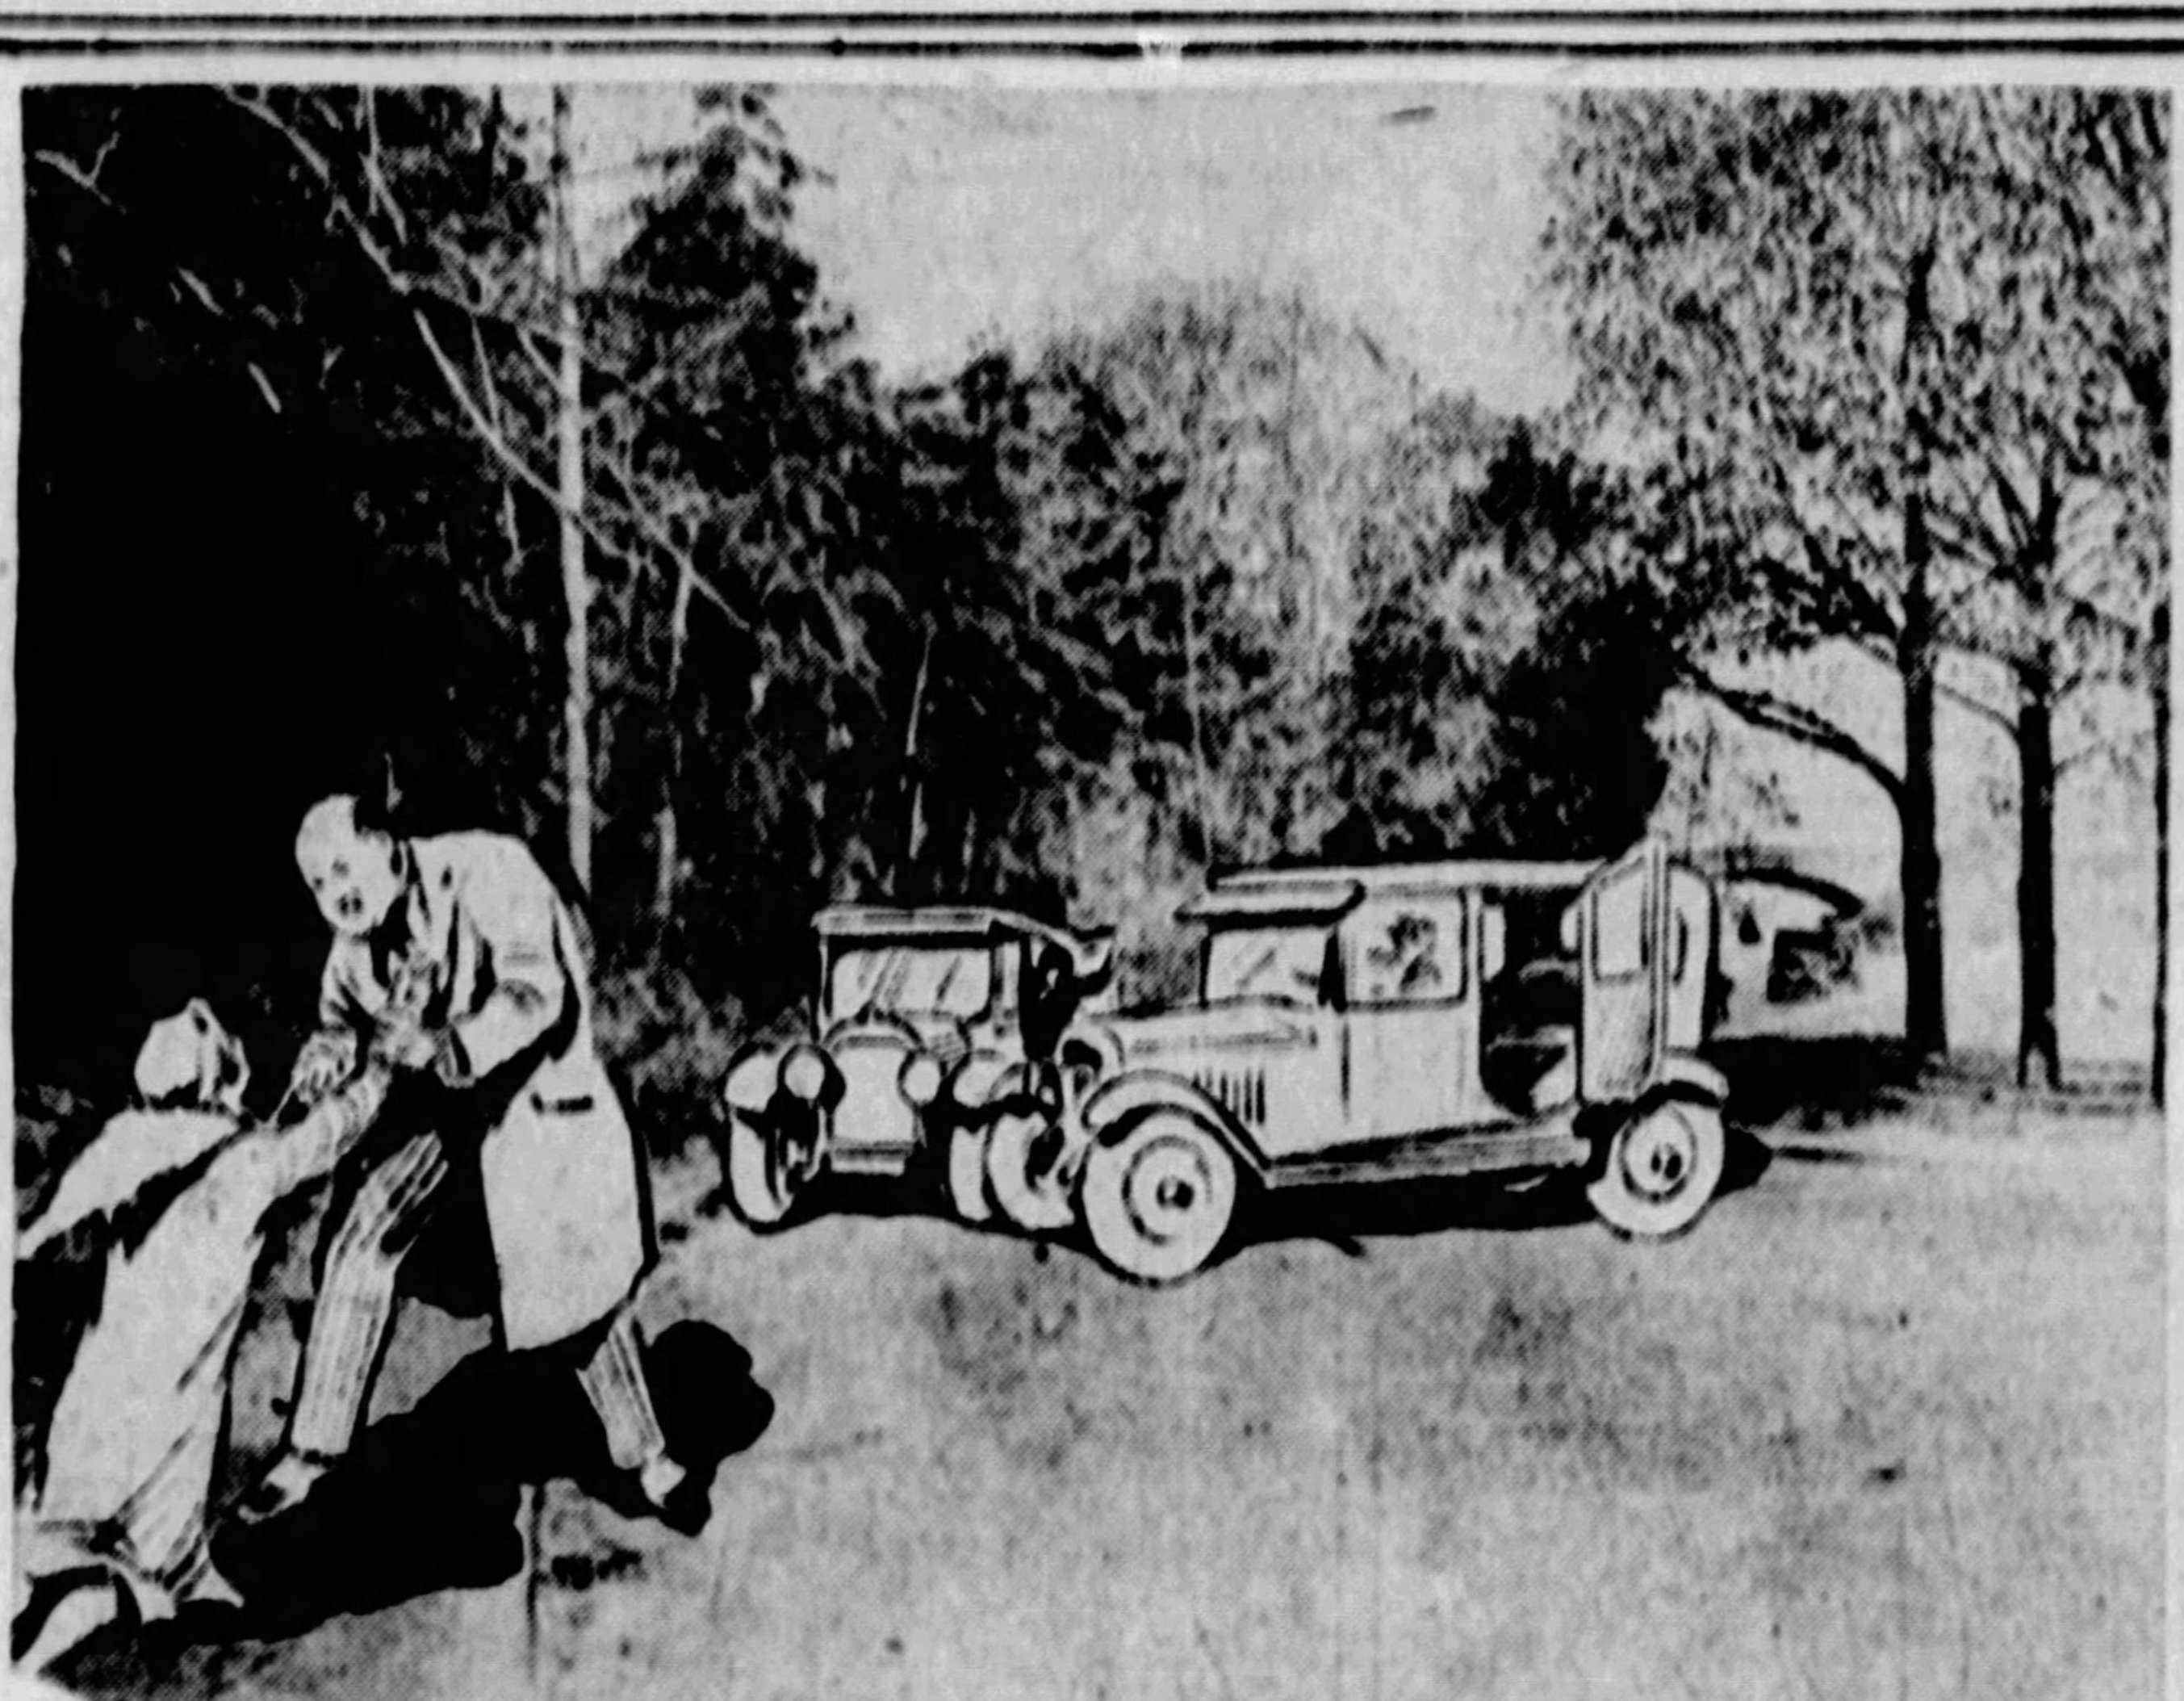
"I WAS A MADMAN"

STATE MARSHALS SANITY EXPERTS AGAINST REMUS

THE DEFENDANT REMUS WAS NOT SANE WHEN HE COMMITTED THIS DEED

"REMUS WAS NOT SANE"

Speaking almost entirely in the third person, George Remus, once King of Ohio Bootleggers is his own counsel as he stands trial in Cincinnati for killing his second wife, Imogene.



ARTIST SHOWS HOW EX-RUM KING KILLED MATE

Overtaking the taxi in which Mrs. Remus was riding to court to seek a divorce, Remus drove his car ahead of it, forcing the cab into the curb. Mrs. Remus leaped from her machine and started running through the park. Her husband overtook her, accused her of infidelity with Franklin Dodge, Jr., the dry agent who sent him to Atlanta, and then shot her. The artist has imposed his conception of the killing on a photograph of the spot where it occurred.

The Eye of the State

ALIENIST STAR WITNESS

Dr. David Wolfstein, right, is expected to be the state's principal witness regarding Remus' sanity. The defendant claims he was temporarily insane when the killing occurred.

TWO SHOT TO DEATH; KILLERS FLEE

SECOND NEWS SECTION
THE SUN TELEGRAPH
SPORTS FEATURES
SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1927

ANOTHER LLOYD GEORGE

FIERY WELSHMAN'S GRANDSON

By the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Gwilym Lloyd George, the former British premier becomes a grandfather for the eighth time. The newest grandson is shown in the arms of his nurse as he rounded out his second day in the fog of dear old London.

Pair of Socks Pays for $2,000,000 Tip

By Universal Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—A pair of stockings as commission for a saale of 7,000 shares of stock at a profit of $2,000,000.

This remarkable agreement was disclosed during the trial of the suit of Sebastian S. Kresge, 5 and 10-cent store magnate, to recover $655,000, representing the value of 5,700 shares of stock, and $55,000 in interest from W. E. Hutton and Company. One of the letters read into the record purported to show what Wallace Scott, a member of the Hutton firm, had assured Kresge that he could make a profit of $2,000,000 within one year for him.

To this promise the millionaire is purported to have answered that he would give Scott: "A gift as valuable as a hat or a pair of stockings to be selected by you and paid for by me."

CHARTIERS CREEK FLOODS CANONSBURG

CANONSBURG, Pa., Nov. 19.—Two feet of water, overflow from swollen Chartiers Creek, swept over the lowlands in South Central avenue and flooded cellars, causing considerable damage.

MAN SHOT AS THIEF DIES

William Lowe, 35, a Negro, of 10 Formosa way, shot when he is said to have attempted to enter the bedroom of Orlando Aulicino, at 515 McDonald street, early Friday morning, died last midnight in the Pittsburgh Hospital. His body was removed to the morgue.

According to police, Aulicino saw a form crawling through his window and he fired two shots at it. Lowe was knocked from the second-story window to the ground.

SAYS HUSBAND SHUNNED HER

Her husband and "his people" ostracized her, Mrs. Anna R. Wampler testified in Common Pleas Court in her divorce suit against John E. Wampler, Irwin business man.

"He and his people imagined they were superior to everyone else because of being well-to-do," she testified. "I was so ostracized I had to leave him."

Libels in divorce were filed in court as follows: Evelyn Barnett Finn against William Joseph Finn; Elsie Mary Pyles against Robert Lee Pyles; Vernon McCalmont against Wayne R. McCalmont; Grace E. Easton against Murray A. Easton; Beulah Toney Supinger against Carl H. Supinger; Genevieve C. Gollings against William Gollings.

HUNTER OF VANDERGRIFT FREED IN MAN'S DEATH

GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 19.—Less than three weeks after he had shot and killed Charles B. Carnahan, 38, of Vandergrift, while hunting, Everett Miller, 33, of Vandergrift, was acquitted in Criminal Court.

KAISER'S SISTER, 61, WEDS REFUGEE FROM RUSSIA, 27

BONN, Germany, Nov. 19.—(AP.)—Princess Victoria Schaumburg-Lippe, 61, sister of the former German Emperor, and Alexander Subkoff, 27, Russian refugee, were married in a civil ceremony at noon today.

Show 'em We're Prosperous or Go Broke--Will

BEVERLEY HILLS, Cal., Nov. 19.—Did you read Mr. Coolidge's acceptance speech of next year's nomination in yesterday's papers? Why, say, if we are doing only just a third as well as he says we are doing, why we wouldn't no more let him leave us, no matter what his own choosecli nations are.

WILL ROGERS

Why, I had not read the speech half way through till I paid a dollar down on half a dozen things I didn't need. We'll show the world we are prosperous if we have to go broke to do it.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

(Copyright, 1927, McNaught Synd., Inc.)

NAB BOOZE CAR IN WEST END CHASE

After a chase from the West End to the South Side, Harry Wymer, 3019 Douglass avenue, was arrested early this morning by prohibition agents, and charged with transporting liquor. His car was sighted on Carson street, near Main street, by the agents, who ordered Wyman to stop. Wyman did not comply and was pursued to the Twenty-second Street Bridge. Sixteen five-gallon cans of moonshine were found in the rear of the touring car.

After seizing two automobiles loaded with moonshine liquor, prohibition agents last night seized a 100-gallon still in the residence of Lama Antion, 806 McLaughlin Run road, Bridgeville. Antion and his wife, Edna, were arrested. The drivers of the seized autos, both of which bore Ohio license plates, were Joseph Ruffino, 27, Martins Ferry, O., and Joseph A. Bood, of the McLaughlin road address.

SWEETS OF NORTH, SOUTH

POTATOES AVERAGE SIX POUNDS EACH

Said the governor of North Carolina to—no, this is another story, young fellow—the two New England lassies "These are rightfully the pride of the South." "These" are North Carolina sweet potatoes averaging six pounds each. They were grown at Pinehurst, N. C. The girls are Virginia Gonyea, of Clinton, Mass., and Ethel Whichelo, of Providence, R. I., in case you ever happen to be up that way.

Gas Explosion Fakers Preying on Charity

By ALMA SIOUX SCARBERRY.

Are you trying to be benevolent and helpful to the victims of the gas explosion on your own hook?

Are you going out and generously giving away food and clothing, scoffing at red tape and systems?

Then, although the need is great indeed, you may be depriving the really worthy of help and comfort, through your big heartedness and be giving it to families preying upon your charity and not actually in need. For a great many dishonest and designing people are being discovered day by day by the Red Cross workers on the North Side.

It seems almost impossible to good people that there are folk like that. But there are. And the charitable organizations with their trained investigators are always on the alert for them. They must be.

Here is an illustration, and word for word true.

I was at Red Cross headquarters, 911 Ridge avenue, when a canteen worker came in leading a pitifully cold looking little individual. With tears in her eyes she pulled back a ragged coat and revealed his thin little chest bare as the day. The six-year-old opened his eyes to the world.

You should have seen those women and men and the way they took Sammy to their hearts. Clothes would be provided immediately! He was cuddled and warmed and begged to tell when he had eaten.

Sammy was pretty sullen. But he finally managed to say that he had father, mother, brother and baby sister and that his home was in Reedsdale street. The Red Cross worker told how she had picked him up when he came to the canteen for food.

If there was anything left undone for that child it must have been because no one thought of it. A helper decided he must be taken back home in a nice warm car and she went along to make sure everything would be provided for the destitute family.

But she came back "hitting the ceiling" in her excitement. At home Sammy had plenty of clothes. His mother had, no doubt, deliberately taken his shirt off and sent him out to beg. They didn't need a thing. She had used her little son to prey upon the sympathies of the Red Cross so she could do a little grafting on her own.

Another little boy was discovered coming back every few minutes for coffee, sandwiches and soup. He was taking the food home and his mamma was stocking up. They did not need anything. The father was perfectly capable of providing for his family and their home had not been among the damaged ones.

It is too bad to shatter your illusions when your heart is full of charity and kindness. As a matter of fact every penny and every bit of heart you have to offer is needed. But Miss Eleanor Hanson, head of the relief committee, knows best and she says:

"It is absolutely wrong for anyone to give things to people they know nothing about. We must do this wisely and look ahead. There are too many dishonest people trying to get outfitted for the winter at the expense of this disaster. They are coming from all over the city."

She goes on to explain how the Red Cross carries on its relief wark:

"We feed people at once, of course. Then we send a worker out to find out if they have given the correct name and address and if the clothes they say they need were really lost in the explosion. If so we replace what they need at once.

"The explosion relief work is about all we can handle now. The other investigations will have to go a few days while the more desperate cases are handled. If a man is out of work we'll find him a job in the next week or so. Now the victims and their families demand everything we can provide. No one will be let suffer."

There was another thing brought out that seems very important. The Red Cross, when it finds families are worthy, will give them vouchers and let them go and pick out their own food and clothing.

So if you want to give, money is much better than supplies. For there is no way of handling a large supply of things. Vouchers are much easier to handle.

Flying to Rome He'll Have to Watch Parking

By Universal Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Cesare Sabelli, Italian flying ace, was in court on a charge of illegal parking.

"I am going to fly to Rome in December," the aviator explained.

"Well," interrupted Magistrate McCrery, "I don't know where you parked or how long, but I hope you'll find safe parking places between here and Rome. Sentence suspended."

SAY WOMAN COMPANION SLEW MAN

George Clay, 35, of 119 Twelfth street, McKeesport, and William Johnson, 45, of 189 Spring way, both Negroes, were murdered last night. Both killers escaped. The bodies of both victims are in the county morgue.

Clay is said to have been shot twice by Mary Clay, his common-law wife, during an argument in their home. The woman disappeared after the shooting. Johnson, police say, was shot by Julius Turner, a boarder in the Johnson home. Mrs. Lulu Johnson, wife of the dead man, is held as a material witness. Turner fled.

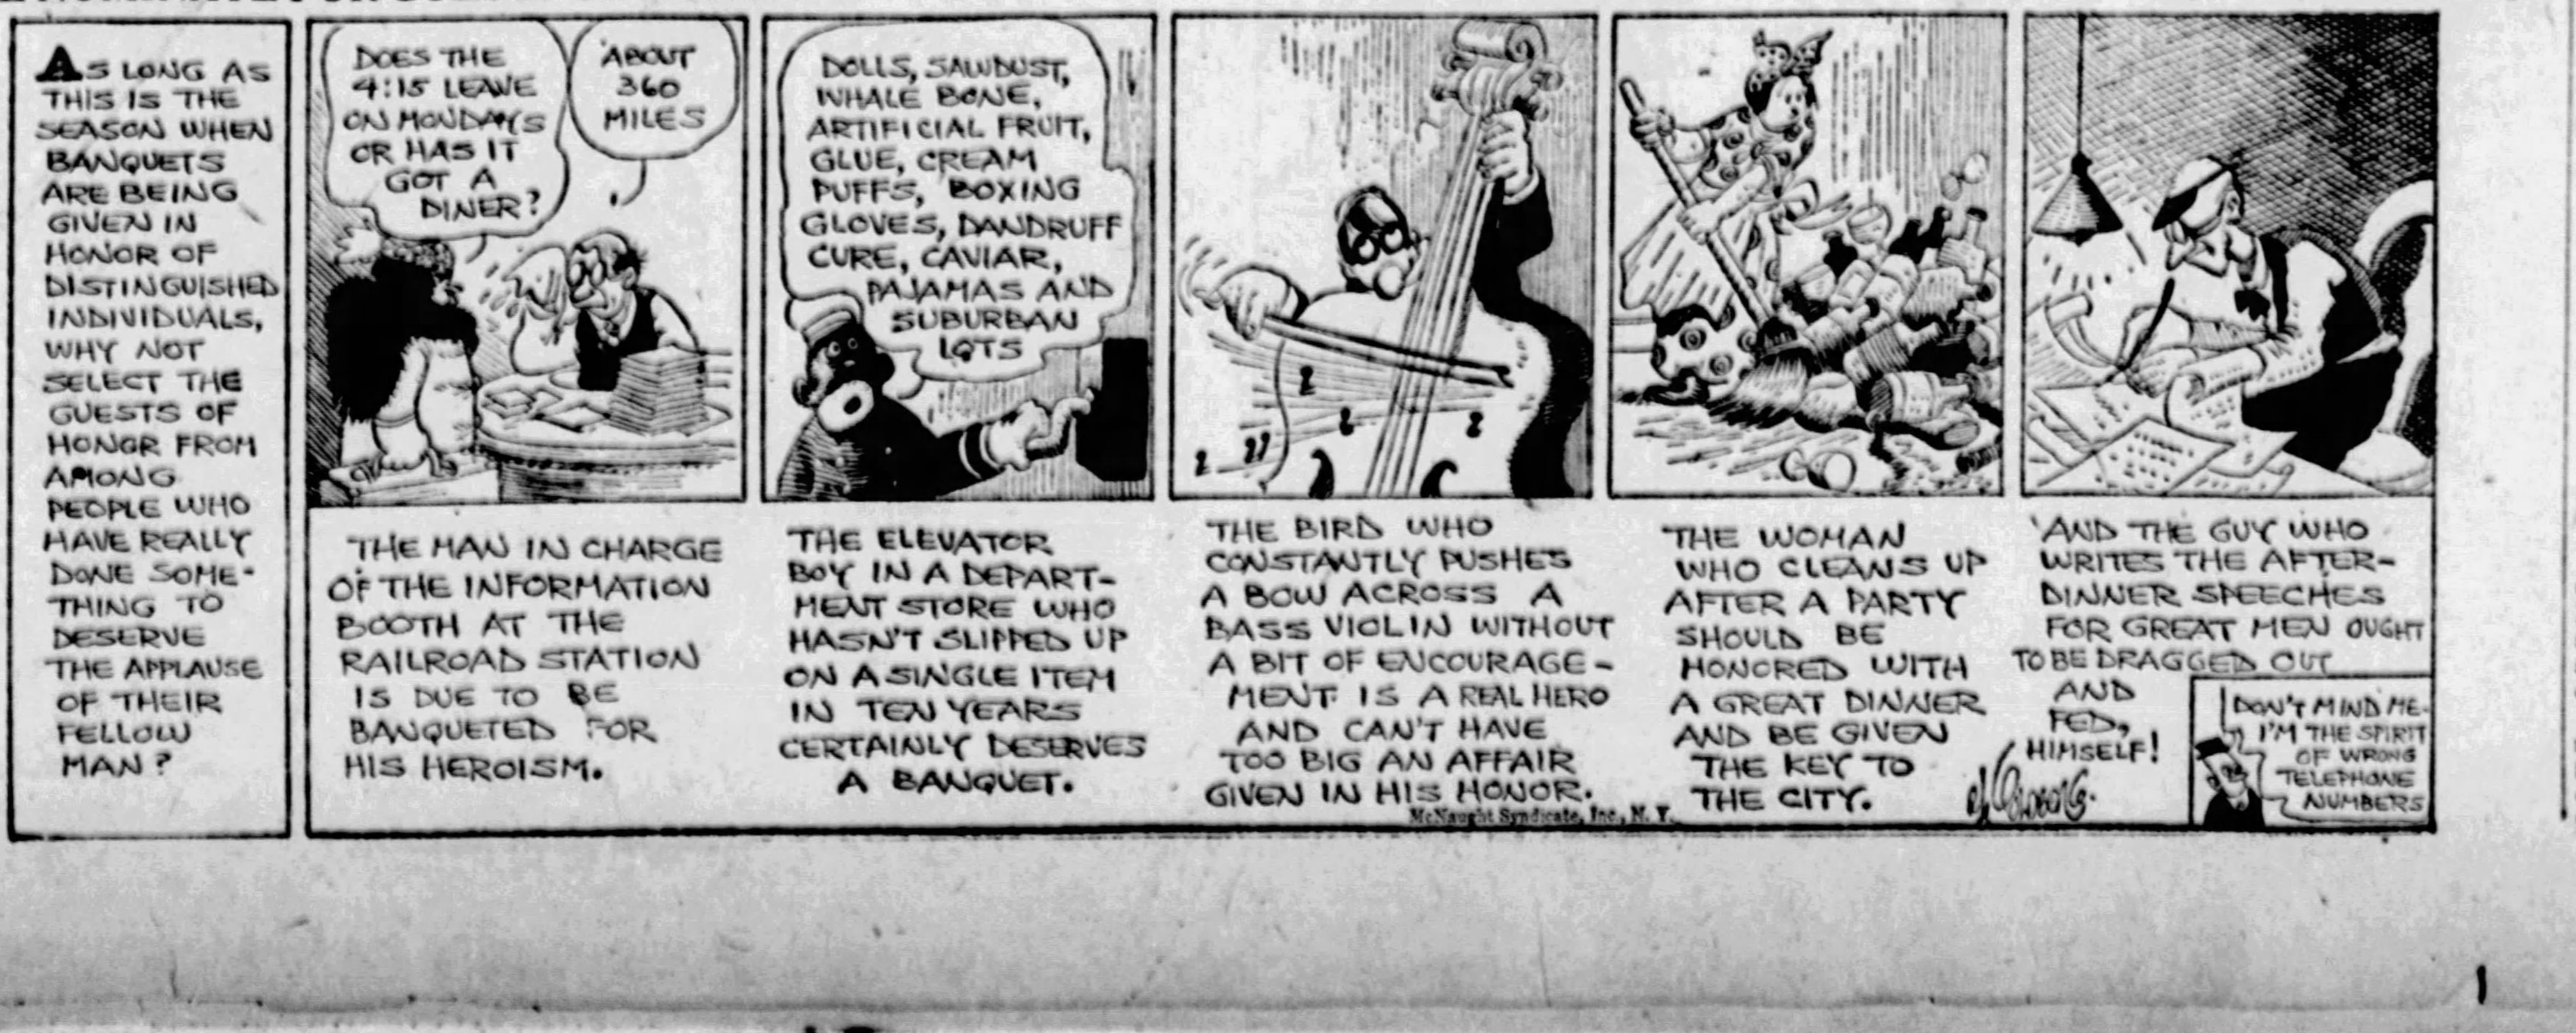
Donations for Blast Aid Left At Sun-Tele

Contributions left at The Sun-Telegraph office for the Red Cross relief fund for victims of the North Side gas explosion, follow:

Previously reported	$1,437.36
Lillian Rose Cancelliere	5.00
Cornelia Cancelliere	5.00
North Side Needle Tea Club	10.00
Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Renkenberger, 477 Turnpike street, Beaver, Pa.	1.00
Mrs. D. J. M.	1.00
From a Friend	1.00
Goodwill Club, Kaufmann's Infant Dept., Third Floor	5.00
E. V. C.	2.00
Lumbermen's Bowling League	10.00
The Woman's Home Missionary Society of Butler Street M. E. Church	10.00
B. Sheinberg	2.00
R., 1336 Squirrel Hill avenue	5.00
Members of J. M. C. Club, Mrs. Harry A. Merker, Mrs. John E. Paden, Mrs. Morton Purtis, Mrs. H. B. Niblock, Mrs. Sam McFry, Mrs. Edward Schoedel, Mrs. R. R. Wilson, Mrs. Walter Mears, Mrs. D. H. Brown, Mrs. Frank S. Cahill, Mrs. William F. Helt, Mrs. Julius Dany	10.00
The Patriots Club of Homeville	5.00
Service Star Legion, Lawrenceville chapter	10.00
Edith O. Colgate	2.00
L. F.	1.00
Bredinville school children, Butler county, Pa.	1.50
Mrs. S. E. Houston	2.00
Employes and owners of Davis Brothers, roofing, sheet metal and furnace work	25.00
John C. L. Hartman and family	5.00
Junior Luther League of St. John's Luther Church of Swissvale	5.00
W. N. Evans	10.00
Allegheny Lodge No. 339, B. P. O. Elks	50.00
Pittsburgh Chapter No. 39, O. E. S.	10.00
South Side Council 133, Jr. O. U. A. M.	10.00
Chas. G. Sample	5.00
Ladies' Mitten Club	10.00
C. M. G.	3.00
Total	$1,658.86

WE NOMINATE FOR GUESTS OF HONOR—

By Rube Goldberg



AS LONG AS THIS IS THE SEASON WHEN BANQUETS ARE BEING GIVEN IN HONOR OF DISTINGUISHED INDIVIDUALS, WHY NOT SELECT THE GUESTS OF HONOR FROM AMONG PEOPLE WHO HAVE REALLY DONE SOMETHING TO DESERVE THE APPLAUSE OF THEIR FELLOW MAN?
DOES THE 4:15 LEAVE ON MONDAYS OR HAS IT GOT A DINER?
ABOUT 360 MILES
THE MAN IN CHARGE OF THE INFORMATION BOOTH AT THE RAILROAD STATION IS DUE TO BE BANQUETED FOR HIS HEROISM.
DOLLS, SAWDUST, WHALE BONE, ARTIFICIAL FRUIT, GLUE, CREAM PUFFS, BOXING GLOVES, DANDRUFF CURE, CAVIAR, PAJAMAS AND SUBURBAN LOTS
THE ELEVATOR BOY IN A DEPARTMENT STORE WHO HASN'T SLIPPED UP ON A SINGLE ITEM IN TEN YEARS CERTAINLY DESERVES A BANQUET.
THE BIRD WHO CONSTANTLY PUSHES A BOW ACROSS A BASS VIOLIN WITHOUT A BIT OF ENCOURAGEMENT IS A REAL HERO AND CAN'T HAVE TOO BIG AN AFFAIR GIVEN IN HIS HONOR.
THE WOMAN WHO CLEANS UP AFTER A PARTY SHOULD BE HONORED WITH A GREAT DINNER AND BE GIVEN THE KEY TO THE CITY.
AND THE GUY WHO WRITES THE AFTER-DINNER SPEECHES FOR GREAT MEN OUGHT TO BE DRAGGED OUT AND FED, HIMSELF!
DON'T MIND ME. I'M THE SPIRIT OF WRONG TELEPHONE NUMBERS
McNaught Syndicate, Inc., N. Y.

New Ocean Vessel

A NATIVE of Cherbourg is designing a new type of vessel to cross the Atlantic in 84 hours. It will be known as a "hydroglisseur" and will be equipped with three rotary aviation motors of 1,200-horsepower driving three propellers.

Fiction Page

Annual Ticks of a Watch

THE lifetime of a good watch is 50 years. In its daily duties the balance and hairspring vibrate 18,000 times every hour, or more than 157,000,000 times a year, while an equal number of ticks come from the escapement.

IT NEVER PAYS

A GRIPPING STORY OF MARGIE-WHO TRIED TO TRICK LOVE

By Gilbert Rogers

Continued from Yesterday.

Jerry Is Ordered to South To Quell a Revolution; Margie Asks to Go

HE KISSED her again and again, stifling the forlorness she felt. This unexpected desertion at the very moment when she thought they would never be separated again. . . . And then because she wanted to show him she could be brave, to show him that she would never interfere with his man's work, she smiled, pretended to be cheerful.

"Jerry, since you've got to go tomorrow, I want every minute of you now," she murmured. All at once she looked away.

"What's the matter?" he demanded.

"Oh, I don't know." But she did. She had suddenly, unaccountably felt ashamed, telling everything she felt, hiding nothing from him. And yet it was making her happy, too. It was wonderful to be so honest you didn't need to pretend anything. Noticing his grave, earnest stare, which would never penetrate to the complex mood that had covered over her, she laughed suddenly.

"Jerry, I love you!"

"I don't believe you."

"You don't believe me?"

"Well, say it again then—besides, how could you love me?"

Their voices murmured and fell, saying only there was nothing in all the world except their caring for each other.

It had grown late. Margie was surprised to find it was dark.

"Let's eat. There's an Italian restaurant near here—want to try it?"

An obliging waiter fed nickels to a mechanical piano that banged popular songs of the season before last. Margie ate ravioli, but she did not even know she was eating.

"We've got to make a night of it," said Jerry solemnly. "I'll tell you what, let's go to Coney Island."

In the morning Jerry would be sailing. Margie did not let herself think of that—not now.

CHAPTER XLIII.

THEY went down to Coney Island on a lumbering bus that charged the traffic recklessly and somehow managed to escape scot-free.

As it was a mild evening, and a Friday at that, the crowds were thick. The babel of barkers' voices, the shrieks, shouts and giggles of the boys and girls thronging the sidewalks, the loud monotonous rhythm of the merry-go-rounds, the thin steam whistles of the peanut men and rice-cake vendors filled the air with an indescribable clamor. Everything could be heard except the ocean.

And in this crowd that strolled past the booths, Margie felt more carefree than she had ever been in Newport. In a scenic railway that climbed slowly, hesitated for one awful instant of suspense and then went plunging downwards to the center of the earth, making her feel hollow and giddy with the descent, she clutched at Jerry's arm, screamed and emerged laughing.

They had their pictures taken in a cardboard aeroplane, they ate hot dogs, soft-shell crabs, corn on the cob, they were whisked and whirled and surprised in Steeplechase, and the hours sped by. Jerry, too, was having a good time.

"This is fun, isn't it?" he exclaimed repeatedly. "Good idea of mine to come down here!"

"Good idea of yours? It was probably mine!"

"Listen, all good ideas in this family belong to me. Remember, I'm your husband—or will be next month."

"Oh," said Margie faintly. And suddenly she felt tremulous and shy and adoring all at once. She could feel his arm through hers, and she shut her eyes, saying that in another moment she would open them and find that none of this was real. It was a joy no doubt this actuality just to be convinced again and again that it was happening.

And she loved this friendly, rowdy crowd—she felt that she loved the whole world tonight, and wished everyone well. She was too happy not to want everyone else to be happy, too.

But her happiness was soon threatened. She saw that the crowd was thinning now, that some of the barkers and salesmen behind their bars and kiosks looked haggard and tired under the glare of the light as if their endurance had reached a pitch. It was late, late—soon she must be going home, saying goodby, and in the morning Jerry would be sailing!

It was 3 o'clock when their returning bus rumbled into deserted Times Square. She was silent on the way home, and Jerry had sat with his arm around her. Would she ever forget that drive through the darkness, could she ever forget it?

"See here," said Jerry suddenly, "since I've got to go in the morning, let's be together as long as we can. Don't leave me now, Margie! Let's stay together as long as we can."

At an all-night lunch room, they added coffee to all the other things they had eaten and drunk, and then Jerry insisted that she go down town with him, to his room.

"Are you game to stay up all night?" he asked. "Why not? Come on, and in the morning we'll both go down to the boat together. What do you say? Oh, Margie, darling, if you loved me half as much as I love you! . . ."

"Jerry, I hate it—that boat, and your going away and everything. I don't know why, but I'm afraid. I don't feel easy somehow."

"But you haven't answered me—are you going to stay up all night?—it's only four or five hours—please, Margie!"

"As if I wouldn't!" she said. "Why, Jerry, I'd sleep on your doorstep if I could—just to be near you."

Down in his room, she tried to help him pack his two bulging telescope bags. Strange the things men carried about with them—the useless things—like that box of poker chips for instance.

"Jerry, do you gamble—much?"

"Not yet. Are you going to try to reform me?"

"Jerry, you oughtn't to gamble—"

"I'll draw a hand of poker against you to see if I oughtn't. If I win—"

"Jerry, what's that!"

"Well, what would you say?"

"But Jerry, are you really taking a revolver with you?"

"Margie, you have to carry a revolver down there."

"Jerry, I wish you weren't going!" He tried to kiss her fear away.

The packing was done at last. He filled his pipe, sat down in the old, battered, comfortable Morris-chair, and she curled up there with him. Then he talked in a low, almost musical voice of all the wonders to come—a month from now. She listened dreamily, drowsily, while he spoke of possible apartments, talked of old friends that she must meet, even got as far as where they would spend their vacations.

And Margie smiled to herself at his way of masterfully arranging these things. These things that had not even happened yet. She smiled and smiled, and smiling fell asleep, lying there in the shelter and peace of his arms.

When she stirred into wakefulness, it was clear grey morning, and Jerry was looking at her with amused, tender eyes.

"I let you sleep—poor kid," he said. "But now—well, I'll have to be making for that pier!"

She insisted on boiling coffee on the two-burner gas stove, and he set his bags in the hallway, got ready everything. They drove in a cab to the pier, and Margie's heart was so heavy now that she tried to think of everything in the world except his going away.

But you could not put back time, you could not avoid something that is inevitable. The cobble-paved street came into sight, and the wharf itself. She walked at Jerry's side, trying to say something of what she felt, but she could only be silent as if this were a disaster for which no expression was possible.

She went on board with him, saw his cabin, and determinedly became cheerful.

"Of course, it's not as if you were going to be gone really long."

"No, just three weeks," he said somberly. "I'll be all right."

"I wouldn't be surprised if the trip were lots of fun."

"Oh, it will be—lots." But he didn't speak as if he believed it.

Then the siren screamed, interrupting their poor little pretense, and Margie's face was white. He took her in his arms, and his voice was shaky.

"Oh, my dearest, I love you so—"

"I love you, I love you."

No talk of fun now, of pleasant trips. Margie stood on the pier with unashamed tears in her eyes, waving her handkerchief as tugs guided the steamer out into the current. And Jerry stood watching her, not moving, but with forlorn eyes like a small boy who is being deserted. Then he was lost to sight, and Margie felt lonelier than she had ever felt before in all her life.

She went uptown through the roar of the early traffic. She was counting the days until his return. She would find out when the steamer reached its port—the very day—she would wait and not worry. It was absurd to worry. And yet something like a sense of foreboding stirred her faintly.

She went up to the apartment of her four friends. They would be gone by this hour, of course, but she still had her key.

Entering, she found the apartment in a sad state, Billie Graham's clothes in a wild heap, dust on the walls, on the very mirrors, every plate in the kitchen unwashed, the remains of breakfast still on the table.

But Margie, thinking of her unexpected comings and goings, and with a guilty sense that in some way she had been using her friends, was glad of the chance to do something at least.

The apartment had never been so scrubbed, so neat, so fresh and inviting a place as it was that afternoon by 4 o'clock. Margie washed some stockings, and then went out to see Mr. Myers, the butcher, and Joe, the Italian fruit-man. She had found the square box marked "Household Money," and from this she made careful economical purchases.

A juicy steak, a fragrant souffle, browned potatoes, and a salad were on the table, when a key clicked in the outer door, and all four girls, weary and hungry, came in together.

At the sight that met their eyes, they shouted so gleefully and seemed so glad to see Margie herself that Margie felt strangely happy.

But she did not forget Jerry on the steamer that was now cleaving the lonely sea out of sight of land under a dark sky. Even now, as if her love had given her a clairvoyant wisdom, her sense of foreboding was not stilled.

CHAPTER XLIV.

A WEEK later Margie found that her foreboding was more than justified. But before that bitter moment came, she had a lulling sense of security.

She lived quietly in the apartment with her four friends, and on the first night of her arrival she had poured out her story to them, if not all of it, then at least its most important features.

She could not tell them, not even yet, the mood of recklessness which she had followed in the avowed intention of marrying the wealthiest man she could make propose to her. Looking back, it seemed to her that she was another person, and it would have been difficult to explain.

But she spoke of meeting Mrs. Brooke, and her stay in Newport, and last of all she spoke of Jerry.

Florence Clark looked at her very solemnly, wrinkling her brows.

"It's funny," she murmured, "your falling like that—why you always made fun of girls who thought they were in love—and when I told you about that handsome chauffeur who smiled at me—"

But Margie interrupted her with a squeal of laughter, hugged her, and sat back on the couch again with a twinkle in her eyes.

"Why did you do that, Margie? You're the strangest girl! . . ."

"Am I? I'm probably just a little touched in the head, oh just a very little bit, not enough to be violent, of course—"

At this point Florence flung a neatly aimed pillow, and it was some time before peace was restored. But after that, they came to her one by one, alone, and asked her about Jerry, and studied her thoughtfully as if to discover the interesting symptoms of a girl in love. All, that is, except Ruth Irving, who gave her the knowing look of one who was initiated in the mystery.

Margie was frank on another subject at the same time.

"The way I've been running in and out of here, and disappearing for days at a stretch, it's a wonder you haven't decided that I'm a bootlegger queen at least. Well, darlings, I'm so poor that a glass of water is beyond my means. But if you'll let me stay here for a few days while I figure out some way of getting some money, I'll take wonderful care of all of you. I'll cook and clean and be very respectful. I might even be able to furnish some good references—if you're particular. And I really eat very, very little—just a handful of birdseed now and then."

"Margie," said Ruth Irving gravely, "you know this place is yours just as much as ours. We all feel that, and it's not necessary for you to do anything while you're here. In fact we don't want you to."

"Of course not." Betty Graham seconded her.

"Very well," said Margie, "and now that you've gotten that off your mind, would you like cornbread or biscuits for breakfast?"

During the week that followed, Margie not only gave but received confidences. She learned that her abrupt desertion of the branch Beauty Shop was not so bad as she feared. In fact, it looked as if there might be no branch Beauty Shop. Expenses had mysteriously climbed, and the original Beauty Shop was itself in danger. Margie read the worry in her friends' faces, and her heart was troubled for them.

If the Beauty Shop failed, then Ruth Irving's sweetheart would lose his savings, and Ruth might not be able to marry for a long, long time.

"If I could only do something!" Margie thought. But there was nothing she could do, except worry with them. If she were only able to get them one or two thousand to tide them over this bad time—! But it was no use wishing. And she thought wistfully of Newport, where she had seen the evidence of money in every tangible form, in great houses, in jewels and cars and clothes, in all the conceivable luxuries that may be purchased.

It was on a Saturday morning that the letter came. Margie did not have to read it twice.

"Dear Margie:

"I'm sending this off in a rush—there's just a chance you may still be at this address. Dan Shevlin has been calling me up, trying to get in touch with you. It's something about that boy you like. Margie, I'm afraid that man has been up to something again—you know him as well as I do. He says it's important for you to see him, though he won't explain why. I'm just sending word to you. As you can see by this, I'm in New York. Call me up 'n any case. I hope nothing terrible has happened, but I don't trust him!

"Carlotta Brooke."

When Margie read that note her face was chalk-white. She called up Carlotta immediately.

"I'll have to see him," she said rapidly. "I'll go to your apartment. Will you ask him to come there? And help me, Carlotta, help me if you can!"

When the girls arrived at noon, and saw her face, they did not need to guess that something had happened.

"Margie, what is it? What's the matter?"

"I don't know. That is, not yet. I've got to find out. I've got to find out."

She went across town to Carlotta Brooke's handsome apartment with its soft rugs and costly pictures, and Carlotta met her with outstretched hands.

"My dear, that was a foolish letter for me to write. Really a wild letter. I've worried you to pieces, and I'm sure everything is all right."

"Is—is he coming here?" Margie faltered. There was no use listening to Mrs. Brooke's comforting assurances, when her own heart and spirit told her that the message was not exaggerated but probably understated.

"I've called him, but he wasn't in. So I left word with the servant that you'd be here, expecting him."

Margie noticed that Mrs. Brooke never referred to Shevlin by his name any more than she could help it.

Margie sat ill at ease. She looked up at a sound of footsteps and was glad to recognize the familiar face of Mark Trelaw.

"Mark's come to New York with me," Carlotta Brooke explained. "We've decided to live together—it's less lonely," she murmured, smiling.

Trelaw extended a thin hand, his crippled arm still held close to his body.

"How are you?" he asked in his low voice. His eyes, sad and bitter, seemed to read the very secrets of her soul. Margie felt as if she were looking at some austere, fanatic monk out of the middle ages. But she was embarrassed, too, remembering that the last time she had seen Mark Trelaw he had lain like a broken thing at the foot of those stairs down which Shevlin's blow had toppled him.

As if reading her thoughts, a faint, cold smile touched his lips. Margie felt a little afraid of him, even while she felt sorry for him. But all at once he lifted his head, seeming to listen. Then he made his way quietly into the corridor without a word, disappearing into the room from which he had come.

At the same instant the hall buzzer sounded and Carlotta met Margie's eyes with a significant look. Shevlin had arrived—Shevlin who never came except to bring evil news. Margie's breath came slow and hard.

The next moment Dan Shevlin stepped into the room.

CHAPTER XLV.

WELL as she knew him, Margie nevertheless expected Shevlin to show some traces of embarrassment if not shame.

She remembered the last time she had seen him—in Mrs. Brooke's Newport house after the time he had almost killed Mark Trelaw. After an act so merciless, she could not imagine even Shevlin facing her with much ease.

But Dan Shevlin, his lean, lined face as untroubled as ever, came forward as if he had done her a favor, and she would be glad to see him.

"Margie—this is like old times! You, Carlotta and I—all together, a happy little family!"

He laughed good-naturedly at his own sneer. It was easy to see he was in high spirits. Carlotta was looking at him lazily, yet Margie could feel something of the tenseness that was behind her languid, indifferent manner. Like a cat, she thought, like a tiger, preparing to spring, with a ripple of muscles underneath the concealing fur.

For her own part she sat a little grimly, for she knew by this time at least that Shevlin, with his imagination and gambler's courage, could strike and strike hard. She tried to be cool, but a sentence from Carlotta's letter still throbbed in her head. "Dan Shevlin wants to see you . . . about that boy that you like."

"You wanted to see me?" Margie asked now.

"Yes, and I am seeing you. Seeing you, Margie, is a pleasure always, though not so great a pleasure as—"

"Oh!" she burst indignantly, "say what you've come to say. I'm not going to listen if—"

He lifted his eyebrows. "Margie, you're forcing me to be rude. What I have to say is so delicate and private that I can say it to you only when you're alone."

Carlotta rose without a word, but Margie stopped her. "Don't go, don't go, Carlotta." She turned toward Shevlin. "Whatever you want to say to me, you can say to me right now."

Shevlin shook his head. "Sorry. Not in this case."

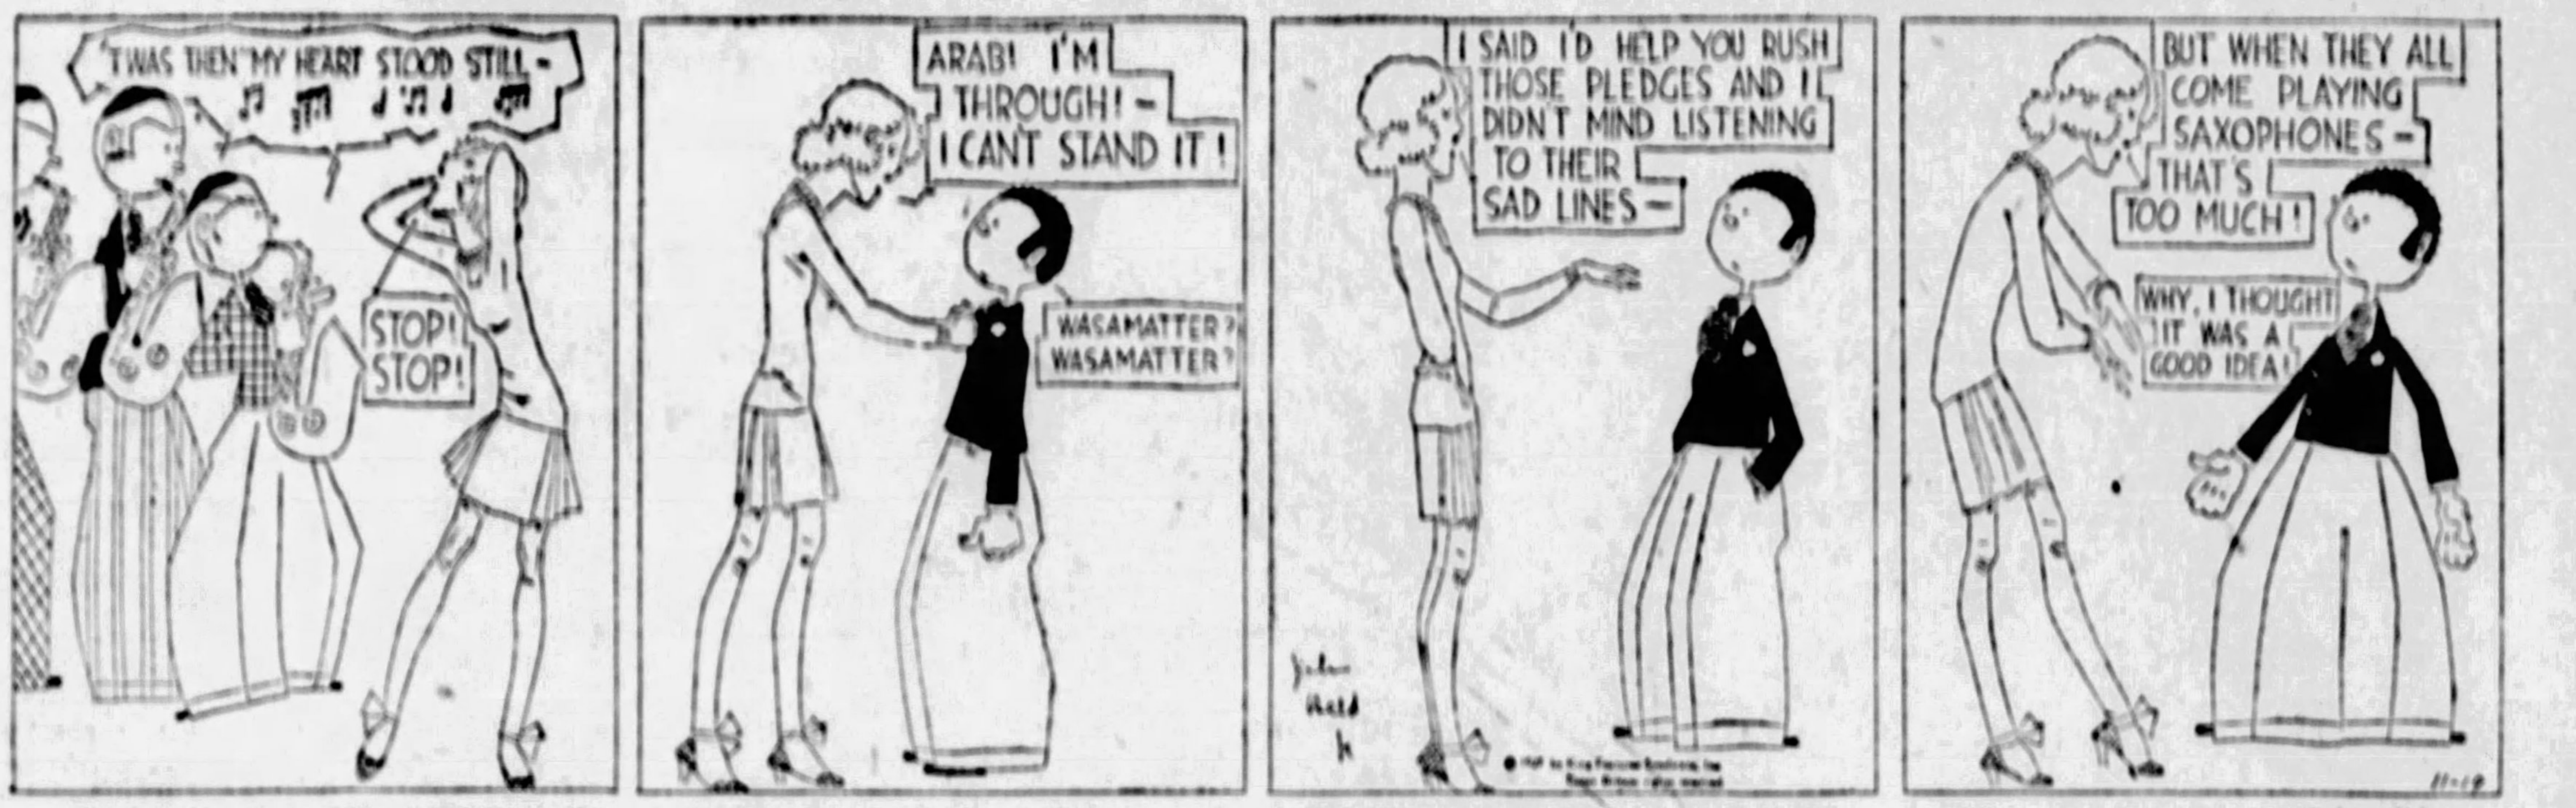
To Be Continued Monday.

Copyright, 1927, Editors Feature Service.

Merely Margy, An Awfully Sweet Girl

Story by Lloyd Mayer

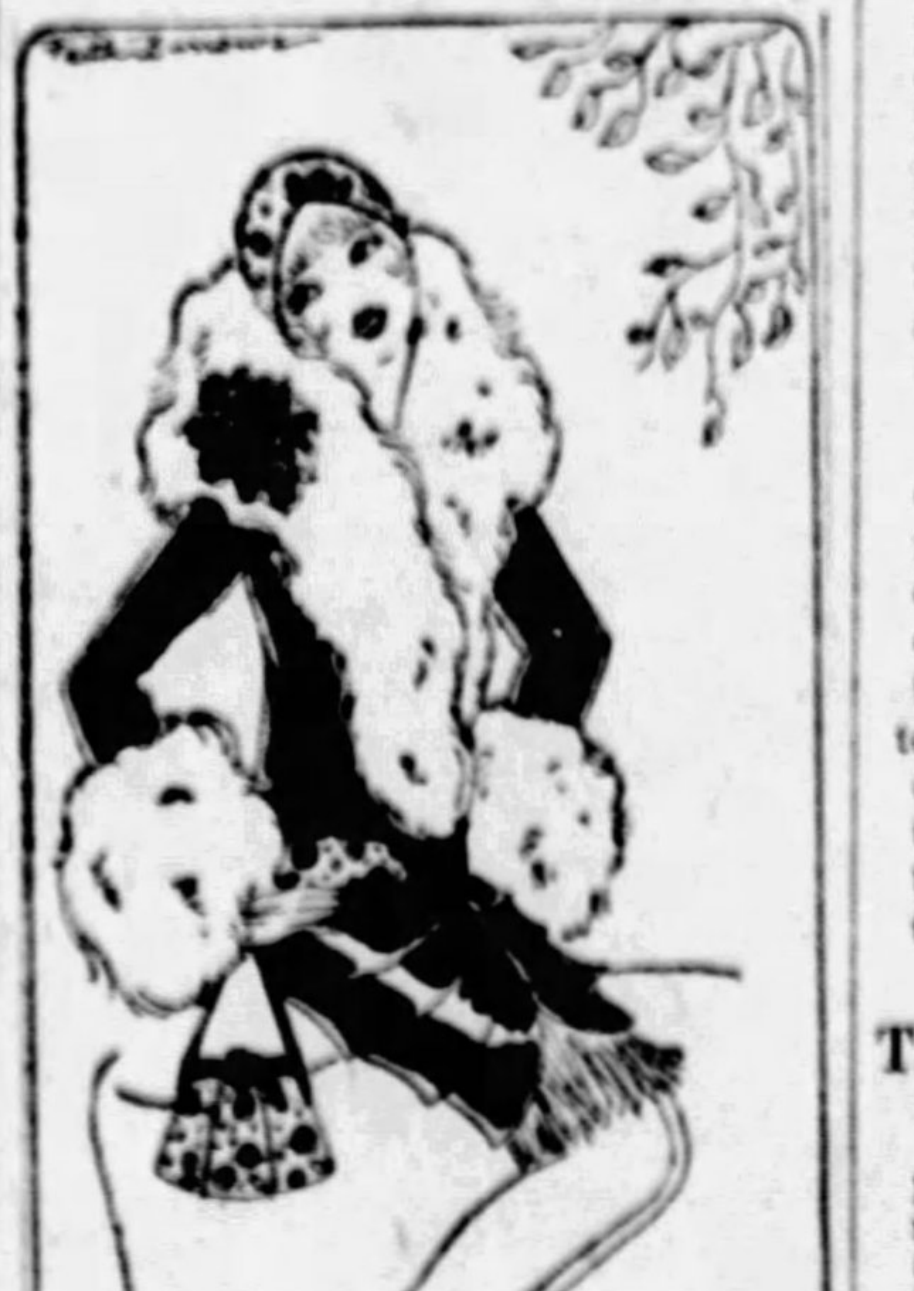
By John Held, Jr.



'TWAS THEN MY HEART STOOD STILL—
STOP! STOP!
ARAB! I'M THROUGH!— I CAN'T STAND IT!
WASAMATTER? WASAMATTER?
I SAID I'D HELP YOU RUSH THOSE PLEDGES AND I DIDN'T MIND LISTENING TO THEIR SAD LINES—
John Held Jr
BUT WHEN THEY ALL COME PLAYING SAXOPHONES—THAT'S TOO MUCH!
WHY, I THOUGHT IT WAS A GOOD IDEA!
11-19

"My dear, I'm all-of-a-BIB-and-TUCKer at this point—I ACtually AM, because NO one honestly KNOWS what I've had to put up with these last few days on account of ARab and NOIsy inVEIGling me into helping them RUSH these PLEDGES, because, my dear, there practically hasn't been a MOment when one of these PINguid PIPsqueaks hasn't been purSUing me with protestations of afFECtion and luGUBrious ARias from a SAXophone which is an INstrument that SIMply SLAYS me, my dear, because I get SIMply LIVid whenever anybody plays a SAXophone round me, do you know what I mean? Well, ANYways, my dear, I told ARab perfectly FRANKly toDAY that I was all THROUGH and he could inveigle some OTHer girl to LURE these odd FRESHmen into his fraTERnity because, my dear, when you come to THINK of it isn't it perfectly riDIC that a girl with my INtellect and eduCAtional BACKground and everything should be wasting her TIME on a lot of rePELlent little POLyps who have simply NO appreciation of your menTALity but just CRAVE you because you are 'ITy' and have GOOD-looking LEGS or something? I mean, FOND as I am of ARab and NOIsy, I am just TOO TIRED of having a lot of NAUseous little bimbos like that purSUing me round all the entire time, my dear, blowing SAXophones at me and acting like NOTHing HUman—I mean I ACtually AM!"

Ritzy Rosey



© 1927 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.
11-19 Great Britain rights reserved.

"THE LEOPARD'S SPOTS" could well be the title of this picture. However, Ritzy Rosey's spotted ensemble of hats, belt, bag and shoes are not real leopard skin, but are made of "sea leopard," which is a new leather from which many such specialties can be made.

Love's Embers

Absorbing Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife"

By Adele Garrison

Veritzen Suppresses His Feeling and Invites Lillian to Join the Outing. She Accepts

LILLIAN instantly caught my cue and tossed it back to me.

"That sounds most intriguing," she said, "especially the part about the work. I have something that I ought to finish today, but you know that drawing board of mine. You might as well propose to pack a baby elephant into the car. But tell me, first, who's throwing this party? You know I'm not the twin sister to that colored damsel who answered a telephoned proposal of marriage with the answer, 'Yaas, I'll marry yoh. Who is this, please?'"

It is impossible not to laugh at Lillian's nonsense, and as Mr. Veritzen saw my mirth he crossed to me and smilingly took the receiver from my hands.

"It is your old friend P. V. who is throwing this party," he said, and I felt my cheeks flaming as I realized that his keen ears had heard what Lillian's voice, with its peculiar carrying quality had said to me. Most vividly did I remember her first sentence to me, with its flippant query: "Is the lifeboat needed?" I knew my employer's quick perceptions far too well not to realize that he had comprehended Lillian's reference and was cognizant of my appeal to her for aid in just such a dilemma as the one his invitation had given me.

My chagrin deepened the next second when Lillian's voice answered him in words that were distinctly audible to me, standing the same relative distance from Mr. Veritzen as he had stood from me during my own conversation with my old friend.

"You don't need to say any more," she assured him with decision. "I'll be on hand. Your morals and your temper have always room for improvement, but your parties can't be tied in New York or any compass point radiating therefrom."

"My appreciation is bounded only by the limitations of your compliment," Mr. Veritzen told her, with a wry little grin, ostensibly for my benefit, although I guess that one barb of her apparently jesting comment had sharply penetrated his complacency. "Now, about that drawing board of yours—do you mind giving me its dimensions?"

If Lillian guessed that he had heard her side of the telephoned conversation with me she gave no sign of her knowledge, but answered his question promptly and coolly. Mr. Veritzen jotted the measurements down.

"How soon will you be ready to accompany us?" he asked.

"How soon can you be at my door?" she countered.

With a glance at his watch, Mr. Veritzen made a hasty calculation.

"If Otto is as prompt as usual, in about 20 minutes from now," he said.

"Then I'll be ready to start in about 20 minutes," she responded. "But I can't waste any more time talking, even to you, so au revoir."

Mr. Veritzen turned to me smiling.

"I'm sure there's no need to repeat Mrs. Underwood's side of that conversation to you," he said. "It must have been perfectly audible to you. I never have known a voice with such a peculiar carrying quality over the telephone as hers."

Again I felt the blood rush into my cheeks with the knowledge which I well knew he meant to give me—that he also had heard Lillian's comment to me concerning himself. But to my great relief he turned back to his desk, struck a bell, and one of the girls in the outer office came noiselessly into the room.

"My chauffeur must be waiting downstairs," he said. "Will you please ask Henderson to go down and send Otto up to me. Ask Henderson to stay down near the car until Otto returns."

(Copyright, 1927, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

For the Lovelorn

By ELEANOR GALE

Wondering

DEAR MISS GALE:

I have a very peculiar question to decide in my mind and only a limited time to decide it in. I am considered an attractive girl, not pretty by any means, but attractive because I dress well and have been termed a brilliant girl. Both of these compliments being cherished by me, as I make my own clothes and not having money to secure an education, which I craved, I studied every subject I could where it was possible to secure books. But in spite of all this I am much of a child, although 26 years of age. I played with dolls until I was 17 years old and never thought of boys until I was 18. Even then and to now I have not considered them a necessary asset, but have gloried in the friends I have made of them and kept. But, strange though it may seem, I have fallen deeply in love with a boy just turned 21. This boy has had to work since he was 14 and is therefore older in looks and ways than the majority of boys his age. He seems to care deeply for me, but I have studied human nature so closely that I am afraid to keep on caring for him, believing it is merely infatuation on his part. I try to give him up, but he seems so broken-hearted and then he fills in every part my ideal of the man I should some day love. Although the question now is not serious, I feel that I should not even go with him. But he does not care for the society of other girls nor I other fellows, so I am really not depriving either of us of the company of others. People think I am only 21 and only my folks know how old I am because of my strict earlier life. I have never dissipated and although I know many things concerning the other side of this life, I have no actual experience of "fast living." I love with all my heart and soul and am very jealous-hearted and suffer intensely if I think some one, even girls, are liking some one better than me. Thanking you for your reply to my first letter,

WONDERING.

Five years is not a tremendous difference, my dear, but it is quite a lot at your ages. A boy of 21 is not old enough to know his own mind, and I don't blame you for fearing that it is infatuation on his part. It is all right to keep on with your friendship, but don't take his protestations of affection too seriously for a few years. It may be real love, but you cannot know until the boy is really grown up.

The Girl in Black

DEAR MISS GALE:

Had written to you several times but I failed in some of your rules, as I did not see my letters in print, but I am sure you will print this one. I am a girl of almost 18, am considered good-looking by people. Am a very sensible girl as I have never drank, smoked or been out with a fellow. In fact I very seldom go out, so I only know about the modern generations by what I read in your column, which is very interesting to me. So, Miss Gale, will you please help me with this question: There is a certain boy in my neighborhood for whom I seem to care a lot as I think of him steadily. For about two months I had seen him frequently, but for the last six months I had not seen him at all because I moved into another city, but now am back staying with my sister near his neighborhood. I have no friends to introduce me to him, neither does he know any one who knows me to introduce him to me. When I had seen him before he always smiled at me. I think he's a bit bashful, that's the way I used to be till lately. Is there any way of meeting him? He does not know where I am now, but I know his address. So please, Miss Gale, help me with this problem. If I know he didn't care for me I'd be perfectly satisfied and would make friends as I'm old enough to have boy friends and can easily have them, that is from my home town. But I do not know a soul in this city. Do you think it all right for me to go to a dance without a male friend and wait for someone to come and ask me for a dance? I'm not man crazy as some girls are, as I intend to stay an old maid if the right kind of a man doesn't come along. A few words to "A Decent Fellow." I wish I could meet someone like you. I think I'd be perfectly satisfied. Is there any harm in letting a fellow put his hand on your shoulder when sitting on a sofa or should she tell him hands off. THE GIRL IN BLACK.

If this boy is as interested as you think he is, my dear, he will find a way to be introduced to you. Don't go to dances by yourself, of course, and never dance with men who have not been introduced to you. It is just as well to move away when a boy places his hand on your shoulder.

Drawde

DEAR MISS GALE:

I come to you for aid with a mind that is very much unsettled and perturbed. First, I want to know if you think it advisable for a young fellow going to school to give up his girl friends entirely during the school period. I am a junior in college and I have found it quite difficult to pursue a course wherein studies and good times go hand in hand. Then again, if a fellow does give up his friends for a while, it is going to be rather difficult to renew them again, because they think you do not desire their company. Just recently I had a "break" with a very dear friend of mine, just because I felt that I was going to need all my time for school work. Whether or not I was correct in going to the extreme I do not know, but I have found that unless a fellow breaks completely with his friend he cannot stay away from her. So thus I was compelled to go to the farthest point, even though I afterwards realized how very foolish I was. I suppose you can tell by this brief note how confused I am, but that is part of everyone's life, so please give me a little "left" and I may not be so bad off after all. DRAWDE.

No, I don't think it is a good thing to break off all friendships during the school term. You need a certain amount of diversion, you know, even though most of your time is devoted to your studies. If a girl is sensible, she will realize that you must work and will accept as much of your time as you can devote to her.

M. D. M.

DEAR MISS GALE:

This is the first time I have ever written to you. I am 19 years old, nearly 20, and have been married two years and four months. My husband is just one year older than I. But, Miss Gale, I am not sure whether he loves me or not. He sometimes treats me wonderful and other times you would think I was not his wife. He will do what outsiders want him to do instead of doing as I ask him to do. Now, Miss Gale, do you really think he loves me when he does those things? He also went out with another married woman one night about a year ago, but was true enough to tell me all about it. He declares that he only did it because I made him awfully angry and says he would never do it again no matter how mad he was. But I shall never trust him again. But, Miss Gale, I do not think that would be any cause for him to do such a thing if he did not want to. Do you, Miss Gale? I met another fellow the other day, and I know by the way he acted and talked that he loves me very much. He must be at least 10 years older than I. Do you think that he is too old? I have a girl friend that is in love with a foreign boy. Do you think it would be all right for her to marry him if she really loves him?

M. D. M.

It certainly seems very strange that your husband should go out with another woman just because he was angry with you. How would he feel if the situation were reversed? However, that is really no excuse for your letting yourself get interested in another man, my dear. Try to make a success of your marriage. It is much the happiest way. If your friend truly loves this boy it is all right to marry him, of course, but she must be prepared to make many adjustments that are not necessary when two people marry whose background is similar.

FOLEY'S HONEY—TAR COMPOUND
Safe and Reliable
For all coughs and all ages—no opiates. A pure cough medicine.
ASK FOR THE LARGE SIZE A REAL ECONOMICAL BUY
SOLD AND RECOMMENDED EVERYWHERE

(Advertisement.)

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Heavy Decline of British Birthrate . .

WITH the exception of 1918, last year's birthrate for England and Wales, 17.8 per 1,000, is the lowest ever recorded. England's birthrate stood at 30 per 1,000 thirty years ago.

Magazine Page

Telephones in Private Use

OF the total number of telephones in the United States nearly two-thirds, or, in round numbers, 11,400,000, are in domestic use and serve about 10,700,000 families, or approximately 43,000,000 people on the basis of four in each family.

Which One Shall Take The Lead?

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

"ALL men and women would marry if they could," declared Mrs. Eva Wilcox at the recent national convention of the Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. "It is a question of romance, which some never find and others do."

Is this statement true in every case? Or does it apply merely to the majority of modern women?

Are there not numbers of so-called "emancipated women" who would hesitate to exchange their so-called freedom by "selling themselves," as they might term it, "in the bondage of marriage?"

The fact that man is generally regarded as leader in the marriage partnership is distasteful to a certain extreme type of feminist. Feeling that marriage is unjust in assigning woman a secondary position, she disdains the institution and elects to remain single.

This extreme type of feminist may forego marriage. Or, if she marries, she may choose a subservient helpmate and flaunt her leadership in the face of the world.

There must be a leader, a recognized head, to every organization, every partnership, every nation, every marriage. Even in ordinary ballroom dancing a leader is essential. If both partners try to lead a two-step, results are disastrous.

In marriage, either husband or wife must be recognized as leader as a matter of convenience. Which shall it be?

I believe, if a vote of women were taken, the overwhelming majority of wives would prefer to have the marriage partnership represented before the world by Friend Husband as nominal head and protector, even as it has been these thousands of years.

Men are physically stronger than women. No feminine tennis champion tries to compete with a man who is a recognized champion.

Mentally, men are at least the equal of women. Masculine understanding of business and world affairs in general is at present superior to the knowledge of the average woman in that direction. Does it not seem sensible, under all these circumstances, that the husband should continue to perform the service of representing both marriage-partners as protector or leader?

On the other hand, woman is a born home-maker, because of her natural capacity for "mothering." To many men, home means just the woman. Home is a woman's kingdom. So perhaps there is reason in the old arrangement which recognizes man as leader in marriage, woman as leader in home-making.

This does not imply that modern woman should confine her activities to home. The liberation of woman and her entrance on careers is equipping her perhaps better than ever before to govern wisely and charmingly her home, the center but not limit of her interests and activities. Modern legislators are slowly but surely righting ancient injustice to wives in matters of property-holding and law.

Above all we are trying to understand and improve the institution of marriage, which is so important and so dear to every one of us. For even though you may not be married yet, let us trust you hope to be.

"Ours is a fifty-fifty marriage," announced a radiant friend of mine, wife of a man who is rapidly rising to national recognition as a statesman.

There is no dispute in that family as to who leads. I doubt wether this question of leadership ever arises in a marriage of deep mutual love and service. My friend manages her beautiful home harmoniously and is a leader in club and welfare work, finding time also for the bright social life she loves.

She is immensely proud of her brilliant husband—of his courage and strength, integrity and success. She elected him to the service of leadership of their marriage when she chose him as her husband. She represents their marriage partnership gracefully and graciously in all that pertains to home and the brilliant entertaining they do at home.

Who is the real leader in marriage? It would be hard to say. There is often a power behind the throne. The subtle influence of whichever partner is mentally stronger and more capable probably guides. But "every woman" knows that a wife likes to let her husband feel he is nominal leader and protector. Perhaps in most cases a gentle, capable, adored wife is the real power behind the throne, because men lean on the inspiration of love. Or, to be still more accurate, let us say mutual, kindly love leads every successful marriage on and up.

Woman looks to man for physical, protective strength and courage, and for mental strength and moral courage, while woman sways through spiritual leadership and tender love.

Thus, without any question of superiority or inferiority, man is natural leader in marriage, as a matter of convenience and order, while woman naturally guides in all that pertains to home. Each complements the other in that deeply satisfying self fulfillment, successful marriage.

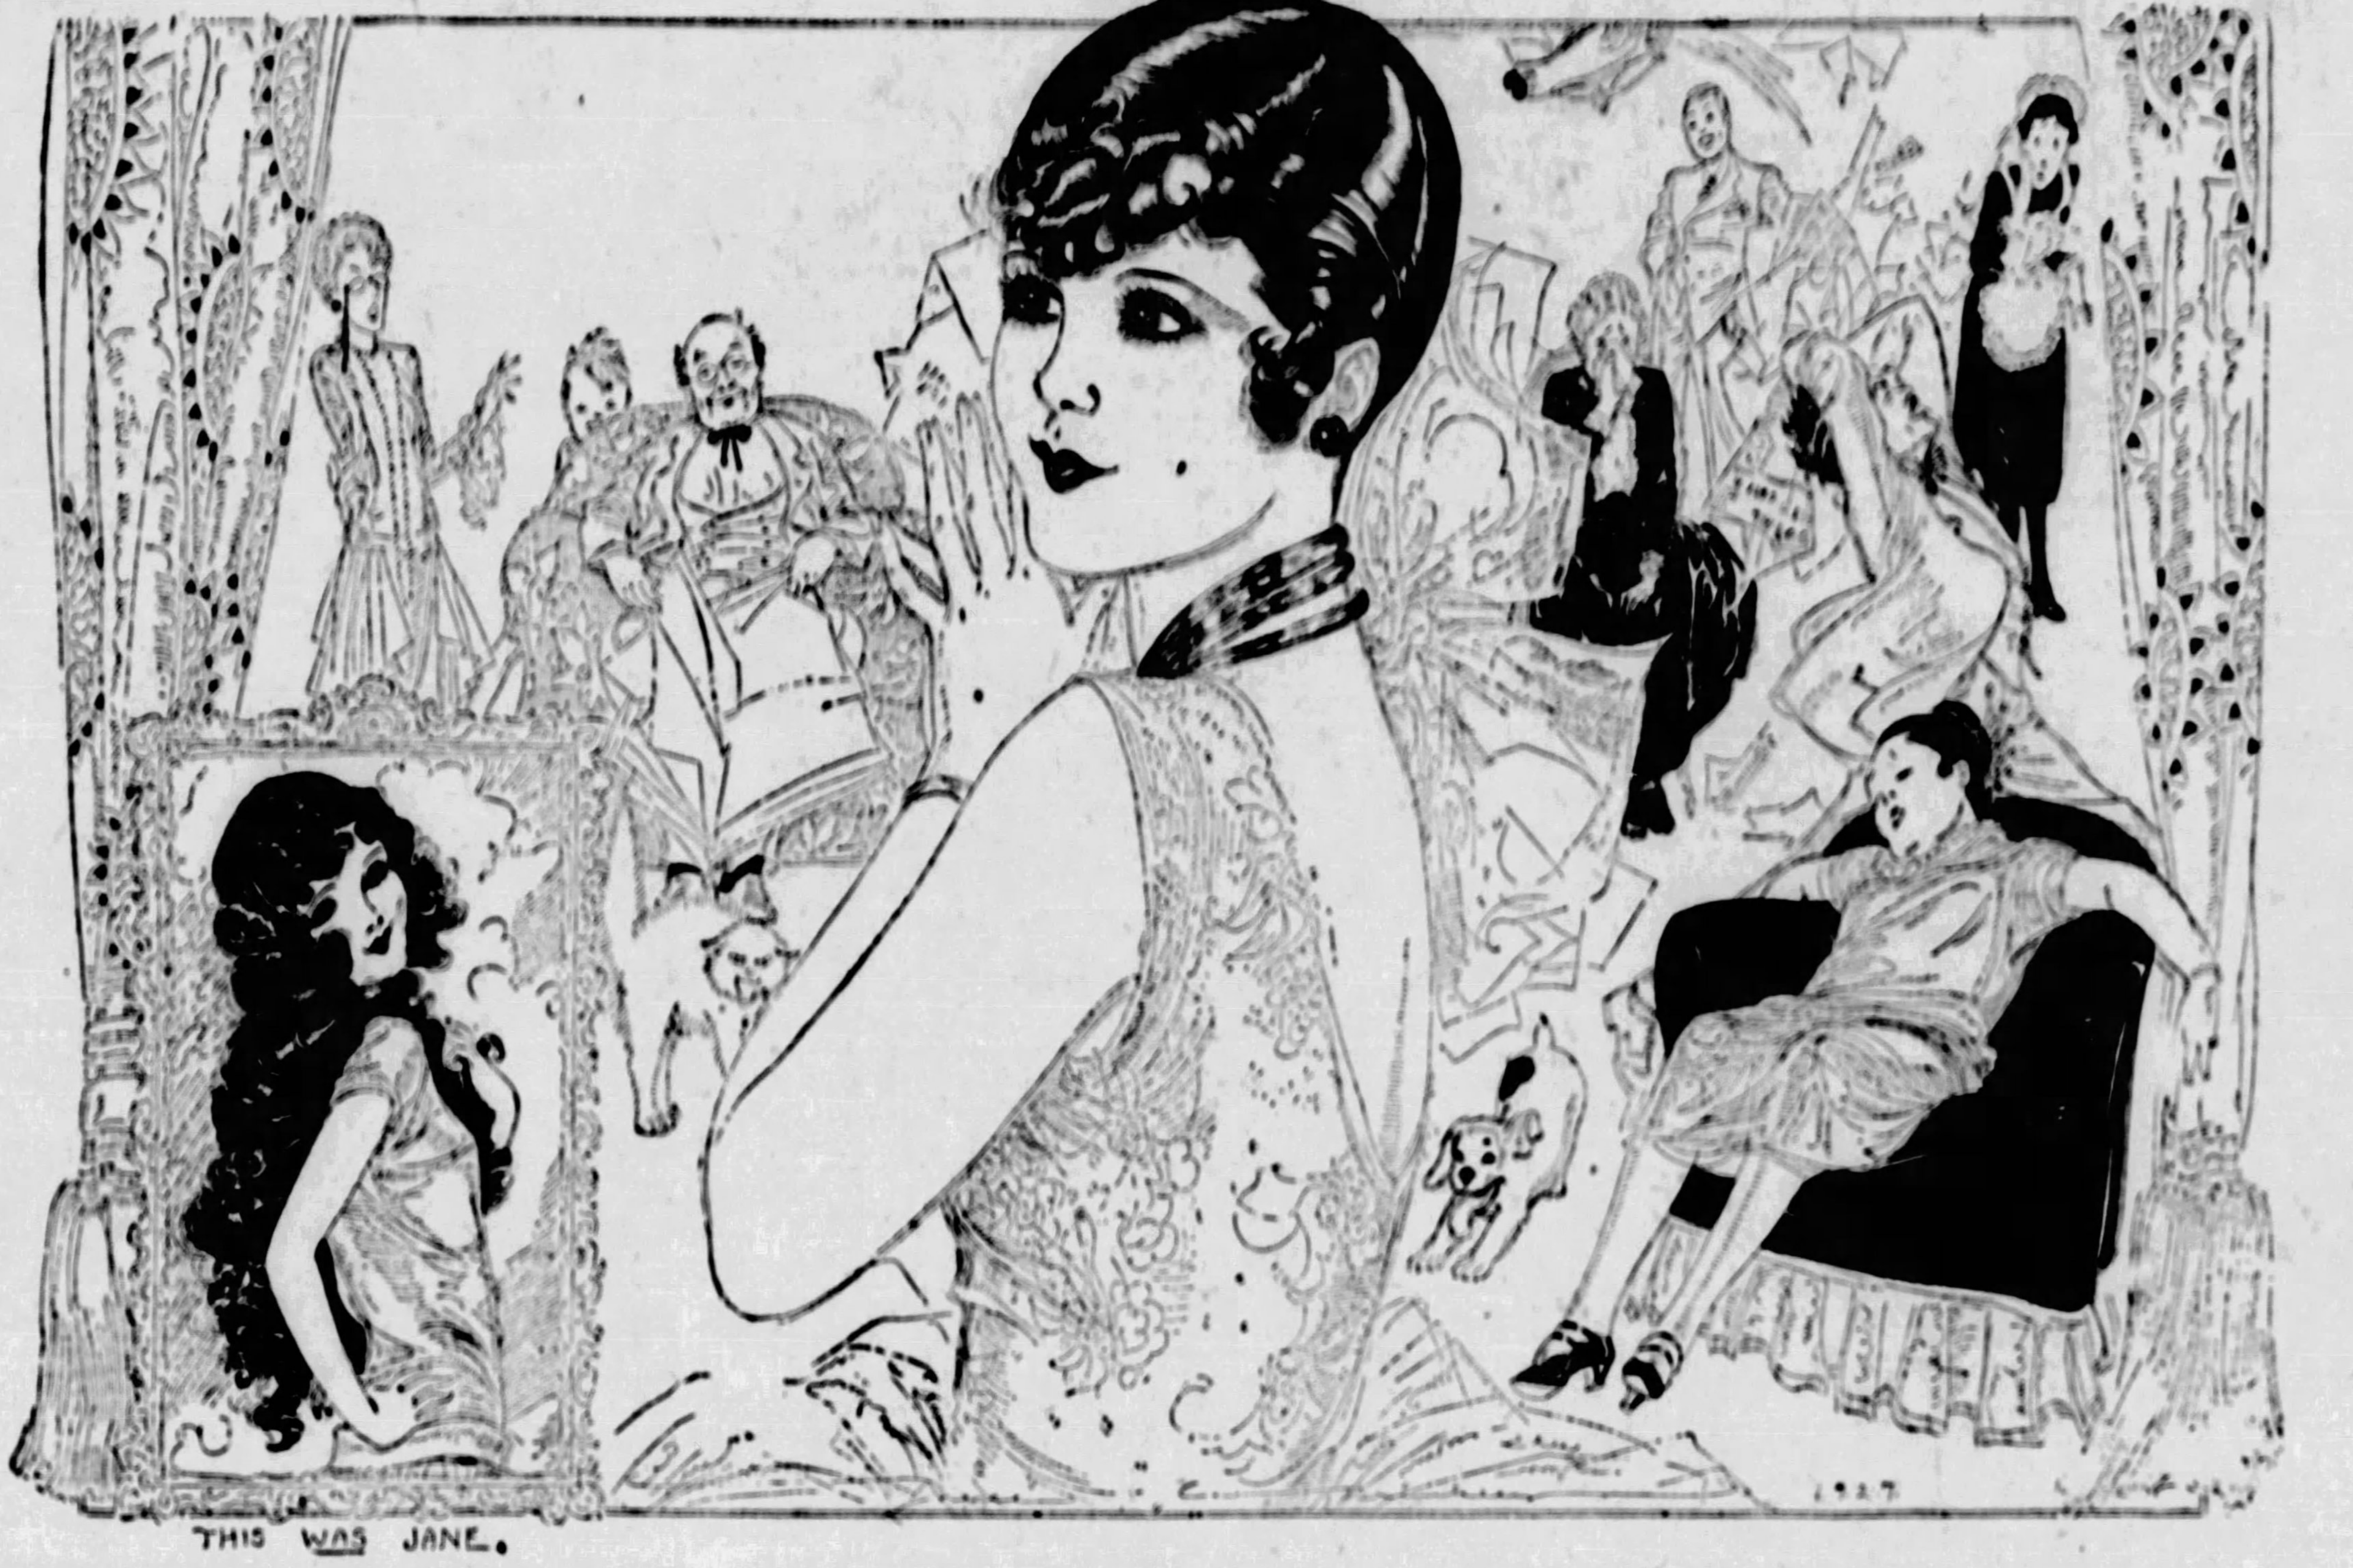
(Copyright, 1927, International Feature Service, Inc.)

Lemon Rind

In using the rind of a lemon for flavoring purposes, be careful not to use the white pith. It is only the yellow part that holds the oils; the white often imparts a bitter taste.

LITTLE JANE COMES HOME. AND HOW!

Drawn By
NELL BRINKLEY



THE mournful refrain that is arising out of the house where pretty Jane, jolly Jane, gentle Jane, joyous Jane, jimp Jane, came home. It goes something like this: "Jane, Jane, she never was the same—"

For Janey had been until yesterday the last of the Rapunzels! ONE of the few last reminders of Lady Godiva. Everybody in the house had grown to think of Janey's hair as the family treasure. Gramp' said it was like his Mother's. Father said it was the one devastating beauty in the family. Mother said hers was just that long and just that color when she was a girl. But "straight's a stick!" Her little brother pulled it in private and boasted of it in public. Her aunt thanked Heaven that she had sense enough not to throw it on the barber's floor for the public to walk on. Her big brother said of course she would look more like the other girls with it bobbed; but he kinda liked it long on HER—made her look "distangay," and not so ordinary.

And then Jane went out one Summer day—this Summer day—and came home again. Jane came home—and HOW! Jane's glory was gone. She brought it back, unattached, to give to her Mother. And the back of her head was as close as the nap on the back of a fox terrier! Rapunzel was shorn. And at this glimpse of the bare shape of Jane's head as it was when she was a bald baby, the family lost its head.

Gramp', Small Brother and Big Brother were the only ones who cheered. They liked it! But Mother fainted. Father fell, enraged, upon the innocent evening paper, and called his petted Janey a "nincompoop!" Aunt stared. Gram' wept sore. And the maid went into a state of catalepsy and retired, aghast, into the kitchen.

One by one the little daughters of Godiva are falling under the scissors all over the land. And they are falling just as the first recruits all letting theirs grow; long enough for feminine grace, for a few curls, for the smoke of a frame about a girl face, for a little chignon at the nape of a neck.

They are coming in as the fashion is, so rumor whispers, going out. But you see they have to just ONCE know the glory of a boy-head and a breeze at the roots of their hairs before manes are in again!

—NELL BRINKLEY.

What Small Successes Mean to a Child

By L. LAMAR MATTHEWS

THE children call her "Miss Alice" and their parents before them called her that. Everybody in the town where she teaches knows "Miss Alice" and everybody who has had the good fortune to be in her class remembers her with gratitude and affection.

"Miss Alice" firmly believed that every child can excel in at least one thing. She has found by experience that if a child at some time, in some way, achieves a marked success it inspires him to further effort.

There was little Aaron Black. Aaron was a little bit less than average in the matter of intelligence and that's why "Miss Alice" began hunting around for some line in which he could excel. She found that the boy could write unusually well. After that she let him write part of some lesson on the board each day; and she always complimented his smooth, legible handwriting. Aaron beamed with pride. His tousled head went up as it had never done before. He could look his schoolmates in the eye; for there was something that he could do better than most of them. This achievement, this new self-confidence encouraged him to make greater effort in his other studies; and Aaron took a new lease on school life.

Then there was Sally Mack. Sally was fat; she was older than her classmates; she was dull; and she was painfully sensitive.

The first time Sally arose in "Miss Alice's" class to recite some of the children snickered. But they never did it again. For when Sally had occasion to leave the room their teacher made them understand just how rude and unkind and ill-bred that giggling seemed.

Before long "Miss Alice" discovered that Sally had a beautiful voice. After that Sally was asked to lead the class singing.

"Your voice is so sweet and clear that I want the other pupils to imitate your tones," she told the astonished girl.

That success gave Sally more satisfaction than anything that had ever come her way, and it encouraged her to try harder for other small successes.

Sally is grown now. She has worked off that superfluous fat; she has overcome her shyness and awkwardness; and it doesn't matter if she is dull. For she is good-looking, she sings like a nightingale, and her husband and children adore her.

There are other grown-ups and other children in that town who date their start upward to the time when "Miss Alice" was their teacher.

It is a great day in the life of a child when he finds that he is not as inferior to other children as he thought he was.

When he makes one effort toward a definite end he has put his foot on the ladder of achievement.

The stimulus of success is necessary to mental and moral development. Nothing is so discouraging as failure after failure. It destroys the morale. It has a crushing, blighting effect upon the child's nature. Success develops an attitude of confidence and hopefulness. That's why teachers and parents should make certain that some small successes are intermingled with the small failures that come to children.

(Copyright, 1927, International Feature Service, Inc.)

The Pushing Hand

By LUCY LOWELL

IT IS NOT always the helping hand which one may thank for achievement.

I will venture to say that the pushing hand, the cold shoulder, the scornful rejection have started more people on the road to high success than all the kindly assistance that ever there has been in this world. More people of a certain type, that is, the type which knows what it knows and believes in itself and its destiny.

I am reminded of what a most successful man had to say about this a while ago. One had mentioned another man and quickly apologizes, for the two were called enemies.

"Not at all," said my friend. "I owe him everything I have, and more.

"I went to him for help when I was just getting out of college, a green kid without a cent or a prospect. He turned me away without bothering to be civil.

"That piqued my pride, young nobody that I was. 'I'll go beyond and above him,' I said to myself.

"Well, I got a start and I kept it in mind. It made me do some tall hustling, let me tell you. For every stride I made he made two.

"I have accomplished something," he added modestly. "But without this man you call my enemy as an incentive I don't know just where I'd be today. I feel nothing for him now but gratitude."

The philosophy of the pushing hand is set forth by Emerson:

"Dear to us are those who love us; the swift moments we spend with them are compensation for a great deal of misery; they enlarge our life—but dearer are those who reject us as unworthy, for they add another life; they build a heaven before us whereof we had not dreamed, and thereby supply to us new powers out of the recesses of the spirit, and urge us to new and unattempted performances."

(Copyright, 1927, King Features Synd., Inc.)

HOW TO KEEP WELL

by Royal S. Copeland, M.D.
U.S. Senator From New York

Anemic People Need Sunshine, Fresh Air and Blood Building Foods

THERE are social causes for ill-health. The over-crowding of cities and the necessity of living in dark and poorly ventilated homes are factors in the development of illness.

DR COPELAND

Long stretches of stairs to climb, dusty places of employment, the burdens of housekeeping in poverty-stricken homes, frequent child-bearing, late hours, the din of cities — all these things have much to do with the pale faces and anemic state of thousands of city women. These are social ailments. Pills and powders will not overcome them. They are beyond the skill of the physician.

It is the worthy desire of every young woman to have red cheeks and bright eyes. She cannot have them without an abundance of fresh air, out-of-door exercise, plenty of sleep and nourishing food.

Anemia—popularly called "lack of blood"—is due to insufficient sunshine and blood building foods. Nature refuses to be cheated. She must have those elements which build up the body, or some form of illness will be the penalty.

Let it not be imagined that city people are the only folks who suffer from lack of fresh air. It is just as true of country dwellers that they rob themselves of this essential to health. There are just as many airless bedrooms on the farm as there are in the crowded cities.

One of the common symptoms of anemia is palpitation of the heart. There may be attacks of dizziness and even fainting. There is the fear that the heart is diseased, but all the trouble may be due to the impoverished blood.

A poorly nourished, anemic and run-down person may have the most inconsistent sort of appetite. One day there is hunger for everything. The next day the sight of food is repulsive.

Then, too, there may be perversions of appetite. I think I have told you of one particular patient who had this symptom. Once I asked her what she would ask for if she could have her choice of anything in the world. "A dozen cedar lead pencils," was her startling reply.

It is extremely difficult to arrange a diet for a person who is anemic and debilitated from the causes I have suggested. It is important to give honest food. For such persons too much pastry and confectionery is not good.

The rundown person must have milk, custards, eggs, vegetables and fruits. Permit the individual taste to govern, provided substantial foods are accepted. Otherwise the appetite must be coaxed with chicken, small pieces of well-cooked steak, or something else that your own good sense will suggest.

The surroundings and occupation must be suited to the physical needs. At all costs, even though the rest of the family may be required to make sacrifices, the debilitated one must be so placed as to get fresh air, sunlight and nourishing food.

Answers to Health Queries

M. L. W. Q.—What causes pain in lower part of my stomach when I walk?

2.—What should a girl 18 years of age weigh?

3.—What causes sharp pains in my head. My teeth are all sore and they ache.

A.—This is probably due to indigestion. Proper diet and elimination should correct this condition. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope for further particulars and repeat your question.

2.—Since you did not state your height I cannot give your correct weight.

3.—When your teeth are properly attended to, the pains in your head will probably clear up.

* * *

A. S. Q.—What do you advise for a cough and a tickling in the throat?

A.—Try to eliminate the cough by building up your general health. Take plenty of outdoor exercise and eat plenty of good nourishing food, including milk, cream, eggs and fresh vegetables and fruits. A good throat spray may be helpful for the tickling in the throat.

* * *

G. R. W. S. Q.—How can one fill out the hollows of the cheeks and make the face plump?

A.—Building up the health in general should help. Eat plenty of good nourishing food including milk, cream, eggs, fresh vegetables and fruits. Exercise in the open air. Sleep as many hours as possible in a well-ventilated room. Take codliver oil as a general tonic and builder.

* * *

M. M. B. Q.—What food or medicine will help repair a worn-out brain? I have tried the rules for building up the health in general.

A.—There are no special foods or medicines which will accomplish results along this line—it would be wise to see a brain specialist.

(Copyright, 1927, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

SAYINGS OF MRS. SOLOMON

By HELEN ROWLAND

TEN COMMANDMENTS OF LOVE

1. Thou shalt put no worldly thing before Love. Neither vanity, nor ambition, nor money, nor art, nor freedom, nor a job. For Love is life's carburetor, without which all things else "go dead," and glory seemeth as a flat tire—EMPTY.

* * *

2. Thou shalt not be forward in thy Love. For though it be not criminal to love a man before he hath given thee permission, it is fatal to let him KNOW it. And in the love-chase, every man demandeth to be "It."

HELEN ROWLAND

* * *

3. Thou shalt not take love lightly—nor a lover too seriously. For lightness of kissing endeth in heaviness of heart. And a credulous woman is the sheik's pet game.

* * *

4. Thou shalt not glorify petting and sex-appeal in the name of Love. For she that taketh the name of Love in vain shall seek it in vain, and shall know not the Real Thing from the five-and-ten variety.

* * *

5. Thou shalt not double-cross another woman. For the love that can be "stolen" from another, can likewise be stolen from thee. And she that stealeth another woman's man, taketh her own punishment right along.

* * *

6. Thou shalt not exalt domesticity above Love, nor an immaculate house above thy Beloved's tranquility. For a mausoleum may be neat, and an operating room cleanly; but a LIVE man seeketh not solace and joy therein. And a housekeeping complex is a deadly thing!

* * *

7. Thou shalt not slay Love with fault-finding. Neither with nagging nor with peevishness, nor with suspicion nor with jealousy. For True Love suffereth long and is BLIND; forgiveth all things, believeth all things, and understandeth all things.

* * *

8. Thou shalt not make a Love a grappling-hook, nor a chain-and-ball, nor a four-foot leash. Neither shalt thou SMOTHER thy Beloved in the name of Devotion. For Love that is stifled soon escapeth in search of free air!

* * *

9. Remember thy Love, to keep it bright and shining. For, once its wings have been trailed in the dust of bickerings and dragged through the mud of deceit and cheatings, they shall never again soar toward the stars.

* * *

10. Thou shalt, in all things, be SPORTING. For a man may be good company and a good provider; and a woman may be a good influence and a good looker. But if either of them be not a Good Sport, the House of Love cannot stand!

* * *

Behold, my Daughter, if thou wouldst walk safely in the Garden of Love and dwell joyfully in the House of Matrimony, keep these commandments. And thy foot shall not stumble!

SELAH.

(Copyright, 1927, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Horoscopes

Sunday, November 20

The horoscope is the map of man's secret will—the terrible, all-revealing ground plan of his own eternal purpose.—J. C. JOHNSTON.

SUNDAY'S horoscope is favorable to social, domestic, romantic and literary pursuits and holds an urge to indulge in these seriously and industriously.

Those whose birthday it is may have a fairly active year, with a tendency to study and close application to matters in hand, with personal affairs and study uppermost.

A child born on this day should be steady and studious, with a bent toward art and literature.

Monday, November 21

Monday's astrological forecast is good for those in employment or for those desiring affiliation with closed corporations or by secret agreements. Intrigue, conspiracy, as well as diplomacy or strategy, should flourish.

Those whose birthday it is may have a flourishing year if in employment or connected with close corporations by secret agreement or intrigue.

A child born on this day should make a success of employment or in those connections requiring subtlety or strategem.

Notable Nativity: Hetty Green, woman financier.

TEASERS

Answer to Yesterday's Teaser

To estimate 68 feet as the height of the stand-pipe is exceptional; 65-70, very good; 60-75, good; 55-80, average; 50-85, fair; less than 45 or more than 90, poor.

(Copyright by Public Ledger.)

WHAT'S THE ANSWER?

1. What three things are essential in making glass?
2. Who wrote "Enoch Arden?"
3. Who was the wife of Louis XV?
4. On what spot did Noah's Ark land after the flood subsided?
5. Who was Mrs. Sarah Siddons?
6. What name is given to the container in which an archer carries his arrows?
7. What is the Mersey?
8. What German phrase means literally, "Till we meet again?"
9. Disregarding air resistance, how far will a body fall in the first second after it is dropped?
10. Who invented the linotype machine?

The answers to these questions may be found in Monday's paper.

Here are the answers to yesterday's questions.

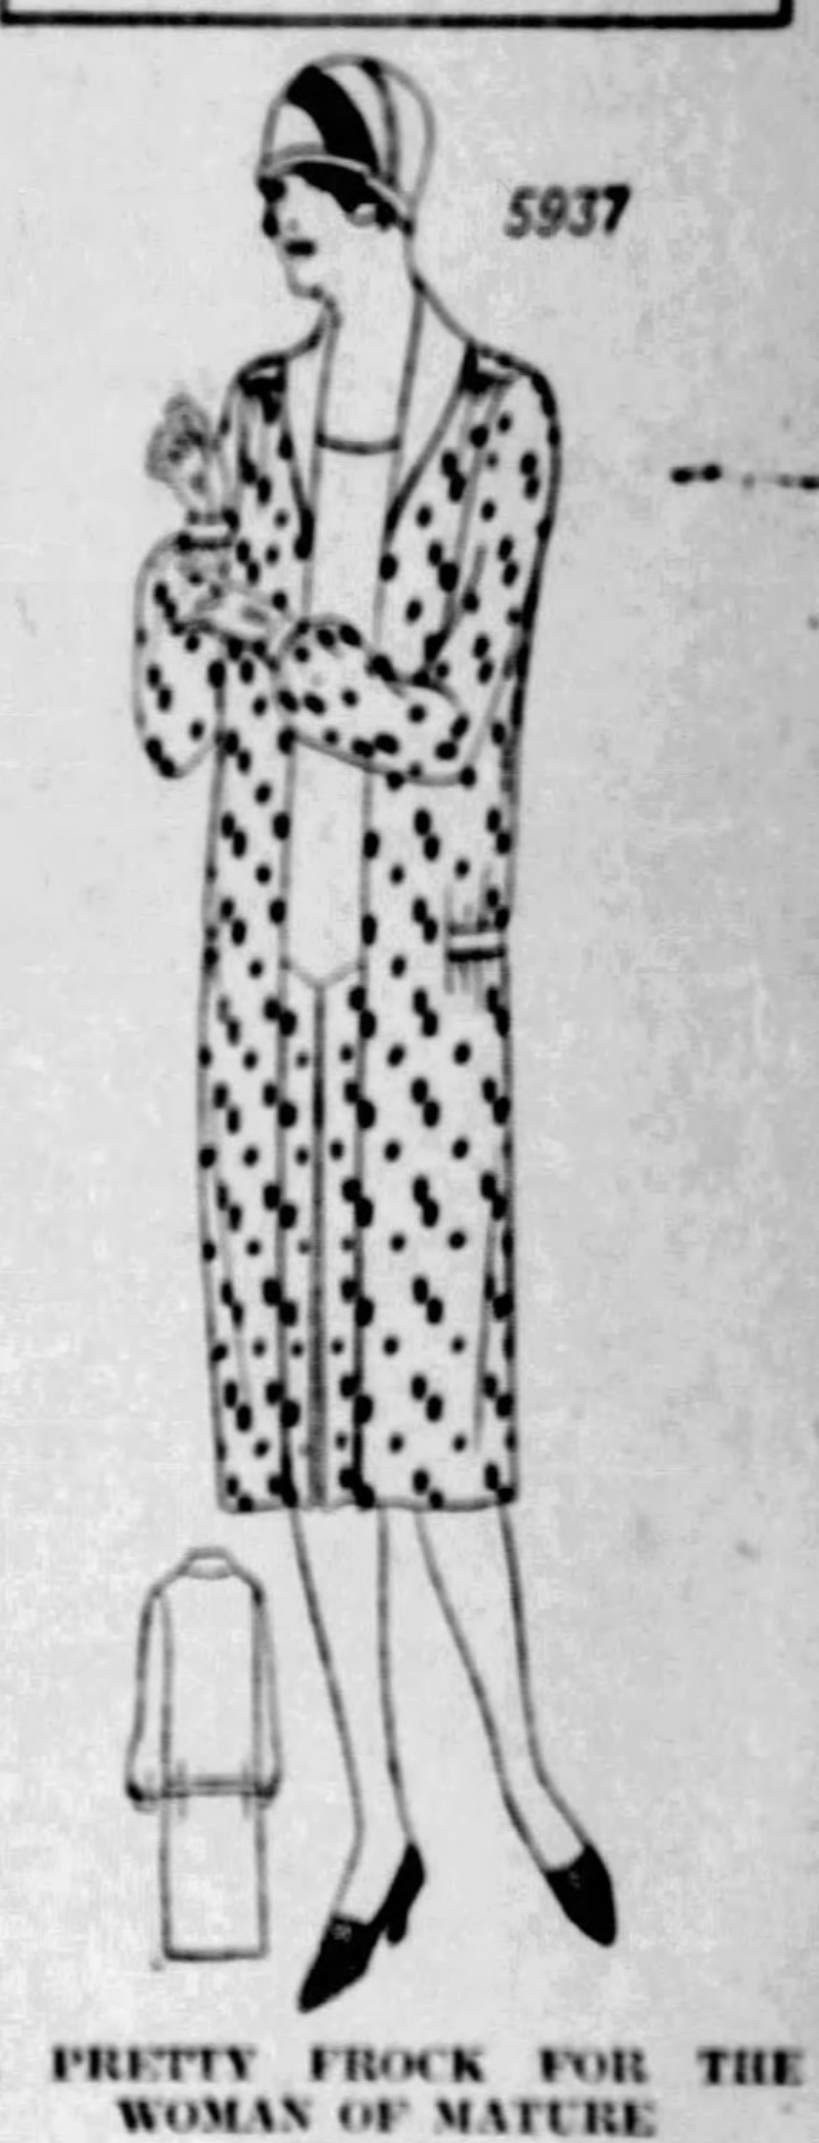
1. "A Fabian policy" is a policy of cautious dilatory strategy to wear out an enemy.
2. Napoleon Bonaparte revised his country's constitution and legal system.
3. Oslo is the capital of Norway.
4. Monte Carlo is in the principality of Monaco.
5. There are 14 lines in a sonnet.
6. Francois Villon has been described as "Student, Poet and Housebreaker.
7. Oporto, Spain, is famous for its port wine.
8. "Ipso facto" means "By the very fact itself."
9. A portcullis is a strong heavy grating, sliding up and down in vertical grooves at the side of a gateway in a fortress.
10. "Hell" is a popular and oft-uttered synonym for Gehenna.

(Copyright, 1927, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Washing the Line

The best way to wash a dirty clothes line is to wind it round a long board and scrub the line with a brush. This prevents it from becoming tangled, and makes it easy to wind when dry.

The Sun-Telegraph Fifteen Cent Pattern



A PRETTY FROCK FOR THE WOMAN OF MATURE FIGURE.

Wool crepe, satin, crepe satin and jersey are excellent for this design. The pattern is cut in eight sizes: 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52 inches bust measure. To make the dress as illustrated for a 42-inch size will require 4⅜ yards of 40-inch material together with ⅜ yard of contrasting material for facing on collar, cuffs, belt and vestee. The width of the dress at the lower edge with plaits extended is 2⅛ yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 15 cents in silver or stamps.

COUPON.

This pattern will be sent on receipt of 15 cents. Make number, name, address, etc., plain. Send to Pattern Departm The Sun-Tele aph, Pittsburgh, Pa.

No. 5937. Size........
Name ....
Street and No. ....
City .... State .....

BLUE GOOSE
AFG

GRAPEFRUIT
are justly renowned for sweetness and flavor. Known as the world's finest grapefruit, like all fruits and vegetables bearing the Blue Goose label, they are uniformly the best.
AT YOUR DEALER'S

STOCKS-BONDS-GRAIN-PROVISIONS-LIVESTOCK

Forbes

Hunted Lions—and Orders! Many Now Less Bearish

By B. C. FORBES

LIKE father, like son. The only son of the late John H. Patterson, who was a master salesman and a constant hunter for promising young men, has returned from a five months' big game shooting expedition in the wilds of Africa. He hunted not only with his guns, but with a moving picture and other cameras. He took movies of 25 lions at a distance of only 25 feet and had plenty of thrills with elephants, a rhinoceros, a python, etc.

But here is the most significant of his activities as described by himself:

"I sold 17 cash registers at Nairobi in one day. Am going to open up agencies in Africa."

How many rich men's sons, away on a hunting trip in a semi-civilized country, would stop to become a salesman? I can't imagine a scion of any wealthy British family doing such a thing. Americans certainly have a winning habit of getting the most out of both their business and their play.

FOR some reason or other, there is a revival of talk that Calvin Coolidge may be drafted should a Republican victory appear to be threatened.

WHY has there been so relatively little buying of locomotives and cars by our railroads? "They have been holding off worse than ever before," you constantly hear.

"We have made such tremendous improvements in engineering, in materials, in construction, that the life of our railway locomotives has been trebled," an equipment builder explained to me. "Cars are also built stronger and last longer. Our locomotives now use so much less coal that the railroads have been able to cut down tremendously their haulage of this unproductive freight. Instead of the railroads being pinched and starved for power and other equipment, they never were better fixed than they are today."

That's interesting, isn't it?

WHAT epitaph would you like to earn—not get, but earn?

Here's the choice of H. M. Atkinson, chairman of the Georgia Power Company, who this week celebrated his sixty-fifth birthday:

"He put to work for Georgia the mountain streams that for centuries had been running to waste."

He's far from ready for an epitaph, however. He recently licked Bobby Jones with a stroke-a-hole handicap; he thinks nothing of playing three sets of tennis, of swimming a full mile and of riding and hunting with the huskiest young blades. Atlanta recently awarded him its medal presented to the citizen rendering the most valued disinterested service during the year.

Again, what about your epitaph?

BUSINESS will be well satisfied if Congress decrees thoroughgoing Mississippi flood prevention and tax reduction. After that, it will be all right with business if our lawmakers either loaf or go home.

OUR banks used to pride themselves upon their impressiveness, upon their imposing marble columns, upon their severe dignity, their cathedral-like atmosphere.

On Monday, one of the oldest banks in New York, the Chatham Phenix, will move into a branch at Fifth avenue and Fifty-fifth street, which is the polar opposite. Everything conceivable has been done to create an impression, not of coldness, but of friendliness, of warmth and color and comfiness. Mahogany has displaced marble, even in the inevitable bank pillars, and the beamed ceiling pictures, in a blend of red and blue, the age-old symbols of the banking profession. There are no stern cages. The ladies' lounge is "strictly Parisienne."

Banking is becoming very human.

THE water has been well squeezed out of good oil sotcks.

There is not quite as much apprehension, either in Wall street or in business circles as there was a few weeks ago.

There is inclination to reason that the setback in the stock market was almost as severe as conditions warranted. The output of optimistic sentiment certainly has increased. All men are not, however, quite as cheerful as they declare publicly.

For my part, I am disposed to watch closely for more definite signs as to which way the cat is going to jump. Let's hope it will be upwards, not downwards.

(Copyright, 1927, by B. C. Forbes.)

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Unexpected higher prices at Liverpool led to an early upturn today in the wheat market here. The Liverpool advance was ascribed to speculative buying and to scarcity of sellers. Opening ⅛ to ½c higher, Chicago wheat reacted a little but then hardened again. Corn, oats and provisions were also firmer. Corn started unchanged to ⅛c up and later held near to initial figures.

The following quotations on the Chicago Board of Trade are reported by A. E. Masten & Co.:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Yesterday.
WHEAT—
May	1 34¾	1 34⅞	1 33⅝	1 33⅞	1 34
Mar.	1 31⅝	1 31¾	1 30⅝	1 30⅝	1 31¼
Dec.	1 27⅛	1 27½	1 26⅛	1 26⅝	1 27⅛
CORN—
May	94	94½	93½	93½	93½
Mar.	91	91⅝	90⅞	90⅞	90⅞
Dec.	87⅛	87½	86⅝	86⅝	87
OATS—
May	52⅝	52⅝	52¼	52¼	52⅜
Mar.	51⅝	51½	51⅜	51½	51⅝
Dec.	49⅝	49⅝	49¼	49⅝	49⅝
RYE—
Dec.	1 03½	1 04½	1 03⅝	1 03⅞	1 03½
LARD—
Jan.	12 37	12 40	12 37	12 37	12 37

Gasoline and Naphtha

[illegible]

WINDOW GLASS PFD. UNDER PRESSURE

New high records for the year on three of the local trading favorites were chalked up during the first hour of the session on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today. Urgent buying of Lone Star was the feature of the dealings, while Standard Sanitary and National Fireproofing preferred were both in good demand.

Lone Star was pushed up to a level well above the previous record high established several weeks when reports were first heard that Standard Oil of New York was dickering for the property. While nothing definite on this rumor has been forthcoming, the street is convinced that either a deal of some sort will be announced shortly or the directors will order a capital change which will result in larger cash dividends to the shareholders.

Standard Sanitary's strength was apparent early in the day and while the issue did not establish a new high for all time, it went above the previous 1927 maximum and was pointing higher throughout the session. National Fireproofing's advance was a carry-through of the buying which has been in progress all week, based mainly on assumption that the regular dividend of 1½ per cent will be declared next month.

American Window Glass preferred developed pronounced weakness and suffered a precipitous drop of eight points on a few sales. Weakness was ascribed to the company's recent announcement of a 6 per cent cut in window glass prices, following the 15 per cent reduction put into effect three months ago. Pressure of foreign glass on the domestic market necessitated the price adjustment. This competition has beclouded the American manufacturers' outlook for the past two years and its actual effect was brought forcibly to the front when the earnings statements were issued a few weeks ago, showing heavy decreases in the profits of American Window Glass Company and American Window Glass Machine, the latter the patent holder obtaining its revenue from royalties paid by the parent concern.

LOCAL STOCKS

	Par.	Bid.	Ask.
National Banks—
Exchange National	50	....	90
First National at Pgh. ..	100	232	....
Keystone National	100	209	....
Third National	100	120	....
Trust Companies—
Colonial Trust	100	....	238
Fidelity Title & Trust...	100	400	....
Peoples Savings & Trust	100	530	600
Pittsburg Trust	100	243	....
Miscellaneous—
Am. Window Glass pfd..	100	....	94
Am. Win. Glass Machine	100	....	50
Arkansas Natural Gas..	10	9	9⅛
Carnegie Metals	10	....	13
Conley Tank Car pfd....	100	104½	....
Devonian Oil	10	7½	9
Dixie Gas & Utilities....	..	10⅝	11
Dixie Gas & Util. pfd...	100	85	87
Globe Fire Insurance....	50	112	....
Houston Gulf Gas........	..	9½	10¼
Independent Brewing ...	50	....	2⅝
Independent Brewing pfd	50	3⅝	4
Lone Star Gas..........	25	56¼	56½
May Drug Stores.........	..	20	21
National Fireproofing....	50	8	8⅛
Nat. Fireproofing pfd....	50	25⅝	27
Penn Federal	..	7⅝	....
Penn Federal pfd........	100	99	100
Pittsburgh Brewing pfd.	50	9	9⅝
Pittsburgh Steel Foundry	..	24½	....
Pgh. Steel Foundry pfd.	100	80½	....
Salt Creek Consol. Oil...	10	6⅞	....
Standard Sanitary Mfg..	25	105	107
Tidal Osage Oil.........	10	20½	....
United States Glass.....	25	16	17½
West Penn Railways pfd	100	101	....
Westinghouse Air Brake.	..	43½	....
Witherow Steel	..	12	....
Bonds—
Pittsburgh Brewing 6s...	..	....	80½
Pittsburgh Coal deb. 5s.	..	....	99½

Sales on the Exchange.

	Shares.		Price.
Lone Star Gas................	300	at	55⅝
Do..................	200	at	55½
Do..................	100	at	55½
Do..................	10	at	55½
Do..................	40	at	55⅝
Do..................	40	at	55⅝
Do..................	60	at	55⅝
Do..................	10	at	55⅝
Do..................	10	at	55⅝
Do..................	200	at	56
Do..................	100	at	56
Do..................	100	at	56
Do..................	450	at	56
Do..................	50	at	56
Do..................	50	at	56¼
Do..................	50	at	56½
Do..................	50	at	56½
Do..................	150	at	56½
Do..................	50	at	56½
Do..................	200	at	56½
Do..................	100	at	56½
Do..................	100	at	56½
Do..................	200	at	56½
Do..................	40	at	56⅝
Do..................	30	at	56½
Do..................	20	at	56½
Do..................	100	at	56½
Do..................	25	at	56⅝
Do..................	300	at	55⅝
Do..................	100	at	55⅝
Do..................	15	at	55⅞
Do..................	15	at	55⅝
Standard Sanitary Mfg.........	25	at	106
Do..................	20	at	106½
Do..................	40	at	106½
Do..................	100	at	106
National Fireproofing	200	at	7⅞
Do..................	200	at	8
Do..................	100	at	8
Do..................	10	at	8
Do..................	100	at	8⅛
Arkansas Natural Gas..........	100	at	9⅛
Do..................	100	at	9¼
Do..................	50	at	9⅛
Do..................	10	at	9⅛
Do..................	200	at	9⅛
Do..................	200	at	9⅛
Do..................	100	at	9⅛
National Fireproofing pfd.....	100	at	25⅝
Do..................	25	at	26
Do..................	30	at	25⅞
Do..................	25	at	25⅞
Devonian Oil	12	at	7⅞
Do..................	10	at	8
American Window Glass pfd.	30	at	90
Do..................	50	at	90
Do..................	20	at	90
Penn Federal	100	at	7⅞
Am. Window Glass Machine..	50	at	19
Pittsburgh Brewing pfd.......	100	at	9
Do..................	300	at	9
Do..................	100	at	9
Westinghouse Air Brake......	25	at	44¼
Salt Creek Consolidated Oil...	50	at	6⅞

COTTON MARKET

Range on cotton futures reported by A. E. Masten & Co.:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
January	19.42	19.55	19.40	19.46-19.48
March	19.64	19.75	19.60	19.62-19.66
May	19.79	19.90	19.75	19.77-19.82
July	19.69	19.79	19.64	19.65-19.67
September ...	19.35	19.47	19.33	19.33-19.38

Pittsburgh Clearing House.

	Exchanges.	Balances.
Today	$ 29,972,081 27	$12,496,220 78
Week ago	42,109,074 54	22,110,606 89
Year ago	26,981,214 40	12,042,320 45
For the week...	198,344,970 54	81,162,152 94
[illegible] week [illegible]	155,410,648 02	61,192,761 41
[illegible]	[illegible] 15	80,[illegible] 71

NEW YORK CLOSE WITH COMPARISONS

STOCKS	Saturday High	Saturday Low	Saturday Close	Close Nov. 18	Close Nov. 12
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Do. pref...	110⅞	110⅝	110⅞	110¼	108¼
W. Penn Pwr	....	....	....	....	....
Do. 7% pf.	115½	115½	115½	115½	115½
Western Md.	49	48½	48½	48½	48½
West. Pac...	....	....	....	38	35
Do. pref...	64⅞	64¼	64⅞	....	....
West Union.	170½	167¼	167¼	....	....
West'hseA.B	44⅛	43⅞	43⅞	43⅞	43⅞
West'hse. El.	85⅞	84¼	85½	84¼	82½
W. El Inst..	13½	13½	13½	....	14
Wh. EagleOil	23	23	23	....	23
White Motor.	36⅜	35	36	34¾	34⅜
White S. M..	39	38½	38⅞	38	37½
W.R.MSp.ctf	37½	37½	37½	38¾	....
Willys-Over.	17⅜	17¼	17¼	17½	15¼
Do pref...	93⅛	93⅛	93⅛	93¼	....
Wilson Co...	11⅜	11⅜	11⅜	....	10¼
Woolworth..	195	193½	194½	193¼	195⅝
Worth.Pump	29¾	29	29½	28	26
Do. A.....	46	46	46	21	21
Wright Aero.	58½	57	58	57¾	53¾
WrigleyW.Jr	65¾	64¾	65½	64½	65⅝
YellowT&C..	30⅞	30½	30⅝	30½	28¼
Do. pref...	90¼	90	90	....	87

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Transactions in the most active bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today were as follows, (not omitted in split column (United States bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds of dollars):

U. S. GOVERNMENT BONDS.

Sales.	High.	Low.	Close.
2 Liberty 3½s '32-47 ..	101.26	101.24	101.24
[illegible] Liberty 1st 4¼s	103.14	103.14	103.14
10 Liberty 3d 4¼s	100.30	100.28	100.30
1 Liberty 3d 4¼s reg ..	100.25	100.25	100.25
40 Liberty 4th 4¼s.....	104.1	103.31	103.31
3 Liberty 4th 4¼s reg.	103.28	103.28	103.28
1 Treas 4¼s '47-52	113.9	113.9	113.9

CORPORATIONS BONDS.

Sales.	High.	Low.	Close.
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
11 Lack Steel 5s '50......	102½	102⅜	102½
9 Las Gas of St L 5½s	105	105	105
4 L S & M S gld 4s '31	99⅝	99⅝	99⅝
2 Leh Val Pa gen 4s..	92⅞	92⅞	92⅞
1 Lex & East Ry 5s ...	116	116	116
3 Liquid Carbonic 6s...	107½	107½	107½
6 Loew's Inc 6s ww '31	105½	105¼	105¼
24 Loew's Inc 6s ex-war	99¼	99⅛	99⅛
5 Lorillard Co 7s	117	117	117
18 Lorillard Co 5½s '37	98⅞	98½	98½
2 Lorillard Co 5s	98½	98½	98½
1 Louis & Nash 7s	104¼	104¼	104¼
1 Louis & Nash rfg 5½s	109⅝	109⅝	109⅝
6 L N unified 4s	98⅝	98⅝	98⅝
1 Louis G & E 5s	103⅝	103⅝	103⅝
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

FOREIGN BONDS.

Sales.	High.	Low.	Close.
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

SCORE STOCKS CARRIED TO PEAKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 19—(AP)—Speculators for the advance retained control of the price movement in today's stock market, which was unusually broad for a half holiday session. More than a score issues mounted to record high levels, on gains running as high as 7½ points.

Continued ease of money rates and widespread predictions of business prosperity next year furnished the basis for the advance, which was most effective in the low-priced motors and accessories, tobaccos, public utilities and steels.

General Motors and United States Steel common received better support than they had earlier in the week. The list of new highs included such diversified issues as Sears-Roebuck, Reynolds Tobacco B, Brooklyn Edison, National Biscuit, International Paper, Shubert Theaters, Congoleum and Intercontinental Rubber.

A jump of more than 3 points in Rutland preferred and the establishment of new highs by Norfolk and Western and New Haven preferred featured the rail group.

The closing was strong. Total sales approximated 1,100,000 shares.

DIVIDEND INFORMATION

Reed Manufacturing.

Reed Manufacturing Company declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.50, payable December 2 to stock of record November 19.

* * *

$1.50 Extra on Chesebrough.

Chesebrough Manufacturing Company declared an extra dividend of $1.50 and the regular quarterly of $1, payable December 28 to record December 10.

* * *

Armour & Co.

Armour & Co. regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the preferred stocks of Armour & Co. of Illinois, Armour of Delaware and the North American Provision Company, all payable January 2 to record December 10.

* * *

United Profit Sharing.

The United Profit Sharing Company declared a semi-annual dividend of 40 cents a share on the common, payable January 16 to stock of record December 15. Previous announcement of this payment as a quarterly dividend was erroneous.

* * *

Pennock & Ford.

Pennock & Ford Company regular quarterly 1¾ per cent preferred dividend, payable January 1 to record December 17.

* * *

Kansas City Power and Light.

Kansas City Power and Light Company regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 on first preferred, series A, payable January 1 to record November 14.

* * *

Walworth Company.

Walworth Company regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents on preferred, and 30 cents on common, preferred payable December 31 to record December 20, and common on December 15 to record December 14.

DIED.

COWIESON—At Homeopathic Hospital, on Friday, November 18, 1927, at 11:55 a. m., Rev. W. R. COWIESON, beloved husband of Gail Iams Cowieson.

Funeral services on Monday, November 21, at 2 p. m., at the residence of his father-in-law, George F. Iams, Waynesburg, Pa. Funeral services and interment private.

OFFERMANN—On Sunday, November 13, 1927, at 4:15 p. m., JOSEPH C. OFFERMANN, in his 75th year, father of Henry J., Agnes, Elizabeth and Andrew J. Offermann, and Anna P. Heffman. Also survived by six grandchildren.

Funeral from his late residence, Bethel township, on Monday, November 21, at 9 a. m. Solemn requiem high mass at St. Ann's Roman Catholic Church, Castle Shannon, at 9:30 o'clock. Friends of the family and members of Holy Name Society of St. Ann's are respectfully invited to attend. Take Washington car to Santa Barbara stop.

M'MAHON—On Friday, November 18, 1927, at 2:30 a. m., MARY M'MAHON, beloved daughter of the late Michael and the late Catherine Carlton McMahon, and sister of Mrs. J. Reincher, Kate and William C. McMahon.

Funeral from the family home, 102 Steuben street, Twentieth Ward, on Monday, November 21, at 8:30 a. m. Requiem high mass at St. James' Church at 9 o'clock. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

DOWLING—Suddenly, on Thursday afternoon, November 17, 1927, at 2:45 p. m., at his home, 778 Franklin avenue, Woodlawn, Pa., JAMES F. DOWLING, beloved husband of Mary J. Dowling.

Funeral from his late home, Monday, November 21, at 9:30 a. m. Requiem high mass at St. Titus Roman Catholic Church, at 10 o'clock. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend. nIterment later at Monongahela Cemetery, Braddock, Pa.

SHIELDS—On Friday, November 18, 1927, at 1:40 p. m., at his residence 812 Anaheim street, JOHN E. SHIELDS, husband of the late Mary Luther Shields and mother of Harry P., Eleanor M. and Millberg A. Shields.

Funeral on Monday, November 21. High mass of requiem at St. Richard's Church at 8 o'clock. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend. Interment in St. Michael's Cemetery, Loretta, Pa. Please omit flowers.

[Johnstown and Altoona (Pa.) papers please copy.]

The Sun-Telegraph
Evening and Sunday Morning
Evening Issue Combining the PITTSBURGH CHRONICLE TELEGRAPH and PITTSBURGH SUN
Sunday Morning Issue Combining
PITTSBURGH SUNDAY GAZETTE TIMES and PITTSBURGH SUNDAY POST PUBLICATION BUILDING
GAZETTE SQUARE, PITTSBURGH, PA.
DOWNTOWN OFFICE
601 LIBERTY AVENUE
For Classified Ads only
Telephone Grant 5400
All Other Departments Grant 6000

Transient Rates for Classified Advertising
Daily or Sunday
Cash Rates

[illegible] a word, minimum price [illegible]. 3 consecutive times [illegible] a word each insertion. Minimum charge $1.44 for 3 times. Situations wanted [illegible] per word [illegible] minimum [illegible]. Seven consecutive days for the price of six.

Charge Rates

[illegible] a line, minimum charge [illegible]. 3 consecutive times, [illegible] a line each insertion. Minimum charge $1.50. Average 6 words to the line. Personals, male and female help special. Cash rate—One time, [illegible] per line; three consecutive times, [illegible] per line. Charge rate—One time, [illegible] per line; three consecutive times, [illegible] per line. Card of thanks, church announcements, deaths, memoriams, births and marriage notices [illegible] per word; minimum $1.

Advertisers, if they desire, may have answers to advertisements come to this office; count cost of five words for address.

If replies to advertisements have to be mailed outside of the city only send [illegible] for postage.

Telephone or mail orders to discontinue or change "Til Forbid" advertisements should be confirmed by letter.

The Sun-Telegraph will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of an advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Advertisers should ask for and retain receipt of payment of classified ads, as mistakes cannot be rectified without them.

The publisher reserves the right to reject any advertising deemed objectionable.

Branch Offices.

Downtown, 601 Liberty Avenue.
East End, 6122 Center Avenue, near Penn.
Homewood, 540 Homewood Avenue.
Brookline, [illegible] Avenue.
Oakland, 3806 Forbes Street.
South Side, 1310 Carson Street.
Hill Top, 322 Warrington Avenue.
Brookline, 914 Brookline Boulevard.
North Side, 720 Federal Street.
North Side, [illegible] Federal Street.
North Side, [illegible] Federal Street.
North Side, [illegible] Avenue.
North Side, [illegible] Avenue.
North Side, [illegible].
Aspinwall, [illegible] Street.
Braddock, [illegible] Avenue.
Carrick, [illegible] Road.
Crafton, 53 Station Street.
Dormont, 1524 Potomac Avenue.
Etna, 2 Prospect Street.
Millvale, 622 Grant Avenue.
McKees Rocks, [illegible] Avenue.
McKeesport, 120 Fifth Avenue.
Sharpsburg, [illegible] Main Street.
Swissvale, [illegible] Edgewood Street.
Wilkinsburg, 624 Rebecca Street.
Wilkinsburg, 1020 Wood Street.

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—On Thursday on Penna. R. R. train No. 13, westbound, due Pgh. 1:50 p. m., between Johnstown and Pgh., a large red legal folder containing a number of insurance policies; liberal reward to finder.
Phone Hazel 1017.

SUPPOSED to be lost, valuable platinum and diamond pin, containing 3 large diamonds. Substantial reward if returned to manager, Hotel Schenley.

ENGLISH setter lost, female, black and white, near Long View Farms; $25 reward. Joe Abbott, 3052 Perrysville ave. Cedar 1729.

LARGE brown leather hand bag, Friday evening, 9 o'clock, on Fifth ave., between Craig and Maryland; reward. Call Mayflower [illegible], Apartment [illegible].

LOST—Diamond bar pin, on November 17, downtown district, Kaufmann's, Donahoe's or Charleroi car; reward. Please call Grant 1348.

LOST—Diamond platinum bar pin, between Oakland and Murdock, or on Point Breeze bus, valued as a gift; reward. Schenley 3127.

LOST—Diamond bow-knot pin, between Mt. Oliver and Sylvia Mesque, Thursday evening; reward. Lafayette 5106.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

WANTED.

Male Help.

WANTED — Electric arc-welder operator. Apply J. A. McGinley, Witherow Steel Corporation, Neville Island, Pa.

ROUTE FOREMAN and solicitor for laundry and cleaning company; must have experience. Write S 214, Sun-Telegraph.

SALESMAN—To sell well known Utopia yarns in Pittsburgh and vicinity; other territories open; commission. Utopia Yarns, Inc., 37 W. Third st., New York City.

WANTED — Foreman to take charge of brass foundry. State age, experience and salary expected. Write J 117, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Male Help Special.

MONEY for you at home; men and women can earn $15 to $25 a week in spare time writing showcards; no canvassing or soliciting; we instruct you and supply you with work; write today. The Menhenitt Co., Ltd., 129 Dominion bldg., Toronto, Can.

FIREMEN, Brakemen, beginners $200 monthly; also clerks. Railway, E 211, Sun-Telegraph.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Female Help.

GIRL for general housework. Lehigh 4778, after 11 o'clock on Sunday.

GIRL for general housework; no washing. 565 S. Pacific ave.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Female Help Special.

LADIES—Reputable manufacturer offers you opportunity to make extra money spare time, experience unnecessary; no selling. World Mfg. Co., 346 Sixth ave., New York.

Male and Female Help.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT MONEY! CALL NOSSOKOFF'S BARBER, HAIRDRESSING, MANICURING SCHOOL. ESTABLISHED 1894. GRANT 7771. 1202-04 PENN AVE. $8.00 ONLY. NESTLE LANOIL PERMANENT WAVE BY EXPERTS.

Houses and Apartments.

WANTED—Apartment or small house, 5 or 6 rooms, furnished, by responsible family of 4 adults, in Wilkinsburg; must be reasonable and near station, from December 1 to May 1. Write D 210, 1020 Wood st., Wilkinsburg.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

WANTED.

Situations Male.

YOUNG MAN of 24, possessing good health, habits and personality, desires employment with manufacturing concern; has high school and three years' technical college education, which was terminated so that same could be followed along line of daytime employment. Write L 117, Sun-Telegraph.

COLORED housecleaners—Bath rooms, $2.50; kitchens, $3.50; wall paper, $2 room; wall washing, [illegible], automobile washers, dishwashers, porters. Phone Atlantic 2787. Imperial.

MAN caretaker for bachelor or two men; can also drive car. Write L 17, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Situations Female.

BOOKKEEPER and stenographer, with 12 years' experience, wants position; reliable, and can furnish references. Write K 111, Sun-Telegraph.

COLORED housecleaners, men and women cleaners, house girls, cooks, maids, part time workers. Phone Atlantic 2787. Imperial.

LAUNDRESS wants washing to take home. Call Cedar 2182.

POSITION wanted as saleslady in hosiery, millinery or glove departments by young woman with several years' experience, also experienced in elevator operating; best references. Phone McKeesport 25590.

RELIABLE colored woman with reference wants part time work. Franklin 3552-M.

UNDERGRADUATE nurse desires position in private family; good references. Ambridge 881-W.

WANTED—4 days work. 146 Mayflower st. Hiland 4777-W.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Houses and Lots.

PROPERTY WANTED

We have hundreds of cash buyers for real estate, large or small; many have taken advantage of our system, why not you; list your property at once; call, write or phone.
C. L. SAXTON CO.,
Union Bank Bldg. Court 1443.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Boarders.

5825 BAUM BLVD.—Elegant high-class rooms, with or without private bath; good home cooking. Hiland 2960.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Business Service.

PLATE GLASS INSURANCE

See us for low rates on plate glass insurance; write or phone; a representative will call.
C. L. SAXTON COMPANY
Union Bank Bldg. Court 1443.

PROTECT the Paint—Automobiles SIMONIZED. Day and night service. Phone Hazel 9145-R.

ACME Window Shade Cleaning Co. Give all kinds of shade service. Fairfax 7795.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Schools and Instructions.

THEATER PIPE ORGAN

Taught by organist in theater, for beginners; reasonable rate; organ available for practice. Call Hazel 4042.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Transfer and Storage.

WE start on Saturday or Monday, one load to New York or points east. Phone Atlantic 2334, or Mayflower 1121.

Coal—Wood.

STOCK UP FOR WINTER
FURNACE COAL, $4.00.
SCREEN COAL, $4.50.
LUMP COAL, $5.00.
312 AMMON ST., HOMESTEAD, PA.
Homestead 0800—Eve. 1263

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Dressmakers.

CHILDREN'S sewing, wanted, layettes a specialty; all kinds of fine handwork done. Call Hazel 4737-J.

PLAIN sewing; reasonable. 144 Spencer ave., Carrick. Carrick 1903-R.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Landscaper and Gardener.

TREES, shrubs, vines, barbery hedge, hybrid rhododendrons supplied and planted; trees pruned and sprayed; trees removed, new lawns, soil, cow manure, stone for rockery and wall planting; prices reasonable. 640 Bayne ave., Bellevue. Linden 6743.

FOR RENT.

Furnished Rooms.

AT SHADY AVE., 431—Large room; one or two business people. Montrose 7429.

ATTRACTIVE room in cozy home; board if desired. Lafayette 6983.

BEECHVIEW—Furnished room, next to bath; lady preferred; reference. Call Lehigh 4498-M.

COMFORTABLY furnished large rooms, newly decorated; free parking. Hiland 6162.

ELEGANT, beautiful rooms, with or without private shower bath; meals. Hiland 2961.

ELLSWORTH AVE., 5220—Well furnished room, also room, private bath. Mayflower 3124.

MARGARETTA ST., 5716—Furnished room, all conveniences, hot water heat, $25 month.

MEADE ST., 7235, E. E.—Two housekeeping rooms, sink, furnace; 75 car, trains.

N. CRAIG ST.—Room next to bath, gentleman, steam heat, private family. May. 4523.

PT. BREEZE—Furnished rooms, reasonable, private family. Montrose 5057.

SQUIRREL HILL—Hobart st., lovely room; telephone service, $5 weekly. Hazel 5388-R.

SUNCREST ST., 229—Newly furnished room, close to cars. Lafayette 0296-W.

TWO BUSINESS GIRLS TO SHARE COMFORTABLE STEAM-HEATED APARTMENT WITH GIRL EMPLOYED; EVERY CONVENIENCE; BOARD IF DESIRED; REASONABLE; SQUIRREL HILL DISTRICT. PHONE HAZEL 2557-J AFTER 6 P. M.

WILL rent lovely room with single beds to two business girls in comfortable steam heated apartment in Squirrel Hill; board optional. Call Hazel 2557-J after 6 p. m.

Unfurnished Rooms.

ELLSMERE ST., 7545, Swissvale—Two unfurnished rooms, heat and light; $25.

HEMLOCK ST., 614, Avalon—Four rooms second floor; bath and laundry; Protestants; adults only.

N. S.—Three rooms, bath; all conveniences; newly papered, painted; light and heat; $35 month. Cedar 4775.

PERRYSVILLE AVE., 3018—Four rooms, private bath, $30. Apply 3 to 6 p. m. Court 9024.

TROY HILL—3 rooms, first floor, with all conveniences. Call Cedar 5403.

City and Suburban.

522 CAMPBELL ST., WILKINSBURG.

Tenant wishes to vacate 6-room modern house; excellent condition; coal furnace; good location; handy to street cars; eight minutes to station; $58.50 per month. Phone Franklin 0867-J.

East End Houses.

938 ST. JAMES ST., near Fifth ave.—Separate house, 4 rooms, yard; immediate possession, $35.
S. H. LLOYD, 515 Highland Bldg.

North Side Houses.

Brighton Road Duplexes.

Only a few left; located 3800 block, near Benton ave.; 6 rooms, bath, kelvinator, hot water heat, garage. Open for inspection Sunday.
SCOTT & McCUNE,
Bakewell Bldg. Court 2468.

DUPLEX—5 rooms, sun parlor, bath, electric; Perrysville ave.; one month free. Lando, 531 Fourth ave., room 504. Court 4487.

FOR RENT.

Business Properties.

TWO FIREPROOF BUILDINGS

40x100, three stories high; 40x100, two stories; corner Forbes and Hooper, three squares from court house.
D. F. Shanahan
Mayflower 7800.

Furnished Apartments.

BEAUTIFUL
Haddon Hall
4750 Center Ave., Oakland.
1st and 2d Floors Reserved for Ladies
60 ROOMS FURNISHED 60 BATHS
Single room & bath, $[illegible] to $[illegible] wk.
Room for 2 & bath, $[illegible] to $[illegible] wk.
15 Beautiful well-furnished one-room and kitchenette Apartments, $[illegible] to $[illegible].
Mayflower 4814.
Hotel service.

ELEGANTLY FURNISHED
3-Room Apartment
IN THE RUSKIN

for three months or longer at reduced rental. Inquire of Mrs. Morgan, Mayflower 1500.

INGRAM—Two apartments, completely furnished; modern, gas, electric, furnace heat, including garages; separate baths; second floor suitable for two to four adults, $60; first floor suitable for two to three adults, $50; both $100; unusually favorable conditions; must be seen to be appreciated; vacant; see any time. 216 Noll ave. Walnut 2180-J.

HOUSEKEEPING SUITE.

Thomas blvd., 7100—Living room, bedroom, kitchenette and bath furnished apartment, on second floor, on motor bus line, two minutes to trolley and trains; private entrance; adults only. Mayflower 7520.

FIVE-ROOM FURNISHED APARTMENT, STEAM HEATED; EVERY CONVENIENCE; BEST DISTRICT ON SQUIRREL HILL; TO MAY 1 OR LONGER; VERY REASONABLE. WRITE D 120, SUN-TELEGRAPH, OR CALL HAZEL 2557-J.

LOUTELLUS APT. HOTEL.

245 Melwood ave.; 1-2-3-room modern efficient kitchenette apartments; finest in the city; superior service. Schenley 7100.

NEAR North Cedar ave., 4-room furnished apartments; private bath; $17.50 weekly.
J. C. NOCK,
607 Sandusky st. Fairfax 7949.

BELLEFIELD DWELLINGS, 4400 Center ave.—Four-room apartment, completely furnished; nothing better; for rent December 1 to May 1. Call Mayflower 9277.

HANDSOMELY furnished 6-room apt., modern conveniences, rent reasonable, from December until May. Call Mayflower 3251.

SCHENLEY HEIGHTS—3-rm. apt., very attractively furnished; 1st fl. Mayflower 3554.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Apartments—Flats.

$70—Heat, Hot Water Included.
Rent—Modern Apt.
5 rooms, bath; fine order. Alma Apt. Building, California Ave., Avalon, that our rent list.
COMMONWEALTH REAL ESTATE CO.
Commonwealth Bldg., Fourth Ave.

OAKLAND.

Near Forbes st.; modern, 6 rooms, tile bath, hardwood floors, porch screens, awnings, hot water heat second floor; 215 McKee place; immediate possession. Apply owner, J. Friedman, telephone Grant 2948, 1525 Fifth ave.

DUPLEX apartment, modern, 6 rooms and bath, $56.00; Nov. rent free. 1271 Duquesne ave.
R. E. WEILL,
Real Estate Dept., Philadelphia Co.

TRENTON AVE., 704—Two five-room apts., shower bath, frigidaire, heat included; all up to date; $80. Also two store rooms, 717 Trenton ave. Franklin 6705.

WINTON ST., near Lafayette telephone exchange, South Hills, best car service, four rooms, bath, private apartment (very desirable), on second floor; furnace warmth heat. Phone Lehigh 6948.

FOUR ROOMS, bath, near cars and trains; 20 minutes to town; November rent free. Walnut 0858-J.

APARTMENT—5 rooms, bath, large pantry, private hall; cheap rent. Franklin 8008-M.

PERRYSVILLE DIST., 3362 Portola ave.—Modern, 6 rms., sun parlor, bath. Fair. 7894.

3 CONNECTING rms., porch, use telephone, laundry; nr. train, trolley. Franklin 8871-W.

5-ROOM apartment, $65.00; Wendover st. Call Hazel 4265-R after 6 p. m.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Furnished Houses.

LEAVING FOR EUROPE—Will rent my 6-room home in Dormont, from Nov. 29 to April 1st, completely furnished; references exchanged. For appointment call Hiland 9494.

SQUIRREL HILL—Modern house, 5 rooms and sun parlor; one block from cars; gentiles only. Call Hazel 0039 after 7 p. m.

MT. LEBANON—Well furnished home to let for several months. Phone Lehigh 3094-J.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Business Properties.

OAKLAND DISTRICT.

Rooming house property at reasonable rental; two modern houses consisting of 11 rooms, bath and laundry each; possession arranged. May be rented together or singly.
Fidelity Title and Trust Co.,
341-3 4th Ave. Court 0264.

Offices and Desk Space.

CHOICE cheerful offices, complete service; moderate rental. Atlantic 4870.

FOR SALE.

Mortgage Loans.

BANKERS TO THE PEOPLE

We offer builders or home buyers a complete line of financing on favorable terms:
CONSTRUCTION LOANS.
FIRST MORTGAGES.
JUNIOR MORTGAGES.
We finance you from start to finish.
Eugene S. Reilly & Co.,
430-432 Fourth Ave., Ground Floor.
Court 5500.

5½% MONEY (unlimited) long terms; also building and loan funds. H. R. ROBERTS, 339 Fifth ave. Atlantic 2678. Evenings, Walnut 3007.

MORTGAGE money waiting; no appraisal fee. Henry Macdonald, Broker, Room 184, Monongahela House. Phone nights.

QUICK LOANS—Heirs to estates, first, second mortgages. Box 796, Pittsburgh.

Business Opportunities.

DRUG STORE FOR SALE.

Central Pennsylvania store, steadily increasing business; hustler can run cash sales to $30,000 yearly easily; value thirteen thousand; spot cash price, eleven thousand; terms can be arranged for; worth investigation; good town; fine stock; best store; if you mean business write T 211, Sun-Telegraph.

McKEESPORT, PA.—For Rent: Basement suitable for restaurant, in new four-story office building, to be completed in 30 days; corner Fifth ave. and Sinclair st.; busiest corner in city; large kitchen and dining room; steam heat, elevator service and two stairways. Write Morris Farkas, 811 Grant st., McKeesport, or phone McKeesport 5439.

M'KEESPORT, PA.—For Rent: Store room in new four-story office building, to be completed in 30 days. Best location in city; corner Fifth ave. and Sinclair st.; size 17½x68 ft.; six large display windows; steam heat. Write Morris Farkas, 811 Grant st., McKeesport, or phone McKeesport 5439.

FOR RENT.

Business Properties.

FOR SALE.

Miscellaneous.

WHOLESALE PRICE TO YOU
PLUMBING HEATING
TINNING
ROOFING
MATERIALS PAINTS
STOVES
SEPTIC TANKS
CATALOG ON REQUEST.
BURKE (4) BROS.
"THE HOUSE OF A MILLION ITEMS."
433 LIBERTY AVE.
Look for the Sign of the Faucet.

PLUMBING & HEATING
"WHOLESALE PRICES TO YOU."
BOILERS
RADIATORS
HEATING SYSTEMS COMPLETE
FULL LINE FIXTURES
PLUMBING AND REPAIRS
CHAS. A. BRUCE CO.,
1016 MARKET ST. COURT 1821.
PITTSBURGH, PA.
ASK FOR OUR NEW PRICE CATALOGUE

FURNACES.

Selling out 2 car loads of furnaces, retail at wholesale prices, on account of having to move from warehouse. Inquire 1233 Pennsylvania ave., N. S.

FOR SALE—Fancy diamond solitaire ring, diamond shape cut; mounted in platinum; must sacrifice for cash; value $1,000; price $[illegible]. Write J 17, Pittsburgh Sun-Tele.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Wearing Apparel.

FUR COATS $50 UP.
PAY AS YOU WEAR.
Room 501, 239 Fifth ave.

GENTLEMAN'S overcoats and suits, manufacturers' samples, one-of-a-kind; styles and sizes for all; you save practically half at my office. O'Neil, 3614 Fifth ave., Oakland. Open evenings and Sundays.

SECOND-HAND men's clothes, bought, sold. 106 E. S. Diamond. Fairfax 2111.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Household Furniture.

Extraordinary Furniture Bargain

Beautiful mohair suite, walnut dining and bedroom suites, radio, victrola and other apartment contents, not 3 weeks old. Fairfax 8552.

$300 MOHAIR SUITE, $98.

Brand new 3-piece, perfect condition. R. R. Storage, 324 Liberty ave.

BLUE and nickel coal and gas combination stove, coal part never used; cost $165, sacrifice for $25. Hazel 8039-J.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Horses and Live Stock.

TWO horses, one double wagon harness, $275. Phone Fairfax 4027.

MENTION THE SUN-TELEGRAPH WHEN ANSWERING ADVERTISEMENTS.

PERSONALS.

LONELY HEARTS join our club; the world's greatest social extension bureau; we have a companion or sweetheart for you; correspondence everywhere; many worth $5,000 to $50,000; photos, descriptions and introductions free. Send no money. Standard Corr. Club, Grayslake, Ill.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR,

Permanently removed without electric needle or depilatory; dial 10 to 5. La France Method. 303 Nixon Bldg. Atlantic 5251.

VIRGINIA GRAFTON—Scalp treatment, violet ray. 600 Federal st., Liberty apartments, Diamond st.; entrance Apt. 4.

MARIE WARNER, manicuring, scalp treatments. 147 Washington pl., second floor. Grant 5654.

AMERICAN watches cleaned and repaired, $2.50; Swiss, $3.00; guaranteed. Jobe, 401 Keenan Bldg.

FOR that perfect manicure try "Eveline." Cedar 5018. 948 Western ave.

AUTOMOBILES.

Need Money?

WE REFINANCE UNPAID BALANCES.
WE BUY FOR CASH.
WE FINANCE INDIVIDUAL OWNERS WITH CLEAR TITLES.
AUTOMOBILES
No interference with present use
ROOM 409, NIXON THEATER BLDG.
Atlantic 6025

PACKARD 8 ROADSTER

Late model, rumble seat, finished in duco; equipped with 4-wheel brakes; Hoodye shock absorbers, 5 Firestone balloon tires; bullet type headlight, winter top inclosure; a real bargain. Inquire
GREENWALD AUTO CO.,
721 Sixth ave. New Kensington 670.

MARMONS.

1922 Marmon, 4-pass. coupe, first class condition, $700.
Marmon, 1923 sport touring, $450.
F. A. ERNY, FRANKLIN AGENCY,
2040 West Liberty ave.

LIGHT SIX STUDEBAKER—Good running order, good tires, $50. Hazel 6627-J.

OFFICIAL MISCELLANEOUS.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS
CITY OF PITTSBURGH

Appeals from the assessment on property in the Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth wards, for the year 1928, will be heard at the office of the Board of Assessors, room 501 City-County Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., on November 21, 22 and 23, from 9:30 a. m. until 5 p. m.
BOARD OF ASSESSORS

LEGAL NOTICES.

KIVIE WOLFE, Attorney-at-Law,
508 Grant st.

Notice that letters of administration on the estate of William Hunt, deceased, late of Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, having been granted, all persons indebted to said estate are to make payment, those having claims will make them known to
W. P. BERGER, Administrator,
Care Register of Wills Office,
City-County Bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa.

HENRY G. MEYER, Attorney-at-Law,
304 Frick Bldg.

Notice that letters of administration on the estate of Annie Johnson (widow), deceased, late of Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, having been granted, all persons indebted to said estate are to make payment, those having claims will make them known to MARION DAVIS, Administratrix,
6323 Shakespeare st., Pittsburgh, Pa.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:
My wife, Edith F. Remy, having left my bed and board, I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by her.
CARL J. REMY,
Crafton Heights,
Twenty-eighth Ward, Pittsburgh, Pa.

LEGAL NOTICES

LANGFITT & LANGFITT,
Attorneys-at-Law,
Berger Bldg.,
Pittsburgh, Pa.
SALE OF AUTOMOBILE FOR STORAGE AND REPAIRS.

Pursuant to an order of Court of the Common Pleas, Allegheny County, Pa., at No. [illegible] January Term, 1928, H. Mervis will expose to public sale at his place of business, [illegible] Braddock ave., Braddock, Pa., two White trucks, 1921, No. [illegible], Engine No. [illegible] and 1922, No. [illegible], Engine No. [illegible], the property of the [illegible] Tile Company, Bell ave., North Braddock, Pa., for storage and repairs, amounting to $[illegible], together with the costs of this proceeding.
Terms of Sale—Cash on delivery of trucks.
H. MERVIS,
Petitioner.

JOHN H. SORG, Attorney-at-Law,
No. 801 Commonwealth Building,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary on the estate of Mary Elizabeth Rehm, deceased, late of Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, have been granted to the undersigned, to whom all persons indebted to said estate are to make immediate payment, those having claims or demands against same will make them known without delay.
JOHN H. SORG, Executor,
801 Commonwealth Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

W. F. STADTLANDER, Attorney-at-Law,
No. 102 Frick Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Notice is hereby given that letters of administration c. t. a. on the estate of J. F. Minto and also known as J. Francis Minto, deceased, late of Sharpsburg, Allegheny county, have been granted to the undersigned, to whom all persons indebted to said estate are to make immediate payment, those having claims or demands against same will make them known without delay.
MINNIE MINTO,
Administratrix C. T. A.
[illegible] South Main street, Sharpsburg, Pa.

DUFF, MARSHALL & DAVIS,
Attorneys-at-Law,
Union Trust Bldg.

Notice is hereby given that letters of administration C. T. A. on the estate of L. E. Love, deceased, late of Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, have been granted to the undersigned, to whom all persons indebted to said estate will make immediate payment, those having claims or demands against same will make them known without delay.
OLIVIA LOVE,
Administratrix C. T. A.
[illegible] Walnut st., Pittsburgh, Pa.

CHARLES D. GILLESPIE,
No. 134 Fourth ave.

Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary on the estate of Mrs. Nellie O'Connor, widow, deceased, late of Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, have been granted to the undersigned, to whom all persons indebted to said estate are to make immediate payment, those having claims or demands against same will make them known without delay.
REV. LAW. A. O'CONNELL,
Executor.
1018 Epiphany st., Pittsburgh, Pa.

JAS. F. KANE, Attorney-at-Law,
607 Jones Law Bldg.

Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary on the estate of John J. Reilly, deceased, late of Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, have been granted to the undersigned, to whom all persons indebted to said estate are to make immediate payment, those having claims or demands against same will make them known without delay.
MARY L. REILLY (Mary Reilly),
Executrix.
7120 Hermitage st., Pittsburgh, Pa.

M'KENNA & M'KENNA, Attorneys-at-Law,
Frick Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary on the estate of Mary E. Pender, deceased, late of Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, have been granted to the undersigned, to whom all persons indebted to said estate are to make immediate payment, those having claims or demands against same will make them known without delay.
FRANK J. PENDER,
GERTRUDE PENDER,
Executors.
314 Willard avenue, Crafton, Pa.

ANTHONY LUCAS, Attorney-at-Law,
Bakewell Bldg.

Notice is hereby given that letters of administration on the estate of Marko Basic, deceased, late of Etna, Allegheny county, have been granted to the undersigned, to whom all persons indebted to said estate are to make immediate payment, those having claims or demands against same will make them known without delay.
AMERICAN STATE BANK AND TRUST COMPANY, Administrator,
Grant st., Pittsburgh, Pa.

CALVERT, THOMPSON & BERGER,
Attorneys-at-Law,
Oliver Building.

Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary on the estate of Mary E. Succop, deceased, late of Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, have been granted to the undersigned, to whom all persons indebted to said estate are to make immediate payment, those having claims or demands against same will make them known without delay.
MARIE J. SUCCOP, Executrix,
245 South Graham st., Pittsburgh, Pa.

WILLIAM A. JORDAN, Attorney-at-Law,
1114 Park Bldg.

Notice is hereby given that letters of administration on the estate of Albert J. Bowers, deceased, late of Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, have been granted to the undersigned, to whom all persons indebted to said estate are to make immediate payment, those having claims or demands against same will make them known without delay.
FIDELITY TITLE & TRUST CO.,
Executor
341 Fourth ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.

ALBERT C. HIRSCH, Attorney-at-Law,
66 St. Nicholas Bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary on the estate of John Bender, deceased, late of Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, have been granted to the undersigned, to whom all persons indebted to said estate are to make immediate payment, those having claims or demands against same will make them known without delay.
PAULINE SHISSLER, Executrix,
5462 Broad st.,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

JOSEPH N. HUSTON, Attorney-at-Law,
No. 1513 Berger Bldg.

Notice is hereby given that letters of administration on the estate of John C. Broadfoot, deceased, late of Swissvale, Allegheny county, have been granted to the undersigned, to whom all persons indebted to said estate are to make immediate payment, those having claims or demands against same will make them known without delay.
HOWARD C. KIFER, Administrator.
Pitcairn, Pa.

GEORGE E. FLACCUS, Attorney-at-Law,
1006 Berger Bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary on the estate of John Koebert, also known as John Kobert, Jr., deceased, late of Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, have been granted to the undersigned, to whom all persons indebted to said estate are to make immediate payment, those having claims or demands against same will make them known without delay.
FRANK E. KOEBERT, Executor,
615 Mellon st., Pittsburgh, Pa.

R. B. IVORY, Attorney-at-Law,
No. 1511 Union Bank Bldg.

Notice is hereby given that letters of administration on the estate of Edwin D. Ivory, deceased, late of Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, have been granted to the undersigned, to whom all persons indebted to said estate are to make immediate payment, those having claims or demands against same will make them known without delay.
R. B. IVORY, Administrator,
1511 Union Bank Bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa.

C. E. PRUGER, 511 Union Trust Bldg.,
A. L. ASHBY, 215 N. Dallas ave.,
Attorneys-at-Law.

Notice is hereby given that letters of administration on the estate of William Shapiro, deceased, late of East Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, have been granted to the undersigned, to whom all persons indebted to said estate are to make immediate payment, those having claims or demands against same will make them known without delay.
HARRY GOLDFARB, Administrator,
819 Braddock ave., East Pittsburgh, Pa.

CALHOUN & CALHOUN,
Attorneys-at-Law,
524 Fourth ave.

Notice that letters testamentary on the estate of Mrs. Anna Sundstrom, deceased, late of McKeesport, Allegheny county, having been granted, all persons indebted to said estate are to make payment, those having claims will make them known to ALICE SUNDSTROM,
Executrix,
2014 Garbett ave., McKeesport, Pa.

NOTICE is hereby given that letters testamentary on the estate of Ida Anderson Lockhart, deceased, late of Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, have been granted to the undersigned, to whom all persons indebted to said estate are to make immediate payment, those having claims or demands against same will make them known without delay.
MISS IDA A. LOCKHART,
Executrix,
1308 N. Sheridan ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.

LOUIS & GEORGE LITTLE, Attorneys-at-Law, Wylie and Fifth aves. Notice that letters of administration on the estate of Mary Buzzelli, deceased, Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, having been granted, all persons indebted to said estate are to make payment, those having claims will make them known to Anna Buzzelli, administratrix, 432 Pearl st., Pittsburgh, Pa.

OFFICIAL—PITTSBURGH

NOTICE is hereby given that ordinance, copy of which is published herewith, was introduced in the Council of the City of Pittsburgh on October 10, 1927, pursuant to the provisions of the several Acts of Assembly authorizing said City, without any petition of property owners, to open, widen, straighten, extend, vacate, grade, pave, curb, macadamize and otherwise improve streets and alleys, or parts thereof, within its limits, viz:

BILL No. 4841.

An Ordinance widening Berry street, in the Twenty-eighth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, from Condor way to Sanborn street and providing that the costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby be assessed against and collected.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That Berry street, in the Twenty-eighth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, from Condor way to Sanborn street be and the same is hereby widened by taking for public use for highway purposes all of the following described property, to-wit:

Beginning at a point on the southerly line of Berry street and the westerly line of Condor way as laid out in the Pittsburgh Realty Company Ideal Place No. 1 recorded in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County in Plan Book Volume 19, Page 124; thence south 18° 18' [illegible]" east along the westerly line of Condor way for the distance of 1.71 feet to a point; thence south 71° 21' [illegible]" west parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 2.61 feet southwardly from the southerly line of Berry street for the distance of 94.54 feet to a point of curve; thence by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left in a southwesterly direction having a radius of 7.34 feet and a central angle of [illegible]° 21' [illegible]" for the distance of 13.17 feet to a point of tangent on the easterly line of Sanborn street; thence north 18° 18' [illegible]" west along the easterly line of Sanborn street for the distance of 11.89 feet to the southerly line of said Berry street; then north 71° 21' [illegible]" east along the southerly line of Berry street for the distance of 104.16 feet to the westerly line of Condor way, the place of beginning.

Section 2. The Department of Public Works is hereby authorized and directed to cause said Berry street, in the Twenty-eighth Ward, from Condor way to Sanborn street to be widened in conformity with the provisions of Section 1 of this ordinance.

Section 3. The costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby and the benefits to pay the same shall be assessed against and collected from properties benefited thereby in accordance with the provisions of the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating thereto and regulating the same.

Section 4. That any ordinance or part of ordinance, conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this ordinance.

NOTICE is hereby given that ordinance, copy of which is published herewith, was introduced in Council of the City of Pittsburgh on July 25, 1927, pursuant to the provisions of the several Acts of Assembly authorizing said City, without any petition of property owners, to open, widen, straighten, extend, vacate, grade, pave, curb, macadamize and otherwise improve streets and alleys or parts thereof, within its limits, viz:

BILL NO. 4147.

An ordinance authorizing and directing the grading, paving and curbing of Bijou way, from Bay Tree avenue to Bonvue street, letting a contract therefor, and providing that the costs, damages and expenses of the same be assessed against and collected from property specially benefited thereby.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, that Bijou way, from Bay Tree avenue to Bonvue street, be graded, paved and curbed.

Section 2. The Mayor and the Director of the Department of Public Works are hereby authorized and directed to advertise, in accordance with the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the ordinances of the said City of Pittsburgh relating thereto and regulating the same, for proposals for the grading, paving and curbing of said street between said points, the contract or contracts therefor to be let in the manner directed by the said Acts of Assembly and ordinances; and the contract price or contract prices, if let in separate contracts, not to exceed the total sum of Three Thousand Five Hundred ($3,500.00) Dollars, which is the estimate of the whole costs as furnished by the Department of Public Works.

Section 3. The costs, damages and expenses of the same shall be assessed against and collected from properties specially benefited thereby, in accordance with the provisions of the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating thereto and regulating the same.

Section 4. That any ordinance or part of ordinance, conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed so far as the same affects this ordinance.

NOTICE is hereby given that ordinances, copies of which are published herewith, were introduced in the Council of the City of Pittsburgh on October 31, 1927, pursuant to the provisions of the several Acts of Assembly authorizing said City, without any petition of property owners, to open, widen, straighten, extend, vacate, grade, pave, curb, macadamize and otherwise improve streets and alleys, or parts thereof, within its limits, viz:

BILL NO. 5036.

An ordinance opening Snow way, from Martha street to the northerly property line of L. Vilsack's Plan of Lots and from Vilsack street to the northerly property line of A. W. Bell et al and providing that the costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby be assessed against and collected from properties benefited thereby.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, that Snow way, from Martha street to the northerly property line of L. Vilsack's Plan of Lots and from Vilsack street to the northerly property line of A. W. Bell et al be and the same is hereby opened to a width of 20.0 feet by taking for public use for highway purposes all of the property within the lines as hereinafter described, to-wit:

The westerly line from Martha street southwardly to the northerly property line of L. Vilsack's Plan of Lots as recorded in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County in Plan Book Volume 24, page 42, shall be parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 100 feet eastwardly from the easterly line of Morningside avenue.

The easterly line shall be parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 20 feet eastwardly from the above described westerly line.

The westerly line from the southerly line of Vilsack street as laid out in L. Vilsack's Plan of Lots and recorded in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County in Plan Book Volume 24, page 42, southwardly to the northerly property line now or late of A. W. Bell et al, distant 22.10 feet northwardly from the northerly line of Bryant street shall be parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 100 feet eastwardly from the easterly line of Morningside avenue.

The easterly line shall be parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 20 feet eastwardly from the above described westerly line.

Section 2. The Department of Public Works is hereby authorized and directed to cause said Snow way, from Martha street to the northerly property line of L. Vilsack's Plan of Lots and from Vilsack street to the northerly property line of A. W. Bell et al to be opened in conformity with provisions of Section 1 of this ordinance.

Section 3. The costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby and the benefits to pay the same shall be assessed against and collected from properties benefited thereby in accordance with the provisions of the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating thereto and regulating the same.

Section 4. That any ordinance or part of ordinance conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this ordinance.

BILL No. 5037.

AN ORDINANCE opening Swan way from the southerly property line of Samuel Garrison's Plan of Lots to the northerly property line of L. Vilsack's Plan of Lots and from Vilsack street to the northerly line of A. W. Bell et al and providing that the costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby be assessed against and collected from properties benefited thereby.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That Swan way, from the southerly property line of Samuel Garrison's Plan of Lots to the northerly property line of L. Vilsack's Plan of Lots and from Vilsack street to the northerly property line of A. W. Bell et al be and the same is hereby opened to a width of 20 feet by taking for public use for highway purposes all of the property within the lines as hereinafter described, towit:

The westerly line from the southerly property line of Samuel Garrison's Plan of Lots as recorded in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County in Plan Book Volume 4, page 168, southwardly to the northerly property line of L. Vilsack's Plan of Lots as recorded in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County in Plan Book Volume 24, page 42, shall be parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 100 feet eastwardly from the easterly line of Janney street.

The easterly line shall be parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 20 feet eastwardly from the above described westerly line.

The westerly line from the southerly line of Vilsack street as laid out in L. Vilsack's Plan of Lots as recorded in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County in Plan Book Volume 24, page 42, southwardly to the northerly property line now or late of A. W. Bell et al distant 22 feet northwardly from the northerly line of Bryant street shall be parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 100 feet eastwardly from the easterly line of Janney street.

The easterly line shall be parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 20 feet eastwardly from the above described westerly line.

Section 2. The Department of Public Works is hereby authorized and directed to cause said Swan way, from the southerly property line of Samuel Garrison's Plan of Lots to the northerly property line of L. Vilsack's Plan of Lots and from Vilsack street to the northerly property line of A. W. Bell et al to be opened in conformity with the provisions of Section 1 of this ordinance.

Section 3. The costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby and the benefits to pay the same shall be assessed against and collected from properties benefited thereby in accordance with the provisions of the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating thereto and regulating the same.

Section 4. That any ordinance or part of ordinance, conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this ordinance.

NOTICE is hereby given that ordinances, copies of which are published herewith, were introduced in the Council of the City of Pittsburgh on November 14, 1927, pursuant to the provisions of the several acts of Assembly authorizing said City, without any petition of property owners, to open, widen, straighten, extend, vacate, grade, pave, curb, macadamize and otherwise improve streets and alleys, or parts thereof, within its limits, viz:

BILL NO 5137.
AN ORDINANCE

Authorizing and directing the grading, paving and curbing of Filmore street, from Dithridge street to Bellefield avenue, letting a contract therefor; and providing that the costs, damages and expenses of the same be assessed against and collected from property specially benefited thereby.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That Filmore street, from Dithridge street to Bellefield avenue, be graded, paved and curbed.

Section 2. The Mayor and the Director of the Department of Public Works are hereby authorized and directed to advertise, in accordance with the acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the Ordinances of the said City of Pittsburgh relating thereto and regulating the same, for proposals for the grading, paving and curbing of said street between said points; the contract or contracts therefor to be let in the manner directed by the said Acts of Assembly and Ordinances; and the contract price or contract prices, if let in separate contracts, not to exceed the total sum of eight thousand two hundred ($8,200.00) dollars, which is the estimate of the whole costs as furnished by the Department of Public Works.

Section 3. The costs, damages and expenses of the same shall be assessed against and collected from properties specially benefited thereby, in accordance with the provisions of the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating thereto and regulating the same.

Section 4. That any Ordinance or part of Ordinance, conflicting with the provisions of this Ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed so far as the same affects this Ordinance.

NOTICE is hereby given that ordinance, copy of which is published herewith, was introduced in the Council of the City of Pittsburgh on November 7, 1927, pursuant to the provisions of the several acts of Assembly authorizing said City, without any petition of property owners, to open, widen, straighten, extend, vacate, grade, pave, curb, macadamize and otherwise improve streets and alleys, or parts thereof, within its limits, viz:

BILL NO. 5101.
AN ORDINANCE

Widening Fifth avenue at the intersection with Hamilton avenue in the Thirteenth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh and providing that the costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby be assessed against and collected from properties benefited thereby.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That Fifth avenue at the intersection with Hamilton avenue in the Thirteenth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh be widened to a variable width by taking for public use for highway purposes all the following described property, to-wit:

Beginning at the intersection of the easterly line of Fifth avenue with the southerly line of Hamilton avenue; thence in a southerly direction along the easterly line of Fifth avenue for the distance of 39 feet to a point, said point being on the dividing line between properties of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and that now or late of Amelia R. Speer; thence in a northeasterly direction by the line dividing the properties of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and that now or late of Amelia R. Speer for the distance of 26.24 feet to a point of curve; thence by the arc of a curve having a radius of 30 feet and a central angle of 60° 18' 35" for the distance of 31.58 feet to a point on the southerly line of Hamilton avenue; thence in a westerly direction along the southerly line of Hamilton avenue for the distance of 30.43 feet to the place of beginning.

Section 2. The Department of Public Works is hereby authorized and directed to cause said Fifth avenue, at its intersection with Hamilton avenue in the Thirteenth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, to be widened in conformity with the provisions of Section 1 of this ordinance.

Section 3. The costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby and the benefits to pay the same shall be assessed against and collected from properties benefited thereby in accordance with the provisions of the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating thereto and regulating the same.

Section 4. That any ordinance or part of ordinance, conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this ordinance.

BILL NO. 5108.
AN ORDINANCE

Authorizing and directing the grading and paving of Felbinger way, from Moyer street to Stanhope street and the construction of a storm sewer on Stanhope street, from Felbinger way to Francisco street for the drainage thereof; letting a contract therefor, and providing that the costs, damages and expenses of the same be assessed and collected from property specially benefited thereby.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That Felbinger way, from Moyer street to Stanhope street be graded and paved, and a storm sewer constructed on Stanhope street, from Felbinger way to Francisco street for the drainage thereof.

Section 2. The Mayor and the Director of the Department of Public Works are hereby authorized and directed to advertise, in accordance with the acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the ordinances of the said City of Pittsburgh relating thereto and regulating the same, for proposals for the grading and paving of said street between said points, and the construction of a storm sewer on Stanhope street, from Felbinger way to Francisco street for the drainage thereof; the contract or contracts therefor to be let in the manner directed by the said acts of Assembly and ordinances; and the contract price or contract prices, if let in separate contracts, not to exceed the total sum of six thousand three hundred ($6,300.00) dollars, which is the estimate of the whole costs as furnished by the Department of Public Works.

Section 3. The costs, damages and expenses of the same shall be assessed against and collected from properties specially benefited thereby, in accordance with the provisions of the acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating thereto and regulating the same.

Section 4. That any ordinance or part of ordinance, conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed so far as the same affects this ordinance.

NOTICE is hereby given that ordinances, copies of which are published herewith, was introduced in Council of the City of Pittsburgh, on November 14, 1927, pursuant to the provisions of the several Acts of Assembly authorizing said City, without any petition of property owners to open, widen, straighten, extend, vacate, grade, pave, curb, macadamize and otherwise improve streets and alleys, or parts thereof, within its limits, viz:

BILL No. 5146.
AN ORDINANCE

Opening Hethlon street, in the Twentieth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, from the northerly line of the Wittman Manor Plan of Lots to the easterly line of the Westwood Plan of Lots at the intersection of Denisonview avenue and Behrens way and providing that the costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby be assessed against and collected from properties benefited thereby.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That Hethlon street in the Twentieth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, from the northerly line of the Wittman Manor Plan of Lots to the easterly line of the Westwood Plan of Lots at the intersection of Denisonview avenue and Behrens way be and the same is hereby opened to a general width of 40.0 feet by taking for public use for highway purposes all of the following described property, to-wit:

Beginning at the intersection of the westerly line of Hethlon street as laid out in the Wittman Manor Plan of Lots of record in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County in Plan Book Volume 21, page 41, and the northerly line of said Wittman Manor Plan of Lots; thence extending along the westerly line of said Hethlon street produced north 19° 30' 00" east 22.53 feet to a point of curve; thence in a northerly and westerly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 10.0 feet and a central angle of 90° 00' 00" for a distance of 31.42 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 42.53 feet north of the northerly line of the said Wittman Manor Plan of Lots north 70° 30' 00" west 121.9 feet to the easterly line of the Westwood Plan of Lots of record in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County in Plan Book Volume 26, page 52, at the intersection of Denisonview avenue (formerly Denison avenue) and Behrens way as laid out in the said Westwood Plan of Lots and at the intersection of the southerly line of Denisonview avenue produced and the easterly line of said Westwood Plan of Lots; thence along the easterly line of the said Westwood Plan of Lots north 19° 30' 00" east 40.0 feet to a point; thence south 70° 30' 00" east 161.9 feet to a point; thence south 19° 30' 00" west 82.53 feet to the northerly line of the above mentioned Wittman Manor Plan of Lots; thence along the northerly line of the Wittman Manor Plan of Lots north 70° 30' 00" west 40.0 feet to the place of beginning.

Section 2. The Department of Public Works is hereby authorized and directed to cause said Hethlon street, in the Twentieth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, from the northerly line of the Wittman Manor Plan of Lots to the easterly line of the Westwood Plan of Lots at the intersection of Denisonview avenue and Behrens way to be opened in conformity with the provisions of Section 1 of this ordinance.

Section 3. The costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby and the benefits to pay the same shall be assessed against and collected from properties benefited thereby in accordance with the provisions of the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating thereto and regulating the same.

Section 4. That any ordinance or part of ordinance, conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this ordinance.

BILL No. 5153.
AN ORDINANCE

Opening Maginn avenue in the Twenty-sixth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, from Irwin avenue to Crispen street and providing that the costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby be assessed against and collected from the properties benefited thereby.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That Maginn avenue, in the Twenty-sixth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, from Irwin avenue to Crispen street shall be and the same is hereby opened to a width of 40.0 feet by taking for public use for highway purposes all of the following described property, to-wit:

Beginning on the easterly line of Irwin avenue at a point distant north 12° 47' 30" west 24.04 feet from the southerly line extended of Maginn avenue as laid out and located in the Columbia Park Plan of Lots by the City Savings Bank and recorded in the Recorder's Office in and for the County of Allegheny in Plan Book Volume 11, page 105; thence north 77° 12' 30" east and along the line dividing properties now or late of W. D. Bailey et ux and D. H. Ploesch et ux 99.79 feet to a point of curve; thence deflecting to the left by the arc of a circle having a radius of 230.0 feet and a central angle of 8° 41' 00" 34.99 feet to a point of tangent; thence north 68° 29' 30" east parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 220.0 feet southwardly from the southerly line of Sanbury street 534.60 feet to the westerly line of Crispen street; thence south 21° 30' 30" east along said westerly line of Crispen street 40.0 feet to a point; thence south 68° 29' 30" west 534.60 feet to a point of curve; thence deflecting to the right by the arc of a circle having a radius of 270.0 feet and a central angle of 8° 43' 00" 41.08 feet to a point of tangent; thence south 77° 12' 30" west 99.79 feet to the easterly line of Irwin avenue; thence north 12° 47' 30" west along said easterly line of Irwin avenue 40.0 feet to the place of beginning.

Section 2. The Director of the Department of Public Works is hereby authorized and directed to cause said Maginn avenue in the Twenty-sixth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, from Irwin avenue to Crispen street to be opened in conformity with the provisions of Section 1 of this ordinance.

Section 3. The costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby and the benefits to pay the same shall be assessed against and collected from properties benefited thereby in accordance with the provisions of the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating thereto and regulating the same.

Section 4. That any ordinance or part of ordinance, conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this ordinance.

BILL No. 5160.
AN ORDINANCE

Amending a portion of Section 2 of Ordinance No. 452, entitled, "An Ordinance authorizing and directing the grading, paving, curbing and otherwise improving of Mt. Washington Roadway, from Grandview avenue at Merrimac street, to a point about 354 ft. west of the E. line of property now or late of the Pittsburgh and Castle Shannon Railway Company, including the construction of sewers for the drainage thereof, extending to a connection with existing sewer on Sycamore street, and the laying of concrete sidewalks, and providing that the costs, damages and expenses of the same be assessed against and collected from property specially benefited thereby" which was approved September 21, 1926, so as to increase the estimate of the whole cost from four hundred forty-nine thousand ($449,000.00) dollars to four hundred ninety-two thousand ($492,000.00) dollars.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the portion of Section 2 of Ordinance No. 452, entitled, "An Ordinance authorizing and directing the grading, paving, curbing, and otherwise improving of Mt. Washington Roadway, from Grandview avenue at Merrimac street, to a point 354 ft. west of the E. line of property now or late of the Pittsburgh and Castle Shannon Railway Company, including the construction of sewers for the drainage thereof, extending to a connection with existing sewer on Sycamore street, and the laying of concrete sidewalks, and providing that the costs, damages and expenses of the same be assessed against and collected from property specially benefited thereby" which was approved September 21, 1926, and which reads as follows:

"Four hundred forty-nine thousand ($449,000.00) dollars which is the estimate of the whole cost as furnished by the Department of Public Works."

be amended to read:

"Four hundred ninety-two thousand ($492,000.00) dollars which is the estimate of the whole cost as furnished by the Department of Public Works."

Section 2. That any ordinance or part of ordinance, conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this ordinance.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Following is the official list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded and omitted in sales column in bond list:

STOCKS.

Sales.		High	Low	Close
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
300	Nat Pub Serv war..	4	4	4
50	Nat Sug Ref	120	120	120
800	Nat Trans	23	22¾	23
50	Neisner Bros	62	62	62
100	New Bradford	4¾	4¾	4¾
600	New Cornelia Cop	25¾	25¾	25¾
100	N Mex & Ariz Land	9¾	9¾	9¾
6400	Newmont Mining	115¾	113½	115¾
100	N Y Oil	11¼	11¼	11¼
100	N Y Tel 6½% pfd	114¼	114¼	114¼
1400	Nichols & Shep new	23½	22¾	23½
1700	Niles Bem Pond	21¼	20½	21¼
100	Nipissing Mines	6⅞	6⅞	6⅞
300	Noranda Mines	26¼	25¼	26¼
100	N Am Ut Sec 1st pf	90¾	90¾	90¾
1600	Nor Ohio Pow	17⅝	17¼	17¼
100	Nor Pipe Line	96	95½	96
3100	Northeast Pow	22⅞	22¼	22¼
3200	Ohio Oil	65½	64½	65½
100	Pac Gas & El 1st pf	27	27	27
700	Pacific Steel Boiler	14⅝	14⅜	14⅜
2000	Palmolive Peet Co	97	95½	95½
100	Do pfd	96	96	96
2500	Pandem Oil	4⅛	3⅞	4
800	Pender Gro B	35	34½	35
100	Penn Mex Fuel	35	35	35
500	Penn Ohio Edis new	35¾	35⅝	35¾
10	Do 6 pfd	90½	90½	90½
200	Penn Ohio Secur	12	12	12
200	People Drug Store	39⅝	39	39
100	Philip Morris	10⅝	10⅝	10⅝
200	Pick Barth Co pfd	20⅞	20⅞	20⅞
100	Pigg Wigg Corp	26¼	26¼	26¼
100	Pitney Bow Postage	6	6	6
100	Pgh Lake Erie Ry	183	183	183
2000	Prairie Oil & Gas	50¼	50¼	50¼
100	Pratt & Lambert	56¼	56¼	56¼
100	Premier Gold	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝
75	Procter & Gamble	236	236	236
1000	Puget Sd Po pr pfd	110	110	110
100	Pyrene Mfg	9	9	9
100	Red Banks Oil	12	12	12
1300	Reiter Foster	7⅞	7⅝	7⅞
1200	Reo Motor	25¼	25	25
400	Richfield Oil	24⅝	24⅝	24⅝
100	Do pfd	24¼	24¼	24¼
100	Royal Baking Pow	285	273	285
50	Do pfd	107	107	107
150	Ryan Con	85	84	84
40	Safeway Stores	314	314	314
900	St Regis Paper	58⅝	58½	58⅝
600	Salt Creek Prod	30½	30⅜	30⅜
2000	Seiberling Rubber	34½	33½	34
300	Selfridge Prov Stor	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝
500	Servel Inc w i	3¼	3¼	3¼
600	Shattuck Dena	8	7¾	8
200	Shredded Wheat new	70	69¾	70
200	Silica Gel Corp vtc	15¼	15¼	15¼
100	So Am G & P	2½	2½	2½
6500	S E P & L	45⅝	44½	45¼
5100	S E P & L ctf	43¼	42½	43¼
1700	S E P & L war	14⅞	13⅝	14½
100	S E P & L pf	109½	109½	109½
100	So Cal Ed A pf	28⅞	28⅞	28⅞
200	So Penn Oil	39½	39½	39½
50	S W Bell Tel pf	118½	118½	118½
100	S W Penn Pipe	79	78	79
600	Sparks Withing	25	24½	25
25	Span River P & P	135½	135½	135½
11800	S O of Indiana	81¼	80⅝	80⅝
1100	Stand Pow & Lt	29	28	29
100	Standard Pub A	4½	4½	4½
25	Stand Sanitary	106⅝	106⅝	106⅝
800	Stutz Mot Car Am	20⅝	20	20⅝
200	Swift & Co	125	125	125
400	Swift Int	26⅝	26¼	26¼
100	Syracuse Wsh M B	17¼	17¼	17¼
150	Tech Hugh Gold	11⅝	11⅝	11⅝
3100	Tidal Osage	21⅞	21	21⅞
300	Tid Osa non vot	18⅞	18⅝	18⅝
1000	Timken Det Axle	12⅝	12½	12⅝
600	Transcontinental pf	89	87	87

DOMESTIC BONDS.

Sales		High	Low	Close
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

FOREIGN BONDS.

Sales		High	Low	Close
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
7	Rio Grande 7s '66	97	97	97
5	Rio Grande 7s '67	96½	96½	96½
5	Russ 6½s ctf N C '19	15¼	15¼	15¼
8	Santa Fe Arg 7s '45	93⅝	93	93
2	Sauda Falls Ltd 5s '55	100⅛	100⅛	100⅛
16	Serb Ct & Slov 7s '62	86⅞	86	86½
6	Stinnes 7s '36	91⅞	91⅝	91⅝
5	Stinnes 7s '46	90⅝	90⅝	90⅝
4	Tietz Leonhardt 7½s 46	118	118	118
2	Tietz Leon 7½s 46 ww	101¼	101¼	101¼
2	Unit Elec Serv 7s '56	99⅝	99⅝	99⅝
2	Un Indust 6½s '41	91¼	91¼	91¼
2	Un Stl Wks 6½s '47A	93⅝	93⅝	93⅝
41	Poland 7s '41	92	92	92
67	Prussia Free St 6s	93⅝	93⅝	93⅝

Sales of stocks, 229,700 shares. Sales of bonds, $1,899,000.

PETROLEUM PRICES

Pennsylvania, New York Transit lines	$2.65
Bradford, National Transit lines	2.65
Pennsylvania, National Transit lines	2.55
Pennsylvania, Southwest Pa. Pipe lines	2.55
Pennsylvania, Eureka Pipe lines	2.50
Pennsylvania, Buckeye Pipe lines	2.25
Keister crude	1.10
Corning, Buckeye Pipe lines	1.45
Cabell grade oil in Eureka Pipe lines	1.40
Somerset oil in Cumberland Pipe lines	1.50
Ragland grade oil	.85
Indian Refining Co. (West Kentucky)	1.33
Cumberland, Barren and Monroe counties (Ky.) (Paragon Development Co.)	1.50
Oil in lines of Stoll Oil Refining Co. in Oil City, Ky.	1.50
Western Kentucky	1.33
Lima	1.71
Indiana	1.48
Princeton	1.60
Wooster	1.57
Plymouth	1.33
Illinois	1.60
Waterloo	1.35
Saginaw (Mich.) Berea sand oil	1.55
Saginaw (Mich.) Saginaw sand, 47° grav.	2.05
Petrolia (Canada)	2.11
Oil Springs (Canada)	2.18

Summary for the Day.

Sales.		High.	Low.	Last Sale.	Chge.
100	Am W Gl pfd	90	90	90	—8
50	Am W G Mach	19	19	19	0
700	Ark Nat Gas	9¼	9¼	9¼	0
22	Devonian Oil	8	*7½	8	—1
3265	Lone Star Gas	†56½	55⅝	55⅝	+ ⅛
610	Nat Fproofing	8¼	7⅞	8¼	+ ⅜
180	Do pfd	26	25½	25⅝	+ ⅝
100	Penn Federal	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞	0
500	Pgh Brew pfd	9	9	9	— ½
50	Salt Ck Con Oil	6⅞	6⅞	6⅞	+ ⅛
185	Stand San Mfg	106½	106	106	0
20	Whouse A Bke	44¼	44¼	44¼	0
5842

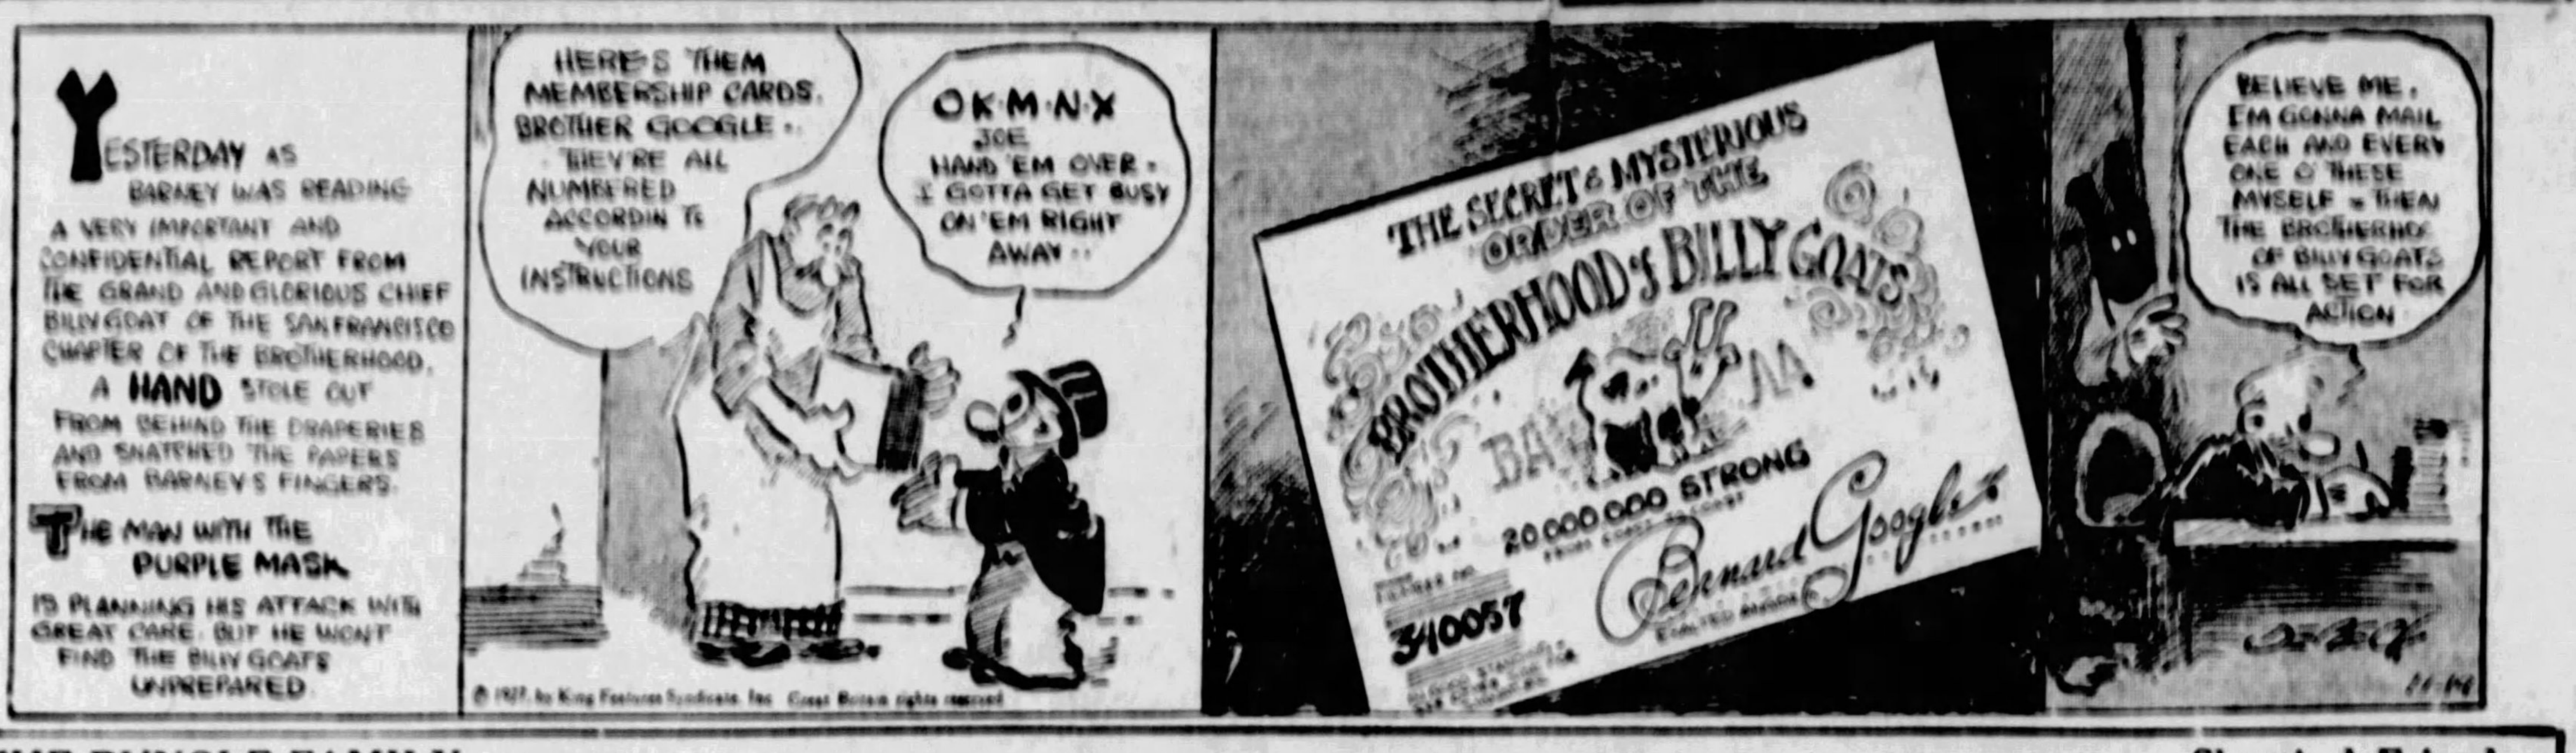
*New low record. †New high record.

SUGAR MARKET.

(Quotations furnished by Esenwein & Sutter.)

	Dec.	Jan.	Mar.	May.	July.	Sept.
High	2.87	2.90	2.90	2.97	3.05	3.13
Low	2.83	2.88	2.88	2.96	3.05	3.12
Last	2.85	2.88	2.89	2.96	3.04	3.12

BARNEY GOOGLE AND SPARK PLUG . . . All Set For Action



YESTERDAY AS BARNEY WAS READING A VERY IMPORTANT AND CONFIDENTIAL REPORT FROM THE GRAND AND GLORIOUS CHIEF BILLY GOAT OF THE SAN FRANCISCO CHAPTER OF THE BROTHERHOOD, A HAND STOLE OUT FROM BEHIND THE DRAPERIES AND SNATCHED THE PAPERS FROM BARNEY'S FINGERS.
THE MAN WITH THE PURPLE MASK IS PLANNING HIS ATTACK WITH GREAT CARE. BUT HE WON'T FIND THE BILLY GOATS UNPREPARED
HERE'S THEM MEMBERSHIP CARDS, BROTHER GOOGLE - THEY'RE ALL NUMBERED ACCORDIN TO YOUR INSTRUCTIONS
OKMNX JOE HAND 'EM OVER - I GOTTA GET BUSY ON 'EM RIGHT AWAY
THE SECRET & MYSTERIOUS ORDER OF THE BROTHERHOOD of BILLY GOATS BAA BAA
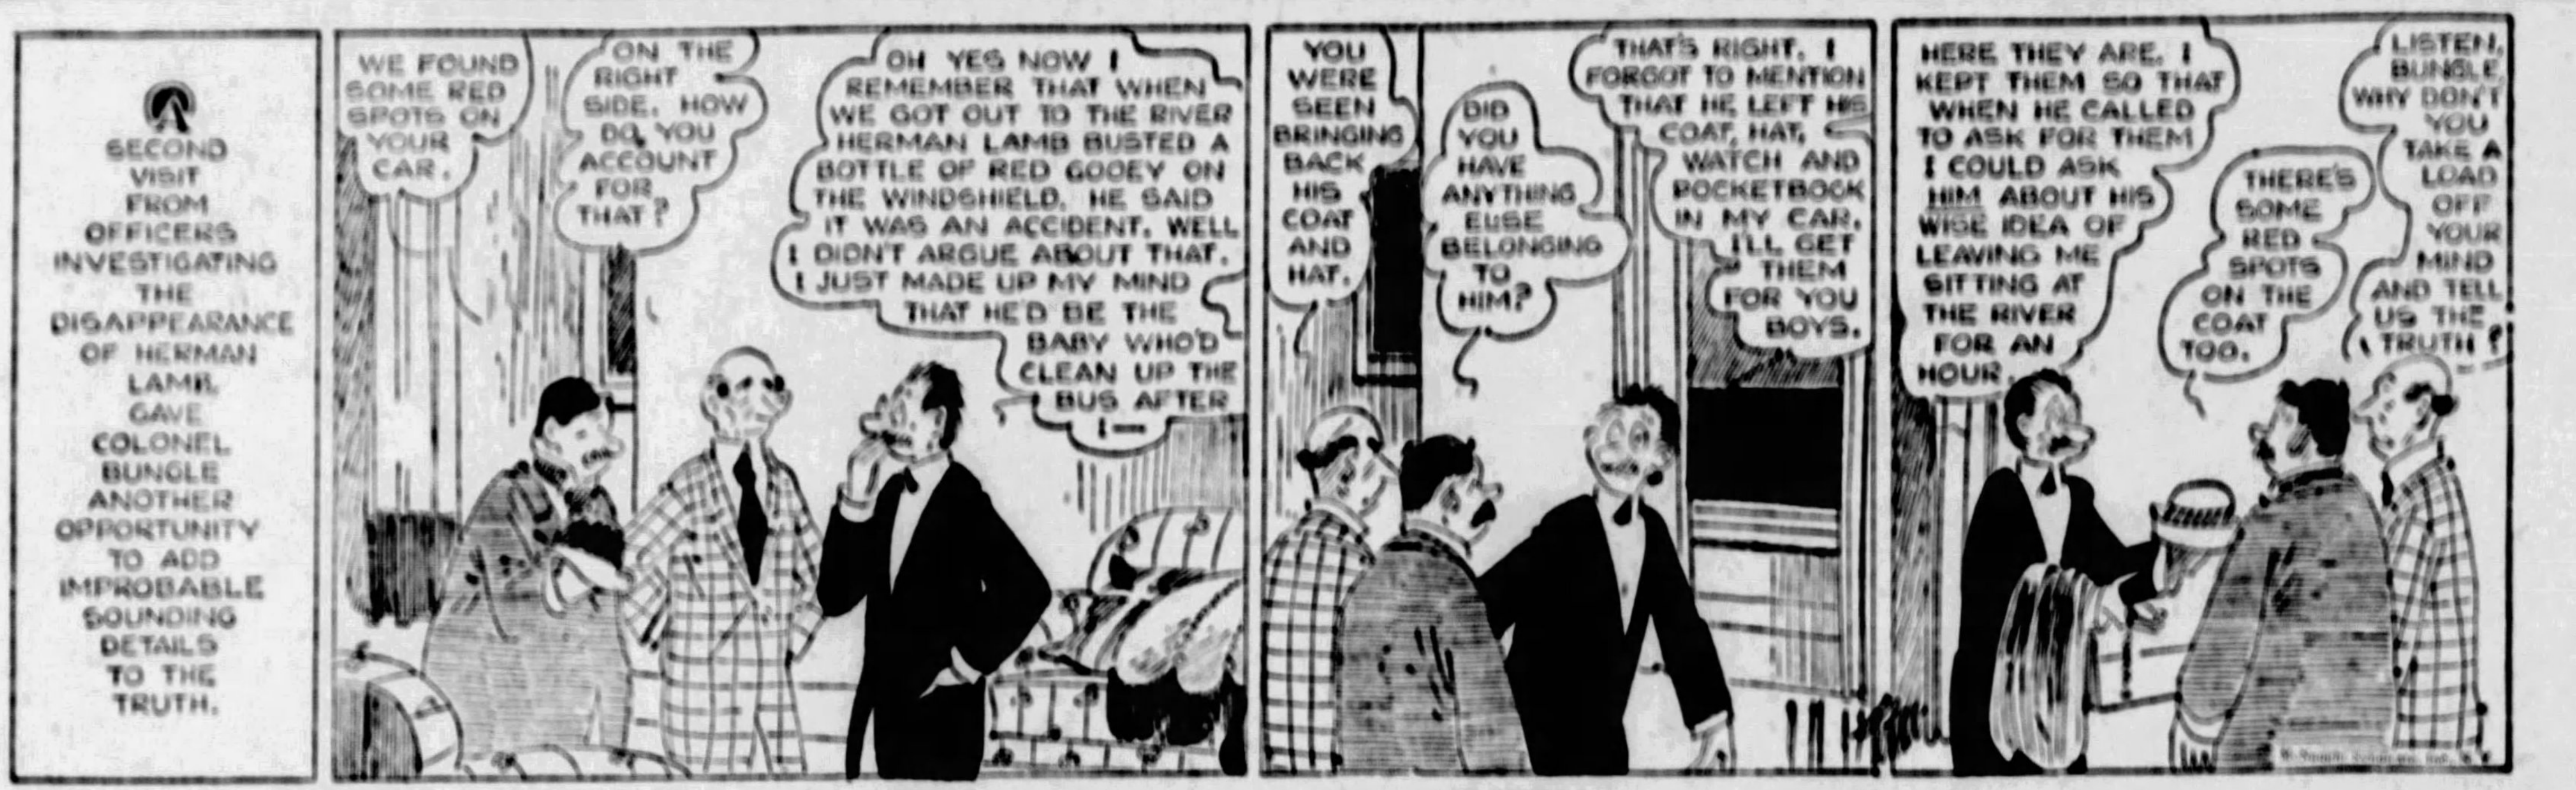
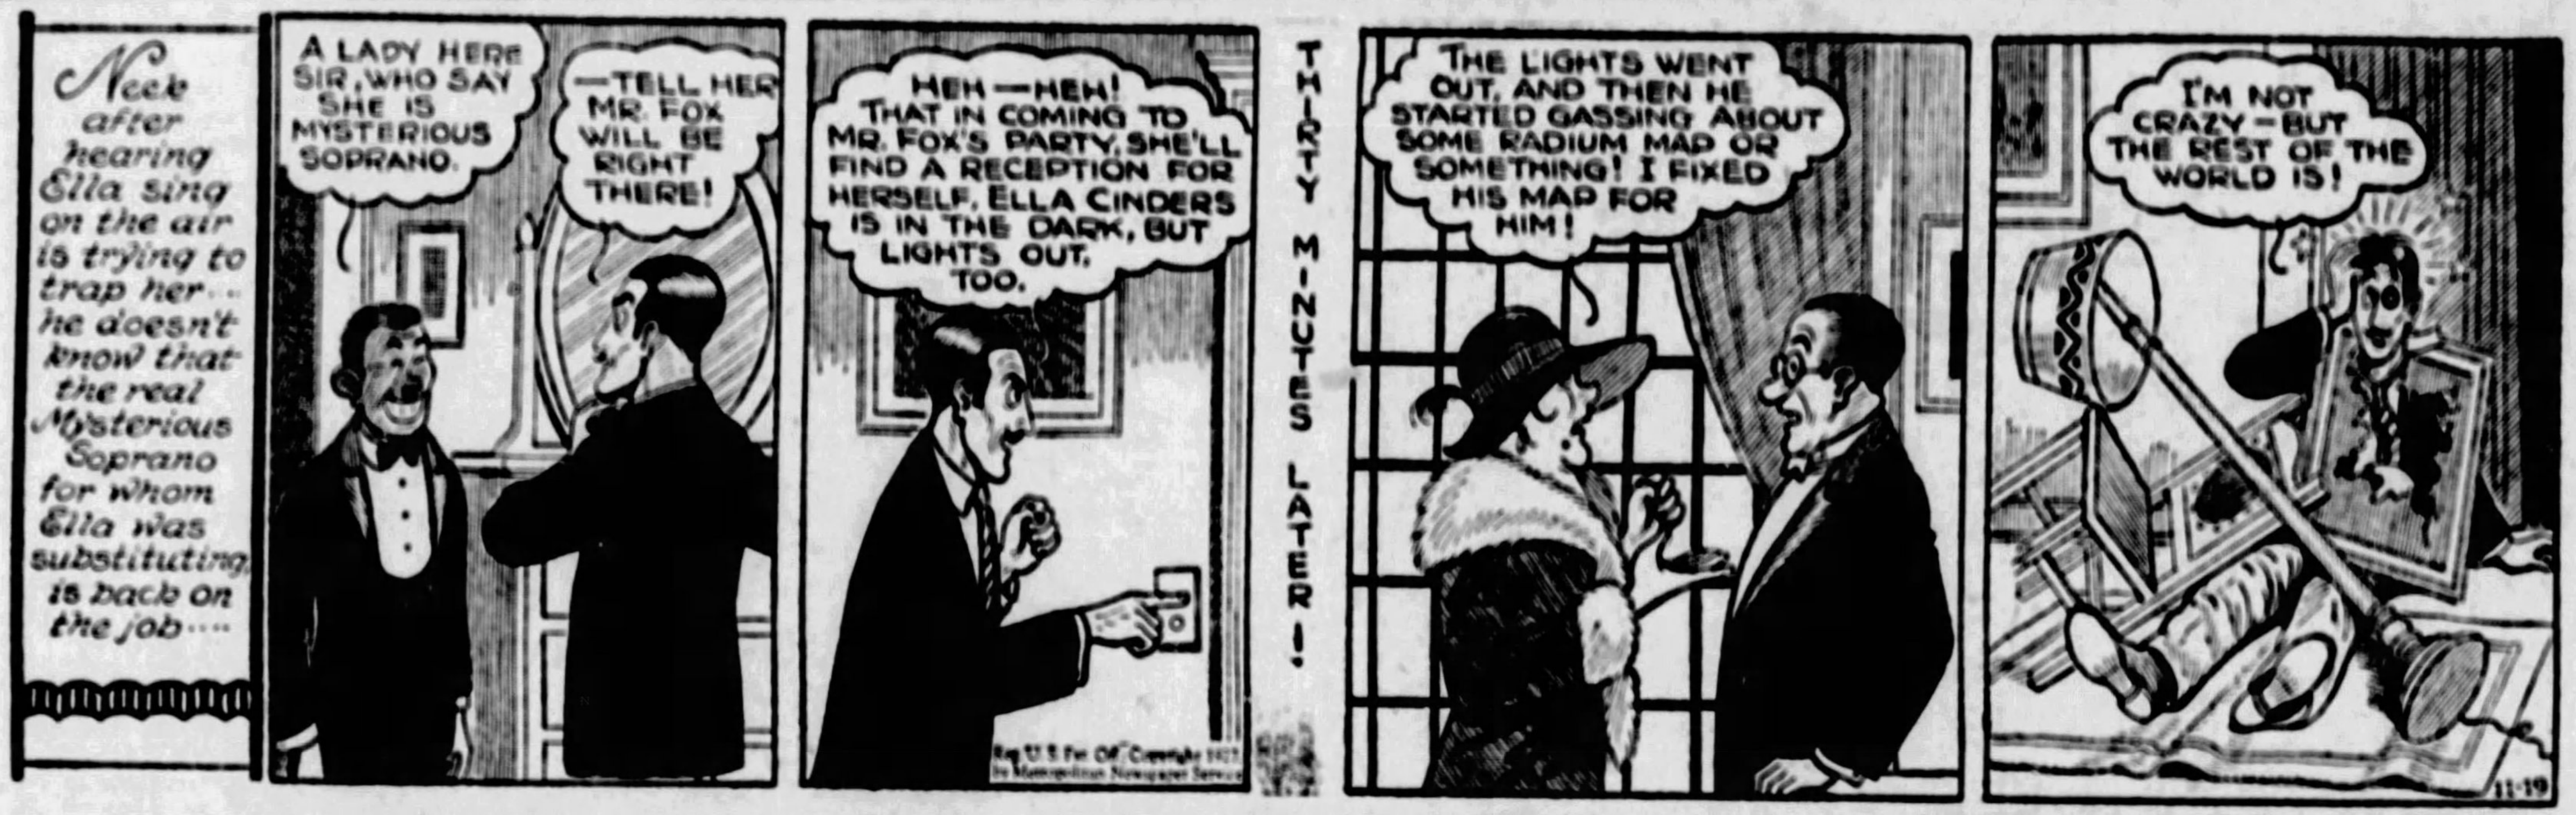
20,000,000 STRONG
340057
Bernard Google
BELIEVE ME, I'M GONNA MAIL EACH AND EVERY ONE O' THESE MYSELF - THEN THE BROTHERHOOD OF BILLY GOATS IS ALL SET FOR ACTION
© 1927, by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved
11-19

THE BUNGLE FAMILY . . . Skeptical Friends



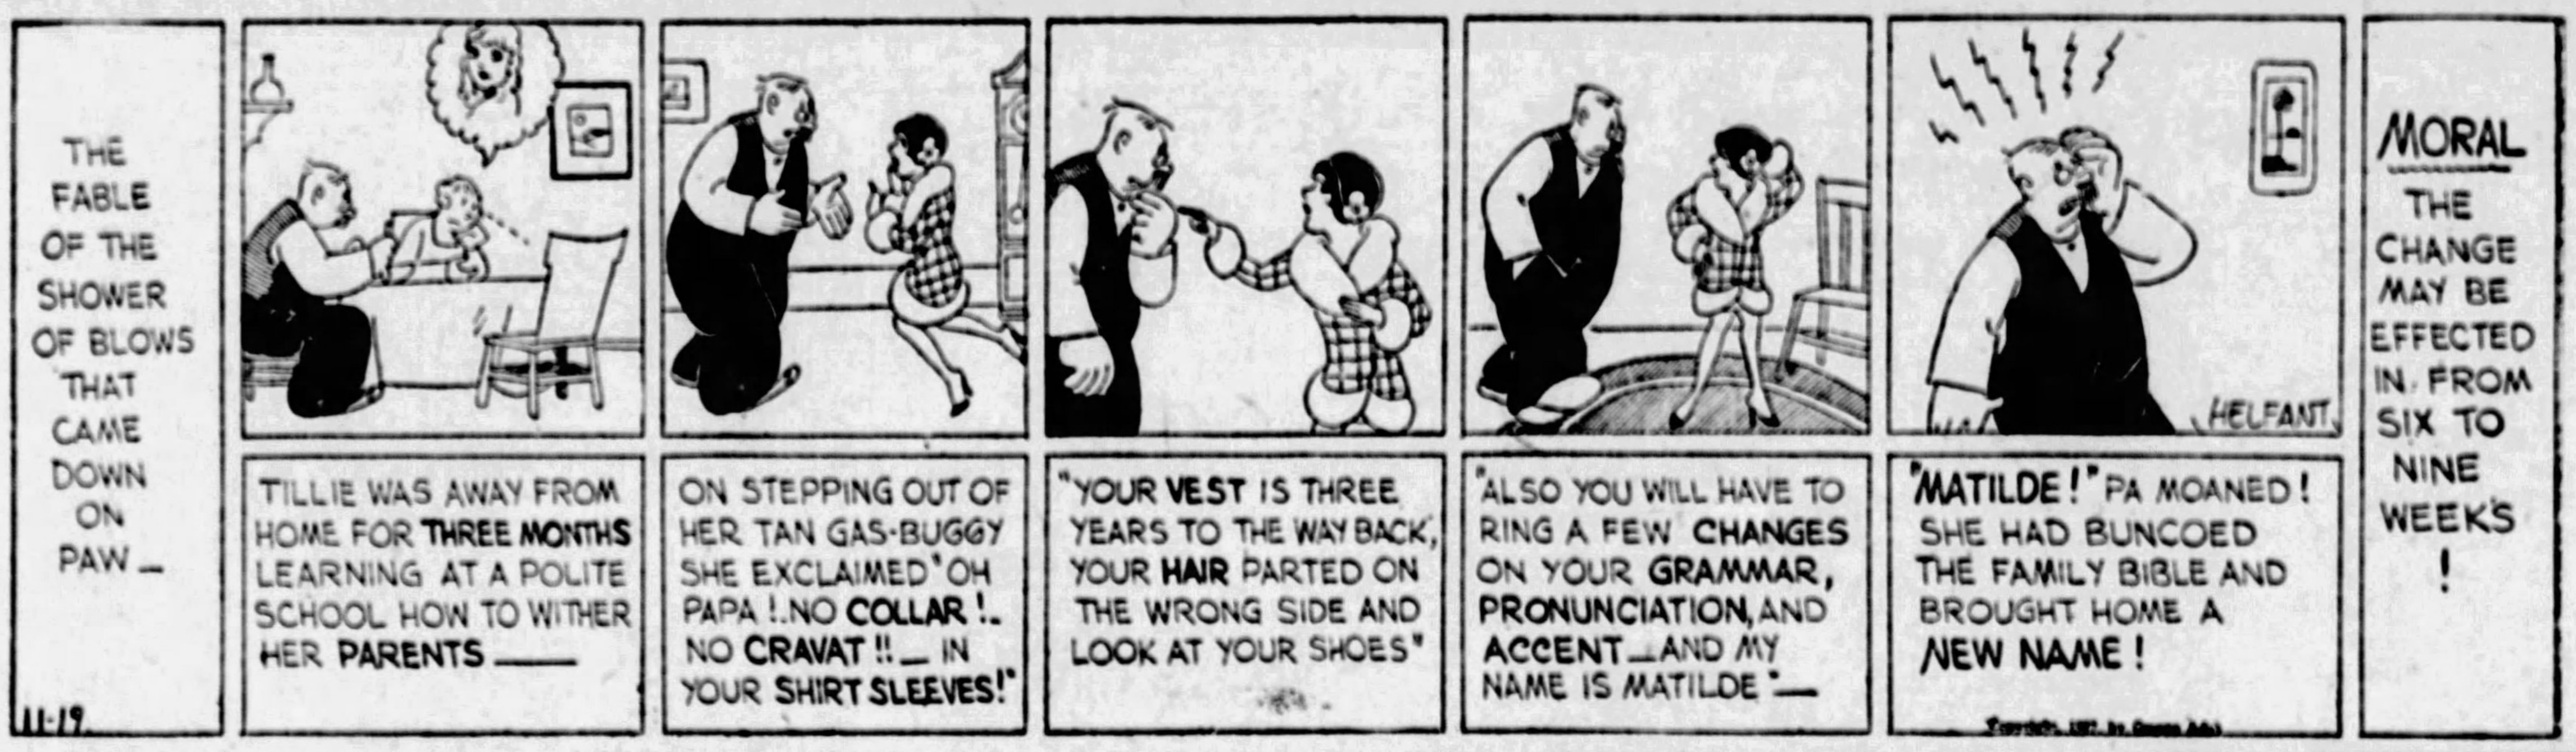
A SECOND VISIT FROM OFFICERS INVESTIGATING THE DISAPPEARANCE OF HERMAN LAMB GAVE COLONEL BUNGLE ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY TO ADD IMPROBABLE SOUNDING DETAILS TO THE TRUTH.
WE FOUND SOME RED SPOTS ON YOUR CAR.
ON THE RIGHT SIDE. HOW DO YOU ACCOUNT FOR THAT?
OH YES NOW I REMEMBER THAT WHEN WE GOT OUT TO THE RIVER HERMAN LAMB BUSTED A BOTTLE OF RED GOOEY ON THE WINDSHIELD. HE SAID IT WAS AN ACCIDENT. WELL I DIDN'T ARGUE ABOUT THAT. I JUST MADE UP MY MIND THAT HE'D BE THE BABY WHO'D CLEAN UP THE BUS AFTER I—
YOU WERE SEEN BRINGING BACK HIS COAT AND HAT.
DID YOU HAVE ANYTHING ELSE BELONGING TO HIM?
THAT'S RIGHT, I FORGOT TO MENTION THAT HE LEFT HIS COAT, HAT, WATCH AND POCKETBOOK IN MY CAR. I'LL GET THEM FOR YOU BOYS.
HERE THEY ARE. I KEPT THEM SO THAT WHEN HE CALLED TO ASK FOR THEM I COULD ASK HIM ABOUT HIS WISE IDEA OF LEAVING ME SITTING AT THE RIVER FOR AN HOUR.
THERE'S SOME RED SPOTS ON THE COAT TOO.
LISTEN, BUNGLE, WHY DON'T YOU TAKE A LOAD OFF YOUR MIND AND TELL US THE TRUTH?

ELLA CINDERS . . . In The Dark



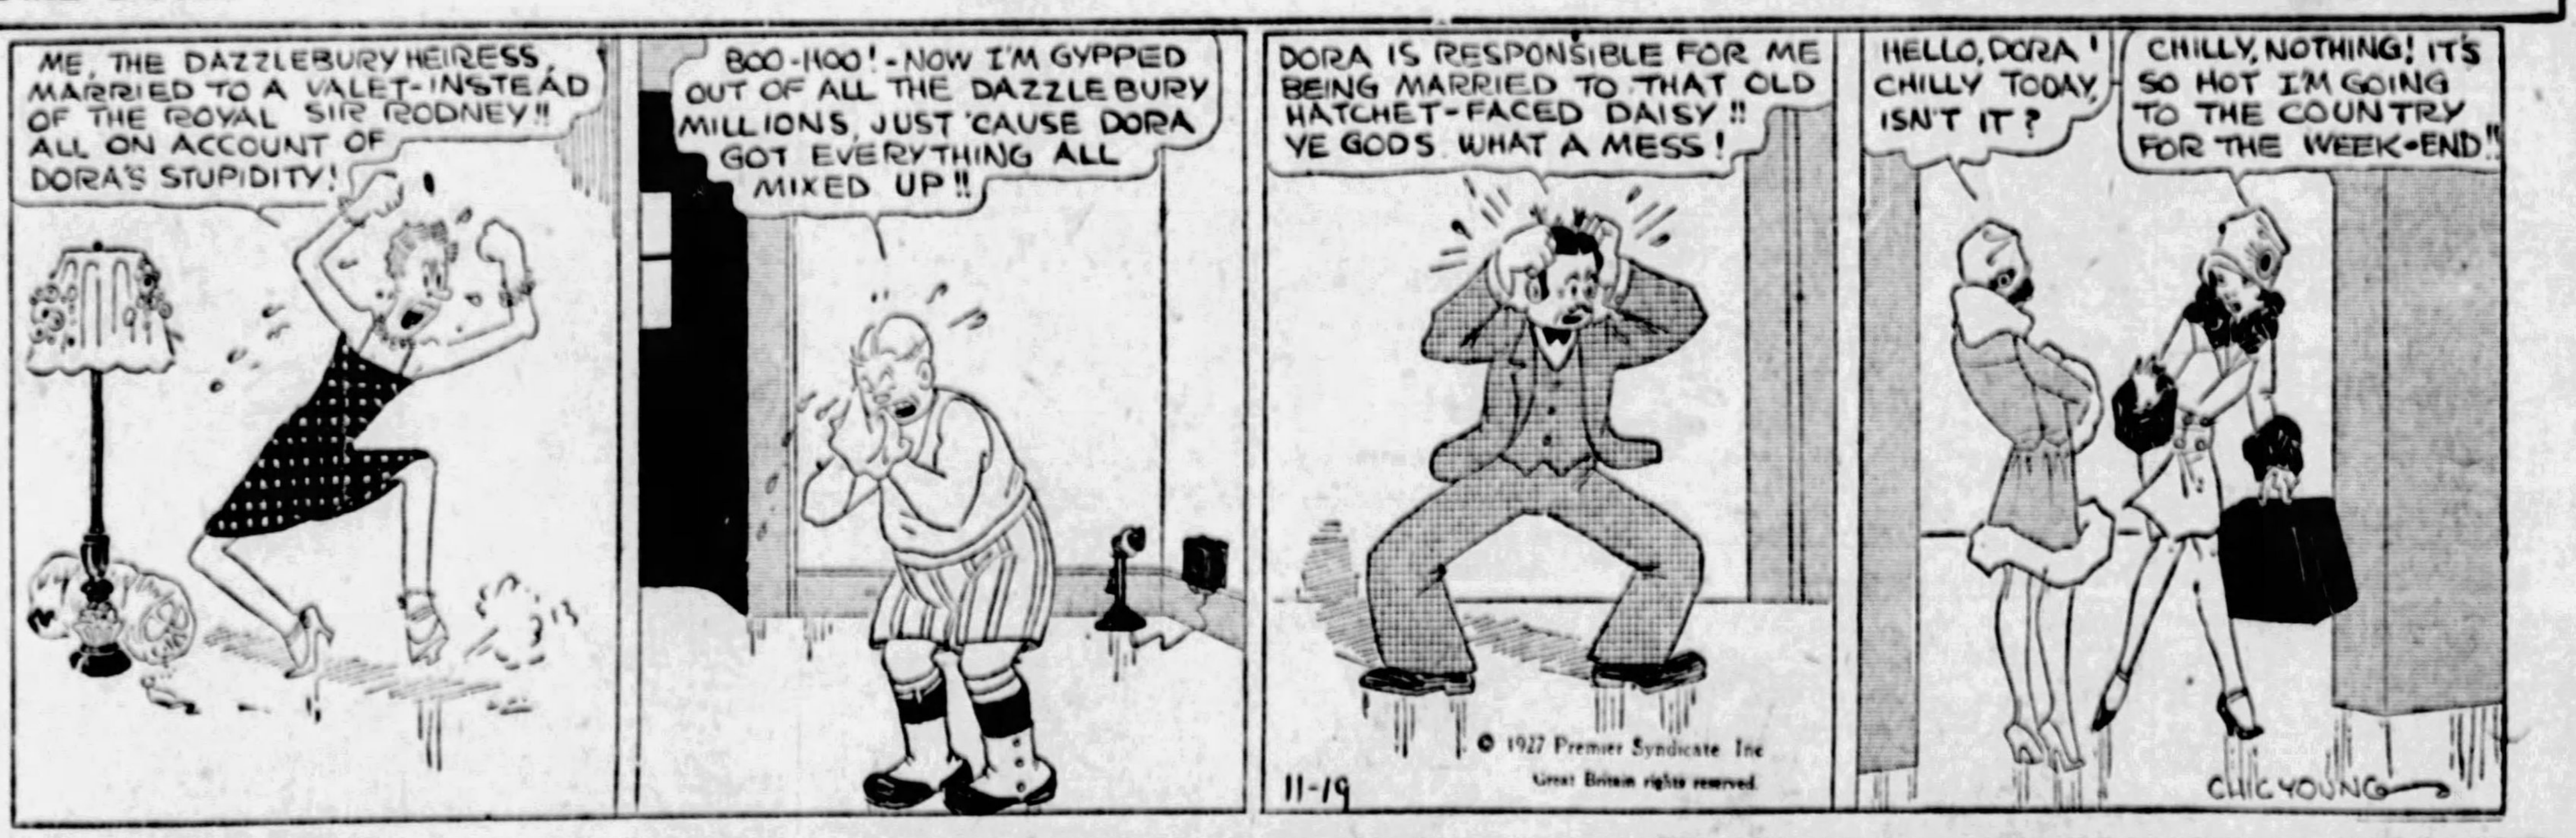
Neek after hearing Ella sing on the air is trying to trap her... he doesn't know that the real Mysterious Soprano for whom Ella was substituting is back on the job....
A LADY HERE SIR, WHO SAY SHE IS MYSTERIOUS SOPRANO.
—TELL HER MR. FOX WILL BE RIGHT THERE!
HEH—HEH! THAT IN COMING TO MR. FOX'S PARTY, SHE'LL FIND A RECEPTION FOR HERSELF. ELLA CINDERS IS IN THE DARK, BUT LIGHTS OUT, TOO.
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. Copyright 1927 by Metropolitan Newspaper Service
THIRTY MINUTES LATER!
THE LIGHTS WENT OUT, AND THEN HE STARTED GASSING ABOUT SOME RADIUM MAP OR SOMETHING! I FIXED HIS MAP FOR HIM!
I'M NOT CRAZY—BUT THE REST OF THE WORLD IS!
11-19

FABLES IN SLANG . . . By GEORGE ADE



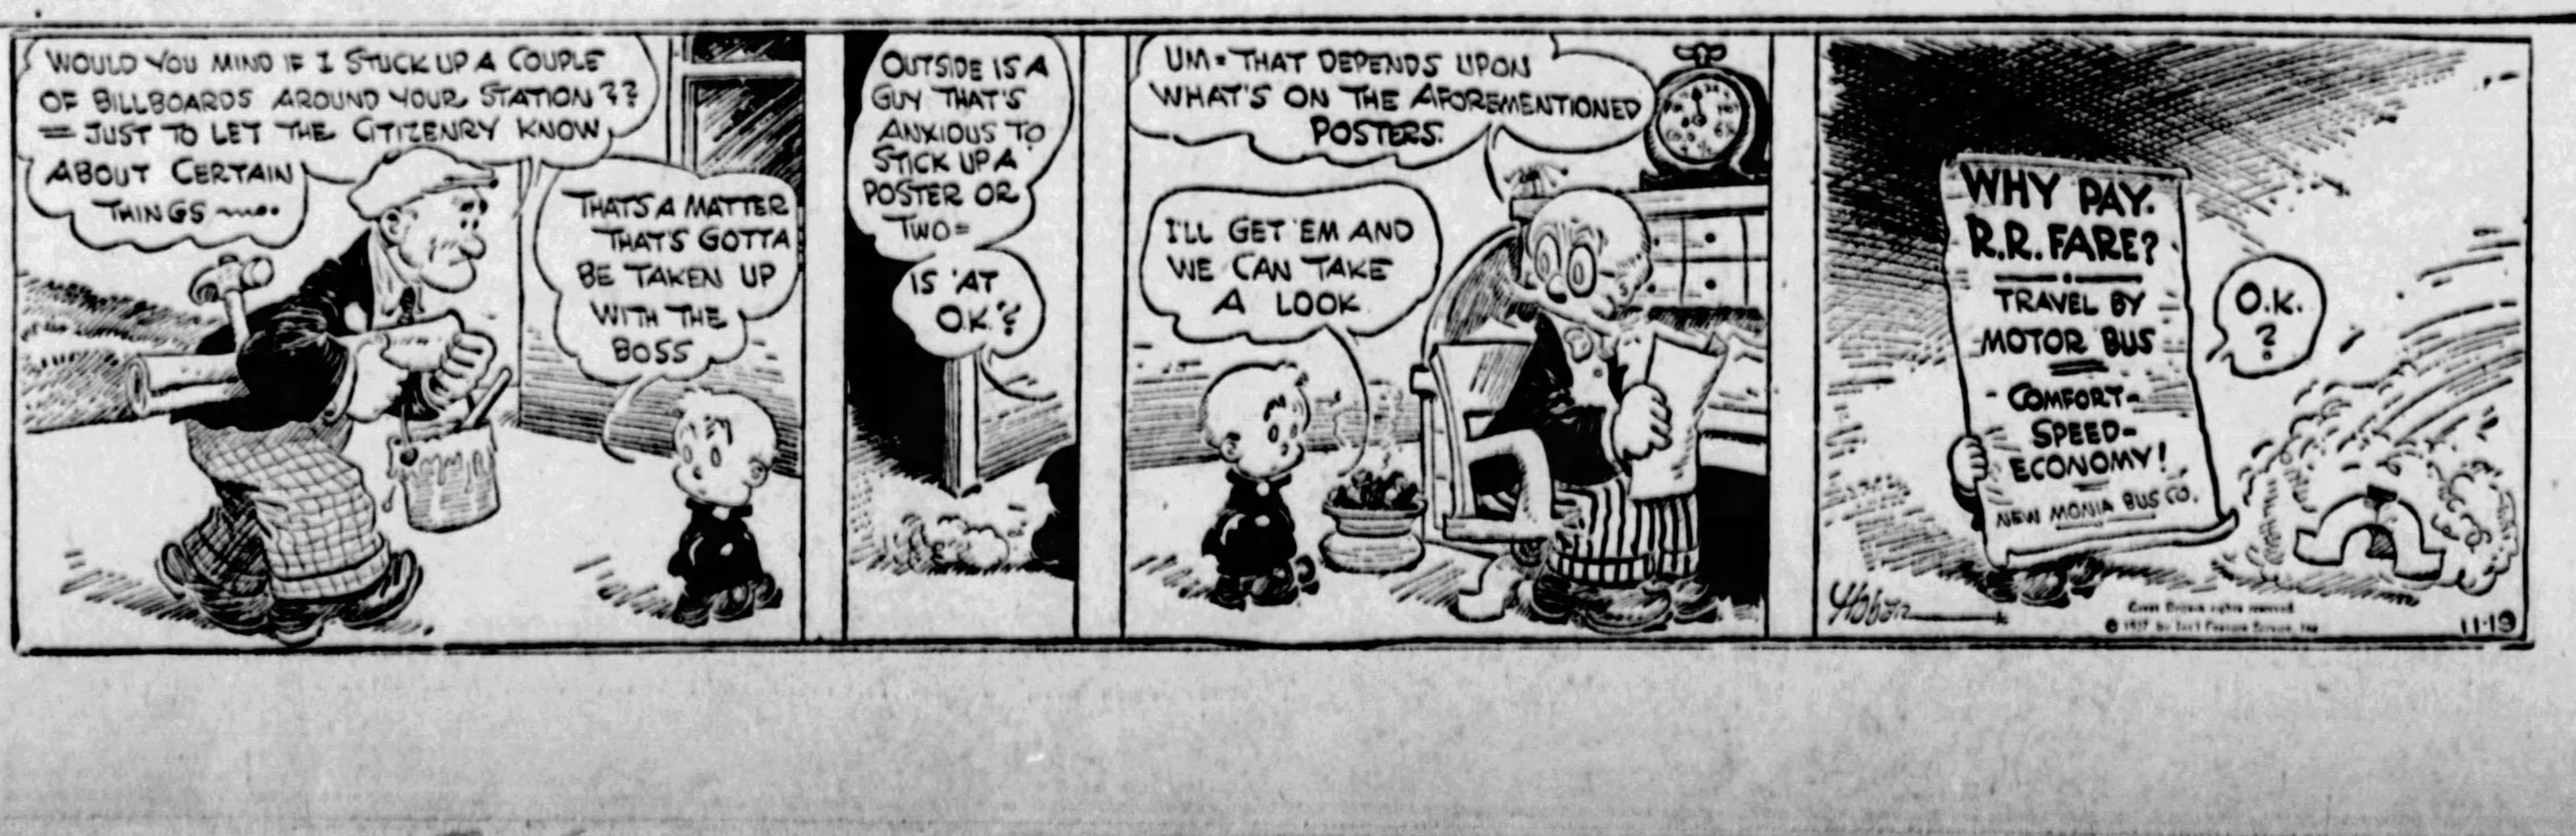
THE FABLE OF THE SHOWER OF BLOWS THAT CAME DOWN ON PAW—
11-19
TILLIE WAS AWAY FROM HOME FOR THREE MONTHS LEARNING AT A POLITE SCHOOL HOW TO WITHER HER PARENTS ——
ON STEPPING OUT OF HER TAN GAS-BUGGY SHE EXCLAIMED "OH PAPA! NO COLLAR! NO CRAVAT!! — IN YOUR SHIRT SLEEVES!"
"YOUR VEST IS THREE YEARS TO THE WAY BACK, YOUR HAIR PARTED ON THE WRONG SIDE AND LOOK AT YOUR SHOES"
"ALSO YOU WILL HAVE TO RING A FEW CHANGES ON YOUR GRAMMAR, PRONUNCIATION, AND ACCENT — AND MY NAME IS MATILDE"—
HELFANT
"MATILDE!" PA MOANED! SHE HAD BUNCOED THE FAMILY BIBLE AND BROUGHT HOME A NEW NAME!
Copyright, 1927, by George Ade
MORAL THE CHANGE MAY BE EFFECTED IN FROM SIX TO NINE WEEKS!

DUMB DORA . . . Nobody Happy



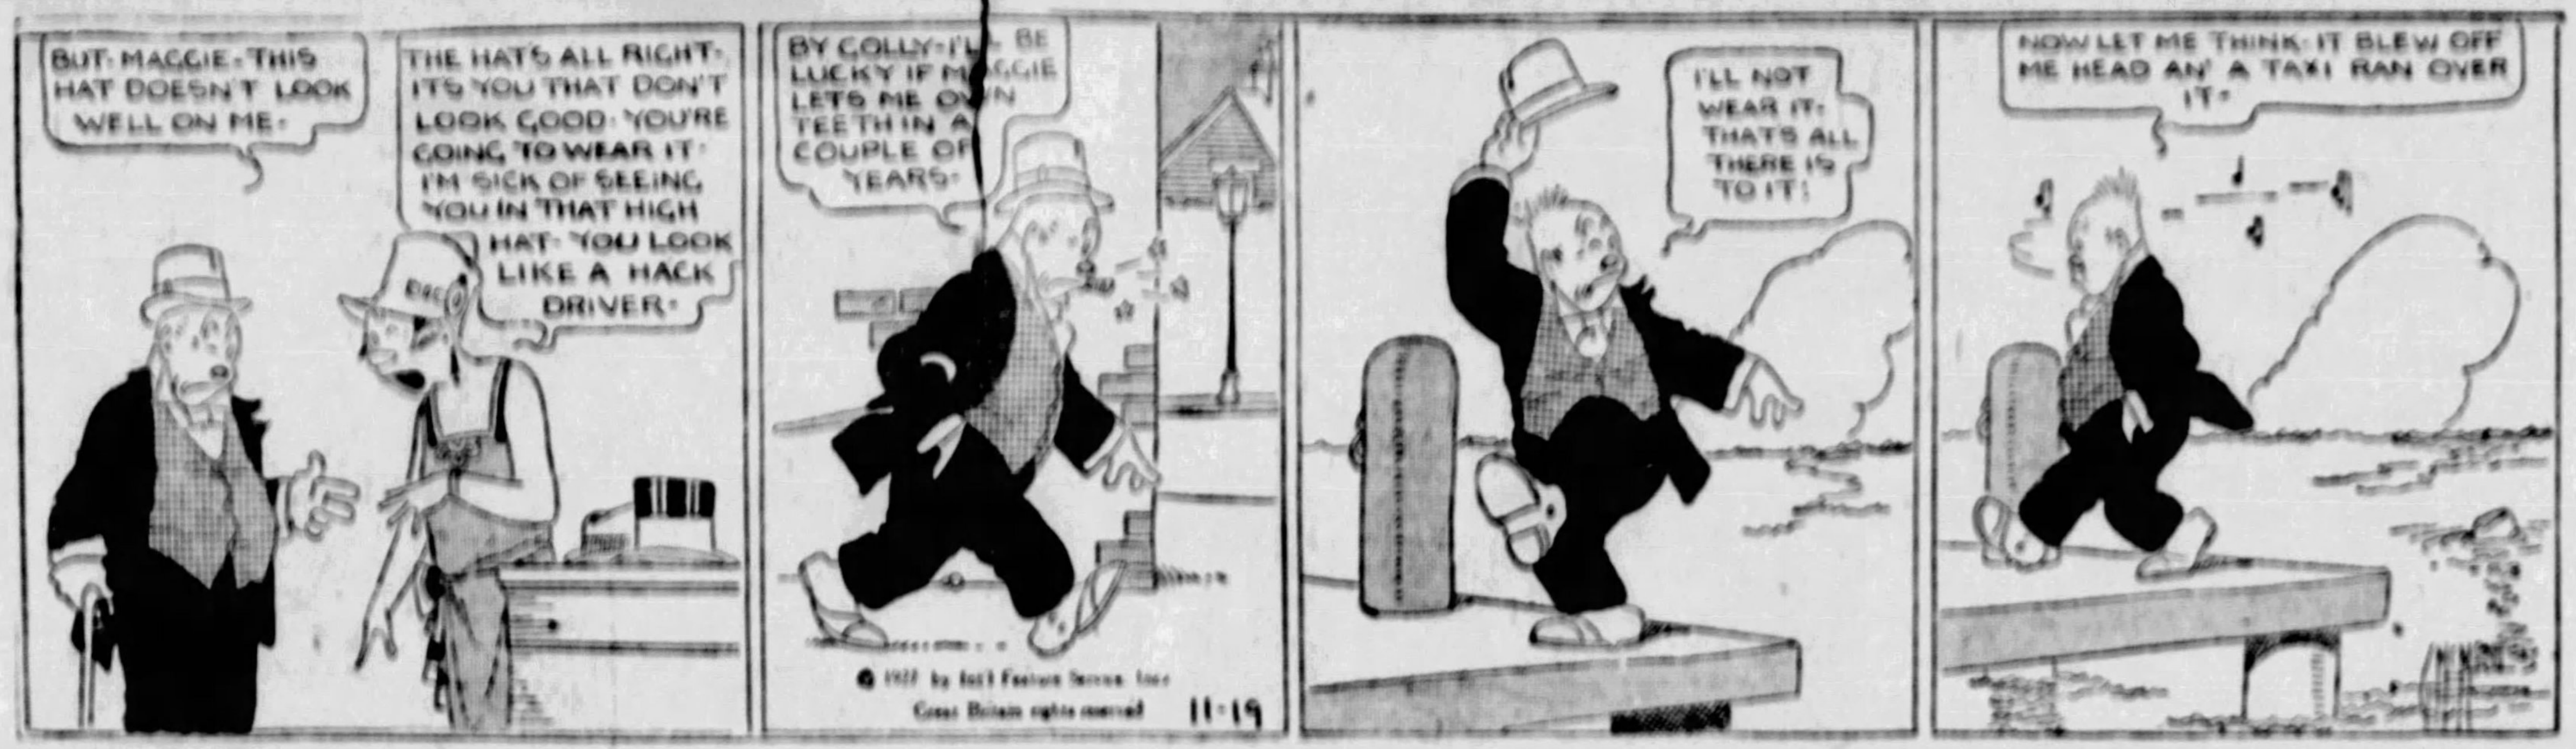
ME, THE DAZZLEBURY HEIRESS, MARRIED TO A VALET - INSTEAD OF THE ROYAL SIR RODNEY!! ALL ON ACCOUNT OF DORA'S STUPIDITY!
BOO-HOO! - NOW I'M GYPPED OUT OF ALL THE DAZZLEBURY MILLIONS, JUST 'CAUSE DORA GOT EVERYTHING ALL MIXED UP!!
DORA IS RESPONSIBLE FOR ME BEING MARRIED TO THAT OLD HATCHET-FACED DAISY!! YE GODS WHAT A MESS!
© 1927 Premier Syndicate Inc Great Britain rights reserved
11-19
HELLO, DORA! CHILLY TODAY, ISN'T IT?
CHILLY, NOTHING! IT'S SO HOT I'M GOING TO THE COUNTRY FOR THE WEEK-END!
CHIC YOUNG

JERRY ON THE JOB . . . What's the Verdict?



WOULD YOU MIND IF I STUCK UP A COUPLE OF BILLBOARDS AROUND YOUR STATION?? — JUST TO LET THE CITIZENRY KNOW ABOUT CERTAIN THINGS—
THAT'S A MATTER THAT'S GOTTA BE TAKEN UP WITH THE BOSS
OUTSIDE IS A GUY THAT'S ANXIOUS TO STICK UP A POSTER OR TWO— IS 'AT O.K.?
UM— THAT DEPENDS UPON WHAT'S ON THE AFOREMENTIONED POSTERS.
I'LL GET 'EM AND WE CAN TAKE A LOOK
WHY PAY R.R. FARE? TRAVEL BY MOTOR BUS - COMFORT - SPEED - ECONOMY! NEW MONIA BUS CO.
O.K. ?
Hoban
Great Britain rights reserved © 1927 by Int'l Feature Service, Inc.
11-19

BRINGING UP FATHER . . . . . Desperate Remedy



BUT MAGGIE - THIS HAT DOESN'T LOOK WELL ON ME -
THE HAT'S ALL RIGHT - IT'S YOU THAT DON'T LOOK GOOD - YOU'RE GOING TO WEAR IT - I'M SICK OF SEEING YOU IN THAT HIGH HAT - YOU LOOK LIKE A HACK DRIVER -
BY GOLLY - I'LL BE LUCKY IF MAGGIE LETS ME OWN TEETH IN A COUPLE OF YEARS -
I'LL NOT WEAR IT; THAT'S ALL THERE IS TO IT!
NOW LET ME THINK - IT BLEW OFF ME HEAD AN' A TAXI RAN OVER IT - © 1927 by Int'l Feature Service, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved
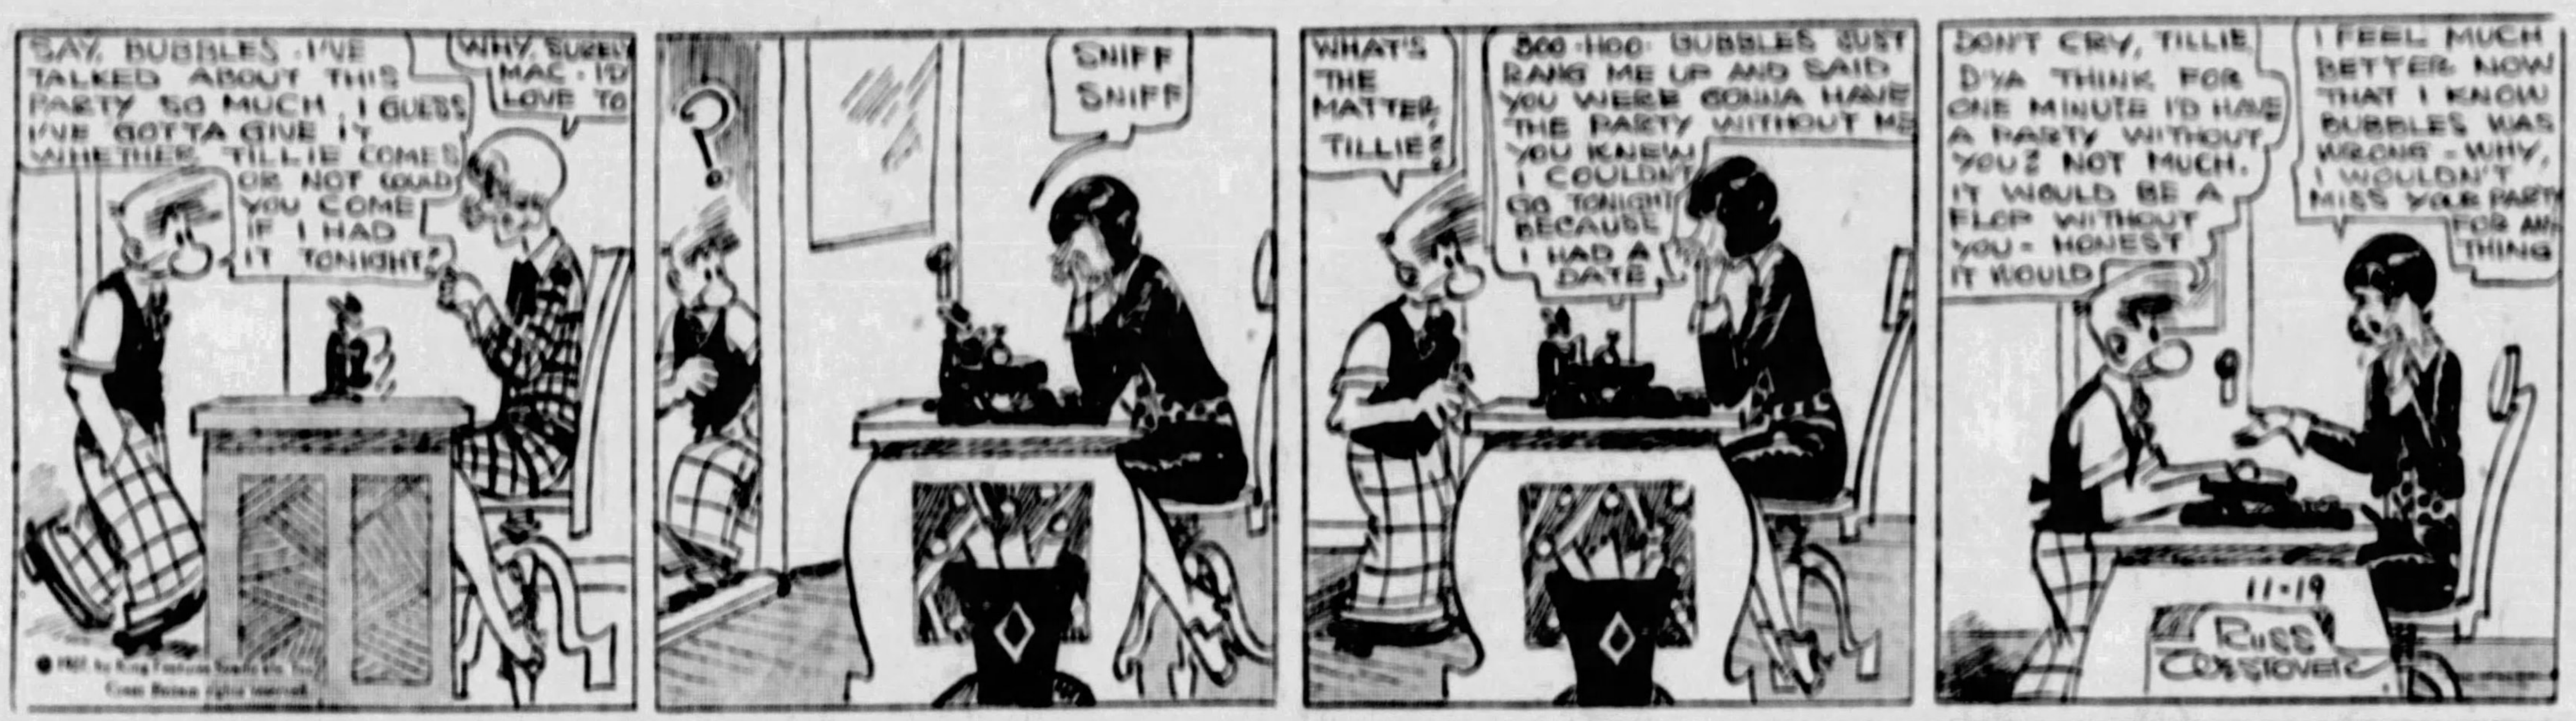
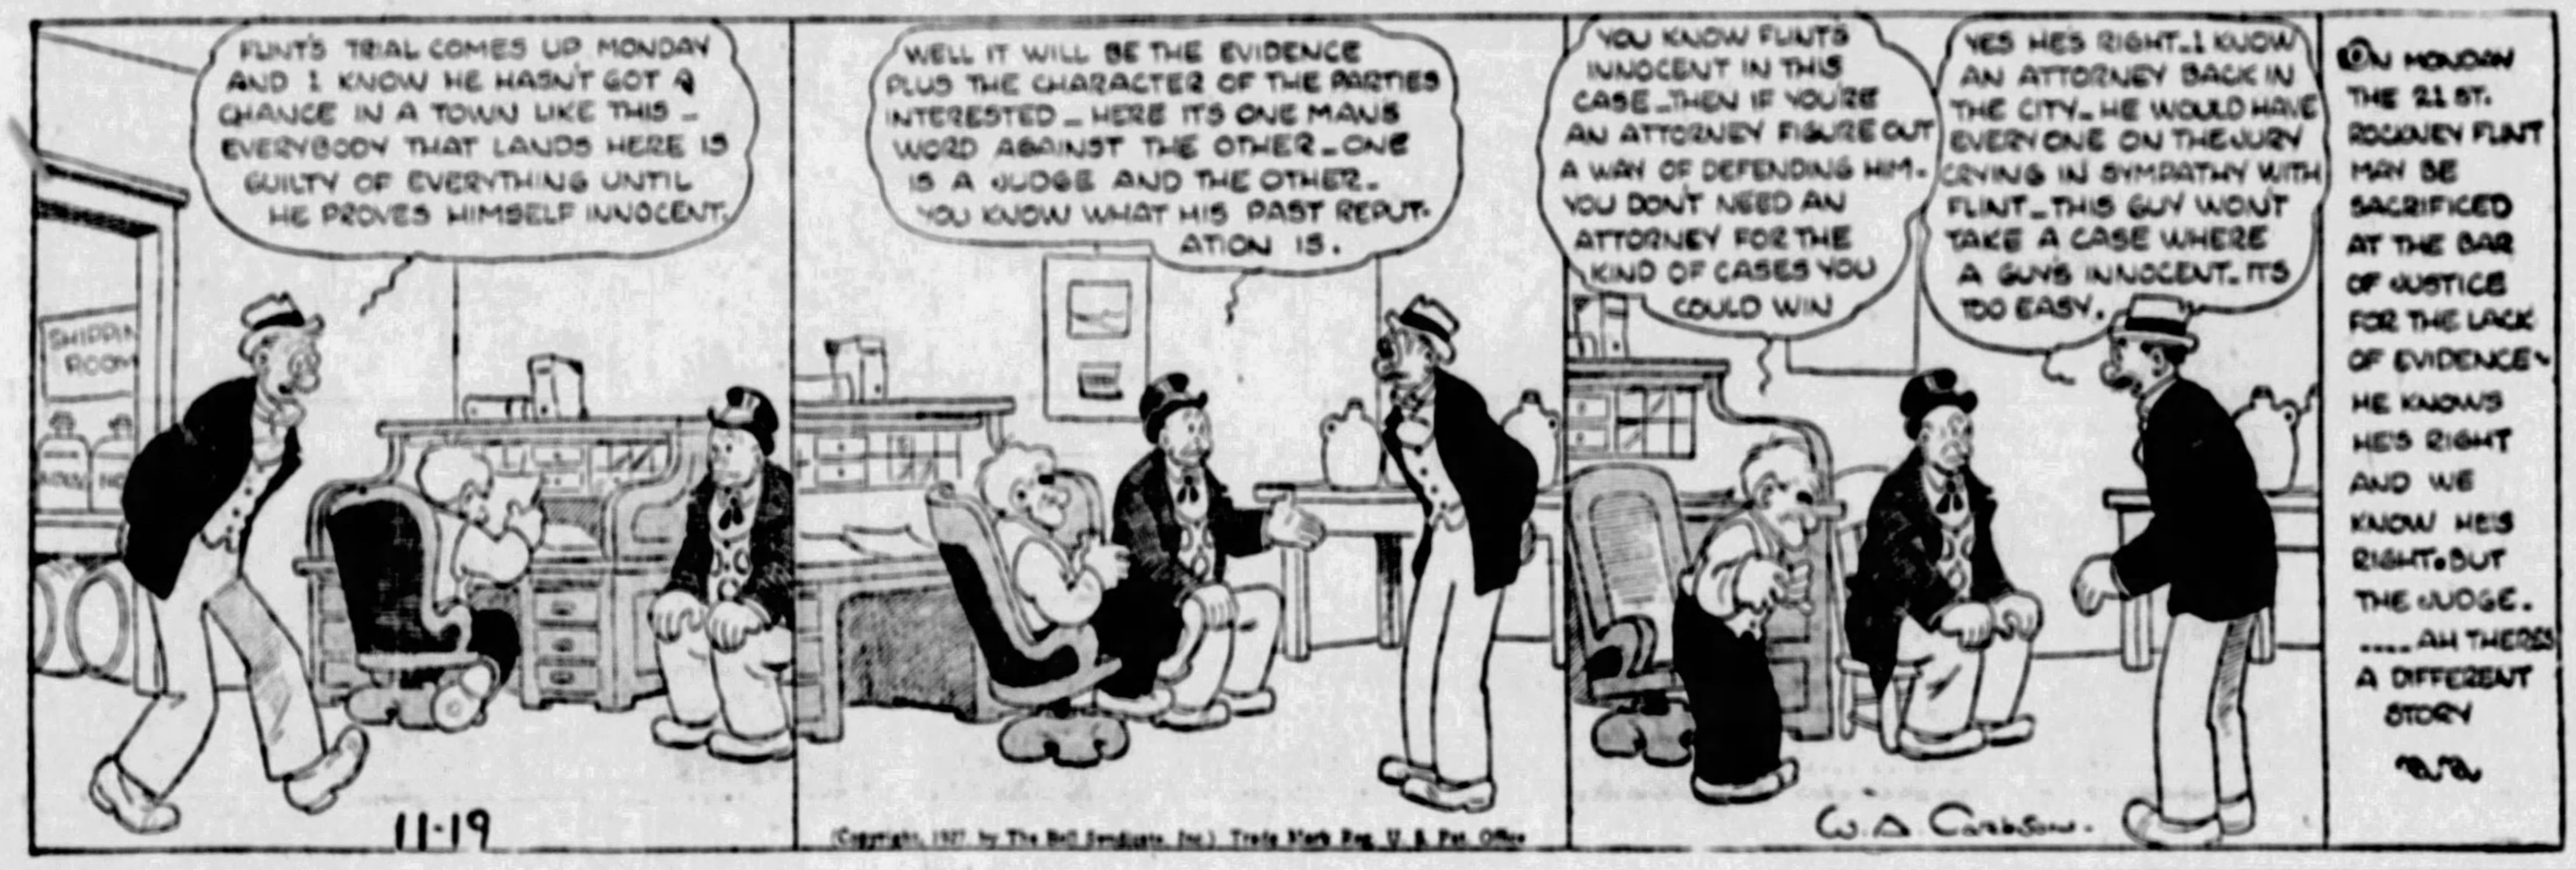
11-19

TILLIE THE TOILER . . . . . It Was All a Mistake



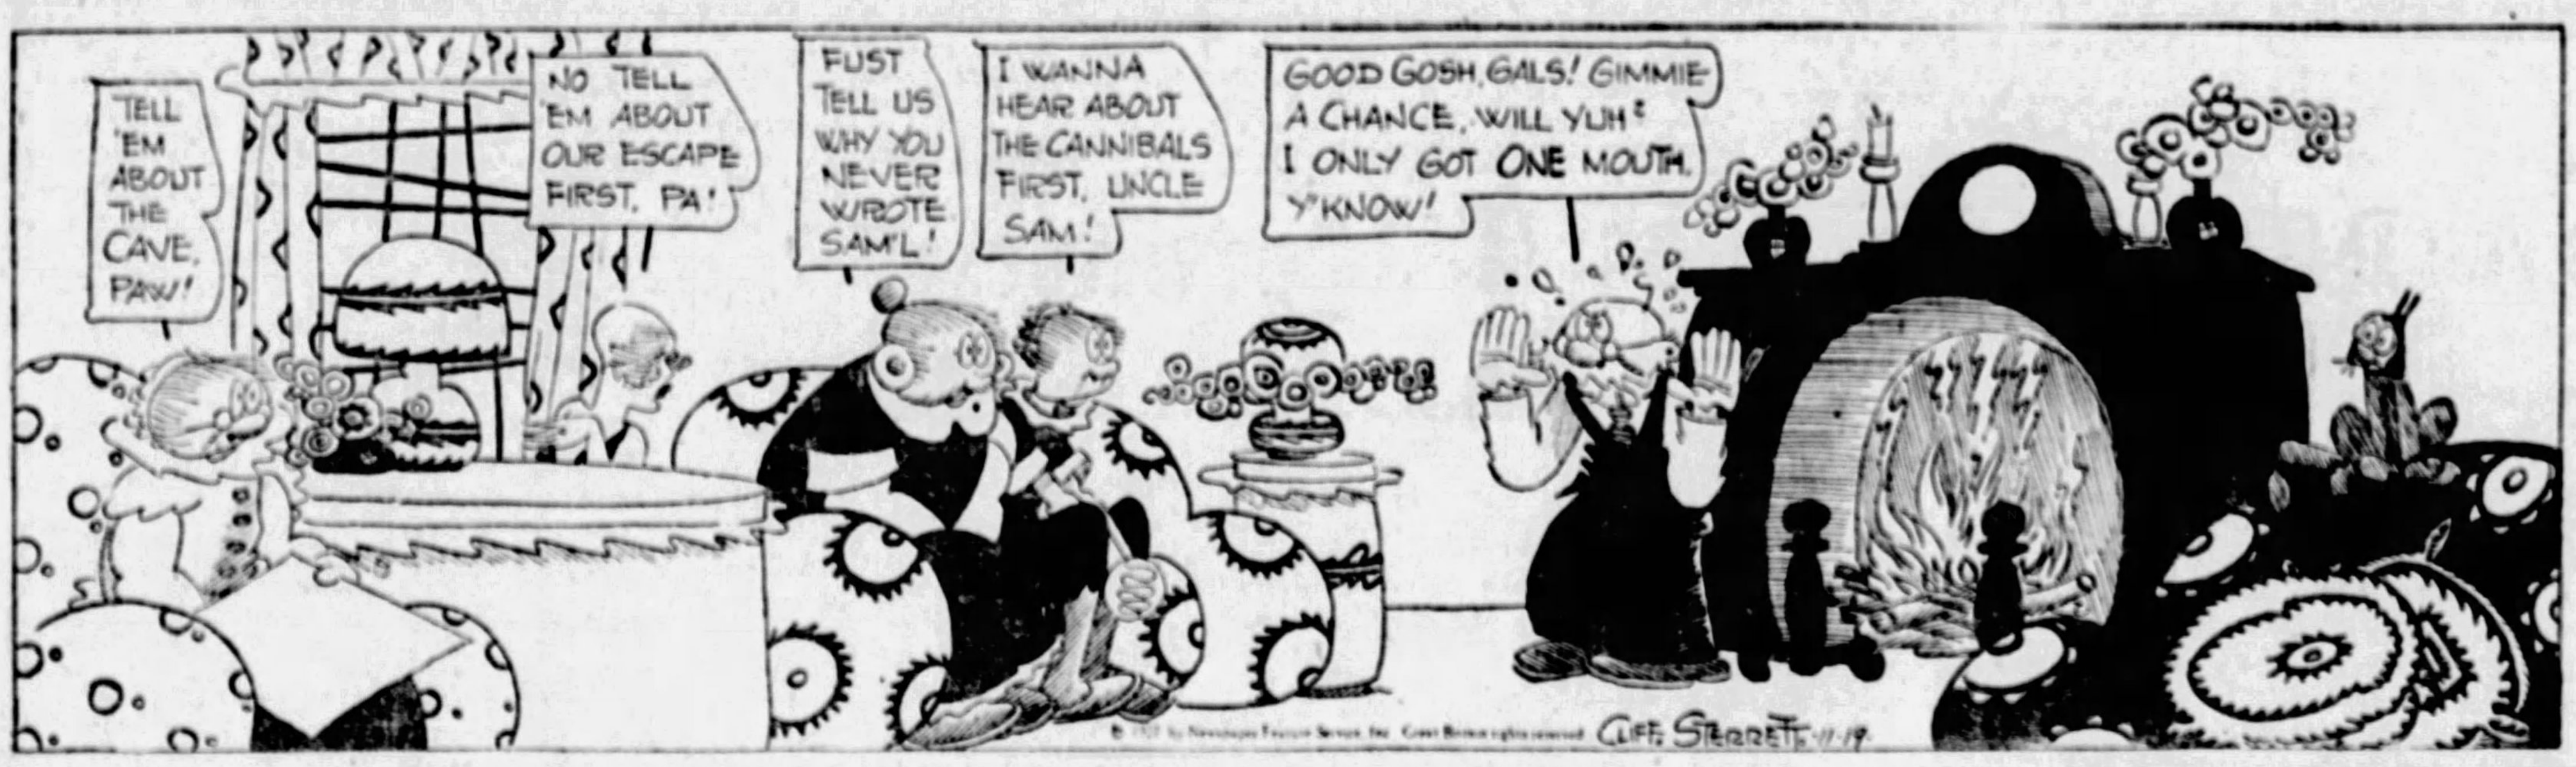
SAY, BUBBLES - I'VE TALKED ABOUT THIS PARTY SO MUCH, I GUESS I'VE GOTTA GIVE IT WHETHER TILLIE COMES OR NOT - COULD YOU COME IF I HAD IT TONIGHT?
WHY, SURELY MAC - I'D LOVE TO
?
SNIFF SNIFF
WHAT'S THE MATTER, TILLIE?
BOO-HOO - BUBBLES JUST RANG ME UP AND SAID YOU WERE GONNA HAVE THE PARTY WITHOUT ME YOU KNEW I COULDN'T GO TONIGHT BECAUSE I HAD A DATE
DON'T CRY, TILLIE D'YA THINK FOR ONE MINUTE I'D HAVE A PARTY WITHOUT YOU? NOT MUCH. IT WOULD BE A FLOP WITHOUT YOU - HONEST IT WOULD
I FEEL MUCH BETTER NOW THAT I KNOW BUBBLES WAS WRONG - WHY, I WOULDN'T MISS YOUR PARTY FOR ANYTHING
© 1927, by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved.
11-19
RUSS WESTOVER

THE NEBBS . . . . . The Back Slider



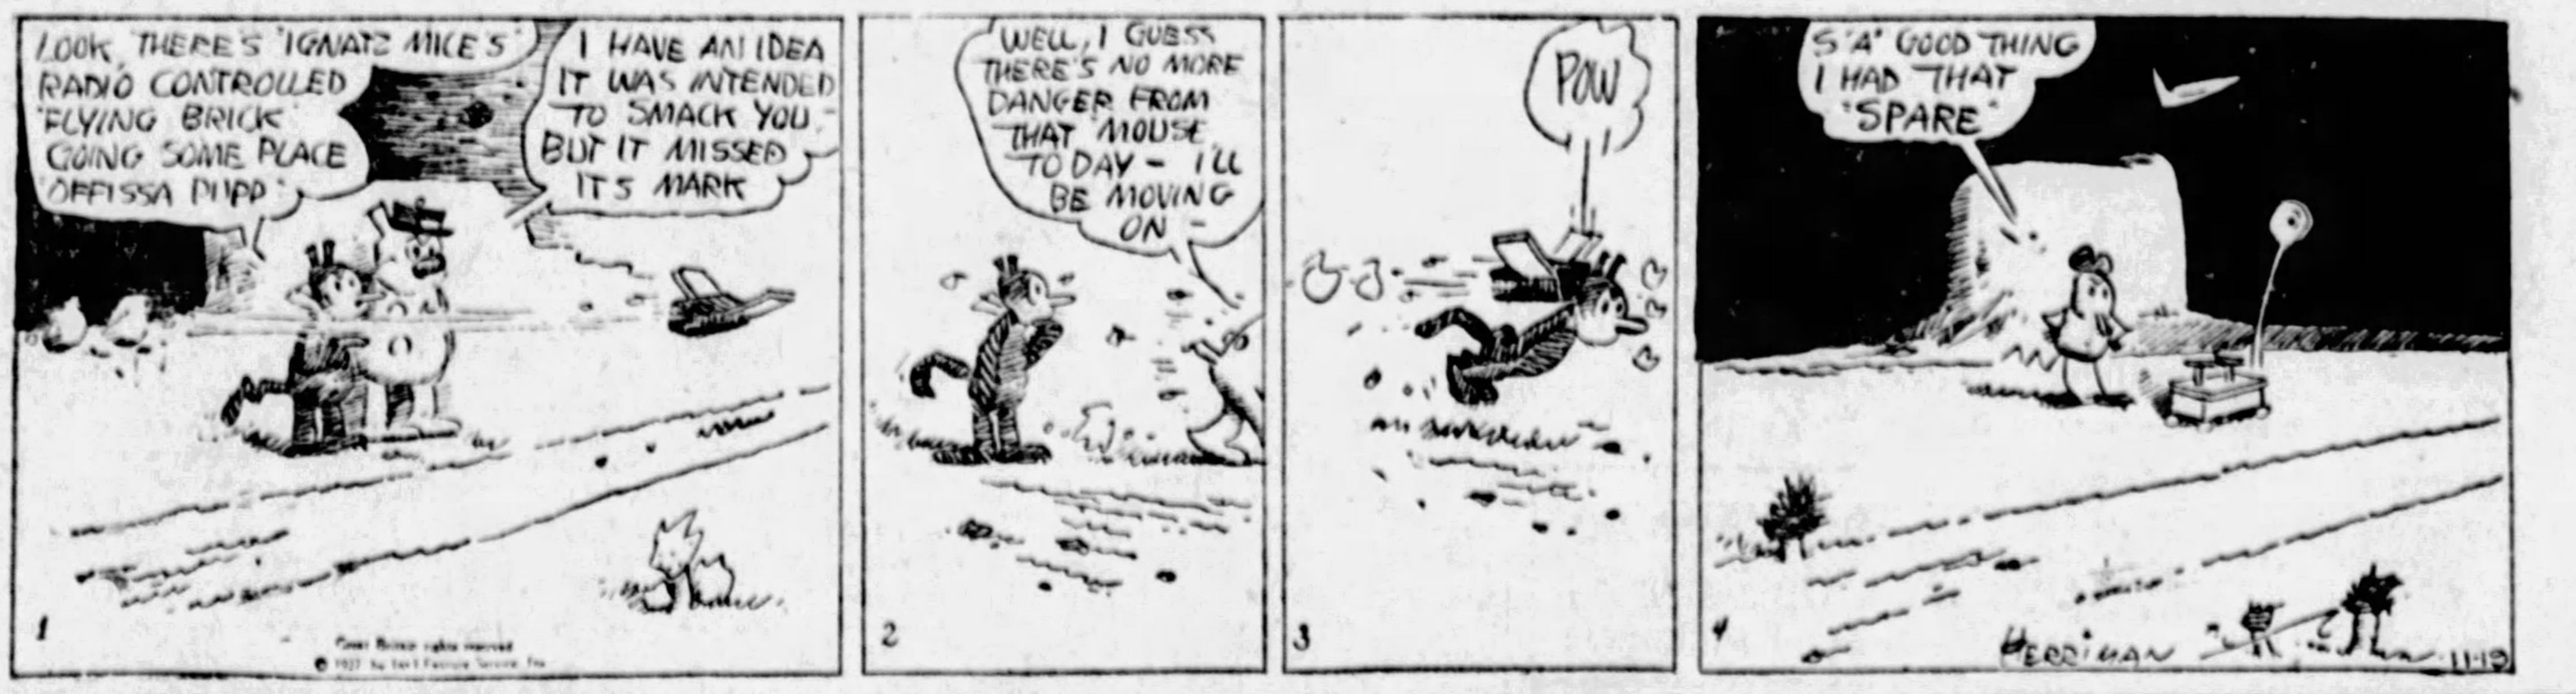
FLINT'S TRIAL COMES UP MONDAY AND I KNOW HE HASN'T GOT A CHANCE IN A TOWN LIKE THIS - EVERYBODY THAT LANDS HERE IS GUILTY OF EVERYTHING UNTIL HE PROVES HIMSELF INNOCENT.
SHIPPING ROOM
WELL IT WILL BE THE EVIDENCE PLUS THE CHARACTER OF THE PARTIES INTERESTED - HERE ITS ONE MANS WORD AGAINST THE OTHER - ONE IS A JUDGE AND THE OTHER - YOU KNOW WHAT HIS PAST REPUTATION IS.
YOU KNOW FLINTS INNOCENT IN THIS CASE - THEN IF YOU'RE AN ATTORNEY FIGURE OUT A WAY OF DEFENDING HIM - YOU DON'T NEED AN ATTORNEY FOR THE KIND OF CASES YOU COULD WIN
YES HES RIGHT - I KNOW AN ATTORNEY BACK IN THE CITY - HE WOULD HAVE EVERYONE ON THE JURY CRYING IN SYMPATHY WITH FLINT - THIS GUY WONT TAKE A CASE WHERE A GUYS INNOCENT. ITS TOO EASY.
ON MONDAY THE 21 ST. RODNEY FLINT MAY BE SACRIFICED AT THE BAR OF JUSTICE FOR THE LACK OF EVIDENCE - HE KNOWS HE'S RIGHT AND WE KNOW HE'S RIGHT - BUT THE JUDGE. .....AH THERE'S A DIFFERENT STORY
11-19
(Copyright, 1927, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Trade Mark Reg. U. S. Pat. Office
W. A. CARLSON.

POLLY AND HER PALS . . . . . A Large Order For Pa



TELL 'EM ABOUT THE CAVE, PAW!
NO TELL 'EM ABOUT OUR ESCAPE FIRST, PA!
FUST TELL US WHY YOU NEVER WROTE SAM'L!
I WANNA HEAR ABOUT THE CANNIBALS FIRST, UNCLE SAM!
GOOD GOSH, GALS! GIMMIE A CHANCE, WILL YUH? I ONLY GOT ONE MOUTH, Y'KNOW!
© 1927 by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved
CLIFF STERRETT 11-19

KRAZY KAT . . . . . Ignatz Didn't "Spare" Krazy



LOOK, THERE'S 'IGNATZ MICE'S' RADIO CONTROLLED 'FLYING BRICK' GOING SOME PLACE 'OFFISSA PUPP'
I HAVE AN IDEA IT WAS INTENDED TO SMACK YOU, BUT IT MISSED IT'S MARK
WELL, I GUESS THERE'S NO MORE DANGER FROM THAT MOUSE TO DAY - I'LL BE MOVING ON - POW
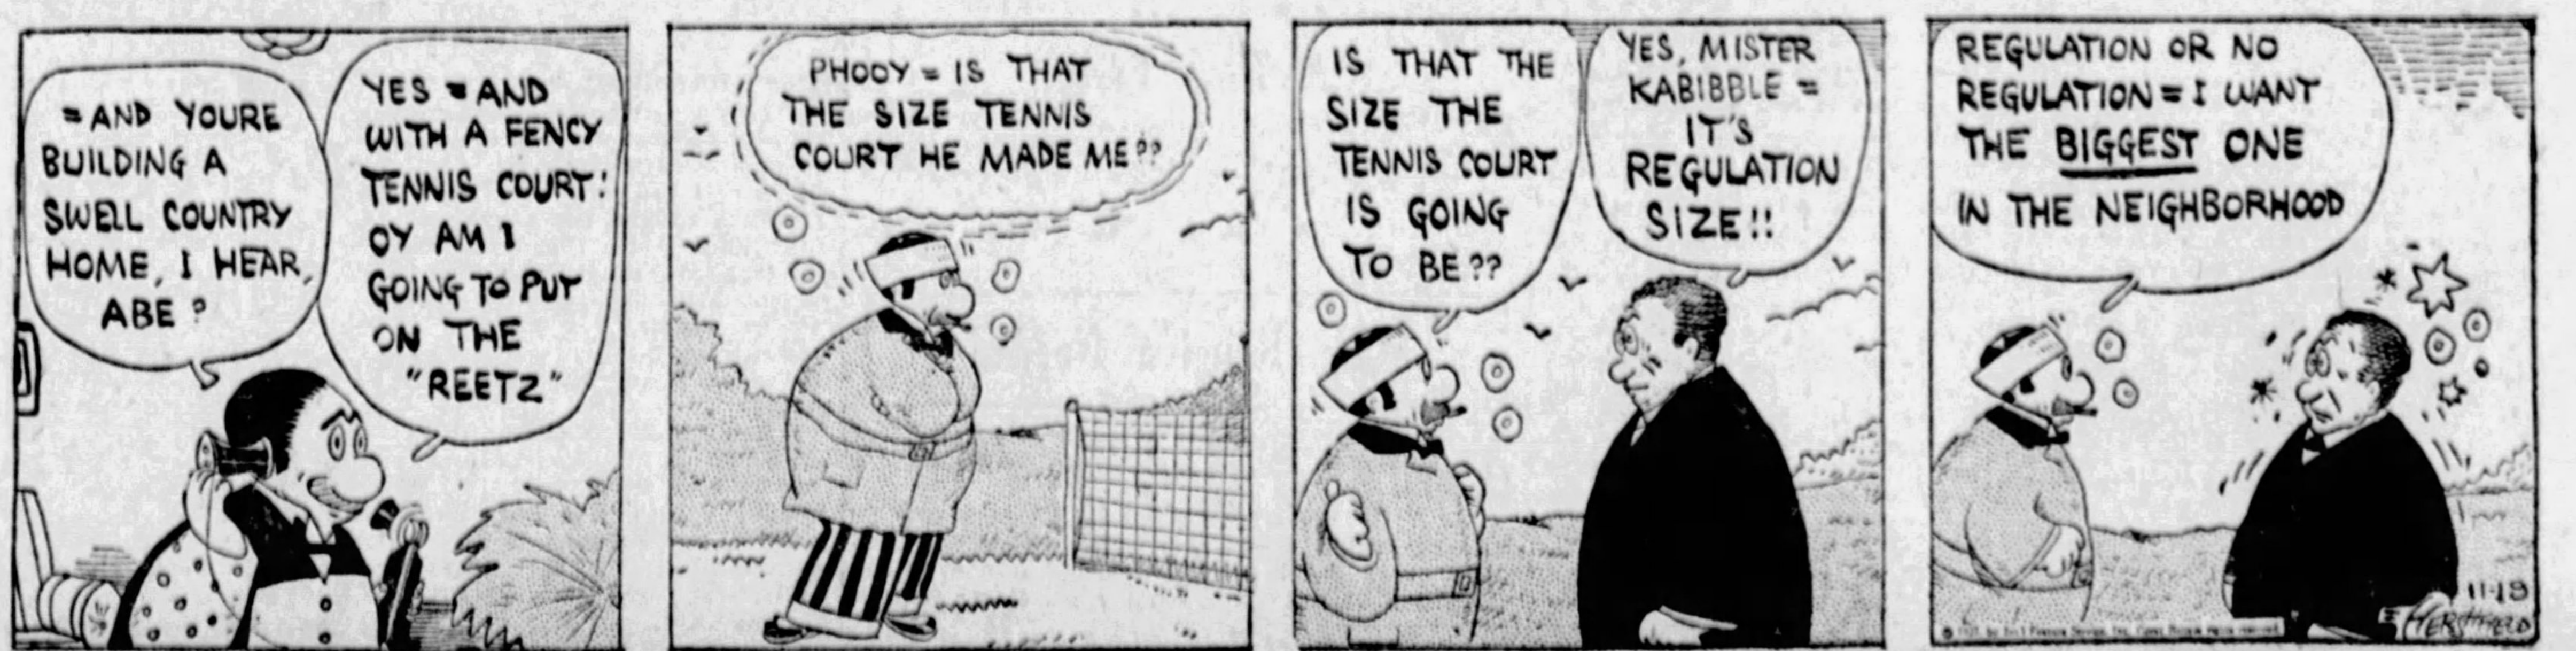
S'A' GOOD THING I HAD THAT 'SPARE'
1
2
3
4
Great Britain rights reserved
© 1927 by Int'l Feature Service, Inc.
HERRIMAN
11-19

ABIE THE AGENT . . . . . -Certainly "Different"



= AND YOURE BUILDING A SWELL COUNTRY HOME, I HEAR, ABE?
YES = AND WITH A FENCY TENNIS COURT: OY AM I GOING TO PUT ON THE "REETZ" PHOOY = IS THAT THE SIZE TENNIS COURT HE MADE ME??
IS THAT THE SIZE THE TENNIS COURT IS GOING TO BE??
YES, MISTER KABIBBLE = IT'S REGULATION SIZE!!
REGULATION OR NO REGULATION = I WANT THE BIGGEST ONE IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD 11-19
HERSHFIELD

THIS WAGGISH WORLD

by Roy K. Moulton

THERE may be worse old onions than an old friend of mine named Peter batting around this well known metrop. If there are, it has been my good fortune not to meet them. But I will say this for the old blighter, he has many redeeming qualities.

HE IS a gentleman of the old school, plumb full of the savoir faire and what-not, and he never bites a friend on the ear, or, in other words, never swings a friend for fifty bucks or anything like that. He does not walk up and bach you in the buckskin for the money. That is much too primeval for an artist like Peter. He either comes and sells you an antique for six times what it is worth, or else he has you sign a note. But he never borrows money.

ALL of which brings us up abruptly in a round-about way to the morning text which is our new association known as the Anti-Note-Signing League of America. We expect to have thirty million members in somewhat less time than it takes the legendary celluloid cat to meet her fate in a bonfire.

For many years agone note-signing by innocent and trusting boobs for dark, sinister and scheming financial wizards has been the bane of many an existence. The first thing our new league will do will be to prevail upon Congress to pass just one more law—a law making the signing of a note for an acquaintance or a friend a crime and providing that when any person signs a note for a relative he shall be immediately incarcerated in some good loony-bin without benefit of alienists.

SIGNING a note with a friend or an acquaintance may have its redeeming features, but signing a note with a relative is absolutely fatal, and it doesn't seem to make much difference whose relative it is. Doing business with the first mean looking stranger you meet on the street is comparatively safe beside putting up the dough for a lifelong friend or relative. A misanthropic idea? Not at all, but the solid, undeniable truth. Personally, we have never had a relative who would go on a note with us, and so this thing has no personal hinge at all.

THE gentle art of panhandling has reached such artistic heights in the great city that the poor sheep who stand around in droves, ready to part with their hard-earned cash, must get together in some kind of organization.

Of course, no man with sense will be stung twice on the same gag, but new ones are being invented so rapidly that an innocent person is always miles behind the latest dodge.

One of the best and brightest is borrowing money "for an operation." The operation is completed just the moment the grafter separates you from your dough, and no hospital trip is required. This is a very painful operation, as the present writer, who had rallied from several of them, can testify.

SIGNING a note with a gentleman to enable him to pay his son's tuition in Yale is also a good trick to know. We have signed two of these, only to learn, when the notes were protested, that both gentlemen were bachelors.

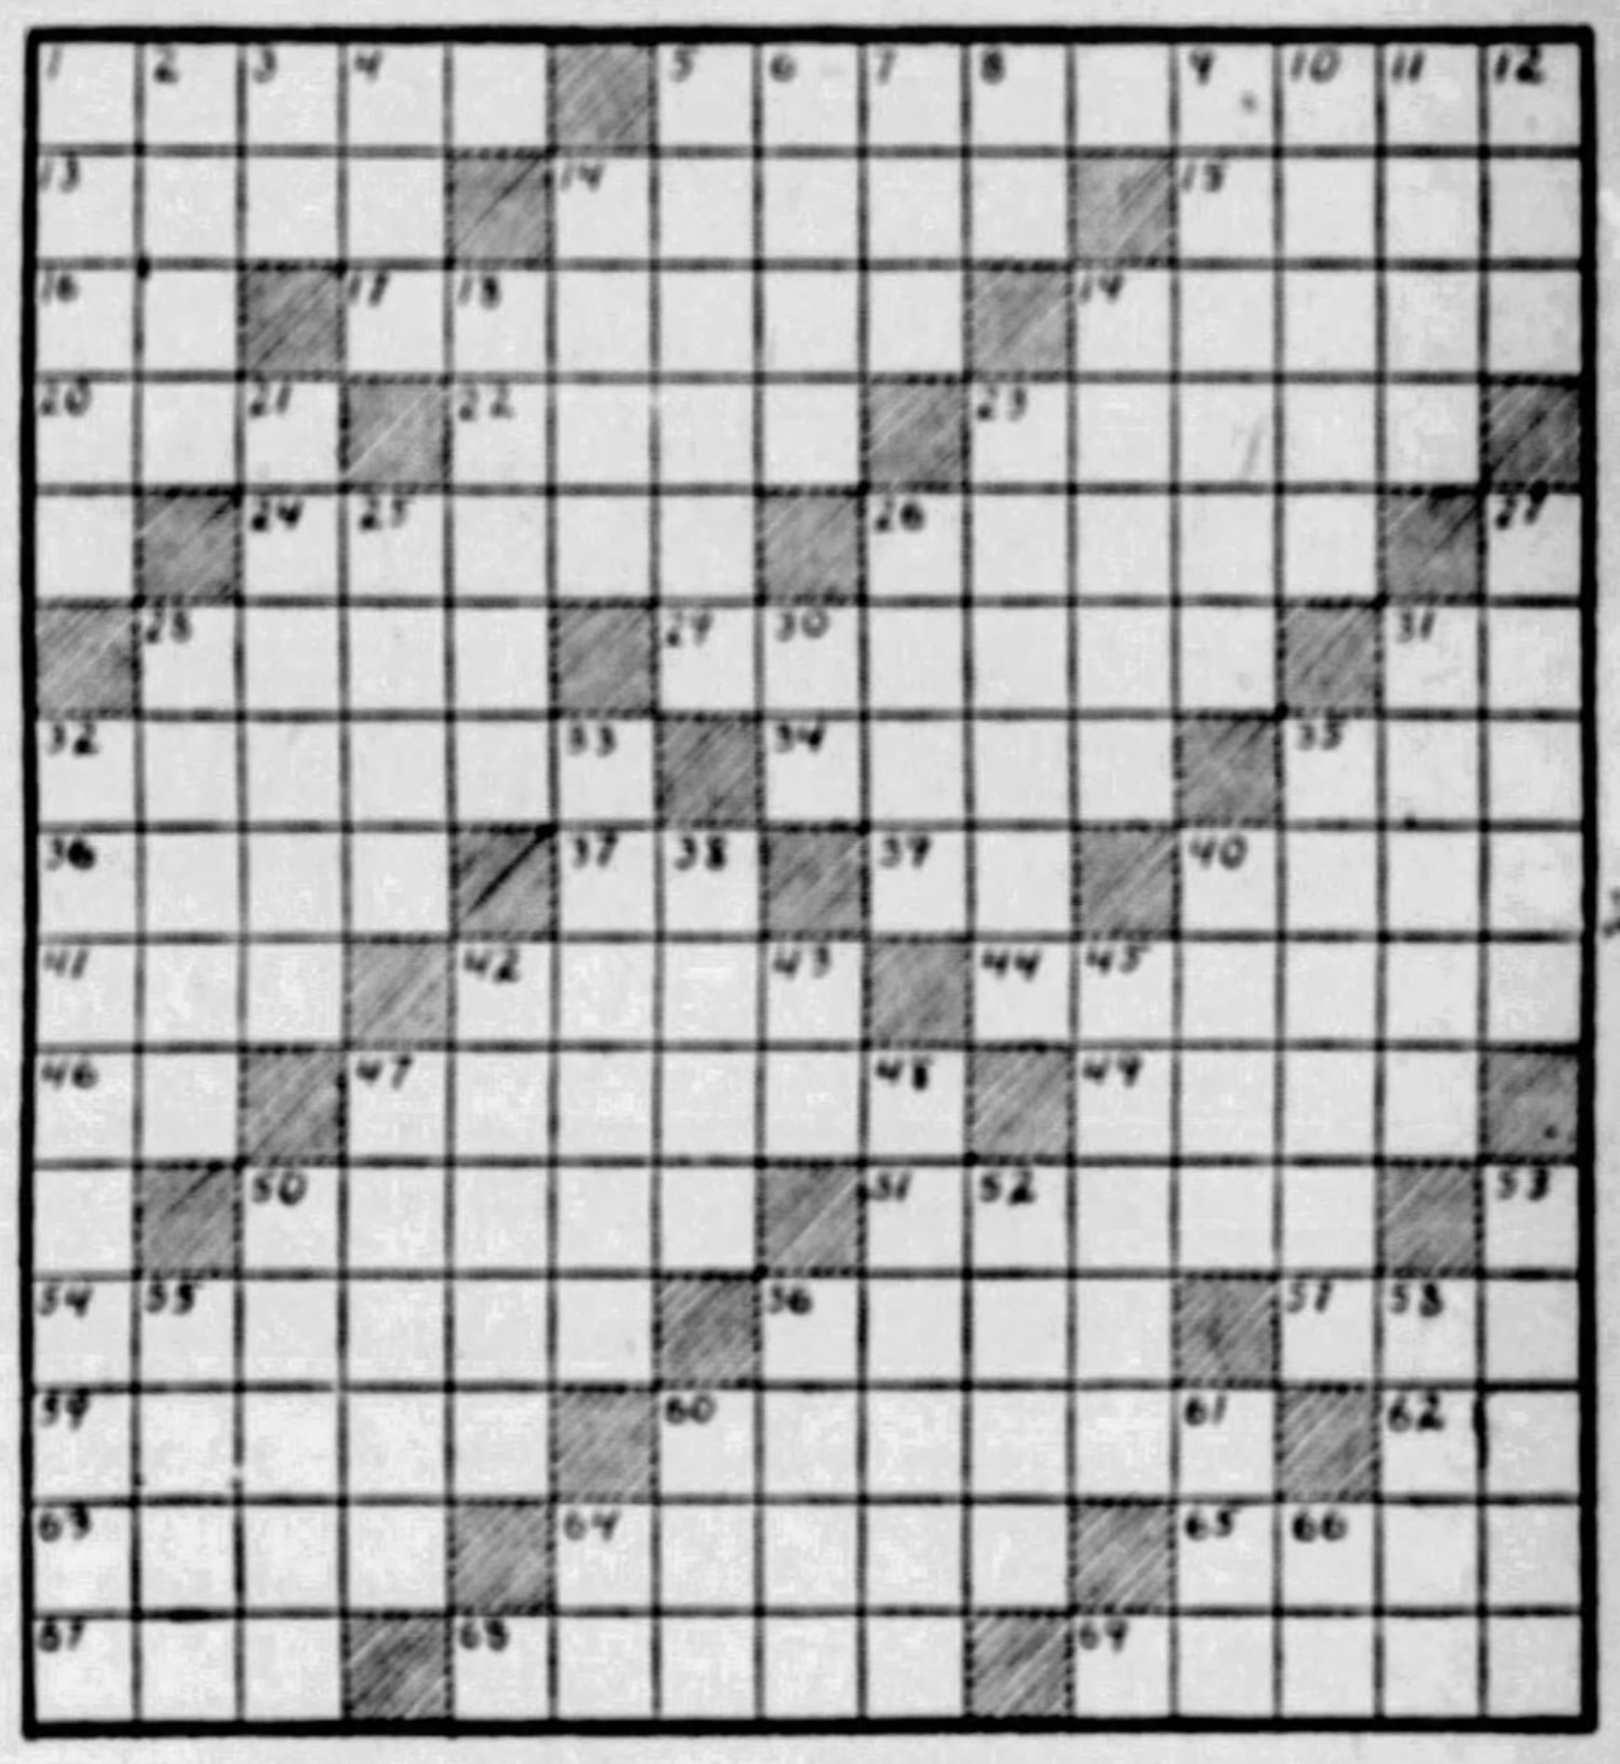
Making a touch to keep the old life insurance from lapsing is one of the most popular of the grafting devices known in the metropolitan districts. But there are a million others, some of them just as good.

The Anti-Note Signing League is one league which we feel will do a lot of good. If a man's word is no good, his note is sure to be a little worse. The new league will assist a good many poor credulous fish in saying "No," one of the most difficult words in the language for them to articulate.

We hereby demand the Nobel Peace prize for 1927.

(Copyright, 1927.)

Today's Cross-Word Puzzle



HORIZONTAL.

1—a structure composed of filaments
5—one who speaks with a halting utterance
13—mental impression
14—having lost freshness
15—main body of church
16—negative
17—to remember
19—summoned by bellboy
20—kind of tree
22—female horse
23—anything having unusual speed
24—vigilant
26—wales
28—coarse outer coat of wheat
29—screens from light
31—toward
32—ridicule
34—poems
35—through
36—one who converts to his service
37—execute
39—Biblical pronoun
40—raised
41—bottom of water-course
42—twofold
44—pertaining to the sea
46—that thing
47—one of several elements that produce result
49—passing fancies
50—transportation rates
51—to continue in a place
54—makes expiation for
56—to box
57—that girl
59—wearies, tires
60—navigated
62—near
63—drags
64—inn
65—tract of land surrounded by water (poetic)
67—sooner than
68—one who chops
69—blemishes

VERTICAL.

1—better in quality
2—image
3—exist
4—spike of corn
5—begins
6—narrative
7—the aggregate
8—myself
9—makes into law
10—acts with violence
11—always
12—a color
14—mark left after healing
18—correct
19—blanches
21—disfigured
23—to reclaim
25—den
26—valley containing bed of water-course
27—a pack or swarm
28—to attack on all sides
30—call to excite attention
31—years of age ending in "teen"
32—doubtful
33—calls forth
35—indulges in self-congratulation
38—cereal grass
40—small slender nail
42—hazards
43—observe
45—on fire
47—temples
48—light, narrow sword
50—to impel forward
52—spherical body
53—measures
55—journey
56—surfeit
58—to stop
60—scatter seed
61—to immerse in fluid
64—that man
66—in such manner

Herewith is the solution to yesterday's puzzle.

HELEN MARAT
DERIDE ITALIC
OCAS VIS MINE
SAT LETHE ASA
STOKER NURSES
IE HAS AGO LE
LAG EMU
AB NUT ANA AC
FRASER RINSER
TEN SEINE ONE
EMIT ADO ALES
RELICT LARIAT
NEEDS DEEDS

(Copyright, 1927, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Kabibble Kabaret—By Hershfield

Registered U. S. Patent Office.—Copyright, 1927, International Feature Service, Inc.

DEAR MR. KABIBBLE,
SHALL I BUY MY FIANCE SPATS?
= B. Z.
NO = MARRY HIM AND GET LOTS OF THEM FOR NOTHING!
11-19

After the Poker Game

Tom—"Why did you allow Jim to sleep at your home and not me?"

Ted—"Jim doesn't occupy any space. He walks in his sleep."

No Choice

Deke—"You weren't at the annual banquet last night. Why?"

Rod—"The moths had held a banquet in my dress suit, so I had to stay home."

WHY PITTSBURGH IS GREAT
It Is a Most Liberal Supporter of All Worthy Causes

THE SUN-TELEGRAPH

BE A PITTSBURGH BOOSTER
To Your Friends in Other Cities

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1927

Established 1927, by the Pitt Publishing Company, Gazette Square, Pittsburgh, Pa. President, William Randolph Hearst; Vice-President and Publisher, H. M. Bitner; Secretary and Treasurer A. W. Clark; Managing Editor C. W. Danziger; Business Manager, T. R. Williams. Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Pittsburgh, Pa.

National advertising representatives—Paul Block, Inc., 247 Park avenue, New York; Century Bldg., Chicago; General Motors Bldg., Detroit; Little Bldg., Boston; Commonwealth Trust Bldg., Philadelphia.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for re-publication of all news credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein. All rights of re-publication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

King's Arrest Ordered

But Exposure of Fakers Is No Vindication of Police.

District Attorney Gardner yesterday took steps to cause the arrest of William L. King, deposed and discredited executive secretary of the Citizens League, and of King's two former investigators.

As to the faked evidence, which King and the investigators prepared, "It would be an outrage to allow their actions to go unrecognized by the law," said Mr. Gardner.

There will be general satisfaction over this course.

Citizens usually have little patience with such "extra legal" organizations as the stupid Citizens League. On the other hand, they have no patience with the unquestionably bad conditions which called it into being. They demand cleanliness and good order.

They have a police force capable of suppressing commercialized vice and crime. They demand that the police discharge their duty.

The paid guardians of the public safety will make a grave mistake if they conclude that the disgusting revelations of duplicity and conspiracy by Citizens League investigators constitute a vindication of their past course. They need to vindicate themselves by working diligently on the job for which they are paid by the people.

Furs and Overcoats Cheap

Take Advantage of Hot Weather That Cuts Prices, Buy Now.

Opportunity is here for the careful buyer who needs furs and overcoat or other warm winter clothing.

The unprecedented hot and unseasonable November weather has injured business, causing merchants to greatly reduce prices on furs, overcoats and other heavy garments.

Every sensible man knows the hot weather isn't going to last forever; winter and cold weather are ahead. Don't wait until the cold weather puts prices UP as the thermometer goes DOWN.

Get your furs, overcoats or warm underwear now, AND SAVE MONEY.

This is advice for the buyer. And this is the buyer's opportunity.

——Also start now on your Christmas shopping. Do not wait until the stores are crowded, clerks tired, selections greatly diminished.

Shop now for Christmas.

And shop now for winter clothing.

Sales Tax Would Permit Big Cuts in Other Taxes

This newspaper makes an earnest recommendation to the committees of Congress engaged in writing a new tax bill.

Present income and corporation taxes can be cut much further than now proposed, if Congress is willing to add the missing link in our tax system—the general sales tax.

It is astonishing how slight would be the burden of this tax and how heavy the yield. We know these things from investigations made by the Senate Finance Committee in 1921, when the sales tax was defeated in the Senate by the narrow margin of eight votes.

At that time it developed that a revenue of $400.000,000 a year could be raised by a 1½ per cent tax levied on manufacturers of all commodities except a limited number of necessities of life, such as fuel and foodstuffs.

These necessities were to be exempted from the tax, so that it would not fall heavily upon the poorer classes of our population. The amount of the tax on individual articles would be insignificant and would generally be absorbed by manufacturer or middleman. For example, a dozen gloves selling for $12.00 wholesale would pay a tax of 18 cents.

If a 1½ per cent sales tax (except on necessities) would have raised $400,000,000 in 1921, how much would it raise today? Well, according to the Bureau of Internal Revenue, the national income has increased from $62,000.000.000 in 1921 to $90,000,000,000 in 1926. As our spending has without doubt increased as fast as our earning, a 1½ per cent tax on manufactured goods in 1926 or 1927 would no doubt yield $600,000,000. . . . .

The best that the corporations can hope for is that the corporation income tax will be reduced from 13½ to 10 per cent, a cut of $315,000,000 in taxation. Even if this maximum relief is afforded, the rate will remain 10 per cent. That is, successful American corporations will still be taxed $1.00 of every $10.00 they earn, and that is an outrageous tax upon successful energy and initiative. It could be cut to 4 per cent or 5 per cent if Congress would introduce the fair and effective and productive and painless sales tax—a tax on spending money for other things than necessities.

Reasons for New Calendar

The advantage in a calendar of thirteen months of twenty-eight days each, with New Year's Day and one day in leap year observed as zero days, are important.

Such an arrangement would bring every fixed holiday always on the same day of the week, insuring regularity in business.

It would simplify payroll accounting, banking and industrial planning. It would stop the confusion now caused when a Saturday half holiday, a Sunday and a holiday on Monday come together, cutting seriously into business operations of two weeks.

It would give us all the holiday time we now have, but remove the irregularity. Since ours is a business age, anything which is for the advantage of business is of public advantage.

The only possible objection to this change in the calendar is that it would puzzle some persons for a short time. They would, however, soon get used to it.

It may take a compact among the leading nations to make the change feasible. Since the benefits would distribute among all, such a treaty ought not to be difficult to negotiate.

Humor—Sometimes Sad

If we had a Nobel prize for the year's best bit of unconscious humor, Newton D. Baker could claim it with his suggestion that the United States should announce that it "will not exercise its legal right to trade with a nation declared by the League of Nations to have been the aggressor in war."

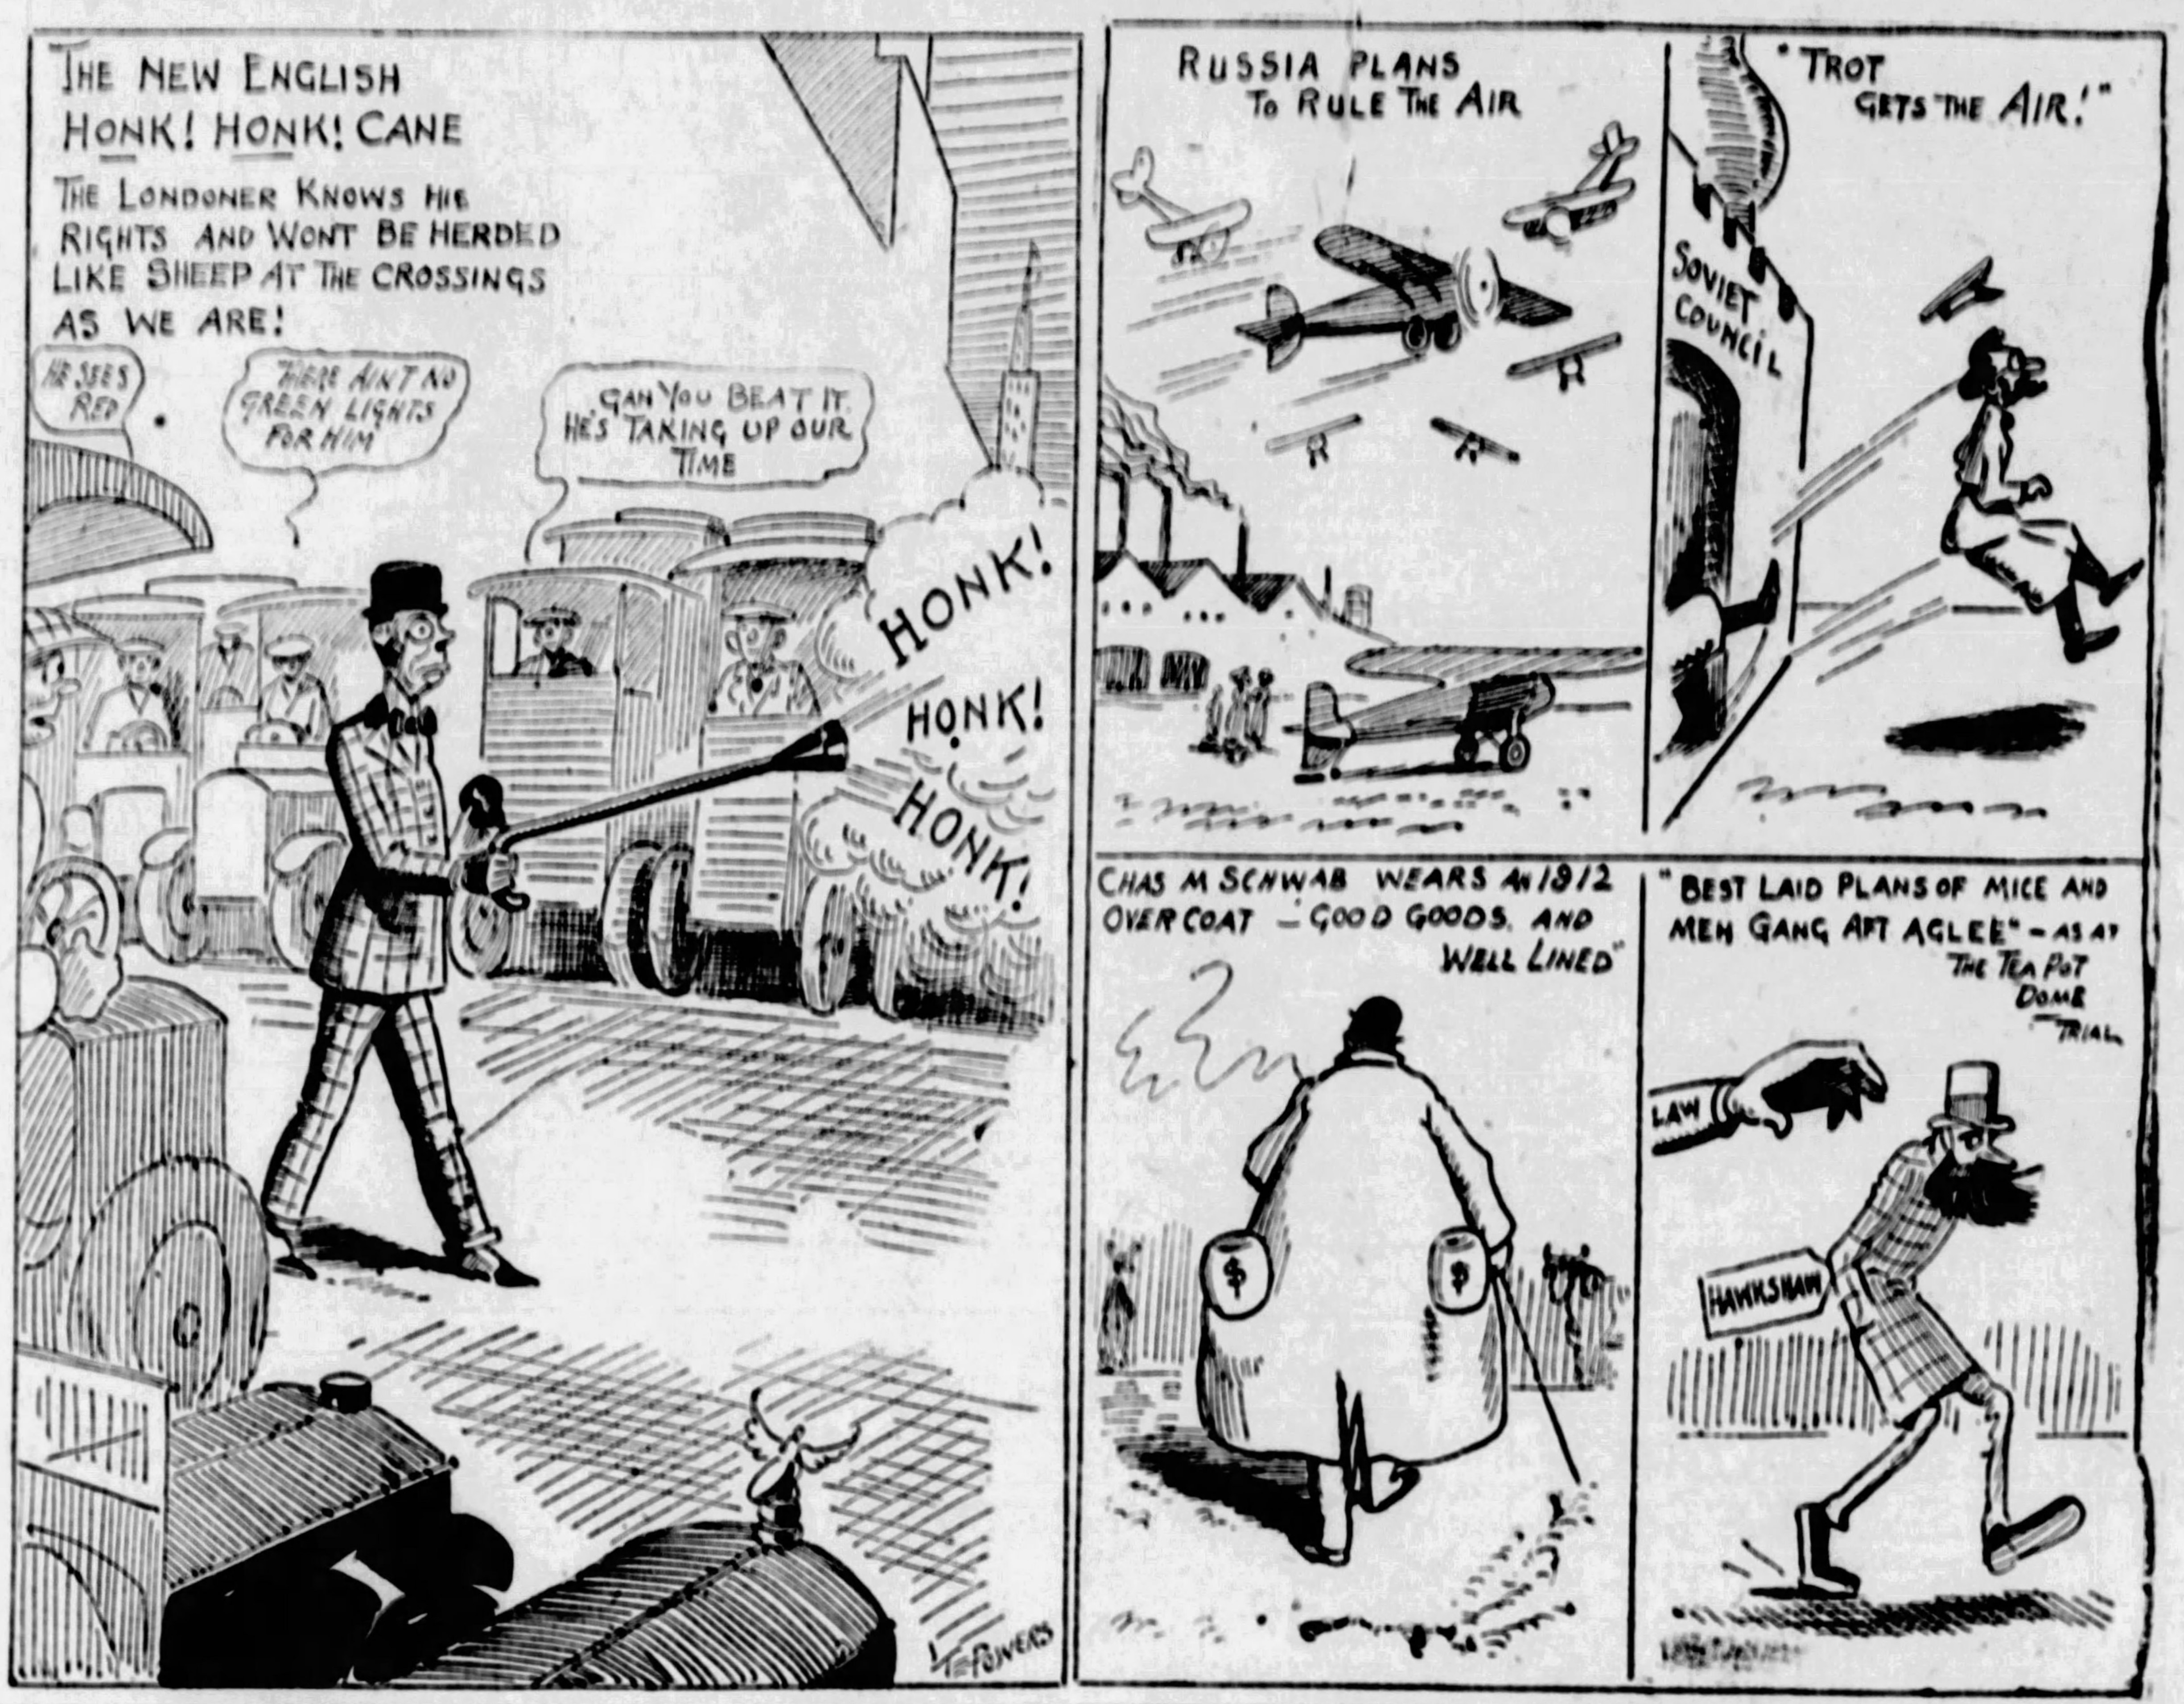
The United States is not in the League of Nations. The United States does not believe in the League of Nations. The United States would not permit the League of Nations to determine its policy.

How absurd, then, to talk of asking the United States to act as a catspaw for the League of Nations!

Mr. Baker made a conscientious and able Secretary of War. He should not forget that he is still an American.

A Jolly Good Idea—If It Works!

By T. E. Powers



THE NEW ENGLISH HONK! HONK! CANE
THE LONDONER KNOWS HIS RIGHTS AND WONT BE HERDED LIKE SHEEP AT THE CROSSINGS AS WE ARE!
HE SEES RED
THERE AINT NO GREEN LIGHTS FOR HIM
CAN YOU BEAT IT. HE'S TAKING UP OUR TIME
HONK!
HONK!
HONK!
T. E. POWERS
RUSSIA PLANS TO RULE THE AIR
R
"TROT" GETS "THE AIR!"
SOVIET COUNCIL
CHAS M SCHWAB WEARS AN 1812 OVERCOAT — GOOD GOODS, AND WELL LINED
$
$
"BEST LAID PLANS OF MICE AND MEN GANG AFT AGLEE" — AS AT THE TEA POT DOME TRIAL LAW HAWKSHAW

"My Own Shall Come to Me"

By DR. FRANK CRANE

WAY back in Civil War days, a young man named Burroughs wrote some stanzas he called "Waiting." It was his first and only attempt at poetry. For sixty years after that he wrote books, but no more poetry.

Having finished these verses, he read them to his friend, Walt Whitman. Had Whitman not liked them, the chances are that Burroughs would have torn them up, but, thanks to Whitman, we have one of the most beautiful, simple, truthful poems in the English language. It starts off this way:

"Serene I fold my hands and wait,
Nor care for wind, nor tide, nor sea,
I rave no more 'gainst time or fate,
For lo! my own shall come to me."

That thought, "My own shall come to me," is the hub of Burroughs' philosophy. He became convinced as a young man that his own would come to him—if he hustled sufficiently—and events proved him to be absolutely correct!

Fame came to him, and fortune and friends and wisdom. Understanding came to him of everything that flies or runs or creeps. He could converse with birds and beasts. Nature returned his love of her and bestowed vision and peace and serenity upon him.

In a strenuous age, when the race to get ahead of the other fellow has ruined our digestions, John Burroughs stayed sweet and sane and calm. He waited for his own to come to him.

The most strenuous man in America was one of those who "came to him." Theodore Roosevelt, when he was President, did not command him to the White House. No, he steamed up the Hudson on the Mayflower to meet his beloved "John o' Birds" on his hilltop retreat.

The greatest inventive genius in the world, Thomas A. Edison, came to him. The railroad builder, E. H. Harriman, came to him, and carried him off to Alaska in a special train. The industrial wizard, Henry Ford, came to him.

These were his friends and playmates. They all came to "Slabsides," his bark-covered cabin, to sit at his feet and learn wisdom.

Everybody came. Children—hundreds of them! Girls from Vassar College. Literary men, thinkers, writers, lawyers, doctors, naturalists, college professors, bankers, farmhands—they were "his own" and they came to him from all over the world!

In these days when the pace of life is so swift and the game of grab so quick and bitter, we need the message of John Burroughs. I am reminded of this poem because just the other day I heard it sung by a new American tenor, Thomas Muir. For years poetry-lovers have had these verses of John Burroughs all to themselves. As a poem it has been a household favorite. But now as a song—set to music by Jessie Moore Wise—the famous poem has found new wings.

(Copyright, 1927, McClure Newspaper Synd.)

Garrett P Serviss Says:

Books and Battles

DR. WYER, the director of the New York State Library, has raised a question about which there may be an interesting conflict of opinions. Taking that charming old book of Sir Edward Creasy's on "The Fifteen Decisive Battles of the World," he sets over against each of the immortal battles, extending from Marathon to Waterloo, a famous book composed somewhere near the same date and affirms that in every case the book has been of more significance in the world's affairs than the battle.

First, Homer's "Iliad" is set over against the battle of Marathon. If telling about battles is more significant in the world's affairs than winning them, then tellers have been more important than doers all through history; but that is a more than doubtful proposition. The "Iliad" is a great masterpiece of literature, a magnificent epic poem, a rarely equaled exhibition of the power of making mental pictures with language. The victory of Marathon, on the other hand, was the first great blow deciding the fate of Greece and Greek civilization, which really means modern civilization.

Dr. Wyer exalts Aristotle's writings about the victory of his pupil, Alexander, at Arbela. Alexander insured Europe's supremacy over Asia in world affairs, while Aristotle prosed about morals and politics, and, because of the general ignorance of mankind in his time an ignorance which he shared, notwithstanding his volubility, imposed upon them false notions concerning nature and her ways that continued to mislead for more than two thousand years.

Dr. Wyer thinks that the "Chapson de Roland" and the "Morte d'Arthur" were of greater significance in the world's affairs than the battle of Hastings, which brought Norman rule and Norman blood to England. Historians of the greatness of England will hardly subscribe to that. Such poems are the product, not the cause, of great historic events and movements. Liteuature does not create civilization, but is itself created by civilization.

In the similar coupling of the battle of Saratoga—which was the opening scene in the triumph of patriotic arms that established the independence of these United States by throwing off the domination of Great Britain—with Adam Smith's book on the "Wealth of Nations," there is an unpleasant, though I believe entirely unintended, suggestion of the weakening of American patriotic sentiment which has spread of late, like an insect blight, through our school history texts. To condemn the battles of the American Revolution, or the spirit in which they were fought, or the results that they achieved, is in itself an inexcusably unpatriotic thing to do; but to tell American children in their study books and their classes, with whatever cunning indirection, that the separation from Great Britain ought to have been avoided is treason to the American people.

Perhaps the comparison in Dr. Wyer's list which has the greatest chance of success with readers is that between Shakespeare and the defeat of the Spanish Armada. But the ground is still the same. "Significance in the world's affairs" implies the existence of world's affairs to be affected, that is, of nations, great communities, cities, wealth, industry and everything that makes up human life. These are the cause of literature, not its product; the men who in every age have shed their blood in "decisive" battles have made the lives of the writers possible and furnished them their subjects. The "Iliad" was the story of the war of Troy.

(Copyright, 1927, International Feature Service, Inc.)

Once Overs

By J. J. MUNDY

Reserve

"NO MATTER how good a friend may be, I don't like him to become too inquisitive about my personal affairs, nor do I like to have anyone assume too much in the way of giving advice," says a charming woman, who feels as many others do.

Close friendship does not warrant full information in regard to the private affairs of another.

Close friendship does not warrant you to censor, either.

Too often our best friends feel that they should know more of our business, personal and otherwise, than is permitted them.

You may be the sort who wants to know more than you are entitled to about your friend's life, past, present and future.

You haven't the right.

It is not a sign that your friend is not true, if he does not care to tell you everything.

Wise folk do not tell the things each individual should keep to himself or herself.

Best friends today may be bitterest enemies tomorrow.

(Copyright, 1927, International Feature Service, Inc.)

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELIS

The World

SOMETIMES the world's a cruel place, unfriendly as can be again it shows another face, when some one comes to tea. It's strange how such a little thing can wholly change the day, a friend's sweet smile makes pulses sing, drives fret and care away. Sometimes the hours go lagging by, no mirth, no jollity; the clock's slow ticking seems to sigh till some one comes to tea. When some one comes to tea the fire glows very bright and red, the dancing flames leap higher, higher, to shine on jam and bread. The silver teapot's gleaming spout glows rosy-hued and bright, and when the amber tea pours out it takes a golden light. The world is such a queer old place; good? bad? Men can't agree, but still it turns a kindly face when some one comes to tea.

Tales that are Told

At Last

WHEN a worried-looking man presented himself in the claims department of an insurance company and applied for settlement of fire insurance the clerk asked a lot of questions.

"No, not much damage," remarked the worried one, "only a door burnt."

"How much do you think a new door would cost and when did the fire occur?"

"About eight years ago," was the answer to the last question.

"Eight years? And you've waited all this time and then report it now. Why?"

"Well," replied the claimant, "my wife has been at me to do something about that door ever since it was burned, and I couldn't stand it any longer, you see."—London Answers.

Entertaining

"THAT queer looking feller addling along over there is without doubt our most entertaining conversationalist," stated the landlord of the Torpidity tavern. "He is deaf and dumb, and don't know the sign language."

"Just how does that make him entertaining?" asked a guest.

"Why, whenever he wants to relate a reminiscence of long ago he has to write it down. And most every time he reaches for a pencil he discovers he has lost it and nobody around has one either."

Sharp

"OH, DOCTOR," cried the wild-eyed man who had burst into the surgery without knocking, "I am dreadfully afflicted! Every evening the ghosts of my departed relatives come and perch on the tops of the fence posts all round my garden when dusk begins to fall—"

"Every evening?" interrupted the medical man.

"Yes," replied the afflicted one. "I can look into the gloaming any evening and see a dozen or so of them on top of the posts waiting, waiting! What shall I do?"

"Sharpen the tops of the posts," came the doctor's soothing reply.—London Answers.

A Real Party

FREDDIE had been the guest of honor the day before at a party to which his little chum George had not been invited. George said:

"Have a good time?"

"Did I?" answered Freddie. "Why, I'm not hungry yet."

More Religion Needed

ASTROLOGISTS predict a world-wide revival of interest in religion in 1928, to continue for a cycle of years.

How far the stars control such things may be debated. But it would unquestionably contribute to peace, order and better relations all around if the religious instinct in man could get a closer grip on faith.

New York Day by Day

by O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The "butter and egg man" has about passed out as a distinct Broadway type. He was, in a measure, kidded out of existence. He was popularly supposed to be any gentleman of beaming countenance who wore white sox, came from anywhere west of Jersey City, carrying a snap purse.

Broadway was supposed to take him in the manner of Grant taking Richmond. He was fair game for every little gold digger who could lisp him out of a month's rent for the apartment and the fly-by-night wise boys with an inside tip on a sure shot.

He reached the eminence of having a play written about him as the sure-thing angel for theatrical productions. This was the last role of the talented Gregory Kelly. Every lady who lived lightly was supposed to have a "butter and egg man" of expansive girth who kept her in orchids and jewels.

He was the heavy-sugared daddy—the supreme in sapidilos. And while his type was plentiful there were not so many of him as supposed. The eternal kidding was largely responsible for the slump in supper club attendance. Good Time Charlies did not enjoy being pointed out as suckers.

Men who really enjoyed a ringside table grew skittish about the ridicule that went with an evening out. They could sense the snickering behind their backs. Head-waiters suffered, too, for those who gave golden notes trimmed the pourbois down to a dollar bill for fear of a laugh.

Hostesses and masters of ceremonies had a habit of making a visiting so-called Babbitt a target for sly cracks. Songs were sung about his predilection for shucking down a roll of bills to the rubber band and receiving nothing in return but a sneer. It was a fine example of killing the goose that laid the golden egg.

Many claimed to be the originator of the term, but the best authority is that Walter Catlett, the comedian, playing a spending yokel part about seven years ago, referred to himself one night in an impromptu manner as "A big butter and egg man from upstate." Thus the name was likely coined.

* * *

Tin Pan Alley tells of a composer hurrying along Forty-seventh street. A friend stopped to inquire about all the haste. "I just heard a wonderful melody," he said, "and I'm going home to compose it."

* * *

It is not a jesting matter that many popular tunes were boldly pilfered from old masters. In Ziegfeld's office one day I heard a well-known composer play a new tune for the Follies maestro.

"That's good," said Ziegfeld in his famous drawl, "but where did you steal it?" The composer merely permitted himself the luxury of a knowing grin.

* * *

On the other hand many able composers have profited little from hits that swept the world. A conspicuous example is that of the talented Victor Schertzinger, who wrote "Maracheta," perhaps the best known song in the last decade. Songs come and go, but most of us remember this haunting refrain. Schertzinger sold the song outright for what he could get. A publisher in his big-hearted way sent him $100. It so incensed the composer he tore up the check and forgot about it. When the song reached its amazing vogue, a lawyer friend of Schertzinger went to the publisher of his own accord and secured a small commission on sales for his friend. It amounted to a few paltry thousands. On a regularly prescribed royalty basis, it would probably have netted a quarter of a million for the composer.

(Copyright, 1927, by McNaught Synd., Inc.)

Right Angles

—By ALEXANDER CAIRNS—

With Regrets

THAT confessional, known as the press, recently caught from the lips of a penitent who had come for shriving, these words:

"I wish I had gone to college."

And these rueful words came from Edsel Ford at the time his father was declared a multi-billionaire and he himself announced as the future "Ford of the air."

Significant, isn't it, from one who could build a gold fence around the world?

If Henry Ford is really worth two billion dollars, then this is true:

"If he had begun work the day Jesus was born, and had worked 300 days a year from then till now, and had received $3,000 a day, he wouldn't be worth as much money as he is today.

And this poor man's son regrets that he never went to college!

Well, this is as sure as log chains, that if Edsel Ford had a sheepskin from every college and university on earth he could scarcely hope to pile up more golden ducats in this life.

So the rah-rah lure must be something else than mammon.

Yes, it is the joy of the cultured eye and the sensitized ear. It is the lure of a multiplied personality. It is the wealth of intellect that interprets life's phenomena as a scientist catalogues a million-specied genus of floral life.

Queer, isn't it, that there are folks galore who would prefer a sheepskin to a billion.

(Copyright, 1927, King Features Synd., Inc.)